

Resources for K-12 School Counselors

(Click on the images to access a link.)

- American School Counselor Association: Coronavirus Resources

The screenshot shows the American School Counselor Association (ASCA) website. The header includes the ASCA logo, a search bar, and a "Member Login" section with fields for "Email Address" and "Password". A navigation menu below the header lists: School Counselors, Administrators/Directors, Parents, Press, Advertise/Exhibit, Online Store, ASCA On Air, and Standards. The main content area is titled "Coronavirus Resources" and includes the following text:

ASCA is working with the Centers for Disease Control on issues related to how schools work with students on issues surrounding the coronavirus and is helping the CDC develop appropriate and effective messages on how to talk to children about coronavirus.

Here are some suggestions and resources to consider as you provide support to your students regarding the coronavirus. Before you take any action, consult with your district to discover any guidance or response initiatives it has in place so your actions align with school and district programs. School counselors also should:

- Encourage parents to limit their children's exposure to the media
- Provide a calming influence to students as needed
- Help students address their fears

Resources listed include:

- Centers for Disease Control
Coronavirus Disease 2019
Interim Guidance for Administrators of US Childcare Programs and K-12 Schools to Plan, Prepare and Respond to Coronavirus Disease 2019
Guidance for School Settings Before and During an Outbreak
- U.S. Department of Education
COVID-19 Information and Resources for Schools and School Personnel
Protecting Student Privacy
- SAMHSA
Coping with Stress During an Infectious Disease Outbreak

- ACT Information from Website

“ACT continues to closely monitor the situation regarding the coronavirus (COVID-19), with the safety of examinees and testing staff being our top priority. In making decisions regarding ACT test centers for our upcoming April test date, ACT is consulting with local government and school officials to make the appropriate decisions.

If any test centers for the April test date are closed, ACT will notify impacted students and test center coordinators directly, as well as post and update information regarding the closures on this website.”

The screenshot shows the ACT website homepage. At the top left is the ACT logo and the text "INFORMATION FOR". To the right is a navigation menu with links for "Solutions", "Research", "News & Blog", and "Contact", along with a search icon, a notification bell icon, a flag icon, and a "Register/Sign In" link. The main header features a large image of a smiling woman with curly hair and a man, with the text "Helping People Achieve Workplace Success" overlaid. A "Notifications" pop-up box is open, containing the following text: "ACT continues to closely monitor the situation regarding the coronavirus (COVID-19), with the safety of examinees and testing staff being our top priority. In making decisions regarding ACT test centers for our upcoming April test date, ACT is consulting with local government and school officials to make the appropriate decisions. If any test centers for the April test date are closed, ACT will notify impacted students and test center coordinators directly, as well as post and update information regarding the closures on this website." Below the notification, a paragraph of text repeats the same message. At the bottom, a large heading reads "Find everything you need to know about registering for the ACT, important dates, test prep, what to expect on test day, your scores, and much more!". Below this heading are four purple circular icons: a clipboard with a checkmark, a head with a brain, a star, and a bar chart.

ACT

INFORMATION FOR

Solutions Research News & Blog Contact

Register/Sign In

Helping People Achieve Workplace Success

Notifications

ACT continues to closely monitor the situation regarding the coronavirus (COVID-19), with the safety of examinees and testing staff being our top priority. In making decisions regarding ACT test centers for our upcoming April test date, ACT is consulting with local government and school officials to make the appropriate decisions.

If any test centers for the April test date are closed, ACT will notify impacted students and test center coordinators directly, as well as post and update information regarding the closures on this website.

ACT continues to closely monitor the situation regarding the coronavirus (COVID-19), with the safety of examinees and testing staff being our top priority. In making decisions regarding ACT test centers for our upcoming April test date, ACT is consulting with local government and school officials to make the appropriate decisions. If any test centers for the April test date are closed, ACT will notify impacted students and test center coordinators directly, as well as post and update information regarding the closures on this website.

Find everything you need to know about registering for the ACT, important dates, test prep, what to expect on test day, your scores, and much more!