CAVALIER OF NINETEEN THIRTY-SIX

A decorative crosshair design consisting of a thick vertical line and a thick horizontal line intersecting at the center. Two thinner lines, one vertical and one horizontal, also intersect at the same point, creating a grid-like pattern.

FOREWORD

THAT the happy memories of these high school days may be kept vivid in the minds of Jenkins students and friends, this annual has been published. May it serve its purpose.

DEDICATION

WE, the Senior Class of 1936, dedicate this edition of "The Cavalier" to Charles J. Thurmond, teacher of English, and sponsor of "The Quadrangle" and "The Cavalier."

Mr. Thurmond came to Jenkins High School at the beginning of the school year and has, since his coming, endeared himself to the student body and his fellow faculty alike.

Senior Class History

Now, the history of the Class of Six and Thirty, of the high school of the City of Jenkins, County of Letcher, State of Kentucky, is in this wise:

In the beginning, in the Two-and-Thirtieth year of our Lord, in the ninth month, and on the third day of the month, there entered into this Land of Learning, one and forty seekers of knowledge. Some came up from the eighth grade, where they had for many months been busily engaged in storing their minds with the honey of wisdom, some were green and fresh from the towns of McRoberts, Burdine, and Dunham.

And it came to pass, as they did enter this land, that they were received with wild welcomings and rejoicing by those who it was decreed should henceforth lead them up the slippery byways of knowledge.

Likewise it came to pass that they were received with malicious glee by a certain band of wild beings who were called "Seniors", and who because of their fierce taste for Freshman blood, did pounce upon them daily and nightly, and did cause them to suffer greatly, and to say in their hearts: "Blessed be the name of Education, for because of it, we have endured great torments, both of body and mind. Yea, verily, have we been martyrs to its cause!"

Now, it came to pass, soon after they entered the land, that the males of the tribe were, one and all, seized with a strange infirmity which did cause them to act with much strangeness of manner, and to grapple and wrestle with their fellows in much rage and seeming ferocity. Certain wise men were called upon to look to them, who did examine and did finally pronounce the infirmity, "Football", and assured the frightened leaders that the malady, while it needs must be contagious, and sometimes fatal, was yet a necessary evil. The instructors did allow these diseases to run their natural course, and lo, none was killed, and few were seriously injured whereat there was great rejoicing through the land.

In the third year the class did present to the people a great and wonderful play, "Six Wives On a Rampage", in which the true dramatic arts were destroyed and the multitude did cry out in their hearts, "Heaven forgive them, for they know not what they do!" and with their lips, "How grand and wonderful these things which ye have done!" and the heads of the class did become swelled to their fullest capacity at the praise they did receive for the murderous deeds they did do.

And it came to pass, in the Senior year, that the class did sit themselves down that an artist of much skill, should make their pictures for the Year Book, but when it was done, and their eyes fell upon that which was said to be like unto their faces, disgust was upon the face of the whole class, and they were much angry, for behold, it was like nothing on the earth, nor on the face of the angry deep. A great cry now went up from the throats of the greedy class: "Lo, if it doth happen that we are to journey to the capitol of our great land, there is much need of many dollars wherewith to provide a means of transporting us!"

And so, bethinking themselves on these things, the class made many a feast and the public was bidden that money be brought unto the treasury and the coffers be filled. The first of these feasts was in the form of a bake sale, in which the people did buy foods of rare delicacy and flavor.

Now, the fourth year in the history of this great and wonderful Class of Six-and-Thirty has been one of much labor, and but little resting by the wayside, for preparations have been making ready for them to make their final departure from the land.

