Friday, August 28, 2020 – 8:00 p.m. (20-21 School Year Update #15)

Dear Families of Frankfort CUSD #168:

One week down. We have to celebrate what we can accomplish in a year like this and there is a lot to consider. None of us, not teachers, not parents and grandparents, and not students had ever tried this. Despite some issues throughout the week, we are in a much better place now. All of us have learned something in this exercise and we did it by working together. Our goal is to keep getting better each day this next week.

We also had news today that Franklin County had made enough progress to be removed from the State's warning list. This is a good thing, but it's also not a reason to go out and celebrate and cause us to go backwards. Counties around us are still having problems. For us to have a chance to go back to in-person learning, we must continue to keep infection rates down. Thank you for doing your part in helping this.

You may remember from last night that our Office of Special Education (OSE) is open again. We have also had limited sports activities going on this week. These are more of the small steps we need to take as we work having any potential to re-open.

Finally, if you never got around to completing your census form, please take a moment to work on it this weekend. The mailed versions need to be in the system as soon as possible. You may also look for on-line forms to complete. Getting an accurate count for our area is very important for holding our own with funding opportunities over the next decade. Thanks for your help in getting us all counted.

We will have our next posting on Sunday night, along with a call. Until then, have a pleasant weekend.

Sincerely,
