Welcome to your yearbook. In the following 99 pages you will be amused, saddened, excited, maddened, and you will think to yourself, "Wow, this is cool." That is the whole purpose of this yearbook, and others like it, to bring out all of those emotions and make you, as the reader, remember them as if they were happening right now. So sit back, turn the pages, and discover. . .

That's What Friends Are For

ABOVE: Kurt will always remember Minerva's friendship.

Friendship is a big part in the lives of students here at FHS. Whether it be a friendship that has lasted since the beginning of life, or one that started at the beginning of the school year, we all need friends to make it in life.

A special friend is someone that we know we can ALWAYS count on, and most of us have that special group or friend that just makes us feel cool to hang around with.

The title of this page says all that needs to be said about the close-knit friendships that seem to be held on to and explored here at FHS. So while reading this page, just think of that special bud in your life, and remember high school is where our lives and lasting friendships are formed.

A year to remember...

The Junior class of 1994-95 at Frenchtown High School is a class that will not soon be forgotten. There have been many memorable happenings at F.H.S. over the course of the 94-95 school year, and the Junior class has been a large part of all of them.

There were 12 Juniors on the runner-up State Champion football team this year, and many were on the state champion team last year as Sophomores. The Junior girls also had their fill of sports excitement this fall, the varsity girls Basketball team, with 7 Junior members, missed a trip to state by one loss.

The winter sports were just as productive. The boys basketball team, with 5 Juniors, played hard all year. The volleyball team also had a great year, led by 6 Juniors.

Sports aren't the only thing students at F.H.S. excel at, 2 Juniors also made it to state in Speech and Drama, as well as many Juniors are also members of the National Honors Society. The Junior class also planned and carried out a successful Prom.

They have had a great year and are glad they only have one left!!

The Impressive Fall of '95

- The spirits are alive, and flowing throughout the school, can you feel it?

Cheering With Everlasting Spirit

The Fall Cheerleaders were in a class of their own, with their new uniforms, new stunts and a new group of cheerleaders. They had a new way of cheering, that left every other school walking away jealous. The squad consisted of two seniors, two juniors, and three sophomores. All of which were very energetic and spirited.

Together they mastered the 'Basket Toss' and other difficult stunts that left the crowd amazed each time they performed. At the Football games, they were accompanied by Heather Mecham, Jerry Lynn Savik, and Sarah Teegarden (the littlest Bronc cheerleaders ever), as well as Kurt Rashall and Chris Mauldin (the strongest Bronc cheerleaders ever).

Their coach Tanya Porch (a former Lady Bronc) led them to a great season full of spirit and fun.

BACK IN BLACK

-Three in a Row-

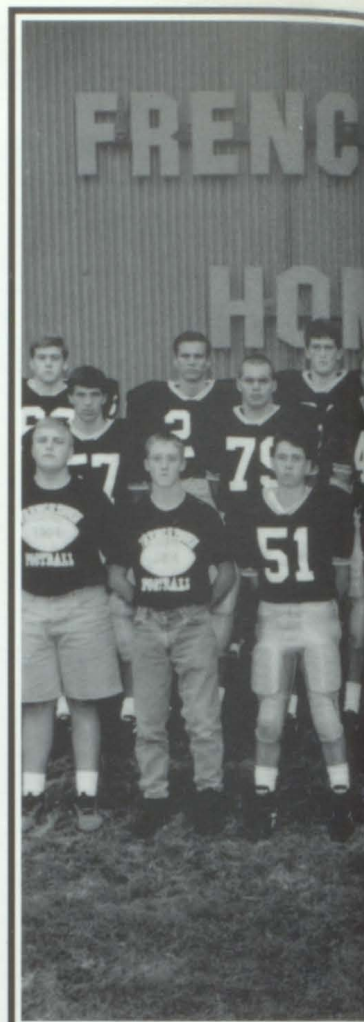

The Frenchtown football program continued its tradition of excellence and dedication in 1994. After a stretch of 10 straight games, and the division title, the Broncos returned to the Class B State Championship for the third consecutive year. The State Runners-up accomplished all but sheer perfection with an astounding group of hard working team players and achieved a 10-1 record.

The team was led by a trio of experienced and soulful experts in the football field. Tim Racicot, Rick Unruh, and Rory Weishaar guided their players flawlessly to the fourth title game in Frenchtown Bronco history. Thanks to these three extraordinary coaches, the Broncos reached above and beyond their goals.

The tradition Frenchtown football continues to uphold is second-to-none. As last year's group of Seniors, Leif Cox, Sam Cummins, Chad Doty, Shayne Mecham, Ian Parker, Kurt Rashall, Tony Staber, Taylor Tillman, Tim Tucker, Nathan Waldron, and Jesse Woodward pass on their leadership skills to the younger players, Frenchtown fans and players can only expect its excellent football tradition to continue for years to come.

'Going into the year, I felt we would be competitive on the District and Divisional level and had a good chance of going to State. This was based not on the usual requirements needed for success such as team quickness and height, because we were average at best in both of these categories, but rather on the feeling of family this particular group of girls carry with them like a flowing banner held aloft.'

Jim Tolman

The 1994-95 Girls Basketball season was a success. The team finished the season with a 19-7 record and a Sixth place ranking in the States Final Power Poll. The team missed going to a state by one loss.

Two of the more memorable games were victories against Darby and Deer Lodge. The first was a road game at Darby, while they were ranked third in the State. Frenchtown won 72-62 as we scored 10 3-pointers (a School Record), with Carrie Kruschke netting 7 of them. The game against Deer Lodge was a different story. The it was loser out at the District Tournament, and the score after three quarters was 39-27, Deer Lodge.

'The girls, as was their character, never gave up and stormed back and over the Wardens in the 4th by outscoring them 28-10, making one more point than we had in the previous three quarters.'

Jim Tolman

The District Tournament was held in Florence. Our First two games were against Arlee and Loyola, respectively. We beat Arlee 60-48, but lost to Loyola 42-67. Carrie Kruschke paced the Lady Broncs with 14 points each game. The next game was against Deer Lodge. Then we defeated Florence, 46-42, with Katie Racicot and Annie Block each scoring 10 points.

After this came Divisionals, held at Loyola. Frenchtown beat Big Fork 62-58, behind Carrie Kruschke's 25 points. The next game was another tough loss to, you guessed it, Loyola, 45-63. We then beat Mission 44-30, behind Carrie Kruschke's 14 points. The next game would determine whether or not we went to State. The game was close, 50-58, in favor of Troy. And so ended another great season of Lady Bronc Basketball.

