

Good afternoon Highland CUSD No. 5,

The road conditions have improved greatly since this morning. Our staff have done a wonderful job clearing the parking lots and sidewalks. I wish I could reward their efforts by having school tomorrow, but a number of concerns remain. Some roads on which our buses travel daily are not in great shape. Normally, I might try to have school, but with the temperatures back down in the single digits and the possibility of additional accumulation in the morning, we are going to be extra cautious and cancel school for tomorrow, Wednesday, February 17. Unless tomorrow's weather complicates things additionally, I expect to be back in session on Thursday, February 18th. If you have not dug yourself out, please take advantage of tomorrow and be prepared to finish out the week in person on Thursday and Friday. Thank you and safe travels!
