

Jeryl Christmas was a teacher for over thirty years before her retirement. She now enjoys writing and illustrating children's books and going into schools to share them with the children.

To read a short synopsis of each book or to order a book online, visit this website at www.thealphabugs.net and go to "About the Books." You can also visit her Facebook page, The Alphabugs.