

November Students of the Month

Alicia King, 12th Grade, is the daughter of Nate and Amber King.

Reason for Recognition: "Ali has a deep and spacious heart for people and puts others before her even to a fault sometimes. Her skill in the art of empathy exceeds that of most high school students and I know this skill will one day make her a very successful person."

Leah Hinkle, 12th Grade, is the daughter of Kent and Heather Hinkle.

Reason for Recognition: "Leah is a student council president that cares that everyone in the club is contributing but doing it how they want. It shows a great leader who cares who lets go of control to let others succeed. She cares about her club, school, and community."

Katie Thomas, 12th Grade, is the daughter of Amanda Kitchen.

Reason for Recognition: "Katie has a very caring personality. She is always doing things for others. She cares about including everyone, others feelings and helping others do better or feel good about their work. Katie also cares about her work ethic, grades, and future plans."

Trevor Lambert, 8th Grade, is the son of Tim Lambert.

Reason for Recognition: "Trevor has the most caring heart and love for his fellow students, school, family, and his community. He is always careful and likes to have things neat and in place. Trevor cares about making people happy and decorates his home to share with others."

Gwen Wilkey, 8th Grade, is the daughter of Brent and Ralinda Wilkey.

Reason for Recognition: “Gwen works hard at school and really cares about her growth in learning. She wants to do well and puts in the extra time to accomplish her goals. She cares about people and animals and the world in general.”

Garrett Hinkle, 7th Grade, is the son of Darrin and Katie Hinkle.

Reason for Recognition: “Garrett is a very caring person. You can see that in the way he interacts with other students in the hallway and the classroom. He also asks teachers how their day is going, and exhibits a respectful attitude in the classroom. He is a student with great all around character and is a joy to have in class.”
