Letter from the Staff

Time. This one word inspired eleven people to come up with pictures, poems, new formats, and creative ideas to develop your yearbook.

As you look at the outside of the 1983-84 yearbook, you may see it resembles the cover of a magazine. Since the theme for this year's book was "TIME" the staff decided to do a take-off on TIME and did the yearbook in magazine format. An ad was included on the back cover to complete the design.

We also included a new division format. Instead of dividing the book by classes, clubs, sports etc., we have separated it into seasons. By doing this, we hope you will be able to focus on the highlights each season had to offer.

The staff felt that putting out this yearbook was a great challenge. The challenge included working extra time out of class to reach deadlines, expanding our imaginations, and making sure everyone was included in the book. The photography staff was also challenged and succeeded in helping us meet deadlines.

This experience not only brought a challenge, but also a reward. Watching the progress of each page, section, and season was exciting. We feel we have achieved our goal of creating an original and unique book. Even though it all required a great deal of work, the patience and guidance our advisor Donna Henry showed, and the fun and laughs we shared together made it all worth it.

The staff of the 1983-84 Railroader hopes you enjoy your yearbook and forever cherish the memories it holds.

Time
 The snow is slowly melting
 Spring is finally here
 As hours turn to seasons
 The days turn into years
 It seems like 'now's' forever
 But forever goes too fast
 Forever was also yesterday
 Yet today takes in the past
 The clock of life is ticking
 The alarm begins to ring
 We wonder where the time went
 As summer overtakes spring

The varsity volleyball team ended their season with a 7-12 record. However, the junior varsity did not do as well. They ended their season with a 3-7 record.

"I was really pleased with the rapid improvement of their skills. Even more importantly, they had extremely positive attitudes which point to success in the future," said Mrs. Henry about the J.V.

Mindy Windholz said this about volleyball. "I thought we were pretty good, and next year we should have a lot of experience. It was great when we beat Trego."

VOLLEYBALL

The varsity volleyball team ended their season with a 7-12 record. Every year, the volleyball team has improved their record and their skills, showing hard work and determination on the girls' part.

Mrs. Henry, the new volleyball coach, had this to say, "We started off the season well, surprising a lot of people. We had good senior leadership and the varsity improved on court coverage and defensive play. Although we didn't end the season as well as we had hoped to, I'd have to say that it was a good season with the improvement of our record."

Cross Country — 3rd at MCL

Team young, but not quitters.

Starting off the cross country season was a young, but hard working team. The team consisted of 6 juniors, 2 sophomores and 3 freshmen.

The season started with the team having their first meet at home, the Ellis Triangular. The team ran well the first meet even though 6 of the 10 boys ran for the first time. Ellis placed 2nd out of the 3 teams that were there.

The second meet was the P-ville Invitational with Ellis placing 4th out of 6 teams. Paul Patten placed 8th at P-ville with a time of 10:46. Next, Ellis traveled to Oakley on a cold and windy day and teamwise ran rather poorly. At the Norton Invitational the team placed 3rd out of 8 teams with Mike Weber leading in 5th place with a time of 10:41.

At the MCL meet at Ellis, the team took 3rd overall with Paul Patten coming in 4th. At regionals, the team took 6th out of 8 teams with the first 3 teams going to state. When asked what he thought about the cross country team this year, Coach Hulse commented, "We were awful young as far as experience goes but the kids started improving into the year and that's a good sign. We're looking forward to next year, for a trip to Manhattan."

Railers have rebuilding year

Underclassmen gain experience

The 1983-84 season opened with a lot of excitement and enthusiasm for both the players and the coaches. The opening game of the season was against a highly ranked team, Norton. The Railers lost by a large margin in that first game but were still excited about the season. This excitement, however, was not enough to make a very inexperienced Railroader team a winner in the remainder of the season. With only four seniors for leadership, the Railers were unable to come up with a victory. What the Railer team did come up with was a good group of juniors, sophomores and freshmen that were able to get in some very valuable playing time. This should pay off in the seasons to come.