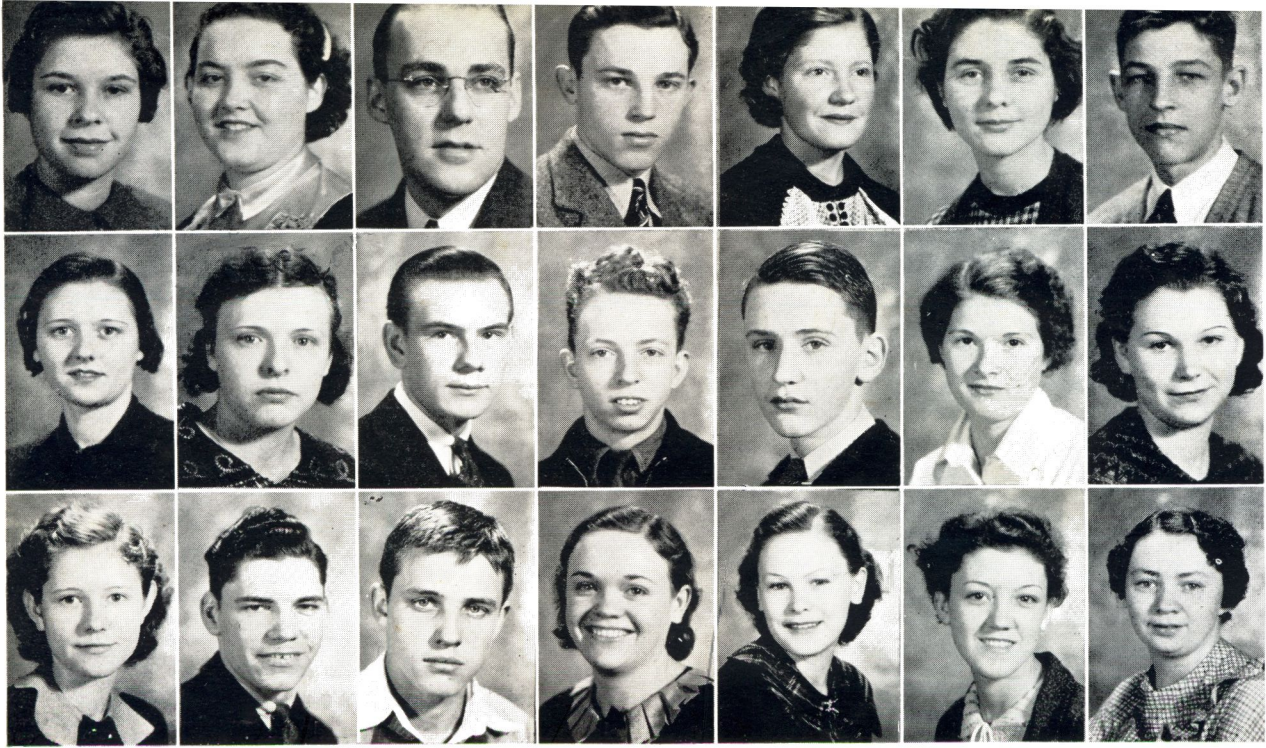

Now it came to pass, as their pride grew to a great bigness within them, that the class began to wish for badges belifting their stations, and many messages were sent to the big cities and all the towns 'round about for samples of their fine jewelry; and, at last, after much considering and reconsidering, the class professed itself to be satisfied with its choice, and rings were purchased with which they rested well content. Then it straight way came to pass that the members of the class began to write down the greatest and most wonderful of thoughts, such as no one had ever thought before since the beginning of the world, upon sheets of foolscap in the form of the "Quadrangle" and the "Cavalier".

In all lands of learning the Seniors universally are recognized as a creature of lofty dignity, but many have been the times when people have violated this unwritten law. Verily have the Juniors dared even to sit down in our very presence, and even the Sophomores have on one or two occasions "forgotten" to lift their hats. Yea I say "forgotten" from a sincere wish to do them justice. Far be it from me to even hint that this reverential courtesy could have been neglected through any less excusable failing.

Having reached that final goal, Graduation, the Seniors have heavy hearts and much sadness of minds, for though the trials and tribulations have been many in number, the pleasures have also been plentiful. The Seniors for four years have gathered, in large portions, the fruits from the tree of knowledge. But it is written, "In the day when ye shall have eaten of all these fruits, ye surely will be driven forth from the land!"

So it has come to pass that of the one and forty that entered in two-and-thirty, only six-and-thirty will depart, for verily, verily, I say unto you, that broad are the gates, and wide is the road that leadeth to the high school, and many there be that go in thereat, but straight is the gate, and narrow is the way that leadeth to graduation, and few there be that find it. But "let us not be weary in the well doing, for in due season we shall reap if we faint not".

And now may the blessings that ever attend the noble and good and true, follow and abide with us, each and all, now and forever. AMEN.

History of Class 1937

Yo, Heave, Ho, and the Freshman Class of '33-'34 embarked for a successful voyage through high school. I imagine everybody had the general impression that we were pretty dumb (as all Freshmen are), but "seeing is believing" and before any time we had proven ourselves a studious group of people with plenty of school spirit and excelling ambitions.

Then in our Sophomore year we were joined by the McRoberts shipmates, who in due cooperation helped us pilot our ship safely through another successful year.

