

Hello!

I'm Ellie Currey and I teach English II, English III, English IV, and Public Speaking– Basic Drama at BCHS. To paraphrase the great Montana poet, Richard Hugo, I believe that an English class "is a place you can go where your life matters." Our stories are what tie us together and allow us to understand one another, and I strive to create a classroom atmosphere where students can tell their stories, share their interpretation of great works of literature, and gain the skills and confidence to write and speak well about the ideas and issues they feel are important.

I believe that a strong foundation in reading, writing, and critical thinking skills will serve our students well as they move into the world and become engaged citizens.

I hold a B.A. in English Literature and an M.F.A. in creative writing from the University of Montana, and a teaching degree from the University of Montana Western. I'm so proud to be a part of the amazing teaching staff at BCHS, and am looking forward to another great year!

When I'm not at school, I enjoy getting out for adventures with my daughters, Amelia and Aven, traveling to new places, live music, reading, playing in the mountains, gardening, and spending time with family and friends.

Please don't hesitate to contact me any time!
