Covid-19 Related Illness or Quarantine

What is a student to do academically if they are absent from East Noble High School because of COVID -19 related quarantine?

- Students who are absent because of COVID-19 related quarantine are to continue with their academics online.
- Students are to treat quarantine days like eLearning days. All work and deadlines are the same as if the student was in class.
- Teachers are prepared to have absent students Skype/Google Meet into their regularly scheduled class and continue with their daily education.
- Students are to access Canvas for their assignments, videos and any other information related to their classes.
- Students are to email teachers with any questions or concerns.

Disability Awareness Month

CHOOSE TO INCLUDE

March is Disability Awareness Month. Unified PE class is trying to spread awareness to promote inclusion throughout the East Noble community. Respectful and inclusive words and actions are essential to the movement for the dignity and humanity of people with intellectual disabilities.

AND THE WINNER IS….Mrs. Bollinger's AL
THANK YOU for participating in the Inclusion Poster contest. Keep an eye out…many of the posters have already been placed throughout the community. The rest will be hung up around the building here at school. Below is a slide show of all the amazing posters. Unified PE students appreciate your involvement in spreading awareness of how important an inclusive world is.

Yearbooks

The yearbook staff has been working hard to make the best book ever! Don't miss a chance at this historical year. $70 each pay in full at school or online in 3 installments: bit.ly/eastnoblehsyrbkin

There are extra yearbooks from the 2019-2020 school year for sale for $70. If you would like to purchase one please bring payment to the front office.

Attendance Policy for Athletics

Just a reminder to any student involved in extracurricular activities, you MUST be in attendance for 3rd, 4th and 5th periods to be able to practice, play or compete. The only exception is with a doctor's note.

Masks

Please wear a mask of your own or the one we provided to school in the mornings. We will no longer be handing out the disposable masks in the morning.

Remember to 'Stand Up. Mask Up.'

Calling All Artists!

The Office of Congressman Jim Banks is accepting virtual submissions for the 2021 Congressional Art Competition. How can your high school participate in the Congressional Art Competition this year?

1. It DOES NOT have to be an art department project – individual talented students can enter. The mediums are drawings, mixed media, paintings, collages, photography, prints, and computer-generated art.
2. We know art teachers are busy this time of year – just publicize the program to your students – make the flyers available. (We have even attached an ad you can put on tv monitors to inform your students.)
3. Artwork does not have to be framed. Most do mat them – but it is not required.
4. Entries are due April 15th.
5. The theme "Patriotism" is broader and more than just red, white and blue. The flyer describes what we are looking for and what we want to represent our district in Washington. The biggest hint I can give: When your student fills out the student entry form, use the description box to state why they believe their artwork fits the theme. It helps the judges understand.

I want to make this an easy competition that can recognize and represent the students at your school. For more details on the process of virtual art submissions, click here.

National Cyber Scholarship Competition

Congratulations to ENHS students McKenna Arnett, Lori Strong, Justin Hunter, Reed Hamilton, Luke Mory, and Treyce Moschel! They have qualified for the 2021 National Cyber Scholarship Competition based on their outstanding performances in CyberStart America. This competition involves a set of computer security puzzles and challenges that test their skills in areas such as password cracking, reverse-engineering, memory corruption and cryptography. Prizes in the National Cyber Scholarship Competition include $2,500 college scholarships, access to SANS professional cybersecurity training, and more. The NCS national competition takes place online April 5-7, 2021. East Noble congratulates these students for this accomplishment and wishes them well during the national competition!
