

Marathon Oil is launching a new grant program — Unconventional Thinking in Teaching — to recognize outstanding educators across the country.

Spread the news by nominating a teacher in your community or by applying yourself.

The application is simple, and the grant is intended to support the work our winning teachers are already doing, so no new program needs to be developed to apply.

To learn more, apply, or nominate a teacher, visit www.marathonoil.com/teachers.

JUNE 15:
Application closes

SEPTEMBER:
Winners announced

CONTACT:
CommunityEngagement@
marathonoil.com

Teachers in New Mexico, North Dakota, Oklahoma and Texas are eligible to apply, with priority consideration given to teachers in Marathon Oil's operating areas. Individual grant awards will likely range between $2,500 and $5,000 and will be determined based on the number of winners and current program budget. Grants will be made payable to the winner's school or school district, but will be designated for use by the winner to support the purchase of classroom resources, such as books, activity/lab materials and technology, or personal professional development. Funds must be used within nine months of the date of receipt and must adhere to any applicable school or district budget guidelines.

Marathon Oil[®]
Unconventional Thinking
In Teaching