NATIONALASSESSMENT FOREducational PROGRESS (NAEP)

The National Assessment of Educational Progress (NAEP)-commonly called the Nation's Report Card-is the largest nationally representative assessment of what America's students know and can do in various subject areas including mathematics, reading, and science. A sample of students is selected to take the test. Since a sample group of students from each state take the test, NAEP results serve as a common metric for all states across the nation. Also, because the assessment stays essentially the same from year to year, it provides a clear picture of student academic progress overtime. Learn more about NAEP from the National Center for Education Statistics.

NAEP assessments are administered uniformly using the same sets of test booklets across the nation. NAEP results serve as a common metric for all states and selected urban districts. In even-numbered years, NAEP measures Tennessee student's academic achievement against students in other states also taking this test.
