A Very Special Teacher of the Month

By: Emmalee Sargent

Congratulations Mrs. Spawn for being Teacher of the Month! As many of you know, Mrs. Spawn is saying her goodbyes to Cle Elum High School this year. However, that hasn't stopped her from finishing her teaching career off strong. We are blessed to have had her end the school year with us, and she has never failed at making our learning experience both understanding and enjoyable. For example: she uses different colored pens when she is writing out steps to a problem, she helps students one on one if they are having a difficulty in her class, she lets students redo any assignments to ensure they are happy with their grade. There are many wonderful things about Mrs. Spawn that we are really going to miss here at CERHS, but luckily she will be subbing for us the next few years. The following are some of the things students and teachers have to say about Mrs. Spawn:

"She is a fun and kind teacher." –Will Seay

"You will be missed, thank you for a great year." –Michael Allison

"Thank you for everything you do! We will miss you!" –Chase Marquette

"We appreciate your great understanding of the world of rocks! You will be missed!" –Mr. Hamel

"Mrs. Spawn, you are an incredible person. You have influenced my life so much this year. You always make learning seem fun and understandable. I am so sad that you will be leaving, but I know I will see you when you sub for classes. We all love and appreciate you so much."

–Emmalee Sargent

Band

By: Madison Taylor

The CERHS band and choir competed in their final competition of the year at Stadium High School in Tacoma, WA. The group competed against many schools ranging from 1A, 2A, 3A, and 4A. The choir had an excellence performance that landed them the first place trophy. The band also had a stellar performance that was good enough for the 1st place title. The weekend concluded with an awards banquet at Wild Waves and a day of riding rides and going down water slides.

Sweet Summer Treats

By: Rylie McDaniel

During hot summers, like this one is sure to be, it is hard to stay cool. Only a few things can be refreshing in the heat, one of them being lemonade another being ice cream. With this easy recipe you can put the two together in a delicious way.

Lemonade Ice Cream

Yield: One gallon

Ingredients:

- One 6 ounce of can frozen lemonade concentrate, thawed and made according to directions for pink lemonade ice cream substitute for pink lemonade concentrate
- One quart of half-and-half
- Two tablespoons of vanilla extract
- Two 14 ounce cans of sweetened condensed milk

Directions

- Mix all ingredients together thoroughly.
- Pour mixture into an electric, or hand turn your choice, ice cream maker.
- Churn according to manual directions.

Another refresher is slushies, and with this recipe you can make any flavor you want without going to 7-11 and choosing a boring flavor.

Homemade Slushy Recipe

Serves: 2

Ingredients:

- Three cups of any juice or soda of your choice
- Eight ice cubes

Directions:

- Pour 1.5 cups juice/soda of choice into a shallow freezer-friendly dish or Ice Cube Tray and place in the freezer for a minimum of 4 hours – must be completely frozen. Place remainder of juice/soda in refrigerator to chill.
- Once juice/soda in the dish or ice cube tray has frozen, scoop out and transfer to a blender.
- Then pour in 1.5 cups of chilled juice/soda from the refrigerator to blender and add 8 ice cubes.
- Blend until well combined, transfer to cups and enjoy.

What Are You Doing This Summer

By: Liz Kaestner

Sammy Craven: Having fun in the sun, and spending time with friends.

Travis Sanders: spending time outside, hiking and camping.

Mrs. Harper: Finish painting house, working out at Lazy F Camp on the challenge course, and planning on lots of hiking.

Nic Lohnes: Racing his dirt scooter

Brooklyn Wallace: Working, adventuring with friends

Rodney Blakemore: Moving to Ellensburg

Lane Keeton: Working, going wheeling, and hanging out with friends

Maddie McBride: Going to Vegas, going to leadership camp, and going swimming.

Student of the Month

By: Michael Allison

Zach Jewell has been selected for student of the month. Over the last school year he has made major improvements on his academics. One thing he has done to help himself is put in his best work seven days a week through good study habits and always putting in effort. Even with him saying his hardest class was CFR he did his best and passed the class with an amazing grade. In the just the last year he has more than doubled his own GPA. He did not have to work alone through this year; he has had a lot of help through many ways to succeed in all his classes. The people that have helped him have not just helped him through just his actually work but have also helped him by having him moral support so that he has that extra push to want to do his work. According to Mrs. Spawn he has not only grown academically but he has also grown as a person. Zach would like to say a special thank you to Mrs. Spawn, Mrs. Williams, Mr. Hamel, Mrs. Deboer, Kenyan Moe, Jordan Pugh, and Luke Requa.

Athletes of the Month

By: Chase Marquette

For this month's athletes, junior Taylor Hotchkiss and senior Cole Andrus were chosen for the award. Taylor was the starting pitcher for the Softball team and had an amazing season. The Lady Warriors won the League and District title this year with Taylor ending the last game for districts, winning 21-19. But at the state tournament the girls lost their first two games to take them out of the running for the state championship. Great job Taylor!

Cole had an outstanding season throwing javelin. Making it to the state tournament, Cole placed second behind Sophomore Zach Annanie from Lakeside. Along with doing great in javelin, Cole was Co-Valedictorian of the class of 2016 and will attend Dartmouth University in New Hampshire.

Great job on a fantastic season Cole and congratulations on your second in state finish!

