

Maroon Madness Girls Youth Basketball

Program philosophy

The Maroon Madness girls youth basketball program's philosophy is centered around the ideas of skill development and harboring the love of basketball. Our overall goal is to prepare our players for high school basketball. In order to do this, we will focus on skill development, developing a basketball IQ, and creating a good work ethic for all players. It is also important for players to learn to love the game of basketball and have fun!