Now we are Juniors and plenty proud of it. To keep up our success in piloting our ship, we have our most competent home room sponsor, Mr. Thurmond, and our class president, Kathleen Howington. With these and the cooperation of the Junior Class, we have been able to pilot our ship through storms and fiercer gales.

In athletics, we were outstanding in football. We were represented by Junior Hastings, Fred Wolfe, Curtiss Yonts, Clarence Hall, and Forester Baker. Indeed, we are all very proud of them. Although in basketball we have only two representatives from our room, Junior Hastings and Howard Burpo; but since they made the first team that is an added attraction.

On the debate teams we have three members of the Junior Class. They are: June Short, Pearl Childers, and Ruth Muncy. The Junior Class is wishing them loads of success with their argumental talent.

These are the only high lights of the Junior Class' success, but you will be safe in assuring yourself that the Junior Class is among the best.

As we near the end of this year we feel that we have grown wiser and that we must continue successfully to anchor our ship safely at our Senior Port.

Class History

When the Sophomores of the Jenkins High School assembled in September of the school year of 1935-36, it was found to be such an unusually large group of bright, industrious, and wide awake young men and women, that it was necessary to separate them into two classes, "The First Sophomores", under the direction of Miss Blackburn, and "The Second Sophomores" under Mr. James A. Lauder.

The history of "The First Sophomore Class" is short but a very successful one. Our excellent success is due to the worthy advice of Miss Blackburn, who comes to us from Winchester, Kentucky. In our "First Sophomore Class" we are delighted to have many good students, reporters, athletes, as well as musicians. These have made this year a happy one. We have sponsored many social parties, to which the whole high school flocked, especially to the Hallowe'en Party.

With the educational enthusiasm which exists in our class, we feel sure of the fact that every member of the class will keep up our school spirit so that we shall all finish our high school days together. So in the future, if you wish to keep in touch with the happenings that go on around here, watch the members of "The First Sophomore Class".

—BONNIE MULLINS, '38.

Class History

"We came, we are seeing, we will conquer"

We, the "Second Sophomore Class", owe our success and high standing to our class advisor, Mr. James A. Lauder. We are a noble group and we should all be happy to be classed with this intelligent class of the Sophomores of 1935-36.

Modesty prevents our expressing an opinion about ourselves, but the Class of 1936 will be, as the North Star to the Viking of old, a guide to those who follow after. Of the future, though the floods of time may bear us far from the enchanted shore of romance, our fancies will return on the mystic barque of memory to the golden days when we were Sophomores at old Jenkins High.

Class History

At the beginning of the year our class opened with fifty-two freshmen. Now, we have only forty-eight. How quickly a year rolls by! This year a large group of Freshmen came from Burdine and a few from Dunham, as well as from Jenkins. Our Freshman class and the Freshman class from McRoberts met and selected a motto and colors. The motto is, "Don't try dying, die trying." The colors are purple and gold.

We were green, just as all Freshmen are and have been throughout all of the time since the beginning. The strange part of it is we didn't really realize how green we were until very forcibly reminded of it by our superiors, the Sophomores. We don't suppose we actually realized what high school life was all about until we were enrolled and well started in our classes. Miss Keller took us in charge and helped us over the roughest places.

Our outside activities include: Debate, Basketball, Library assistance and orchestra.

A Freshman Soliloquy is: Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of education all the days of my life, the glory of being a Jenkins Freshman will always be with me. For, lo! am I not a member of that class which has reaped honors in scholastic, debating, and athletic fields? Yea, be it known throughout the uttermost parts of the earth, I am a Freshman, and "By Jingo", I'm proud of it!—GRACE PLUMMER, '39.

Class History

The Science Building, at the beginning of the year, looked more like a museum than a school room, and still does, but much less so. There were many animals brought in by the students of science and biology. Among them were water animals, as small bass, sun perches, lizards, tadpoles, crawfish and mud turtles, as well as a great number of land animals. There were rattle snakes, small snakes, tarapins, bugs and beetles. Most everyone has bad luck and so the winter came, bringing us cold weather and also killing our animals.

We planted a sweet potato in water, as an experiment, and it grew a huge lot of vines and leaves. We also tried to get the skeletons of cats and quite a number of different kinds of cats were delivered to the sponsor.

The class and Boy Scouts gave a picture show and the profits are to go for lumber of which shelves and book cases will be made in which to put our books.

We feel pretty proud of our progress and our sponsor this year, and we also hope to have a much better Sophomore class next year. We selected as our colors for our class, purple and gold.