Kim O'Neill had to overcome a season ending knee injury, in which she was only able to play in the first couple games and for the last few minutes of the last game of the season. "Her ability to not only come to practice everyday and sit on the bench every game, but to also keep her and everyone else's sense of humor at a high level was a great accomplishment and contribution to our team."

Coach Jim Tolman

A special thanks to Coach Tolman, for use of the stats and his thoughts on the season.

Christy Nicosia and the Freshman played a great season. Many of these players will be on the Varsity squad next season.

We Got The Spirit...

Homecoming Week!

This week let students show their true school spirit. The week began with Monday as wacky hair day. This allowed a number of people to show how weird they could be, followed by Tuesday Flinnstone Day. Tuesday students weren't able to dress up due to the fact school was closed. Wednesday, twin day, followed by Thursday self-flotation and Friday spirit day.

For the first time at Frenchtown, students were released early to work on class floats. This new schedule worked out well as each seemed to achieve quite a bit. The senior class took first with sophomores second, freshmen third and juniors forth. For the hall decorations, the seniors claimed the hall prize, once again. 'Homecoming week was a time to show off pride, who could forget the bon fire! Good job showing school spirit!!' -Renee'

'Homecoming is a time for spirit and pride. Even though the bon fire was postponed, we all showed a lot of pride and support. Good job.' -Becky

THE 1995 SOARING SPEECH & DRAMA TEAM

Many believe that joining the speech and drama team is a sure way to get an easy letter. But with a season lasting four months, it is anything but an easy letter. The team members arose in predawn hazes to compete in a variety of events this year. Angel Bingel and Chris Mauldin represented Frenchtown in speech: Angel competed in the challenging serious oral interpretation event, and Chris went to state with his memorized public address of John F. Kennedy's inaugural address.

Frenchtown is traditionally a drama school, and that tradition continued this year. Pantomime was strong with Jennifer Farrington performing well and Leigh Anne Palmer making it to state. Marlayna Caffrey made it to state as an alternate in serious solo, and our serious solo team, comprised of Lisa Thompson and Louisa Appelt, consistently scored high in competition. Crystal Lewis, Joni Knopik, Cole Gustafson and Justin Chism formed our two humorous duo teams which were much appreciated by judges and competitors alike wherever they performed.

Shane Tanner, the new speech and drama coach, saw the team frequently rank second in drama among stiff B and C competition. This only goes to prove that speech and drama team members can perform well and still have a blast doing it--even with getting up in hazy predawn hours.

Bronc Wrestling 94-95

The season had its ups and downs, but all in all it proved to be interesting and exciting. In spite of injuries, illness, grades, etc., 10 wrestlers were qualified to wrestle in the Divisional Tournament. These were, Carlo Gillette, Jake Jones, Larry Mallo, Cory Willis, Kyle Rausch, Matt Long, Kris Rausch, Shayne Mecham, Tim Tucker, and Scott Glessner.

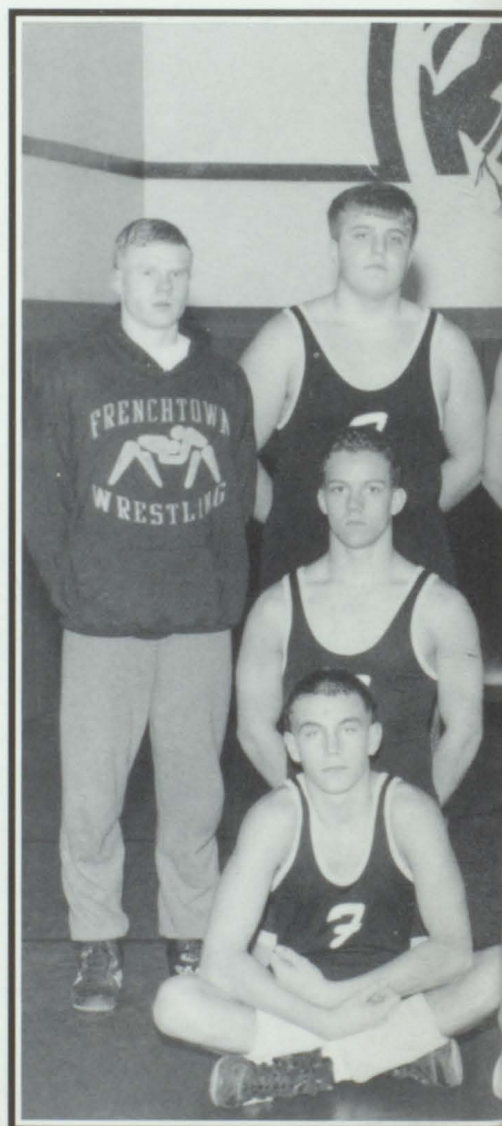

When the dust settled after Divisional, five wrestlers were qualified to compete at the State Tournament in Billings. They were Cory Willis, Matt Long, Shayne Mecham, Tim Tucker, and Scott Glessner. Among a field of 37 class B and C teams these five young men finished in 5th place. It was a team effort. All five of them placed and scored points. Matt Long and Shayne Mecham made it into the finals. Matt lost a close match to returning state champ and Shayne won a close match to garner his third state title as state champ.

Boys Basketball Season

The 1994-95 Frenchtown High School Boys Basketball team had a successful season. First year coach, Scott Rasor from Montana Tech, entered the season having to make some adjustments. After losing six seniors from the previous year, four of which were starters, Coach Rasor had some big shoes to fill. His lone returning starter, 6'4" center Chris Larson, was expected to take the role of leading the offense. With the help from the other five seniors, Taylor Tillman, Chet Mercer, Tony Staber, Kraig Benson, and Dennis Neilson, along with an excellent cast of juniors, the Broncos placed fourth at District. This qualified them to play at divisionals. The Broncos suffered two tough losses at divisionals, ending their 1994-95 season.

