

PRESS RELEASE FROM EVANS COUNTY SCHOOLS

The Evans County Board of Education announces the re-advertisement of the Current 2017 Tax Digest and Five Year History of Levy. The Georgia Department of Revenue has requested that we re-advertise the Current 2017 Tax Digest and Five Year History of Levy to reflect a change in the board meeting date to set the 2017 millage rate. The Evans County Board of Education had originally advertised the date to set the millage rate as September 11, 2017. However, due to Hurricane Irma, this meeting was cancelled and rescheduled for September 28, 2017. The advertisement to announce the change in date was advertised on a Notice of Property Tax Increase in The Claxton Enterprise. The Georgia Department of Revenue requires that the advertisement to announce the change in date be made on the Current 2017 Tax Digest and Five Year History of Levy instead of on a Notice of Property Tax Increase. In addition, the Georgia Department of Revenue requires the re-advertisement to mirror the original advertisement with the exception of the change in date to set the millage rate.

The Evans County Board of Education set a 2017 millage rate of 14.237 mills on September 28, 2017. Due to the request by the Georgia Department of Revenue for a re-advertisement, the Evans County Board of Education has re-advertised the Current 2017 Tax Digest and Five Year History of Levy and announced a called board meeting on Thursday, November 9, 2017 at 2:00 pm to affirm the millage rate of 14.237 mills.
