

How to Download YouTube Videos Without Getting Infected

The Problem Goes Like This

Someone asks their friend how they got all those mp3s and YouTube videos on their ipod or whatever. So they go home and google the name of whatever they can remember their friend saying, and find out that there are all kinds of websites and programs with the answer, and some of them are even free. Many websites even seem to be promoting the same programs! So how do you decide? They just end up picking whatever appeals to them without knowing that some of these websites might be malicious and cause you to get infected. The catch 22 is that even though the “program” itself you are wanting may be safe, some of the “websites” where you might download the program are not. Its risky business, because the program itself may also be infected as well.

The good news is that there is a free browser-based method of downloading YouTube Videos in different formats and resolutions without all the usual risks, and that’s what I am about to show you. Just beware that it is so easy that you might get addicted to it. It’s from a website called <http://KeepVid.com>. With KeepVid, you can download and save videos directly from YouTube, Google, Metacafe, Putfile and more. Simply copy and paste the URL for the video and download it.

If you want to just download the audio portion of the video as an .mp3, click Download MP3 (see last screenshot below) and you will be automatically redirected to a similar website call SnipMP3 at <http://snipmp3.com> where it will automatically convert the video to .mp3 for you to download.

IMPORTANT: There are a few “Prerequisites and Restrictions” listed near the end of this article.