F. H. S GOLF --1995

The 1995 golf season began with promise as the team returned many letter winners from the previous year. The inexperienced freshmen and sophomores of last season brought an air of confidence and experience to this year's team. At the year's first tournament in Polson, the players battled the cold weather and wet conditions to post some good scores. The boys placed sixth in the tournament, and the girls fifth. The following week at Larchmont the team played well once again. In the individual portion of the tournament, Paul Hart and Kristie Bingel posted personal best scores on their way to top five finishes as Liz Weaver walked away with Medalist honors. In Plains, both the girls and boys teams made good showings with the highlight of the tournament being LeeAnn Morris' holed out third shot for a birdie for a hundred yards out on the forth hole. In the St. Regis Invitational Willy Schlaebitz's won his first tournament of the year. The Frenchtown Invitational Tournament allowed everyone to obtain experience as all players on the team participated, excluding Willy Schlaebitz who unfortunately injured his wrist prior to the tournament and would be forced to be a spectator for the remainder of the season. Tournament highlights included second place finishes by Paul Hart and Kristie Bingel. After an opening day of driving rain for the Whitefish-Kalispell Tournament, the skies cleared up and allowed all players to post better scores the final day of the tournament. The sunny weather continued through the State Tournament in Bozeman and Three Forks. Overall, both young teams finished in the middle of the pack, with top thirty finishes by Korey Haffner and Krite Bingel - with Lizz Weaver finishing fifth in the All-State! Nearly all players posted better second-day scores. The 1995 season was a great success, and can only be considered a sample of the great things to come in the following years as the teams mature.

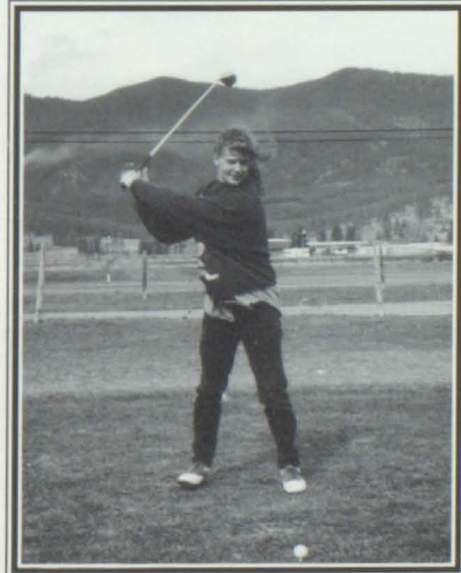

•The 1995 golf season could have easily been put into the books with an asterisk. The asterisk would have denoted the season that never was. Without assistance of the members of the golf team and their parents, the 1995 season could not have been possible. Their dedication and hard ork allowed the program to continue. Thank you all very much!

Broncs Keep the Pace!

By: Tricia Glanz

Always demanding more of an athlete, whether it be to run faster, jump higher, or throw further, track is not an easy sport. However, there is no greater feeling of accomplishment than knowing you made it through one more season. All track athletes of the 1995 team gave it their all and because of that Frenchtown had a successful track season.

Once again, the track team showed their true dedication in participating in meets where the weather was ALWAYS agreeable! Even though the weather wasn't exactly cooperative, no one complain about the athletes' performances. Kyle Rausch broke the record in the boy's pole vault, despite being a beginner in the event. Kim O'Neill put her knee injury aside and broke the girl's school record in the javelin. Both the boy's and girl's team showed their muscle again this year. Following with tradition, the girls once again came away with victories in the District and Divisional track meets. The boy's also earned trophies, placing third at the District meet and second at the Divisional meet.

This year's girl's team was helped by the efforts of Katie Racicot, Heidi Tweedy, Amanda Johnston, and led by seniors: Carrie Kruschke, Kim O'Neill, and Tricia Glanz. The girl's 4x100m relay placed second at the state meet in Missoula. Heidi Tweedy placed a strong second in the 100m dash and also placed in the 200mdash. Amanda Johnston finished fourth in the 100m hurdles. Senior, Carrie Kruschke, also showed her athleticism, placing fourth in the 800m run.

The boy's team was also strong this year led by seniors Lief Cox and Jesse Woodward in the hurdles, while Tim Tucker and Taylor Tillman dominated the sprints and javelin respectively. Scott Glessner also showed heart by returning to the team after injuring his foot earlier in the season. At the State B meet, the boy's 4x100m relay placed sixth. This year Jesse showed improvement in the hurdles, which earned him a place on the State team. Lief Cox advanced to the finals in the 300m hurdles at the State meet.

The Bronc's were a very competitive team again this year with their combination of dedication, hard work, and senior leadership. The winning tradition of Frenchtown High School will once again be continued next year.

Key Club is a community service organization, and its members are people who care about the community and the people within it. Our job is to do as much as we can to improve the health and welfare of the community.

This year has been a tremendous success. However, there is always room for improvement. We have successfully completed a T-shirt sale, a community food drive. Senior luncheon, the purchase of clothing and necessities for a needy family over the holidays, and also a community blood drive. We have also been present at various other Key club socials and activities. We had representatives at the Key Club district Youth conference as well as an International Convention.

The attendance and diversity of Key Club membership has been incredible this year, however, it could be better and I hope that it is in the years to come. These members have set a concrete foundation for a great Key Club in Frenchtown, and their efforts and caring show potential of human beings.

Thanks to all of the members, board and our own advisor, Ms. Betty Gouaux for making the year such a success, and for making my job so easy.

Sincerely,

Rachel Boggess, Key Club President

In the Still of the Night ... Prom '95

Prom '95 a night to remember, held at the King Ranch Golf course, was unlike any prom in the past. With the location change, it brought new adventure for some, and the beginning of memories for others. The grand march held at eight o' clock, was followed by the dance at nine.

GRADUATION '95

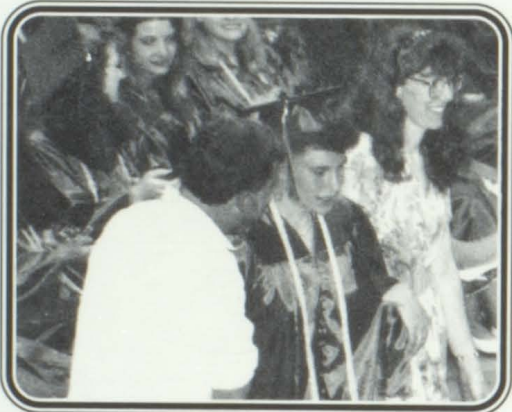

On May 28, 1995 at three p.m. it happened ..., the senior class graduated! For many it was an emotional time as events were remembered and ideas for the future were shared. Everyone seemed quite composed until the class presentation to the parents started. Roses were given and tears were shed. Then, as diplomas were dispersed, many of the tears of sadness changed to those of joy, as the seniors realized their goals had been accomplished. For everyone who graduated that day it will always be a memory that holds many different emotions of "one moment in time."