Class History

There has been quite a change in the eighth grade this year, and for one thing we have the privilege of changing classes. We are very happy to have the Dunham students with us this year and we are doing our best to make them feel at home.

There has also been a change in the eighth grade teachers since last year and we are also proud to have Miss Blackburn for our science teacher. There are also Miss Hilsenbeck, Mr. Thurmond, Mr. Bennett, and Mrs. Yoak for our teachers.

We have had many good home room programs and we are very proud of our program committee and its chairman, who made these fine programs possible.

Most all of the eighth-graders attended the Senior play, and we were very glad to help the Seniors in any way because we hope that some day we, also, will be Seniors.

In the early part of the first semester there was a Sunday School contest which was between the boys and girls. The contest was to see which of the two attended Sunday School the most. The Thanksgiving holidays ended with the girls entertaining the boys, who were the winners.

So as we come to the close of our grammar school days and enter into high school we will strive to become good students and uphold the ideals of our school.

Class History

Our climb up the hill of knowledge for this year will soon be completed. This year we have accomplished much with such guides as Miss Hilsenbeck, Miss Cullis, Miss Blackburn, and Mr. Bennett. We had forty-eight who started with us this year, but some fell by the wayside and others took a different path. Now we have forty-four who will no doubt finish the climb for this year.

Many times the path was terribly rocky and steep, but we stumbled along and then we would find it much easier for awhile. Our home room programs have been very entertaining and instructive. Throughout the entire year there has existed the finest possible spirit of cooperation and the willingness to do things among the entire seventh grade.

Through the initiative and untiring efforts of the Senior Sponsor and Annual Sponsor, Jenkins High School is able to have a printed annual this year. For the past few years the annual has been mimeographed and the pictures pasted on the pages of each copy.

Miss Cullis, the Senior Sponsor, by her unceasing work and cooperation, made possible the financing of a printed and engraved annual. Mr. Thurmond, bringing to Jenkins High his experience and knowledge of publications, was responsible for putting out a printed annual.

Outstanding for their work on the annual this year were: Willard Burchett, who was a competent editor as well as manager of details. In addition to the responsibility of the editorship he personally solicited advertisements, contributed the sports write-ups, and labored with typewritten “copy” for the printer. Tish Purser, who was, to a considerable extent, responsible for the remarkable number of advertisements, and Eileen Looney, whose mature judgment and general cooperation were indispensable.

With Mr. Thurmond as its sponsor, the Quadrangle soared to new heights this year. It has been greatly enlarged and improved in form and makeup. It has more closely than ever before approximated the real journalistic principles, whose virtues Mr. Thurmond is so fond of extolling to the Senior class.

The circulation of the Quadrangle has doubled. It exchanges with high school papers all over the continent—even in Alaska. Very flattering comments have been made of various issues this year, both in exchange columns of other papers and by letters direct to the Quadrangle. As Mr. Snapp has said so often, “Mr. Thurmond is putting our Quadrangle on the map this year.”

Outstanding for their work on the Quadrangle this year were: Eileen Looney, the editor; Willard Burchett, who ably managed the two full parts of advertising manager and sports editor; and Fred Wolfe, who was instrumental in increasing the circulation to the size which it now enjoys.

This year the Board of Education added a much needed part of the school—Band and Orchestra. Several attempts have been made in the past to organize bands and orchestra as an outside activity. However, all attempts have been futile until this year. At the beginning of the semester, six students reported for orchestra. By the end of the second month this number had increased threefold. The orchestra made its initial appearance at the Senior play; it played at the Jenkins performance and also made a trip to McRoberts. Assembly programs have been greatly augmented by the appearance of the orchestra during the second semester.

Mr. Lyon is extremely optimistic over the future of the band. Because of the fact that all of the members of the band are beginners, public performances were withheld until the blue ribbon parade, which was led by the band. With the addition of the McRoberts students, who will be in high school next fall, we are assured of a thirty-piece band, ready to help the Cavaliers start the football season with a bang!

SYNOPSIS

The Seniors came out with high success and honors this year with the presentation of the play, "The Girl In The Fur Coat." In fact, the play was so good that we were able to present it four times—two of which were at McRoberts.

