Coach Wiseman

Cliff Wiseman has been with the Emerson-Hubbard School System for the past 25 years. Coach Wiseman wears many hats within our school system. He is a teacher, counselor, coach, and even a custodian. He has faced enormous challenges, won many titles, and taught many lessons throughout his teaching and coaching career. Coach Wiseman has always demanded his players to work hard to achieve success.

This spring Coach Wiseman faced his toughest challenge yet. We have watched him demonstrate those same characteristics he preaches in the classroom, on the field and in the gym. He has fought back from his stroke with tremendous courage and strength. For these reasons we honor Coach Wiseman.

Are we really stuck in the middle of nowhere?

Is it possible? Could we really be stuck "in the middle of nowhere?" Well, if we are, what do Emerson-Hubbard students do when they are alone "in the middle of nowhere?" These candid snapshots of student and faculty life should at least give us some idea...

Right: Mrs. Johnson and Mrs. Weddel are shown working on their award-winning Sweat-Sock Stew. Mmm-mmm, yummy.

"In the middle of nowhere", no one can catch her, so this is exactly the place for Blair Bowman to plot out all her evil deeds.

Below: Derek Victor is reluctantly practicing for his air band on a shovel; his air guitar is still in the shop.

Kim Hassler arises early in the morning just to sit and dream by the chalkboard about her ultimate school day. No math classes, maybe?

Left: It looks like these two hillbillies just wandered back from a cow tippin' party, probably "in the middle of nowhere" from the looks of it.

Betsy Eriksen thoroughly cleaning the blackboards in her free time.

Left: Mr. Parrott, our friendly neighborhood Ag teacher, scans the horizons for any visible signs of life. ...Or could it be he's just birdwatching?

Below: In her spare time Becky Van Cleave wonders, "What does this do?"

The theme for this year's yearbook has been "In the Middle of Nowhere." This theme was chosen because, as you can obviously see from our picture on the front, or if you happen to live here, this IS "the middle of Nowhere." Being so, everyone is forced to survive off everyone else. No, I'm not pulling a "Donner Party" on you. We all just merely have to get along and work with the people around us. The teachers, the students, the staff basically try to get along and for the most part it works. Please feel free to enter, "The Middle of Nowhere..."

By: Brenda Lussier

Above Left: Brooke Satterwhite gives Emerson-Hubbard two thumbs up. The person behind her feels we should have two whole hands.

Above: In her spare time, April Hingst just loves to catch up on her homework - whether it's during a speech meet or not.

Class Division

Most of the Emerson-Hubbard high school students have been together since the day they started kindergarten. Even though they have their ups and downs, nothing seems to get in the way of their friendships. Each class is unique in its own little way and has something that no one can understand but the classmates themselves. They have shared experiences with each other that will make life time memories. When something seems too tough to handle, they'll always meet in the middle, even if it is "in the middle of nowhere."*

Meagan Steecker

Melissa Servine, Jacob Acero, and Matt Mahler seem to be pretty tired after lunch, but Jessi Sexton stays optimistic about the rest of the school day.

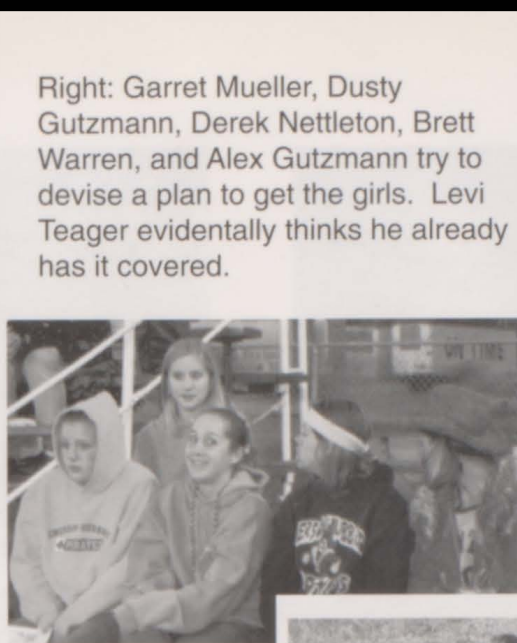

Amanda Walsh, Britni Jepsen, Holly Habrock, and Kendra Heeney get together to show just how foxy the ladies are "in the middle of nowhere."