Looking Back on Our Nation's History

Close-Up this year was something that all five girls who went looked forward to. It was a real learning experience.

The week started on Monday when the girls were divided into different workshops and given tours of the city and historical monuments. Tuesday and Wednesday followed the same guideline of getting to know the people from different parts of the world that were assigned to each workshop to learn about the nation's government. On Thursday they went to a dinner theatre and had a 'workshop on wheels' (a workshop on the buses). This was basically an in depth tour and discussion about the government what has made it as it is today. Friday was the final day and a free day. The girls again toured the monuments, shopped 'til they dropped, and toured some more.

All-in-all the trip was a blast. They got to meet many different people and explore new and different cultures and beliefs. Most of all they got a better understanding of how this country is run.

FRONT: Tammy Lujan and Amber Lewis.

S.A.D.D. started a new chapter at FHS this year. Andi Gonder was founder and president, and comments "This is our first year having a S.A.D.D. chapter at FHS, and although we got off to a rough start, we plan make to some changes before the year is over, and we hope to make S.A.D.D. a school tradition that will continue."

She's right, S.A.D.D. did have a few obstacles to overcome before actually getting started, but in the end all worked out. The committee decided, as the club started, that S.A.D.D. would stand for students against drunk driving instead of students against drinking and driving due to the fact that most of its members have at one time or another had a few drinks. So the decision was made to help students in their decisions to drink and not drive. Along with that decision, the club also held a dance for the junior high to promote the clubs purpose. Before the dance some of the S.A.D.D. members talked with the junior high students and answered questions about partying safely and smartly and some of the things that S.A.D.D. does and will do. "I think our purpose and promotion at the junior high did some good and will help to keep the club going in the future," explains S.A.D.D. secretary Season Kyle.

Although this chapter was just started and still needs a little shaping around the edges, the members hope that S.A.D.D. will continue strong and proud into the future.

.....Helping you remember.....

Throughout the many years, publications class has tried to bring the memories to all of the students whom have attended FHS. This year, we decided to make a contribution to all of those memories, by choosing a theme that involved remembering all of our years together here at FHS.

The theme, 'Remembering it, Bronc Style', is a way to tie the school spirit in with the memories that we, as students, have had and will continue to have as our high school lives and future lives go on.

Publications class feels it is our job and privilege to bring all of your high school memories to life. We think that makes our publications class worth while. And seeing the looks on other students faces as that look at a picture from the past football season or seeing someone laugh as a silly student life picture is a rewarding sight for us who put these memories together.

We are working hard to make each yearbook better than the one before. We would like to thank all of the students here at FHS for their support and memories. Without everyone's memories, there would be no reason to remember.

Foreign Exchange Experiences:

Up Close and Personal

Hi! My name is Minerva Avelar. I'm an exchange student from Mexico. I can't believe this school year is almost over, it went so fast!! I still remember my first weeks in Frenchtown. It was scary to be surrounded by people who were asking me all these questions in English that I couldn't even understand. Now I laugh when I remember it, but it was frustrating!

Now I'm doing so much better and I don't want to go back yet. Not that I don't miss my Mexican family because I do miss them, but I love my American family. They are so cool!! I have many brothers and sisters to fight and argue with. They always tease me about my height (I am extremely short!), but I don't care, we have fun together.

This is my second "senior year". I graduated last year from high school but I didn't know what I wanted to study in college. So, I decided to go on an exchange and learn another language and culture and I DID IT!! Now I have to go back and study. My major is going to be International Business. I recommend the exchange to everyone. It's an unforgettable experience!!!

My name is Carla Giovannotti Dorsch, I am an exchange student from Brazil and I speak Portuguese. I was born March 4, 1976. My host family was the Bondurants.

I had such a great time this year! I made so many friends, I learned so many things! There is a big difference between Frenchtown and my city. In Vitoria it is never below 60 F so this was the first time I've seen the snow. I just loved it, is so cool! I also appreciate the special attention and care I received from teachers and supervisors. I believe this is the main advantage of a small school. Thank you so much!! But what I've enjoyed the most, were all the friends I made. I'll never forget the great times we had and the bad ones we shared. I hope you guys remember me as much as I will remember you; forever!!! I sure will miss you all!

Cristina Dubia and Carla Dorsch stood together to say their last goodbyes after the graduation ceremonies were over.

My name is Claudio Checci and I'm from South Germany. In Germany I live at the Lake of Constance right next to the border of Switzerland and Austria. I came to Missoula, where I met my host family and area representative. It was a really hot day and I was totally confused and disoriented. The first thing I thought was, "Yes, I'm in the U.S.A.". I was so happy because my dream came true. I experienced my first day in Frenchtown High School and liked the school from that moment on. The school is totally different than my school in Germany.

I'm living in Huson Sixmile. The place couldn't be more perfect. My relationship with the Ockerts is great and I'm really going to miss them when I have to leave. But next year, in the summer 1996, I'm coming over with my natural family and we'll have a nice reunion with the Ockerts. But before I leave the U.S. I'm going to travel. This year has been the nicest and biggest experience in my life. All I learned I am going to use in my future life. I'll never forget this year, my family and all my friends and teachers, who made this year a nice year for me.

My name is Achim Munz and I'm an exchange student from Germany. In Germany I live in the south, 25 miles to the border to Austria and Switzerland. I was really excited going to the USA, the bud of my dreams. It was my first visit to the United States and my first flight ever.

My host family here in Frenchtown is Lee and Diane Maxted. I'm really glad that they chose me, I feel at home and I'm really thankful for that. The school here is a lot different than what I used to go to and I really like it. Especially the sports here was a great experience, because we don't really have sports teams at school. I was manager of the boys basketball team and girls softball team, and I enjoyed every minute they played.

After graduation I'm going to travel with my parents through Montana. Later then I'm going to go to California with a friend. To be a student at Frenchtown High School was one of the greatest experiences in my life, and I will never forget it. I hope I can use all these experiences that I have made here in my future. I want to thank my host family, all my friends, and the teachers, who made this year so great for me.