The success of the play wasn't due so much to the play itself, but to the splendid performances of the following people: Eileen Looney as Nan Nacroft, "The Vaudeville Queen"; Clifford Dunlap as Bob Lee, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Silas Lee, who are better known to us as John Estes and Verva Coleman; Willard Burchett, as Pete Denny, the half-witted Besastus Collar salesman, and also the hit of the play; Margoleen Boyd, as Maggie, Pete's beloved and idol; Hettie Lee, who was played by Tish Purser, was the spoiled daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee and who longed to be an actress even to the risk of marrying Roger Devake; Jack Harter, who already had a wife, Kitty Wheeler; and Floyd Childers as the Judge and the villian of the play.

To Miss Cullis, the Senior sponsor, is due a large portion of the success of the play because it was from her diligence and hard work that the success was attained.

The Girls Club of Jenkins High School was organized during the first semester of the school year of 1935-36, and has enjoyed a very successful first year under the direction of Miss Blackburn, our faculty sponsor.

Since a full and creative life for herself and others may come only as a girl grows within herself, the purpose of the Girls Club is the development of the individual and of this group of friendly girls. In carrying this aim, the girls have programs using talent within the club as well as those featuring out-of-school speakers. There are meetings appropriate to the various seasons of the year; others using dramatic talent in the club; some emphasizing health and dress, and thoughtful mind and fine manners as factors in personal development; others teaching handicraft, and of course in the spring, hikes and out-door parties are quite as frequent as our indoor activities.

Our hope for future years is that we may help girls in their practical living by continuing to develop ourselves along many lines.

Harken! Jenkins High School, word comes to you from the little Science Building, of the forming of a boys' club christened as The Waukauui Club. Mr. Hudson, our founder and instructor, has progressed rapidly in starting off the Waukauui boys with the thought of success of a marvelous organization and also a worthy one.

Many things have been and will be accomplished by the untiring work of these interested boys. During the Christmas holidays the club collected food and toys, through the help of their mothers, and distributed it to the needy families around Jenkins.

An outlook for the oncoming spring, when camping will be permissible, is what the boys are looking forward to.

As a result of being interested in the forming of a boy's club, Mr. Hudson, science and biology teacher, has worked up a great many enthusiastic supporters among the boys. A mass meeting of the high school boys was held November 14, 1935, when many members participated in giving a program. At this meeting the officers were elected as follows: President, Fred Wolfe; Vice President, Shelton Roberson; Treasurer, Harold Bentley; Secretary, George Morgan, and Joe Blevins as their reporter. At this meeting a name and motto for the club were selected. The name of the club was picked out to be an Indian name, "The Waukauui Club". The motto is "One for all, all for one".

The club's programs consist of music, jokes, stunts, talks and the business matters. Our sponsor promises many a good time for the boys during the summer months. Plans are being made as to just what the club will do, such as hiking, giving parties, helping in the community, and forming camera clubs. Mr. Davidson, Mr. Snapp, and Coach Lauder have given many interesting talks to the boys, who appreciated them very much and hope they will continue to do so.

To make the club and put it on a high standard, the boys have been very prompt in the paying of their dues, and in taking parts in various entertainments. They have also decided to give benefits and use many other means to raise funds for hiking and camping trips.

The constitution and by-laws were drawn up by a member of the program committee and the club unanimously approved them. During this meeting a cheer leader was elected and a cheering section was organized to help the student spirit at the ball games. The last meeting in January was devoted to the selection of a social committee for the club. Those chosen were: Albert Morgan, Berl White, Howard May and John D. Shook. A very fine example is expected from the group.

The club has decided to buy a banner with the club insignia inscribed thereon and supply the members with small pins or badges with the club's motto and name on them. Watch the Waukauui Club grow.

The debate question, Resolved: That the several states should enact legislation providing for a system of complete medical care available to all citizens at public expense, was interesting to many. We had two complete debate teams this year which is the first time this has occurred in many years. The affirmative team was composed of June Short, Pearl Childers, and Eloise Pratt. Eloise kindly took over the work to be done by Willard Burchett, when Willard found that he would be unable to continue debating. The negative team was made up of Tish Purser, Ruth Muncy, and Madge Ison.

During the season we debated Hazard, Pikeville, Vicco, and Dorton High Schools. Our debate season was cut short this season due to the prevalence of spinal meningitis and it was thought best that we not enter the District Tournament at Hazard.

In oral interpretation, Ethel Tackett was to represent our school, giving the monologue "Scratch, the Newsboy's Dog."

Another year we hope that many more will become interested in Speech Events for the one to benefit by such training is the individual himself. To be able to think logically, speak clearly, and to come before an audience poised and assured, is something to be desired by all, and may be secured by early training in high school forensics.