Right: Cody Roeber, Matt Mahler, Corey Mackling, Will Rohan, Katie Stewart, Michelle Bik, and Breanna Fuchser enjoy their fame after placing second in the Third Annual Student Council Volleyball Tournament. No autographs please.

Above: Melissa Servine, Val Rohde, and Jessi Sexton show us what Spanish class is all about.

Right: Garret Mueller, Dusty Gutzmann, Derek Nettleton, Brett Warren, and Alex Gutzmann try to devise a plan to get the girls. Levi Teager evidently thinks he already has it covered.

These junior girls seem to be caught off guard, but we'll never fool Alisha Gutzmann!

Left: This group of girls are just waiting to see what the guys will do next.

Laurel Engel, Holly Roeber, and Lacey Wills try to convince us that they really are angels.

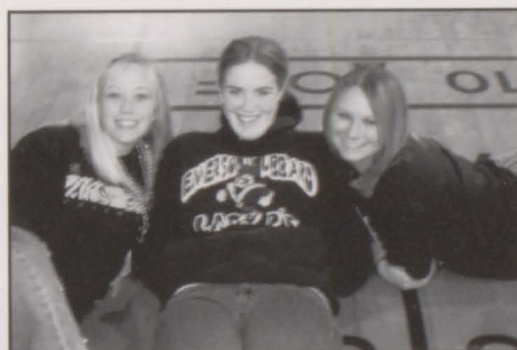

Left: Kim Hassler, Vito Olschewski, Ben Saltzmann, and Tom Watkins represent the seniors at the beginning of track season.

Right: Josh Tift and Keegan Staab look like they're up to something.

Left: Dustin Bowman, Tony Gradert, Jonna Sherlock, and Sabine von Arb seem to be hiding something, but what?!?!!!!

Below: Laurel Engel is pretty happy that she gets to see Curt, our "FAVORITE" trainer.

Right: Lacey Wills, Betsy Eriksen, Kim Hassler, Cassie Sorensen, Holly Roeber, Sara Servine, and Meagan Steecker take a moment to enjoy being a senior.

Class Motto

*As our senior year drifts slowly by,
We think of the past four years...Why?
We should be happy for the time we spent together
Even if it won't last forever.
Our memories of each other will never be faded,
There is nothing more precious we could have traded.*

OVER THE YEARS

SO MUCH HAS HAPPENED THESE LAST FOUR YEARS
ALL THE THINGS WE'VE BEEN THROUGH WILL BRING US TO TEARS
TO GO BACK AND TAKE A VERY GOOD LOOK
AND FLIP THROUGH THE PAGES OF OUR OLD YEARBOOKS

ON THAT FIRST BIG DAY: FRESHMAN REGISTRATION
WE FOUND ALL OUR CLASSES, WITH GREAT HESITATION
FEELING NERVOUS, APPREHENSIVE, AND SO OUT OF PLACE
WE MET OUR NEW CLASSMATES, AT LAST FACE TO FACE

AS UNDERCLASSMEN WE WERE RESTRICTED AS TO
THE PLACES WE WENT AND THE THINGS WE COULD DO
BUT AS WE GOT OLDER WE FOUND SOMETHING NEW
WE DISCOVERED OURSELVES AND ADOPTED FRESH VIEWS

AS UPPERCLASSMEN WE BEGAN DRIVING TO SCHOOL
WE RECEIVED MORE PRIVILEGES; WE BENT THE RULES
WE DID HOMEWORK IN GROUPS AND STUDIED TOGETHER
AND SLEPT THROUGH CLASSES THAT DRAGGED ON FOREVER