FISH OUT OF WATER

Letterman isn't the only one hooked on Hootie and the Blowfish

Baseball Strike. Say it ain't so. A labor squabble accomplished what the Depression, two World Wars and an earthquake couldn't: It snuffed out the World Series. The strike killed a season of white-hot pennant races and on-the-diamond superlatives (Ken Griffey Jr. killed a season of white-hot pennant races and on-the-diamond superlatives (Ken Griffey Jr. and Matt Williams were making credible runs at Ruth's home-run record; Tony Gwynn and Matt Williams in the .400 club). It also proved the only stat that baseball's multimillionaire owners really care about is the bottom line.

Our Nation in Review

This year has been one of the most exciting and eventful years in a long time. So much history was made with the O.J. trial, the retirement and reinstatement of Michael Jordan, the baseball strike, and the blockbuster movie "The Lion King".

A few other events that were memorable this year were the 1994 version of Woodstock, the retirement of Joe Montana, and the introduction of new bands such as "Hootie and the Blowfish".

Through the years so much has happened to effect our lives and the lives of the public. We are so influenced by these actions and stories that they sometimes change our lives forever.

This page is a review of some of the events and stories that have happened in the last school year that may or may not have meant much to us personally, but in some way or another they probably had some sort of effect on our lives.

WOODSTOCK REDUX

About 350,000 fans showed up in Saugerties, New York, to mark the 25th anniversary of Woodstock I (as it must now be known) with three more days of peace, music, mud and corporate sponsorship. Michael Lawton took this shot of Woodstock II with a panoramic camera mounted on a 10-ft. pole.

