

2020 - 2021 Gtown Elite

October | Grit

Elementary

Taylor Ollendick has been working exceptionally hard in her reading. She always uses her time wisely and has her nose in a book. Taylor has recently moved up another reading level because of her hard work and perseverance.

Nominated by Ms. Scott

McKay Wolfer is always trying hard on her work. She completes assignments while always doing her best. When something is difficult she is willing to keep trying until she gets it.

Nominated by Mrs. Cooper

Chance Wright is such a hard worker. He completes work with Mrs. Hyde and then goes to math class and works hard to get caught up on what he missed. He always wants to have everything done, will try any problem he's given, and asks questions when necessary. He never gives up and always wants to please his teachers. His behavior is wonderful, he is easy-going and a sweet kid.

Nominated by Mrs. Ellis

Jr. High / High

Colby Cornette consistently puts forth great effort, uses his notes, and asks questions. When you think of grit, you think of Colby. He also has an excellent attitude at putting forth effort even if a task is difficult. Colby sets a great example for the other students!

Nominated by Amanda Johnson

Logan Phillips is training for the Marines and has great focus as he prepares for service to our country. He has taken two students under his wing and is helping them get in shape and work on the skills needed to join the service as well. He has helped them set goals and has set incentives for them to reach their goals. He has made a good impression by showing care and compassion for these two young men.

Nominated by Mrs. McKinney

Kaylee Wright consistently works to finish her work, despite having injuries that have caused absences. She practices math concepts more than she is asked so that she can master the standard. She shows hard work and dedication in math class, and as a result aced the last math quiz! Not to mention her sweet and kind spirit that she displays to everyone she meets!

Nominated by Ms. Gavula