OUR SENIOR YEAR BEGAN WITH COLLEGE APPLICATIONS
ENGLISH CLASS CONTINUED WITH MEMORY BOOK EVALUATIONS
AS A CLASS WE DEVELOPED A UNIQUE SENIOR STYLE
PLAYING SPORTS, JOINING CLUBS, AND STUDYING ALL THE WHILE

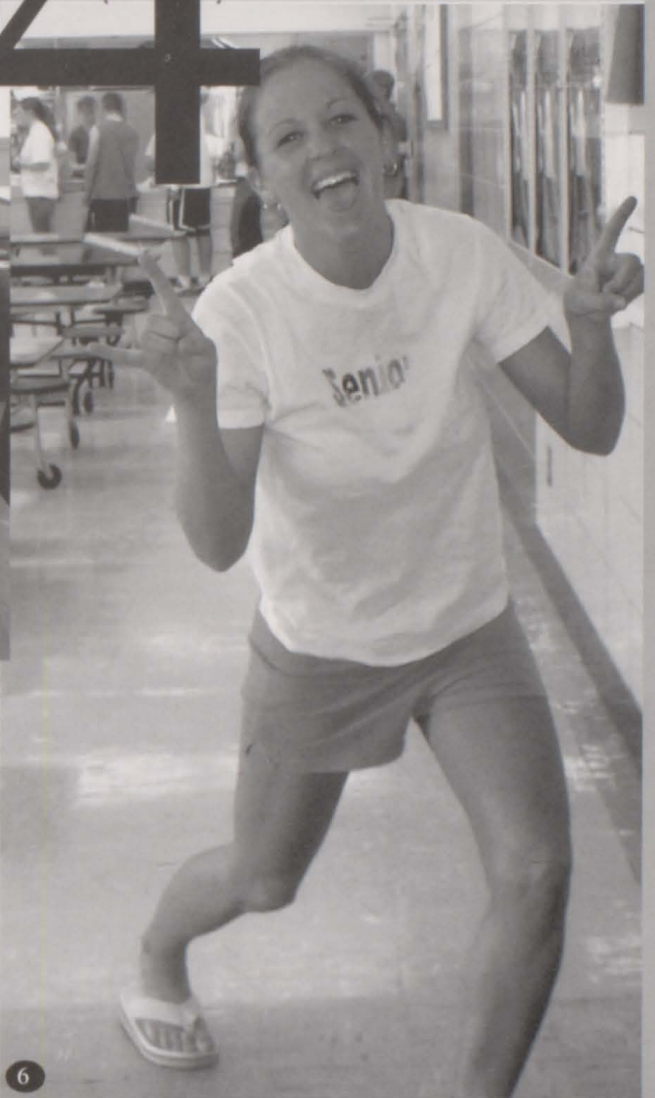

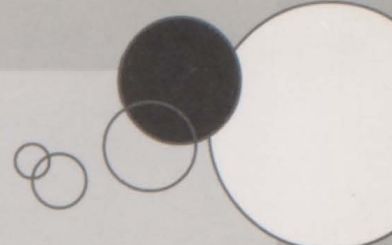

AS MENTORS WE HELPED THE FRESHMEN ADJUST
TO A NEW LIFESTYLE AND GAVE THEM SOMEONE TO TRUST
NOW LEAVING THEM BEHIND, WE HOPE TO STAY IN TOUCH
THROUGHOUT A LIFETIME THAT WILL CHANGE SO MUCH

THE TIME HAS COME TO GO OUR OWN SEPARATE WAYS
AS LIFE STRETCHES OUT BEFORE US LIKE A MAZE
THE FUTURE IS OUT THERE, BEYOND OUR SMALL SCOPE
WHILE THE YEARS TO COME SHINE BRIGHTLY WITH HOPE

