

Religious Exemption Statement

To be religiously exempt one parent must make a written statement signed by that parent that the child is an adherent of religious teachings that are opposed to such tests or inoculations.

That child will be first to be dismissed from the school setting and sent home if an outbreak occurs.