

1. What might be the benefits to students if they return back to school full time (4 days a week) after spring break?
2. What might be the risk/stress factors for students if they return back to school full time after spring break?
3. What might be the risk/stress factors for students if they do not return to school full time after spring break? What opportunities are there in the community for students to safely interact with others in the spring months?
4. What might be the risk/stress factors for students, either individually or as a total group if they return to school full time after spring break and then have to transition periodically to remote learning based on outbreaks or quarantines?
5. How do you balance out the risks and benefits of having students back in school for more time? Would the benefits outweigh the risks in students of different age groups (elementary, middle, high school)?