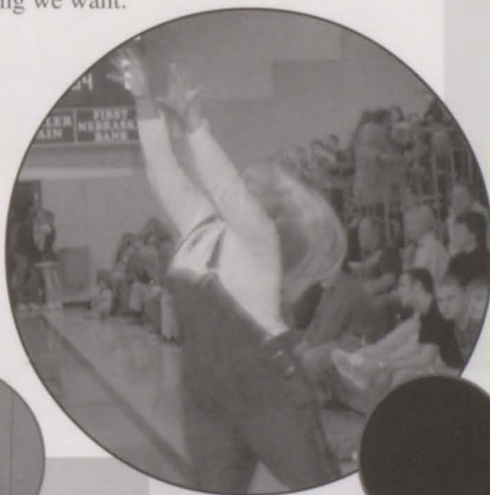

- 5 This senior class knows how to pick a lunch.
- 6 Cassie Sorensen is ready to party after she gets her diploma.
- 7 Vito Olschewski thinks USA is A Okay.

2004

For the seniors, this year started out with lots of excitement and enthusiasm. We had finally made it to our last year of high school! As the year progressed we all realized that this was our last year together. We have tried to make the best of each day spent here at Emerson-Hubbard these past thirteen years. Who will forget the day Derek Victor's car started on fire in the parking lot, or the time Mrs. Koopman promised us cookies and never made with the "dough" until the very last day of school. Each day during our high school career brought new memories for each member of the senior class. Now, it is coming to an end. We all have separate plans for our lives and with the talent and knowledge our class has been given, we will accomplish anything we want.

Way to go Class of 2004!

All Day Pig-Out

Does this junior class ever stop eating?

Food is always on the minds of the famished junior class throughout the busy school day. The junior class can be found munching everywhere on their favorite snacks, either in class or in the halls as a source of energy. It is either because we skipped breakfast, or we're just plain hungry. The half-hour lunch break always brings a delightful smile to many starving faces.

Everyone in this junior class deserves to feel special. Everyone is a little different or a little stranger than someone else. The twenty-one girls could be said to have a few mood problems, but we all work together to get through it. Even though there are only eleven guys in the junior class, one of them always seems to be in trouble or doing something they're not supposed to.

No matter how much our class changes throughout the years we will always be the class of 2005.

Sophomores

By: BETSY ERIKSEN

The sophomore class knows how to have a good time, even when they are "in the middle of nowhere". They are always ready for new challenges. The sophomores try their best in the classroom, on the court, and on the field. The class is one of the smallest that Emerson-Hubbard has, so each one of them will make an impact on the school. They will go far in whatever they do. They are the class of '06.

JR-HIGH DIVISION

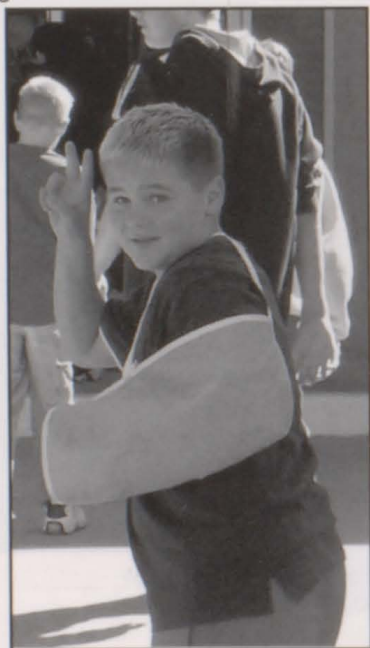

The junior high students at Emerson-Hubbard High School are still trying to figure out where they belong. Little do they know they are at the bottom of the pyramid, stuck somewhere in the middle between elementary and high school. The eighth graders have begun and continue to learn while the seventh graders have much to learn. It's all just part of a big cycle!

AT THE BEGINNING

The Seventh graders are finally at the high school even though they are not at the top. They are just beginning school "in the middle of nowhere," just starting a journey that will take them several years to complete. Will they ever make it out "of the middle of nowhere"? Will they ever fit in? Only time will tell.