ATHLETICS

JAMES A. LAUDER, Coach

Mr. James A. Lauder came to Jenkins High for the first time in September, 1935. He was a graduate of the Southern Illinois State Teachers College, and had been at the Odin High School, in Illinois, for the past three years. Considering how new the football team was this year, everyone feels that Coach Lauder did very well with it and will have a fine team next year.

In basketball, Jenkins High School enjoyed one of the best seasons in its history. Jenkins High not only conquered the Letcher County Conference, but was entitled to go to the Regional Tournament held at Hazard and was only prevented from doing so by the meningitis quarantine. Jenkins was one of the favored teams in the tournament this year and gives promise of a brilliant season next year.

SUMMARY OF 1935 FOOTBALL SEASON

By Willard Burchett

JENKINS 0—WISE 25

The Jenkins Cavaliers toured to Wise, Virginia, Saturday, September 21, to play the first game of the season for the Cavaliers. Both teams played a hard-fought game, but due to experience and weight, the Wise team won the game by a victory of 25 to 0.

JENKINS 18—ST. ROBINSON 6

The next week after the defeat at Wise, the Warriors settled down to hard, bitter, and toilsome practice, which probably accounted for the victory over Stuart Robinson on September 28. The game was a thrilling one from beginning to the final whistle. Hastings accounted for two of the touchdowns, while Robinson had the other.

JENKINS 0—BENHAM 33

The Cavaliers met a hard defeat at the hands of Benham at Jenkins, on October 5. Thurmond was the outstanding player for the Orange and Black Team. The final score was 33 to 0.

JENKINS 0—HAZARD 7

Win and lose; win and lose. That's how the victories go between Jenkins and Hazard. Jenkins won an overwhelming victory over Hazard in 1934. The two teams met on Friday, October 11. This game was the last event on the program for this year's U. K. R. E. A. meeting in Hazard. Both teams played hard and determined football.

JENKINS 0—FLEMING 6

The Jenkins Cavaliers and Fleming clashed in a spectacular battle on Saturday, October 19, at the Jenkins Athletic Field. This was the first game ever won by Fleming over Jenkins since the first days of football in Letcher County. The victory for Fleming was due to her experience and long end runs and clicking pass work. Although Fleming won this year, Jenkins is hoping to win next year.

JENKINS 0—WHITESBURG 13

Jenkins was defeated by Whitesburg this year for the first time in several years. The score at the final whistle was 13 to 0.

JENKINS 0—BLACK STAR 15

Saturday, November 2, the Jenkins Cavaliers visited Black Star and were met by a hard-won victory for the black and red team. V. Mullins, A. Morgan, Gilliam, and Chance were outstanding for Jenkins, while Kelly starred for the victors.

JENKINS 7—PAINTSVILLE 18

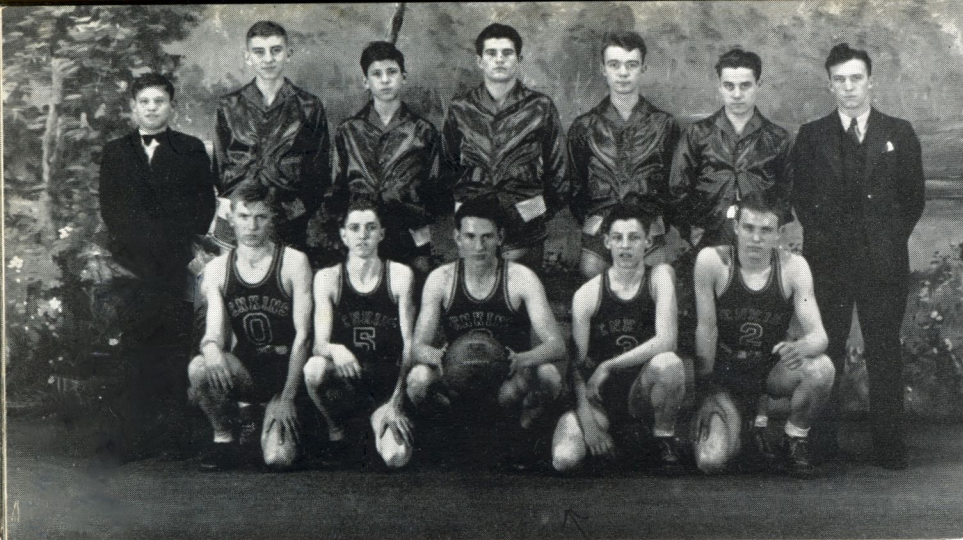

The Paintsville Tigers visited the Jenkins Cavaliers to play the last home game for Jenkins this season. The Cavaliers were determined to win this last home game, but Paintsville aerial attack was too much for the Green and White wave. Paintsville defeated Jenkins in the last two minutes of the game by a score of 13 to 6. The final score was 18 to 7, and the touchdown and extra point were due to a completed pass thrown by Gilliam to Hastings from the 50-yard line, and the extra point, to a place-kick by Gilliam.

