Does the School Parent and Family Engagement Plan describe how the school will accomplish each of the required components?

Hugh Goodwin involves parents on our school improvement planning committee. This committee met at the beginning of August before school started to review/revise our school compact and prepare for the new school year. All decision making processes regarding our school's Title I, Part A program will be reviewed and discussed. The school will ask parents to serve on curricular and instructional review committees. To support this process, the school will offer both school, staff, and parents training on how to contribute to this process in a meaningful way. The school will engage parents in decisions about the allocation of its Title I, Part A funds for parental involvement and encourage parents' input while creating our school improvement plan. Hugh Goodwin will invite two to three community members to serve on the parent advisory committee to provide advice and guidance for school improvement. Hugh Goodwin has a very active Parent/Teacher Organization that fosters parental and community involvement within the school.

- Hugh Goodwin staff will meet with Head Start faculty representatives to discuss transition for Prekindergarten students and strategies that Hugh Goodwin is using with our kindergarten students to help prepare preschoolers for school.
 - Hugh Goodwin will send out a parent surveys during the school year to assist in the evaluation of our school programs.

7: Building Capacity of Parents

(Describe/List activities, such as workshops, conferences, classes, online resources, Academic Parent-Teacher Team meetings, and any equipment or other materials that may be necessary to support parents in helping their student's academic success.)

Does the School Parent and Family Engagement Plan describe how the school will accomplish each of the required components?

Hugh Goodwin will provide a Parent Involvement Packet that contains a summary letter that explains how we want our parents to be involved. Of course, parental involvement does not stop at our school doors. We also encourage our parents to help at home (e.g., planned home reading time, informal learning activities, and/or homework contracts between parents and children). In our Parental Involvement Packet, the school will provide a list of "72 Ways Volunteers Can Help at Our School." Our school and PTO will solicit ideas for other types of volunteer efforts during orientation of parents and through parent surveys. Teachers will explain the requirements to parents and encourage them to become involved in the school. The principal and teachers will provide training sessions for parents and community members with the information they need to participate as school volunteers in order to put them at ease and make the experience successful. We want Hugh Goodwin parents to be involved in their child's education. Research shows when schools, families, and community groups work together to support learning, children tend to do better in school, attend school more regularly, stay in school longer, and enjoy school more.

Hugh Goodwin will provide opportunities for parents and community members to support the instructional program through such programs as tutoring, and mentoring. Our school has had success from using parents as tutors and mentors in the past. It is something we strive to continue each year. Kindergarten teachers will meet with parents from local Head Starts and area preschools to help students transition from preschool to kindergarten.

Hugh Goodwin 4th graders will tour Washington Middle School in the spring to help our students with the transition from elementary to middle school. The WMS principal will also come to Hugh Goodwin in the spring to speak to all 4th graders about 5th grade classes and possible electives the students will be able to take during the next school year.

Hugh Goodwin Elementary will provide instruction to parents on how to help their child at home. Standards for each grade level will be reviewed and a demonstration on how to achieve mastery of the different standards will be presented. Our Math and Literacy Coaches will provide sessions and tutorials online for parents that need to review the process of helping their child with a particular skill. Hugh Goodwin will explain how the use of and access to the Department of Education website will provide a tool for parents, assistance with nutritional meal planning and preparation and other strategies or curricula developed ideas.

The principal and assistant principal will receive professional development designed to enhance understanding of effective parent involvement strategies and the importance of administrative leadership in setting expectations and creating a climate conducive to parental participation.

(Describe/List activities such as workshops, conferences, trainings, webinars, online resources, and Academic Parent-Teacher Team meetings that will be used with school staff to build their capacity to work with parents as equal partners. Describe/List methods of parents' assistance for building staff capacity. Describe/List actions the school will take to provide other reasonable support for parent and family engagement activities.)

Does the School Parent and Family Engagement Plan describe how the school will accomplish each of the required components?

We work to ensure professional development requirements are met for teachers and administrators. Train teachers, specialized instructional support personnel, principals, and other school leaders, and other staff, with the assistance of parents: That parents play an integral role in assisting student learning, value contributions of parents, reach out and communicate with parents as partners, implement and coordinate to build ties between home and school. Parents are always welcome into the school and we seek parental support regularly. For our non-English speaking parents, we provide information in their native language and we also have a staff member who is able to interpret when needed. Parent surveys are given to parents to check the various activities we have that they can volunteer for. We use this survey to plan the parental involvement activities for the school year and activities are evaluated at the end of the year.

9: Building Capacity - Discretionary

(The school parent and family engagement policy/plan may include additional sections describing other discretionary activities that the school, in meaningful consultation with its parents, chooses to undertake to build capacity.)

Did the School and Parents choose to include any Discretionary (Optional) Components in the School Parent and Family Engagement Plan?

The school will encourage parents in the following types of roles and activities to increase their involvement and support for student learning: tutoring, mentoring, music, art, physical education, field trips, room parent, special education, library, drama, fitness, crafts, storytelling, creative writing, literature, hospitality, school newsletter, teacher appreciation, classroom assistant, clerical office, clerical teacher, materials preparation/computer, demonstrations, Spanish speaker, history, public relations, safety, recycling, reading buddy, Grandparent's Day, field day volunteers, parent education workshops, orientation presentations, and Red Ribbon Week .

Comments:

Hello, Hugh Goodwin Elementary School!

Thank you so much for submitting your Parent and Family Engagement Plan for the 2021-2022 school year.

This year the district has plans to have regular meetings with all of the parent facilitators across the district so that the Parent and Family Engagement Plans are more closely aligned to the required components checklist. We will work together to make this easy for all of you!

If ADE returns your plans with more revisions, we will help you make those updates at that time. In the meantime, please make these few revisions:

- Please add the names of at least two parents who are on your committee.
- Write a brief statement that states that you will be sending out a parent survey regarding volunteer interests (Section 3)