Eighth Grade

The eighth grade class is one of Emerson-Hubbard's larger classes. This class grew by three with the closing of Sacred Heart School. The two groups have blended well, and this will help them excel in both academics and activities. The eighth grade class is always anxious to move into the main hallway, be a part of the high school, and find their place here in the "middle of nowhere".

Here at Emerson-Hubbard we have a variety of teachers who are new, old, funny, and serious. I don't know if we will ever be able to forget Mr. Porter's "DUH'S" or Mr. Bormann's ever famous "for tomorrow you have two assignments - section two review and quiz over section two." While we are starting to appreciate the old humor of teachers like Mr. Porter, Mrs. Koopman, and Mr. Wiseman, it is nice to get some new blood in every once in awhile. Ms. Traci Beacom is the newest addition to our Emerson-Hubbard staff. No matter what we might say, we have some of the best teachers around, and we really appreciate what they have taught us. Hopefully, we have all learned a little about life from them, too. One thing is for sure, we will never forget what they have taught us while we were stuck here "In The Middle of Nowhere."

2. Mrs. Simonsen has taught here for 23 years....yet she tells me she's only 25 years old

Working Together

By: Betsy Eriksen

Student council is one of the many organizations that our school provides. The student council does many different things throughout the year to keep the students busy and to raise a little extra money. They do trash pick-up in the spring and the fall in both Emerson and Hubbard. Mr. Lamoureux drives the big red van and all the kids pile in. The most important event of the year seems to be the "Toys for Tots" fund raiser. Everyone in the E-H student body gets involved, and this year we raised a total of $1,700.54. This money is used to buy toys and supplies for families in our own communities.

Cheerleading

Well, what is it like to be a cheerleader in the middle of nowhere? Actually, for some reason there appears to be a plethora of enthusiastic fans. This year the cheerleaders were present at both football and volleyball games; however, after the season, Dulcie Greene moved away and our cheer squad dissolved. It was a great year though, even amidst the troubles we had.

Science Club

The best and brightest of Emerson-Hubbard High School have spent the year preparing for the Annual Science Olympiad competition. Bridges have been built, eggs have been dropped and clay men have been swung across lab tables. Science Tsar Chris Weddel, the self appointed head of this brainy organization, has had his hands full keeping these kids busy and on task. Sponsors, Mr. Lamoureux and Mrs. Albrecht enjoy working with this talented group.

Homecoming 2003 was a week to remember with the theme of "Pirates of the Caribbean." Monday was the freshmen's pick as "Hawaiian Day" which was fun. Tuesday was "Traitor Day" and Wednesday was "Mardi Gras Day." The seniors chose "Hillbilly Day." We even had a horse and tractor in our parking lots.

The pep rally this year was one for the books. Of course we always have some of the same old skits. That will never change, but this year's juniors thought, they had a skit that would never be forgotten. They gave some of the teachers one of the best makeovers they have ever had. Ask Mr. Nelson. He made the front page of the newspaper with his new look, and hopefully, Will Rohan won't need any more math credits!

And the recipient of this years award for drama queen goes to Ashley Bowman!

Jonna Sherlock, a deer in head-lights, doesn't know it is actually a camera flash and not a semi. Chris Weddel hopes she will make a quick recovery before the performance. Tony Gradert is just glad to see everyone is all right.

The year began with the usual selection of the performance piece. This year, we chose "110th Street Station" by Burton Bumgarner. We had the parts picked and the memorization began. When mid-September came, the early morning practices began and as usual almost everyone seemed like the living dead. This year the cast experienced many obstacles before the first performance. Two days before this performance, one of the actresses moved and was replaced by Sarah Barg. On the day of our first performance, another one of the actresses became ill, and we had to substitute and switch parts. These forks in the road didn't stop our continued efforts to gain perfection. In the Lewis and Clark Conference One-Act, our first competition, we received third place and were very proud of ourselves. We took the judges comments and worked to make these changes in our performances. At district competition, we received sixth place with disappointment, but we quickly moved on to our hopes for speech meets. We regrouped and organized the events for everyone. We were really excited about going to the competitions to see how each individual and the team would compete. At the Emerson-Hubbard Speech Invitational the team received first place. Lewis and Clark Conference was held at Emerson-Hubbard and the team earned second place. At district speech competition, the team brought home third place. Many individuals received first, second, third, or fourth place at many of the competitions. Mrs. Johnson was there to support us and encourage us when we were ready to shine.