JENKINS 0—VAN LEAR 20

Van Lear won a muddy victory over Jenkins on November 16. The Van Lear team was much the more experienced and was the strongest on line plays, especially off tackles. After the game there was a dinner and dance for both teams.

The Jenkins High School Basketball team finished its season with a worthwhile pride as they came through by winning eleven of their twenty games and by annexing the Letcher County Conference. The Cavaliers defeated Whitesburg twice, Fleming once, and St.-Robinson once. The Cavaliers scored the total of 448 points while their opponents scored 437. The Cavaliers were well supported this year by the high school and town fans. The office reports that the gate receipts were a decided margin over previous years. The team well deserved this support as it has had one of the most successful seasons that it has ever had in its basketball career.

All of the boys on the team were young and most of them consisted of Freshmen, Sophomores, and two Juniors. Coach Lauder, who takes his first year at Jenkins, displayed one of the smoothest and best coached basketball teams in this section this year.

The district tournament was held at the Fleming gym on March 6 and 7. Jenkins defeated Fleming by a score of 29 to 25. The game was an exciting one and the Jenkins fans were all well pleased. Whitesburg defeated St.-Robinson the same night and thus Jenkins and Whitesburg played the final game of which Whitesburg defeated the Cavaliers. Although the Cavaliers were defeated in the final game they were entitled to go to the Regional tournament which was held in Hazard the following week. Jenkins drew Whitesburg to play at Hazard, but were refused to participate in the tournament because of an epidemic of meningitis which was in this area.

Although the Cavaliers did not go to the Regional tournament this year they are in the utmost of confidence that they will have a state tournament team next season.

The players and their total score are as follows:

M. Ticco (Freshman)	91	Gilliam (Junior)	4
Robert Woody (Sophomore)	90	Richard Woody (Sophomore)	2
L. Mullins (Sophomore)	78	Hibbitts (Freshman)	1
J. Hastings (Junior)	75	Gardner (Sophomore) (half season)	49

The tumbling team was organized this year for the first time in the history of the Jenkins High School. It is under the direction of the capable hands of Mr. Davidson. The boys started out without any equipment and finally managed to acquire a couple of mats and some bars. The tumbling team made its first appearance between halves at the Whitesburg-Jenkins basketball game at Jenkins on January 14, 1936. They have given two performances away from home which were at Whitesburg once and at the final game of the district tournament which was held at Fleming.

The boys have progressed more than nicely and the patrons of the Jenkins High School are really proud of them and are behind them. We have every reason in the world to believe that tumbling in Jenkins High School will become a permanent and worthwhile feature.

Seniors Bequeath Sacred Treasures

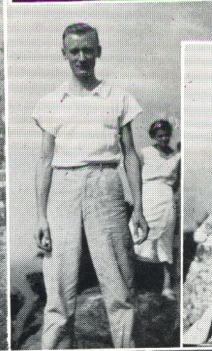

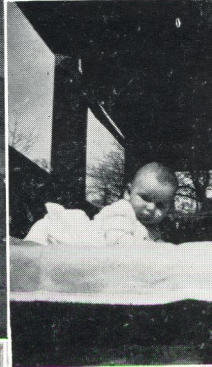

We, the Seniors of 1936, do hereby bequeath our sacred treasures to the Juniors of Jenkins High School, with the hope they will preserve and use them in the same manner that we have.

THE WILL IS AS FOLLOWS:

- I, Faustina Fleming, bequeath my title of "Gustus" to Mary Elizabeth Pratt.
- I, Tish Purser, do will my southern accent to Arnold Smith.
- I, Eileen Looney, bequeath my ability to leave class without permission to Ida Jane Vaughan.
- I, Ruby Litts, bequeath my humor and voice to Maude Barney.
- I, Virginia McDonough, leave my intelligence with Ruby Hibbits.
- I, Kitty Wheeler, bequeath my laziness to the ever energetic Reable Griffith.
- I, Berl White, will my height to Edith Wright.

