Problems with Current Plan

- Applies State Level COVID-19 Indicators to School System.
- School Districts are moving away from using the Ohio Public Health Advisory System for decision making

Governor Mike DeWine

“Throughout our history we have relied on our local school boards, our local families to make decisions about their schools. We're going through a very, very tough period of time, and we still rely on those families to make decisions. We give them a lot of guidance. We put out a mask order, which was not very popular with some people. With the exception of one or two schools, teachers and principals have done a great job. Students have done a great job in wearing masks and doing everything they can to be safe.”
