HOME RUN!

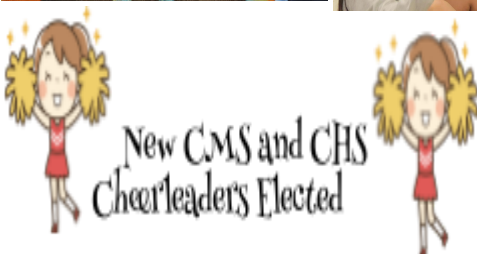

Art Classes Visit The Philbrook Museum

Forty-one students and four adults jumped on a bus on March 23rd and headed down Route 66 to Tulsa, Oklahoma. The day began at 8:10 am and along the way they viewed old motels and discussed how they had changed. They also viewed the Golden Driller Statue at the fairgrounds and then arrived at the Philbrook. While there, they viewed an additional show entitled, "500 Years of European Art" which included Italian Renaissance to Impressionism. Masters such as; Titian, El Greco, Rembrandt, Renoir, and Monet were on display. The group also enjoyed the contemporary African American artist, Kehinde Wiley, who incorporates traditional European art style with African American subjects. Upon departure, the group made a quick stop at Braums and arrived home at 2:30.

NJHS Attends State Convention

Ashely Herrera, Lexi Stovall, Bridny Pascual, Betty Garza, Anya Barnstead, and Shantall Padron were selected to go to the NJHS State Convention in Lawton, Oklahoma. The first day was spent hiking and visiting an arcade for team building. The next day the group attended the convention to learn more about the five pillars of NJHS, scholarship, leadership, character, service, and citizenship. NJHS is sponsored by Mrs. Vasquez. This is the first year the group has attended the convention, and they hope to make it an annual event.

The Easter Hunt

By: Julian

Run, have some fun

Go play with everyone!

Decorate, hide it in plain sight

Remember how it was once white?

Quick! Go claim your prize

But you'll need to look past its disguise