Humor

Ruth: "Why do you always carry roller skates when you go places?"
Gustus: "I never walk back."

—————THE CAVALIER—————

George: "What's the latest thing in men's clothing?"
Gustus: "Women."

—————THE CAVALIER—————

Gustus: "You leave the last three buttons of your vest loose. Is that from choice?"
John: "No, from beer."

—————THE CAVALIER—————

Gustus: "Does your wife pick your clothing?"
Victor: "No, just my pockets."

—————THE CAVALIER—————

Mable: "That doesn't look like a school of fish. They're too disorderly."
Gustus: "Well, you see it's recess."

—————THE CAVALIER—————

Virginia: "I don't care for pearls. I like something big with crystals."
Gustus (sales girl): "I have just the thing for you, a chandelier."

—————THE CAVALIER—————

Miss Cullis (to singer): "Your voice has the sweetness of a thrush and the range of a nightingale."

Gustus: "Oh boy! I wish I had a rock. I could kill two birds in one throw."

—————THE CAVALIER—————

Marie: "I don't think she's dumb."
Gustus: "Say, she's so dumb she thinks Joan of Arc was Noah's wife."

—————THE CAVALIER—————

Mother: "You absolutely cannot have candy to go to bed on."
Gustus: "I don't want to go to bed on it. I want to eat it."

—————THE CAVALIER—————

Reuben: "Did you see my last picture?"
Gustus: "Well, I hope I did."

SEASON OF 1935

United Mine Workers of America

Local Union No. 5741

JENKINS, KY.

The Preamble to the Constitution of the United Mine Workers of America reads as follows:

There is no truth more obvious than that without coal there could not have been such marvelous social and industrial progress as marks present day civilization.

Believing that those whose lot it is to toil within the earth's recesses surrounded by peculiar dangers and deprived of sunlight and pure air, producing the commodity which makes possible the world's progress, are entitled to protection and an equitable share of the fruits of their labor, we have formed the "United Mine Workers of America" for the purpose of establishing, by lawful means the principles embraced in the body of the Constitution.

Therefore, we represent not tonnage in coal production, not wealth, riches or financial interests, but we do represent human beings and their God-given rights. We believe that human rights should eternally be placed and reckoned above property rights.

Our primary objectives in collective bargaining are not only to shorten the hours of labor, improve working and living conditions for our membership, effect a better industrial relationship between our organization and our employers, but also to enjoy the fraternal relationship of the brotherhood of those who work in the industry.

There is no saying more truthful than that "In unity there is strength", but because we have become to be the greatest labor organization in the world today by far, having a membership of approximately 600,000 in the United States and Canada, it is not the intent and purposes of the United Mine Workers of America to arouse industrial strife and to engage in unlawful activities as some would have you to believe, but rather to settle our grievances and differences with our employers amicably and peacefully, as evidenced by the prolonged wage joint conferences held in the Nation's Capital in the year 1935.

We have the greatest labor leaders of the country in our International Organization today. It is now an established and accepted fact that labor has the right to, and can intelligently debate before boards of arbitration, and in joint conferences the problems of the working man through representatives of their own choice.

The children of the man who toils have the same right to a higher education as do the children of the more fortunate class, and we can hardly hope for such opportunities for children when the Industrial Corporations of the country can keep us disbanded, unorganized and in a state of economic bondage.

Organization of labor also effects better social, political and economic conditions in communities and governments. Shrewd politicians and corporations are unable to dominate to the detriment of the general welfare of the great masses of people. In the nearly three years that the United Mine Workers have been in the Jenkins field much has been accomplished along these lines, as is very obvious to the casual observer.

J. E. BOGGS, President, Local Union No. 5741.

Father: "What's this I hear about your little brother being punished by his teacher just because his nose itched?"

Daughter: "Yes, but daddy, he didn't tell you he was scratching it with his thumb!"

Landlord: "A professor formerly occupied this apartment. He invented an explosive."

Prospective Tenant: "I suppose those spots on the ceiling are the explosive."

Landlord: "No, they're the professor!"

"My girl," remarked Clarence proudly, "is a decided blonde."

"Yes," said Dorothy, "I was with her when she decided."

Two men who had been bachelor cronies, met for the first time in five years.

"Tell me, Tom," said one, "did you marry that girl, or do you still darn your own socks and do your own cooking?"

"Yes," said Tom.
