Small Cohort Opens at Analy

On February 22nd, Mr. Alcorn and his incredible staff opened a small cohort.

There were happy smiles to see in Mr. Alcorn's class and they belonged to students and staff equally. He welcomed students, who started two days a week and moved quickly the next week to 4 days a week, with much enthusiasm. Nice gown!

THIS WEEK'S TOP STORIES

Tentative Opening of Small Cohorts at ParkSide Elementary beginning April 6th

Teachers are reaching out to parents now to invite back students to the classrooms of Consortium ParkSide Teachers. Kathy Thompson, preschool, Katya Robinson, K-2, and Maureen Osterle, 3-5.   Instruction will be provided in a hybrid format, with both in-person instruction and online learning.

Once all students and families have been contacted we will reach out to schedule a Parent Safety Trainings. Parents must participate in Safety Training created to share information on how students and staff members will be kept safe and the expectations around cohort participation. There is also a parent agreement that will need to be signed before a student can return to in-person instruction.

For clarification, if a school can safely do so, a small cohort can open for in-person targeted instruction even if the county is in the purple tier.   Cohorts are small targeted interventions.

Stay tuned for Twin Hills opening date.

Read the WSCC Small Cohort Plan. This plan is dynamic and can change. We will be updating it with specific information that relates to ParkSide Cohorts.

West Sonoma County High School District's CPP

Every school district in the state must post a COVID-19 Prevention Program plan. Here is the WSCUHSD plan. This plan outlines how the district will control exposures to the SARS-CoV-2 virus in the workplace.

When a whole school site is scheduled to open a Covid Safety Plan must be posted. Look for that soon.

Finally for today:

Spring Break is scheduled for March 22nd through March 26th. Relax, have fun and stay safe.