Graduation

By: Kaytlin Kauzlarich

This year at 2016 graduation we had 3 valedictorians. Holli Terrill, Cole Andrus and Courtney Brown. They all gave their amazing speeches which made some in the audience laugh, and some cry. As you looked over in the section where all the grads were sitting you noticed once someone would bring up a funny remember when they all looked around with a slight smile yet holding back the tears. June 11th, 2016 was the day that every one of those kids sitting in that section entered the next chapter of their lives. No more bus rides to school. No more packing lunches to sit down with your closest friends and talk about your day. No more staying up all night for finals. No more seeing the kids that were by your side the past 13 years. It all ends here, yet is the start to so many more beginnings. Cle Elum Roslyn school district wishes the class of 2016 the best of luck!

Summer Safety

By: Maddie McBride

Summer safety tips to keep you safe: wear sunscreen, don't try swimming across the lake, don't drink and drive, no reckless driving, wear life jackets on boats, always make sure your bonfire is out before you leave, clean the grill to prevent grease fires. Finally, if there is a burn ban do not use fireworks.

State Recap

By: Claire Howerton

This year's Warrior Spring Athletics were very successful with multiple sports and athletes attending state once again. Golf, softball, and track all had the opportunity to play in the 2016 1A State tournaments.

Lydia Weis, the only female golfer to attend state from our school, got to experience her first time at state this year. She said, "It was cool to be there and to be in a competitive setting. It was nice to see all the hard work pay off." She plans on going to state again next year for her senior year. To accomplish this she plans to work over the summer to continue to better her game. When asked for her advice to young golfers she replied, "Practice always. It's possible to make a change in your game in a week."

Lydia wasn't the only warrior golfer to go to state; junior Nick Baker and sophomore Chase Marquette also represented CERHS at the state tournament this year. Nick Baker was handed the opportunity to defend his spot as the state champion and he took it. Marquette was also very successful in his journey, making it to day two along with his fellow teammate. Together the pair took fourth.

The Lady Warriors Softball team looked to keep their momentum going coming off of a league and district championship win but fell short.

Pitcher, Anna Kelly, reflected on the experience saying, "We played hard, had fun, and never gave up." Although the desire to go farther was strong, the team still looks upon the season as a success. Senior Courtney Brown, when asked to give some advice to prospective player stated, "Leave everything on the field every game."

The final team making it to state this 2016 season were a few individuals from the track team. Cole Andrus, Eric Merkel, Emanuel Sanchez, and the 4x200 relay team including Alina Vlahovich, Selah Lile, Alexis Tachell, and Alaina Burchak attended state. The relay team took sixth, Merkel took fourth, and Andrus took second. Tachell said she couldn't have done it without the help and support from her coach, teammates, and family. The biggest highlight for Vlahovich was crossing the finish line and said, "It was a super rewarding experience and I really bonded with my team." Both ladies wanted to give the advice to young runners to be willing to put in the work to be able to achieve your goals.

Game Review

By: Will Seay

Overwatch is a rather simple first-person-shooter (FPS) with a multitude of unique characters and one concept that the entire game revolves around: Fun. If it wasn't fun, they got rid of it. In my opinion, if they were aiming for a fun game they hit the bullseye.

As far as content goes, there isn't a massive amount. There're three game modes with twelve maps in total. Even though the game modes and maps are few in number, matches are always packed with quick, blood-pumping action mad all the better with fine-tuned gameplay.

Where the game really shines is the characters. There are twenty-one characters each with their own playstyle. Of course multiple characters fill a similar role, but no two are identical. They all have very distinct abilities that work with their gimmick. For example, a DJ has area of affect abilities, a computer geek has a giant mech, and a time-traveler can zip around at ridiculous speeds. There are plenty more that I'm leaving out.

Overall, the game is a wonderful take on shooters with familiar yet exhilarating gameplay that'll keep you coming back for more. The game costs $40 on PC and $60 for the special edition which comes with skins and other goodies for games by the same company. The $60 special edition is the only version of the game available on consoles.

Movie Review

By: Will Seay

After X-Men: Days of Future Past this movie had high expectations. Even though it may not have met them for some, it's still worth a watch if you get the chance.

The story of the movie is filled with clichés and tropes, like with Apocalypse being a “god” and everyone working together to beat him, but it isn't all that bad. It isn't going to win any awards for story-telling, but it got what it needed to across. It basically just prepped the series for sequels with familiar characters. Was it done as good as it could've been? No, but it was still a necessary evil to progress the franchise. It was great with the new characters, though. It told the audience a lot about them without actually saying anything. Even though the story feel flat on its face, the characters are good.

Even though the general story isn't that good the CGI was done well. It was obvious they weren't practical effects, but they still looked pretty good. Some of the fight scenes were done in CGI and they looked oddly floaty, like the characters suddenly lost 50 pounds or so. The powers of some of the characters looked pretty good, though. Magneto controlling the rocks or steel beams was done pretty well, as well as some other powers. If you want to see the CGI at its best, look up Quicksilver's scene in the movie. It's easily my favorite scene in the movie.

In the end, it isn't the best movie, or a revolution in cinema. It's mediocre but I still loved watching it. If you get the chance, check it out. Only go out of your way see it if you're a fan of X-Men or superhero movies.
