December | Creativity and Honesty

Elementary

Audrey Fitzpatrick is a kind hearted soul. She uses her creativity to let others know that she cares about them. She loves to make things for her classmates and teacher with little notes of encouragement. Audrey displays honesty by doing what she says she will do. If Audrey says she will do it, she will. She demonstrates great character to her classmates by using her strengths to show integrity and friendship to everyone.

Nominated by Mrs. Campbell

Kylie Williams broke her arm earlier this year. When she saw another student in the first grade come in with a broken arm, she offered kind words and encouragement that this student would feel better soon. Kylie continues to check on her new friend and has also made her a get well card. Kylie goes above and beyond to make connections with other students and shows outstanding kindness.

Nominated by Mrs. Kelch

Jaelyn Wright is an outstanding student. She goes above and beyond to follow classroom rules. She has a great work ethic and is always willing to help others in the classroom. Jaelyn is also very creative and talented in her artwork. She likes to create drawings and give them to others.

Nominated by Mrs. Woodward

Jr. High / High

Harlie Gruen is very creative and works extremely hard at accomplishing goals set for her :) She is honest and sincere with everyone she encounters. Harlie lights up the room when she walks in!

Nominated by Mrs. Wells

Rebecca McCann is always excited about class. She is usually if not always the first one to log into our meeting. She has a natural ability to give signing cues and facial feedback that shows she is paying attention. She always seems eager to learn more and is every teacher's dream student. She is a blessing to have in a class that is as large as hers.

Nominated by Mrs. Sevacko

Kaylee Wright helped take the lead on our Christmas door decorations. She helped with the designing as well as the logistics of hanging them. During this time she was a diplomatic critic of the process and design. She was honest and kind making the whole process better. She stayed extra hours to make sure the project was completed as well as took work home when she could. One of the things that stood out during these extra hours was Kaylee's ability to start deep and meaningful conversations with other students. She fosters a safe space for students to be open and transparent about their opinions even when she disagrees. This level of depth and honesty as well as lack of judgment is very unique to this young lady and she should be a model to students and adults alike.
