Application Procedures:

The Office of Vital Statistics has five methods available for making a request for a birth certificate: regular mail, priority mail, telephone, internet, and walk-in customer service. Birth certificates began being filed with the Office July 1, 1911.

Application forms may be downloaded in English or Spanish from the Kansas Department of Health and Environment website www.kdheks.gov under the "People Want to Know" heading in the right hand column-Birth/Death/Marriage Certificates. Divorce certificates may also be obtained from this office.

New ID requirements: Due to the rise in identity theft and other fraudulent use of vital records, the credit card you are using to place the order must be in your name. The card holder's name and address will be verified. You will also be asked to provide your social security number or driver's license number.

Due to the rise in identity theft and other fraudulent use of vital records, acceptable ID is limited. You must provide a government (state or federal) issued photo ID. This can be issued by the U.S. or other country of residence.

Examples of acceptable IDs (must be current):

- Photocopy of driver's license

REAR-FACING
CAR SEAT

Your child under age 1 should always ride in a rear-facing car seat in the back seat. There are different types of rear-facing car seats. Infant-only seats can only be used rear-facing. Convertible and 3-in-1 seats typically have higher height and weight limits for the rear-facing position, allowing you to keep your child rear-facing for a longer period of time.

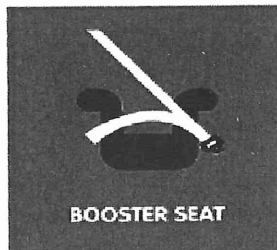

A rear-facing car seat is the best seat for your young child to use. It has a harness and in a crash, cradles and moves with your child to reduce the stress to the child's fragile neck and spinal cord.

FORWARD-FACING
CAR SEAT

Keep your child rear-facing as long as possible. It's the best way to keep him or her safe. Your child should remain in a rear-facing car seat until he or she reaches the top height or weight limit allowed by your car seat's manufacturer. Once your child outgrows the rear-facing car seat, your child is ready to travel in a forward-facing car seat with a harness in the back seat.

A forward-facing car seat has a harness and tether that limits your child's forward movement during a crash.

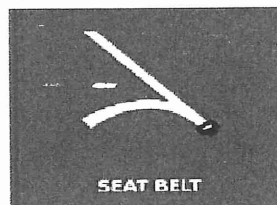

BOOSTER SEAT

Keep your child in a forward-facing car seat with a harness until he or she reaches the top height or weight limit allowed by your car seat's manufacturer. Once your child outgrows the forward-facing car seat with a harness, it's time to travel in a booster seat, but still in the back seat.

A booster seat positions the seat belt so that it fits properly over the stronger parts of your child's body.

Kansas law requires use of a car seat or booster seat until your child is at least 8 years old OR 4'9" tall OR weighs 80 pounds.

SEAT BELT

Keep your child in a booster seat until he or she is big enough to fit in a seat belt properly. For a seat belt to fit properly, the lap belt must lie snugly across the upper thighs, not the stomach. The shoulder belt should lie snug across the shoulder and chest and not cross the neck or face.

Remember, your child should still ride in the back seat until age 13 because it's safer for children to ride as far away from the airbags possible.

Circles of Hope centers on low income families who often lack not only financial advantages, but a circle of social assets to guide them. Circles of Hope engages our community to equip families to permanently leave poverty through empowering relationships that build resources and address community-wide barriers. Their mission is to end poverty through empowering circles of relationship and to work together as a community to remove barriers that keep people trapped in poverty.

Participants (called circle leaders) go through a life skills class that includes goal setting. They then join their circle for 18 to 24 months. Each circle leader is matched with a couple of "allies" who offer friendship and advice, and help connect them to community resources.

Kansas Safe Haven Law

Phone (888) 510-2229

Website safehaven.tv/states/kansas

Services Provided:

Safe Haven Infant Protection Laws enable a person to give up an unwanted infant (up to 45 days old) anonymously. As long as the baby has not been abused, the person may do so without fear of arrest or prosecution. The purpose of Safe Haven is to protect unwanted babies from being hurt or killed because they were abandoned. It's safe. It's anonymous. You do not need to tell anyone.

RESPONSIBILITIES OF SAFE HAVEN PROVIDERS:

Take custody of child, perform any act necessary to protect health and safety of the child and notify local law enforcement.

PROTECTION FOR RELINQUISHING PARENT:

Person leaving a baby with a Safe Haven will not be prosecuted for abandonment if the baby has suffered no harm.

EFFECT ON PARENTAL RIGHTS:

Petition will be filed for termination of parental rights and an expedition hearing will be held on the petition.

The Safe Haven Law provides a safe choice instead of abandoning or putting your baby in danger. A distressed parent who is unable or unwilling to care for their infant can give up custody of their baby, no questions asked. They must simply bring the infant to a safe haven location and make sure they locate a person to give the child. As long as the child shows no signs of intentional abuse, no name or other information is required.

You can leave your baby, up to 45 days old, with an employee at any medical facility, fire department, city or county health department in Kansas.

Can only a parent bring in the baby?

No. The parent may choose to have someone else bring in the infant. It can be a family member, a friend, a priest or minister, a social worker—practically any responsible adult.

Who may relinquish?

Parent or person having legal custody.

- United Way of Reno County is a nonprofit organization that provides critical resources to a large network of local nonprofit organizations. United Way stands for long-lasting community changes, not quick "band-aid" fixes.

United Way works to Advance the Common Good by creating opportunities for a good life. It's less about helping one person at a time and more about changing systems to help all of us. It's the idea that we are all connected and interdependent; the idea that we all win when a child succeeds at school, when families are financially stable, and people are healthy. We believe there are three basic elements that significantly contribute to a good life:

- Education - it takes a quality education to get a stable job
- Income - enough income to support a family through retirement
- Health - good health because without it the first two are far less likely to occur
- These are United Way of Reno County's focus areas.