Stuco a great success

Stuco puts on a great homecoming, raises money through a dance and by selling cakes, and has terrific lyceums!

"A great success," was what Stuco president Patty Honas said about the year. "Overall, I would say that this was Stuco's best year in the four years I have been in Stuco. Everyone was willing to work, and so we made a lot of money."

Stuco's first project of the year was homecoming. Although homecoming was very busy, Patty thought it went very smoothly.

Besides homecoming, Stuco also had lyceums and money-raising projects. Their main money-raising project was the cake raffle, which was something new, but turned out to be a great project. Stuco also had a dance, in which the band "Exodus" played. The dance was a success, as was the whole year.

HOMECOMING

Get electrified

EHS: buzzing with excitement the week of homecoming!

After a long and busy week, we finally reached the moment we had all been waiting for. As the queen candidates began their drive around the football field, the crowd grew silent. Over the loudspeaker came, "The 1983-84 Homecoming king is Ricky Aschenbrenner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Aschenbrenner." As the car stopped in front of the bleachers, the queen was announced, "Debbie Waldschmidt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rudy Waldschmidt is the 1983-84 Homecoming queen." Other candidates were Rex Befort, son of Rosalie Patterson and George Befort and Coleen Fischer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Fischer. Earl Mayes, son of Lorine Mayes and DeeDee Waldschmidt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rudy Waldschmidt. The crown bearer was Seth Bittel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stan Bittel. The flower girl was Lisa Rathbun, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Rathbun.

Along with the crowning, parade and football game, the students were also a big part of homecoming. In class competition, the seniors placed first, while in float competition the sophomores placed first, followed by the seniors, freshmen and then juniors.

Mr. Bray, STUCO sponsor, had this to say about Homecoming, "I thought we had a very large parade with a lot of people involved, and we had a nice bonfire."

After the finish of the football game against the Smith Center Redmen, the 1983-84 Homecoming came to an end with the students dancing to the music of Night Trax.

Band looks to a bright future

Practice, practice, practice, was what band was all about this year. With only 22 upperclassmen and 26 underclassmen, its not at all surprising.

The E.H.S. Band had to do a lot of practicing this year to get ready to perform at sports events, pep assemblies, concerts, and regionals. Mr. Dietz, the band instructor, said, "It has kind of been an unusual year because of most of the band members being underclassmen."

