Newark Families and Staff,
This is it! The last week of school. Thank you for all the love and support this year!

Newark Grade School will be undergoing some work this summer! We will be abating asbestos in the office. The entire boiler and HVAC system is being updated. Work will begin as soon as we are out of school. The project is slated to last until August 5th. NGS will have limited office hours. When we return in August - every classroom will have central air and heat with fresh air returns! The board was able to pay for this project with life safety funds and ESSER grant dollars.

Reminder - REGISTRATION FOR 2022 - 2023 IS OPEN IN YOUR TEACHER EASE ACCOUNT.
Please login and register for next school year. Please call the office if you have any questions or need any help.

Monday our 4th graders will be visiting MJH for a peek into MJH for next year. Dr. Jen Frye will be giving physicals to those who signed up. We will leave NGS about 1:00 and be back by 2:30 pm.

Tuesday is MJH field day! Thank you to our parent volunteers. Tuesday we also invite our 4th grade parents to come to the NGS gym and view our 4th grade recorder end of year concert at 2:30 pm.

The circus comes to town on Wednesday at NGS! Look for pictures on our FB page. Thank you to all the parent volunteers!

Thursday is our traditional 8th grade graduation ceremony at 7:00 pm at MJH. Congratulations to all of our graduates!

Friday is the last day of school for students. We will be collecting chromebooks, chargers, library books, uniforms, anything that belongs to the district should be returned this week! Foxy's ice cream truck will be at MJH in the gravel parking lot from 1:30 - 3:30. Dismissal at 1:15 for MJH and 1:30 for NGS.

If your student is attending summer school, they should keep their school issued chromebook. We will collect them when the summer session is over. Summer school starts on June 6th at MJH on Mondays/Wednesdays from 8:30 - 11:00 am.

Thank you for all of the support this year! We look forward to seeing everyone next year! Have a great summer!

Common First Aid Dos and Don'ts

Medically Reviewed by Jennifer Robinson, MD on January 20, 2022

Don't: Lean Back for Nosebleeds

Tilting your head back sends the blood down your throat, which could irritate your stomach or even choke you. Better to sit down and lean forward just slightly. Don't lie down, and keep your head above your heart to slow the bleeding. Pinch the front of your nose with your thumb and forefinger for 5 minutes. Check if the flow has stopped. Repeat if needed. If your nose is still bleeding after 20 minutes, call your doctor or get medical help.

Don't: Butter Your Burns

Greasy ointments can seal in the heat. Plus, butter or petroleum jelly might help trap bacteria that cause infection. Instead, run cool, not icy, water over your burn for 5-10 minutes and wash gently with soap. Go to your doctor or an urgent care clinic if your burn is bigger than your hand, or if it's on your hands, face, or private parts.

Do: Put the Tooth Back In

Hold a knocked-out tooth without touching the root. If dirty, quickly rinse in water. Then try to put the tooth back in its gum socket. If you can't, put it in your mouth next to your cheek or dunk it in milk. Don't keep it in tap water because it can damage the root. Get to your dentist or to the ER right away. Your chances of saving the tooth is highest within the first 30 minutes.

Don't: Apply Heat on Frozen Hands

Frostbitten or frozen skin can burn at temperatures that may normally be comfortable. That's especially true for direct heat from a stove, fire, or a heating pad. Thaw hands or feet in about 100 degree water. It should feel warm, not hot, to a person or a body part that isn't frozen. Get to a doctor if any part of the skin turns hard and white.

Do: Push Down on Serious Bleeding

Stanch the flow with gauze or sterile cloth over the wound. Use a clean T-shirt or sock if that's all you have. Raise the injured part to let gravity help slow the bleeding. You can bandage the wound to keep constant pressure on it. See a doctor for care afterward. Get medical care right away if the blood is spurting or if it won't stop.

Do: Use the Heimlich for Choking

This maneuver can dislodge food or objects from choking a person's airway when they can't talk, cough, or breathe. To do the Heimlich, stand behind the person, put your arms around their waist, and bend them forward. Put your fist just above the belly button, below the rib cage, and close your other hand over it. Give several sharp thrusts in and up until the item pops out.

Do: Back Slap for Choking

The Red Cross suggests doing this only if you bend the person forward at the waist and support their chest with your other hand. Strike them between the shoulder blades several times. Then switch to the Heimlich maneuver and alternate until the food pops out. Never strike a choking person on the back if they're standing upright. That could actually send the food farther down their windpipe.

Don't: Take Ipecac for Poisoning

Syrup of ipecac will make you throw up what's in your stomach. But that doesn't seem to get rid of the poison. Ipecac itself can be unsafe with certain poisons or for some people with medical problems. If you've swallowed something dangerous, call 911 or contact poison control online at webpoisoncontrol.org or the hotline at 800-222-1222.

Don't: Remove Deeply Stuck Objects

You can probably take out a splinter on your own. But if a needle, fishhook, pencil, or something else is stuck deep in your skin, it's best to let your doctor remove it. If the site is sore, red, or if you suspect it's infected, get medical help. In the meantime, stop any serious bleeding by pressing on the wound and carefully bandage it. Take care not to push down the embedded object even deeper.

Don't: Remove Gauze on Deep Wounds

Even if the cloth is blood soaked, it's better to leave it and to add more gauze on top and keep up direct pressure on the wound. Taking off the dressing could disturb the blood clots that help seal the bleeding. This is especially important if you're trying to stop the blood flow on a new wound.

Don't: Rub an Injured Eye

If something feels stuck in your eye, blink to try to flush it out. You can also rinse with saline or contact solution or tap water. But if you think your eye is cut or punctured, or if something is clearly sticking out of it, get to a doctor right away. Don't attempt to pull out an object or use any medication. If necessary, tape the bottom of a paper cup around the eye to protect it.

Do: Roll an Unconscious Person on Their Side

Then gently tilt their head back. This helps keep the tongue out of the way of the airway so they can breathe. This "recovery position" lets blood and vomit drain out of the mouth. Don't try this if the person may have injured their spine or neck, such as after a car crash. With infants, put them face down over your arm and support their neck and head with your hand. Just be sure to keep clear of the nose and mouth. Call 911.

On behalf of the staff, PTO, Boosters, Board of Education and Mrs. Turman,
Thank you for all of your support and dedication this school year. We know not everyone agreed with the protocols at the beginning of the year. Our number one priority is keeping our children and staff safe. We had some surprises throughout the year and everyone came out stronger!

It's the end of the year and we gained some normalcy. :)
We can't thank you enough for all of the love and support!

Have a wonderful, safe summer!
We will see you soon!
