Daly Returns as Interim Superintendent of Schools

The Martin County Board of Education named Dr. Thomas F. Daly as Interim Superintendent of Martin County School - effective July 1.

This follows the May resignation of Dr. David Fonseca, Superintendent of Martin County Schools.

This announcement came at the conclusion of the June 6 regularly scheduled meeting of the Martin County Board of Education, held at the Martin County Schools Innovation campus.

Daly is no stranger to Martin County Schools. Originally hired as superintendent by Martin County Schools in December 1999, he served in that capacity until his retirement in July 2010.

This will be the veteran educator's second interim superintendent stint with Martin County Schools as he served in the same capacity from July 1, 2020 to October 30, 2020.

Van Heath, Chairman of the Martin County Board of Education, responded to the announcement.

“The Martin County Board of Education is pleased to welcome Dr. Tom Daly back onboard as Interim Superintendent. We are happy to have someone as qualified, experienced, and knowledgeable of our school system as Dr. Daly available to us while we search for a new Superintendent.”