Sport: Say it ain't so—Joe Montana calls it quits

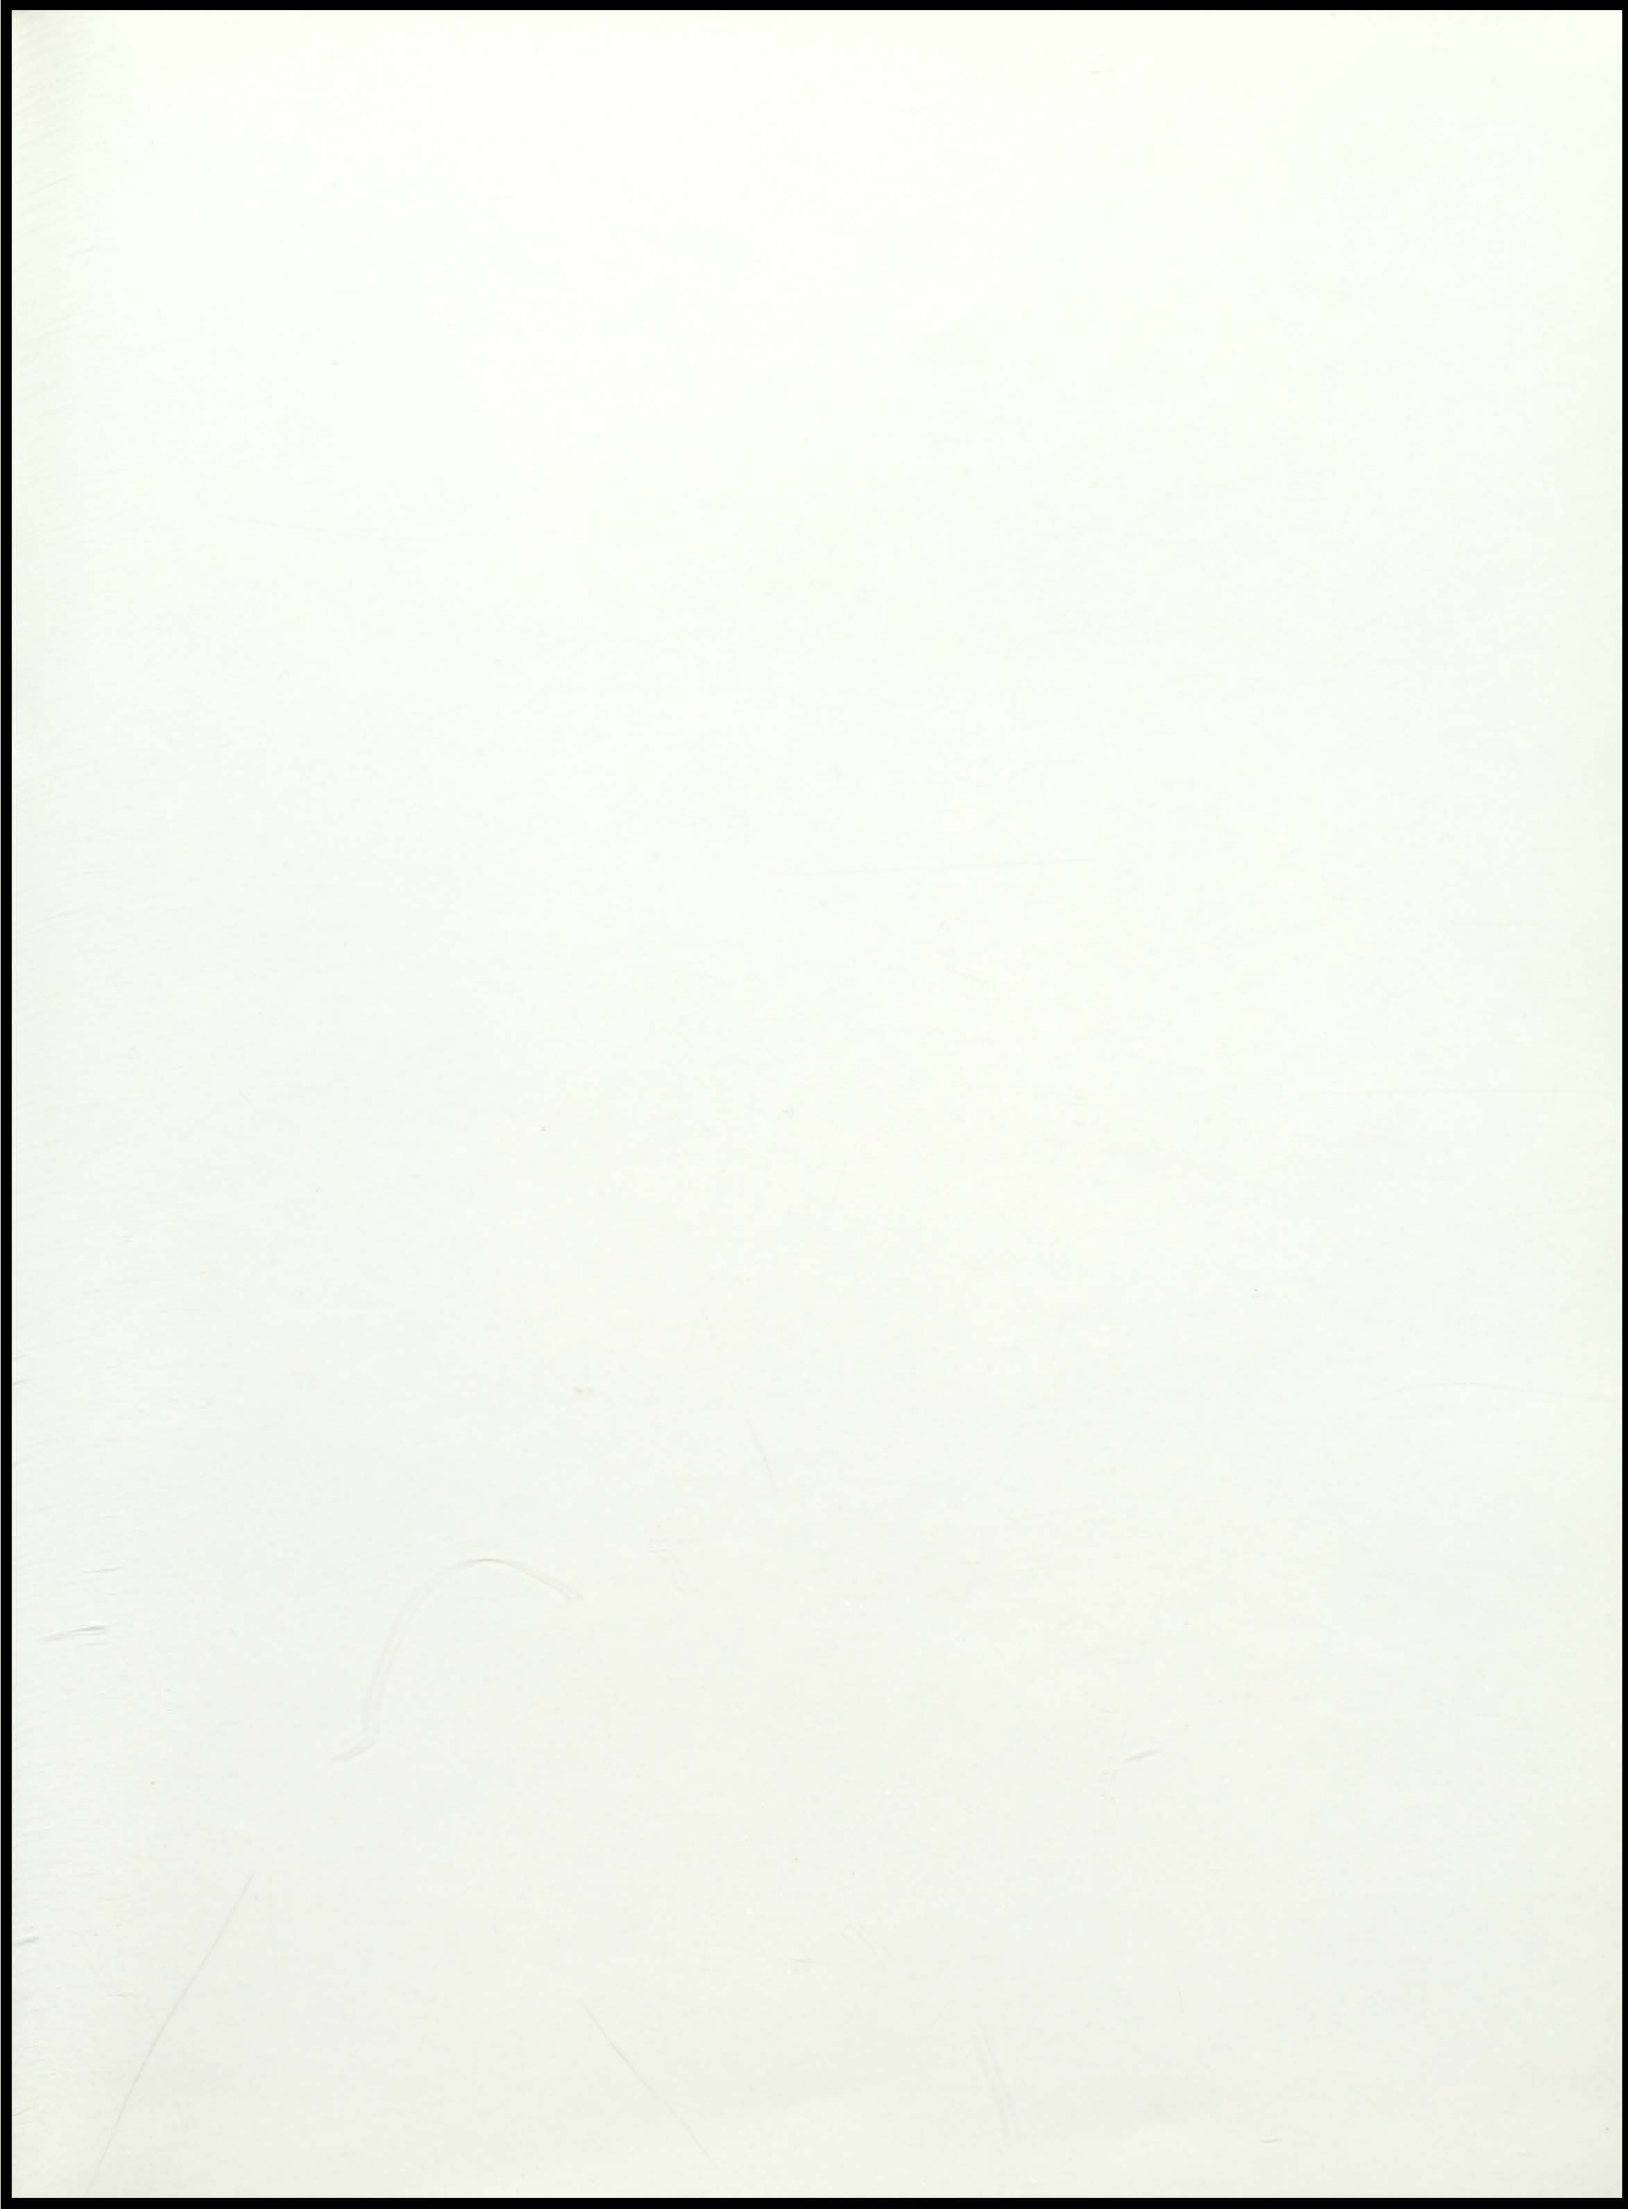

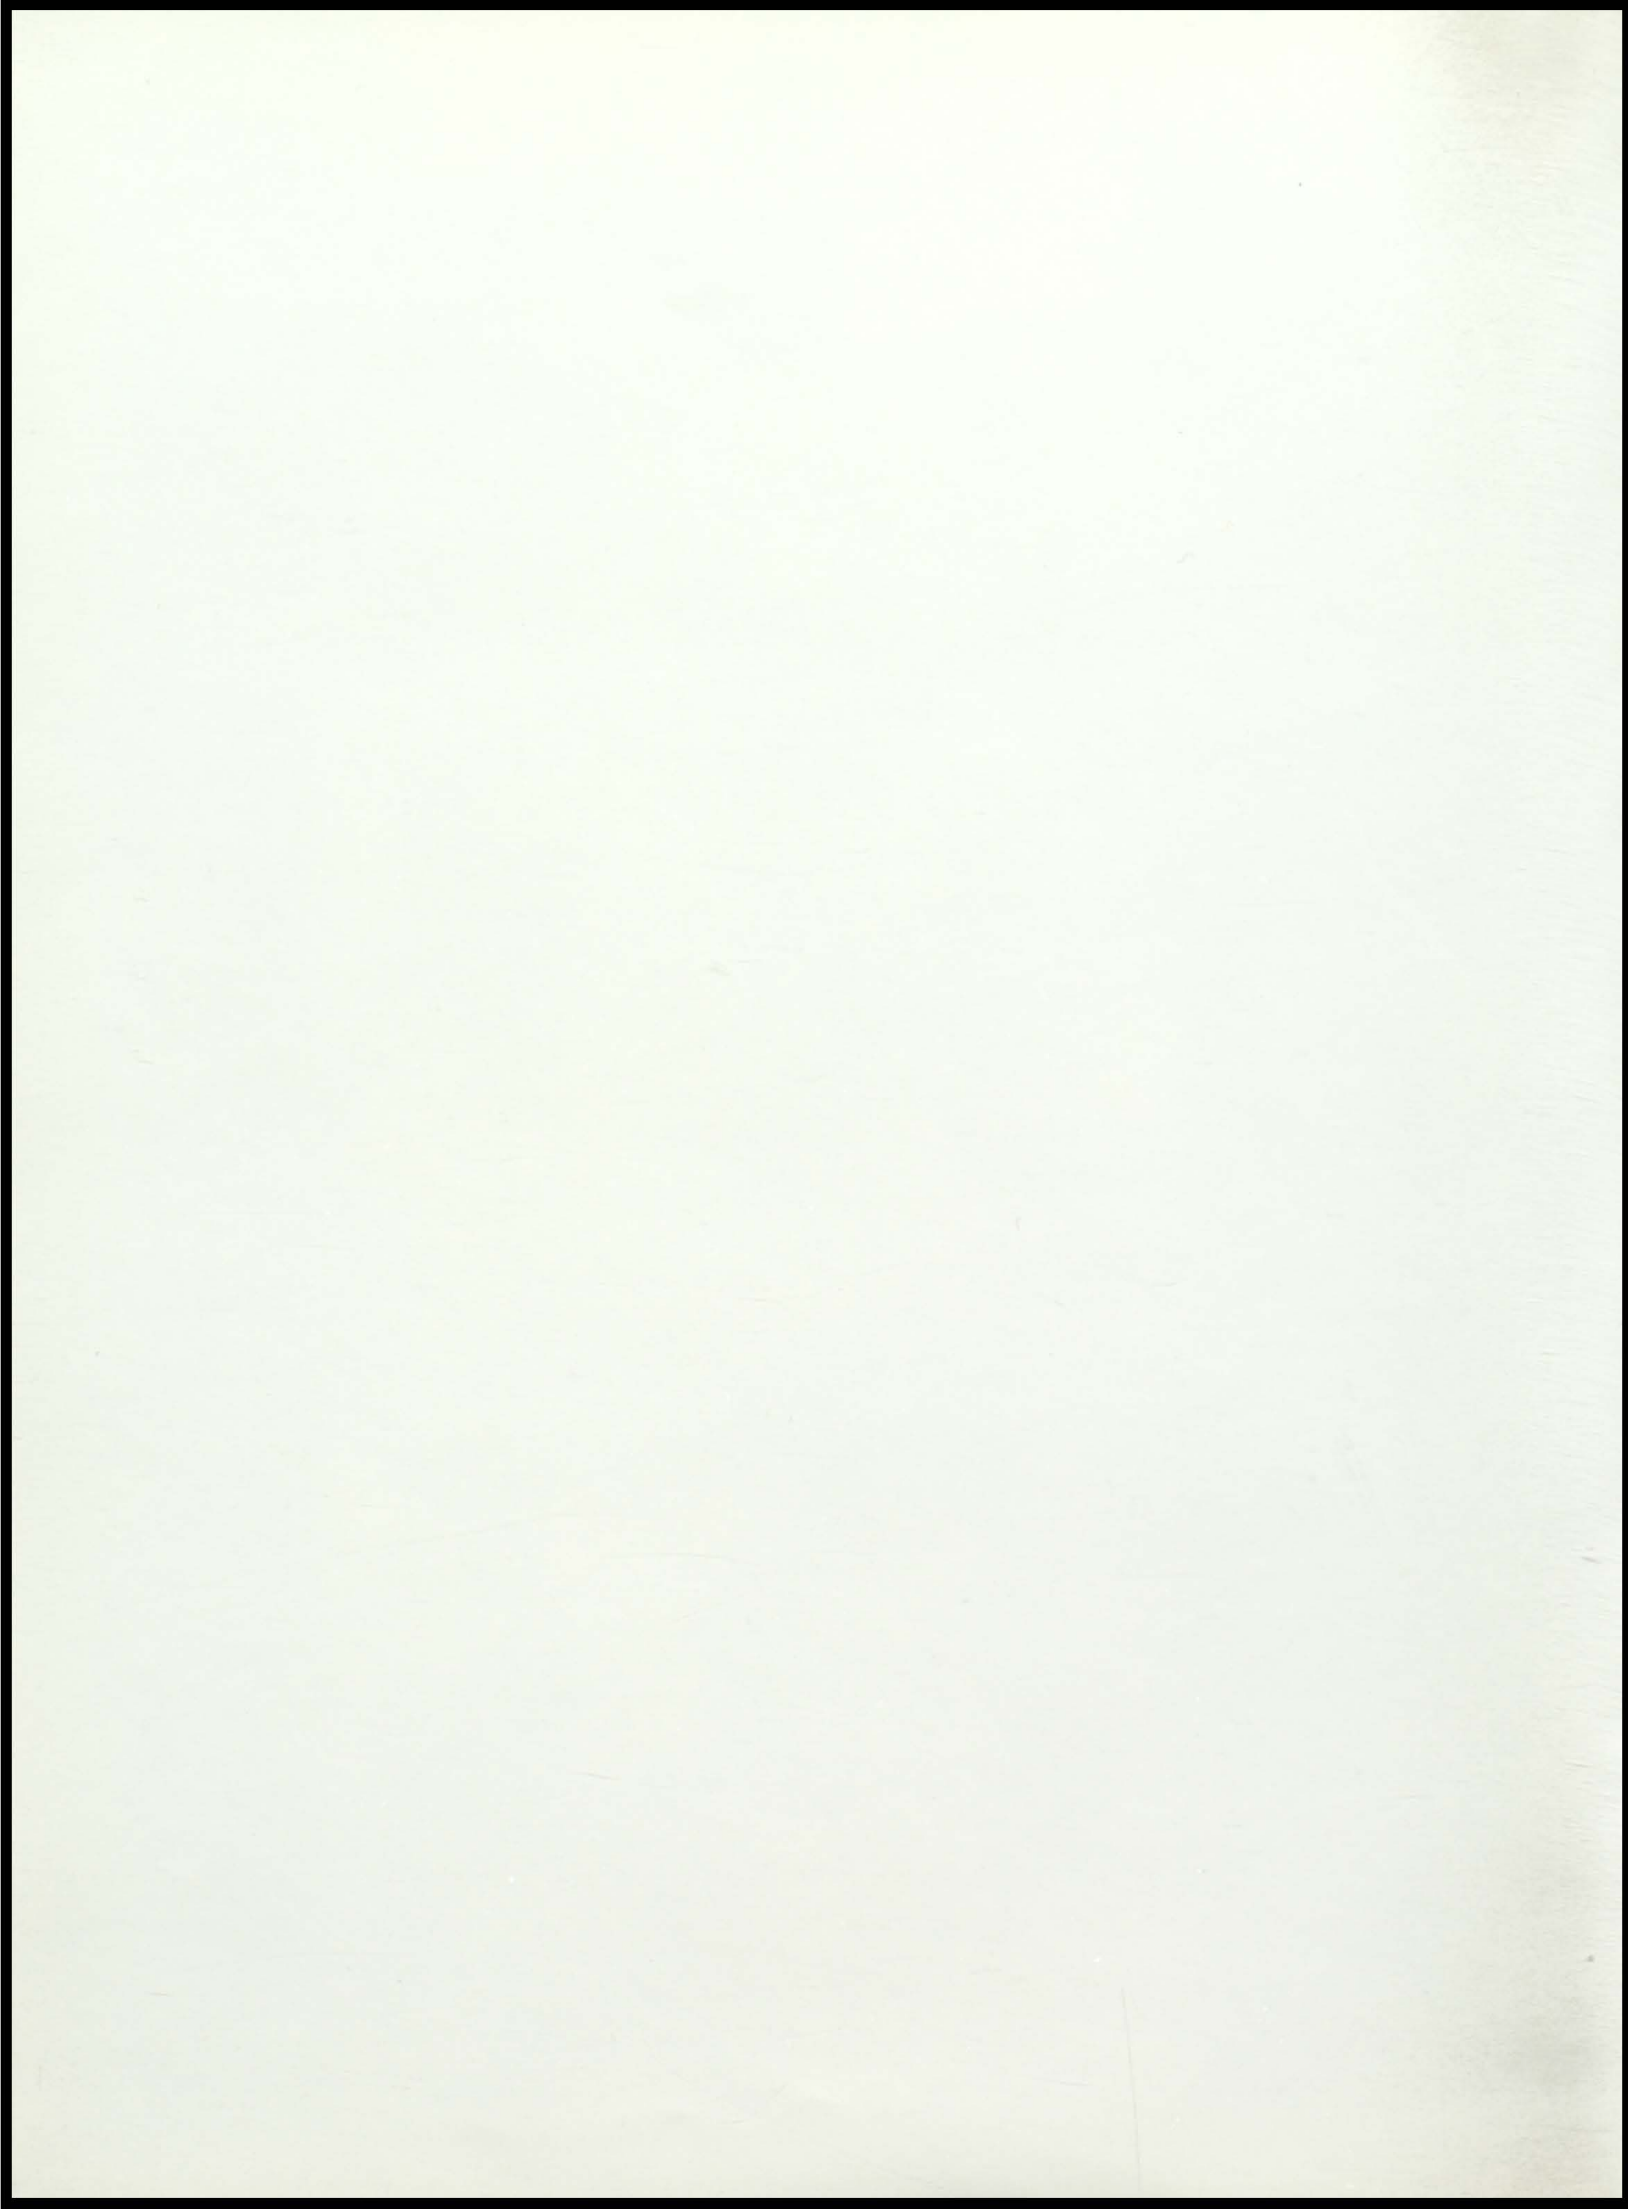

Michael Jordan After replacing his Nikes with a pair of Air Jordans, the basketball star seemed as he tressingly earthbound as he made his debut in the minor leagues. When he bought a luxury bus for his team to travel in, critics carped that the whole endeavor was a vanity project. Yet the Birmingham Barons' rightfielder finished the season in AA ball to get 50 or more nits and steal 30 bases, proving he can do what he said he was there to do: play.

The year is finally over, the memories are slowly fading from our minds - but looking back through this yearbook keeps them in our hearts.

Good luck to all the seniors who have left and started new lives. To the juniors who now rule the school and are preparing for their futures. To the sophomores who are one year closer to being top dawg, and to the freshmen who are starting over just like the seniors.

May all turn out well for every one and may everyone make a lifetime of memories.

Best of Luck!
