Have you ever been in the middle of reading an excellent book when you suddenly realized you were in need of a snack? Well this camp is for you. Join us at Navarro ISD for Baking with Books. Students will explore new and old favorites paired with a cooking activity. While reading students will identify the author's purpose, find figurative language used to keep the reader's attention, and practice math and science skills! This camp will leave them hungry for more reading while they challenge themselves to try new snacks!