Drama is life with all of the boring stuff cut out!

The twenty dollars dropped by Marta, the foreigner, is just out of reach for each of these characters.

These five students went to the elementary to read Bartholomew Cubbin's Five Hundred Hats on Dr. Suess's 100th Birthday.

Prom this year as "An Enchanted Paradise" was an explosion of color in all shades and styles. Everyone was different, from Audrey Stabb's rainbow dress, to the subtle light green of Cassie Sorensen's dress, but we shouldn't leave out the guys! They were all extremely dashing in their outfits, no matter how outrageous (Jacob Hyde), to how ingenious (Tony Gradert). All were dressed to their best and ready to party. Post prom was held in the gym with a carnival-like setting. There were many things to do and more than enough prizes! Plus, everyone got a lei.

The Awards Banquet is a time when the students are recognized for all that they have accomplished that year. This year Emerson-Hubbard had a lot of students excel athletically and academically, whether it be in sports, drama and speech, music, or just being an all around good student. Their talents are coming through to show who they are and what they can become in the future. Congratulations to all the students this year for a job well done!

Graduation

From kindergarten to senior year the class of 2004 has always been looking forward to the future. However, the closer they got to that final year of high school, they realized that they would be starting their lives sooner than expected.

"Our memories of each other will never be faded, there is nothing more precious we could have traded." T.H. White. The class song was "Forever Young" by Rod Stewart. The class motto was "As our senior year drifts slowly by, we think of the past four years...Why? We should be happy for the time we spent together even if it won't last forever." The colors were purple, gold, and green. The class flower was the gerber daisy.

This class of twenty-two students graduated from Emerson-Hubbard High School on May 8, 2004 at two in the afternoon. This class will never be forgotten and they will always remember the good times they spent together.

Vocal

Choir has been very busy this year with an array of fresh, new faces and a whole bunch of energy! This energetic group has been known to play a lot of hacky sack when their sectionals were over and also to listen to music in Mrs. Trenhaile's office. Although they may come off as loud and quite boisterous, which they are, they can still settle down once in a while and get the job done. We have been privileged to have a student teacher, Mrs. Gilles, this year to help Mrs. Trenhaile. The choir has done many things including three concerts hosted at our school involving the choir, show choir, girls glee, and the guys singing. The choir has also been to the Lewis and Clark Conference Clinic. Who could forget Brian Coan's solo? The contest in April at Wayne was very tough. All in all, the choir has been an interesting group this year.

High School Band

The band has been busy this year. After hours of practice the band's hard work has paid off. The band won first place in Class "C" at Wayne State Band Day. The band performed a half time show for Homecoming. After a successful marching season, the band sponsored three concerts- Pop and Pie Concert in fall, a winter concert in January, and a spring concert in May. The band also attended a district contest in April. Many band members were selected for various honor bands: Lewis and Clark, Wayne State, USD, and Class "C" All State.

FFA

Once upon a time there was an FFA chapter at Emerson-Hubbard High School. The members did all kinds of really fun stuff from farm safety days (teaching kids how not to get run over by a tractor) to going to Lincoln, Nebraska for the state FFA convention. These kids had tons of fun with everything they did that year, but it came to a sad end when they found out that it was their ag teacher's last year at Emerson-Hubbard. Although Mr. Parrott was leaving at the end of the year, the kids still had a blast with all of the activities and made the best of them. This is the story of the 03-04 E-H FFA chapter.

FBLA is a fun organization. There are always things to do because Mrs. Simonsen always has fun things planned. Each year the organization installs officers. The installation of the officers was held on November 12, 2003 followed by a membership breakfast. The 2003-2004 officers are Meagan Steecker-President, Cassie Sorensen-Vice President, Kim Hassler-Secretary, Sara Servine-Treasurer, Dustin Bowman-Historian, Ben Saltzman-Reporter, and Patrick Dorcey-Parliamentarian. On Valentine's Day they took valentines to the residents of Heritage of Emerson and also co-sponsored the Sweetheart Dance. For a fundraiser this year, they are selling Homemade Gourmet products. In April some of the members will participate in the Wayne State College Business Competition Day.

NHS 2003-2004

This year the National Honor Society has a great group of members who have been working hard to raise money for school projects. They worked concession stands at football and basketball games, and they made the gym look absolutely wonderful for homecoming. They have also had a "Home and Garden" party to raise money to give the seniors of National Honor Society scholarships for college next year. They were also able to show off their great baking skills for the lunch held at the "Home and Garden" party. Even though these students work hard to get things done, they know how to have fun at the same time.

Pirates Against Drugs and Alcohol

P.A.D.A.'s goal is to encourage youth to make the wise decision to be drug free. This group provides information to students and also provides fun alternatives to smoking and drinking. We encourage young people to stay healthy and drug free. This group is open to both junior high as well as high school students.

This year the students who participated in P.A.D.A. filled easter eggs and passed them out at the elementary. One of the fun and exciting drug free events was a trip to the Wayne bowling alley.

Amanda Burke and Chris Weddel are both members of P.A.D.A. and they fight to keep drugs out of school.

After school on Fridays, we always went to Will Rohan's house for supper. Everyone was invited. This year the team had another new head coach, Ms. Traci Beacom. With new head coaches every year, the team has had to make a lot of changes. Kim Hassler and Sara Servine received all conference honors while Cassie Sorensen received honorable mention.

This years boys team knew that it would be a hard season with only one letter winner returning. The boys knew they had to play good defense and cause the other team to make turnovers in order to stay in the game. Girls Track is the coolest!

This years girls track team had a lot of determination and pride in what they did and several personal "bests" were attained. The weather was definitely a factor in this years track meets. At times the teams gear looked more like they were preparing for a ski trip than a track meet. Snow, sleet, and hail couldn't keep our ladies from doing their own personal best! There were eleven girls on the team, Kelsey Alexander, Kendra Heeney, Jenica Relitz, Natalie Woltman, Alyssa Gradert, Melissa Servine, Breanna Fuchser, Karissa Warren, Laurel Engel, Paula Acero, and Kim Hassler. Although Breanna was the only one out of the eleven girls to make it to state, the entire team showed effort throughout the track season.

Boys Track

Squad succeeds with determination and desire

Track - the sport of hard work, dedication and determination - the sport with thrilling personal competition and team pride. It takes a special type of athlete to motivate and work for their own personal best. Track is the sport that separates the men from the boys. The track team had lots of fun this year at the meets and at practice and many personal "bests" were achieved. The six men at the end of the season can be proud of themselves.

The Emerson-Hubbard High School Pirates Volume 43 was printed by Walsworth Publishing Company, 306 N. Kansas, Marceline, Missouri 64658. Greg Adams was tech sales representative. One hundred and five copies were printed and sold for thirty-five dollars each which included the student's foiled name on the front cover.

The laminated "In the Middle of Nowhere" cover was designed by Tony Gradert. The layouts were created by Macintosh G4 Computers.

Adobe Photoshop 5.5, Adobe Pagemaker 6.5 and 7.0, Internet Explorer, and Walsworth CLIK ART book were used to create the graphics and the layouts. Images were scanned with the Epson Perfection 640u scanner. The fonts used throughout the yearbook were provided by the Walsworth Publishing Company. The photographs were taken by Bobier Studio, Nebraska Journal Leader, Mrs. Julie Albrecht, and the annual staff.