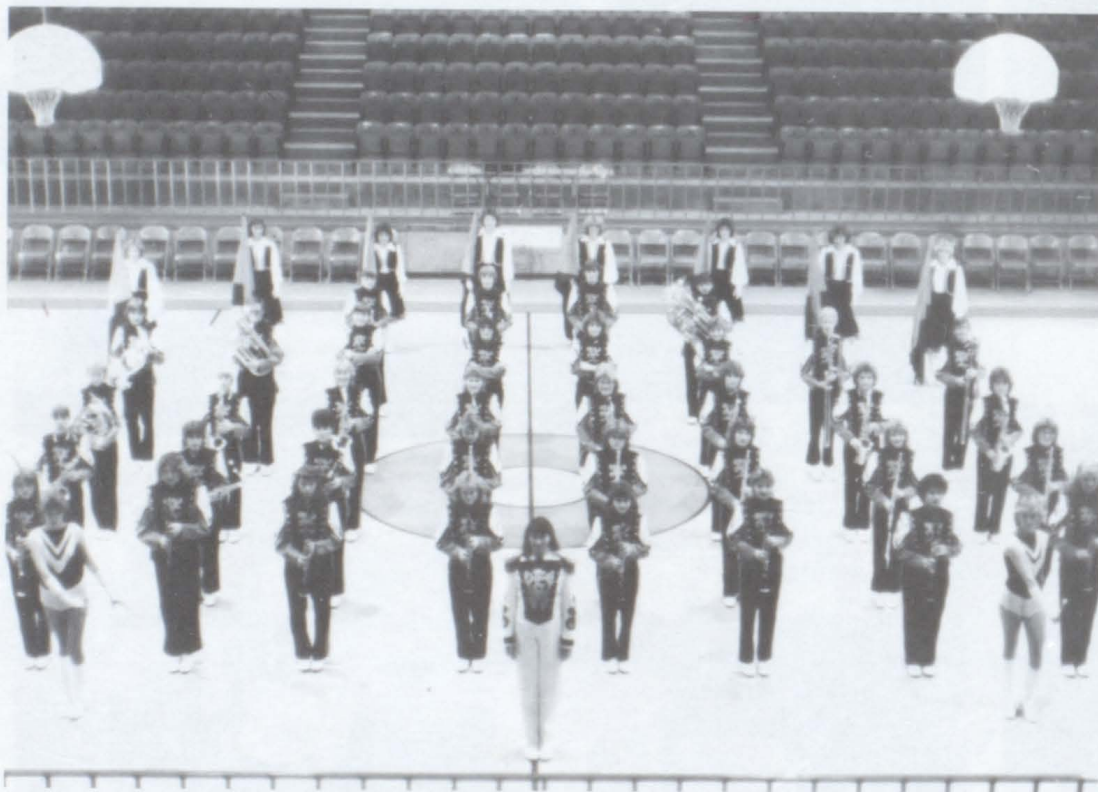

The band also had their share of misfortunes this year with their Christmas concert being cancelled due to snow and injuries.

The flagteam also performed this year during football and basketball season. They marched and performed routines to music supplied by the band. The band also had two new additions to it this year. They were the twirlers. Like the flagteam, the twirlers marched and performed routines with the band during the sports seasons.

Overall, the band, flagteam and twirlers did an outstanding job this year by entertaining all the fans at E.H.S.

"Curious Savage" a success

Juniors combine their efforts for a good show

Who is crazy and who isn't crazy? That is what the Junior class play, "The Curious Savage," by John Patrick, tried to determine. Mrs. Savage, played by Karen Fox, was put in an institution because they thought that she was spending her money in an irrational way.

Mrs. Savage proves in a very funny way that she is sane and, at the same time, gets even with her children, played by Stan Kinderknecht, Kevin O'Rourke, and Velvet Deyoe.

Along the way, she becomes good friends with some of the other people in the institution, played by Matt Armbruster, Allison Clark, Lori Seibel, Lee Fisher, and Shannon Dinkel, all of whom were very funny. The staff at the institution was played by Tanya Stultz and Darrell Ptaschek.

Kathy Schramm, the director of the play, said, "As soon as the kids got serious about working on the play, everything went pretty well."

Freshmen: A New Beginning

Freshmen finish second in spirit competition

Spirit, enthusiasm, and competitiveness is a good way of describing the class of 87. As freshmen, this class was very competitive in all school activities. In the spirit competition during Homecoming, the freshmen finished second among the four classes competing. In the float competition, the freshmen finished third. Pat Geschwentner and Jim Pfeifer said, "The reason that our class is so competitive is because it is our first year and we wanted to show that we can compete with the older guys."

Kim Weisner added, "Our class works together well and everyone likes to have fun."

Desire to wrestle and . . .

Desire to be state material.

The 1983-84 wrestlers strove for goals and great accomplishments. Mark Flax was one who reached a goal that every wrestler strives for. The wrestlers each backed one another throughout the entire season. Coach Faulkendar said, "Overall these kids have something you don't coach." He added, "They have the desire to wrestle well and do not want to get pinned or defeated. Consequently, it's easy to coach kids like that."

"We have great determination and the desire to be state material," Randy Pfeifer said. "I also think we have the best coach around. He knows his stuff and he doesn't get mad when you lose, like most coaches. He has a way of making wrestling fun and that makes me respect him along with all of the other wrestlers. I think it is important to have respect in a coach and I feel that he is all around great."

SPORTS

Desire and hard work equal . . .

All the right moves!

The season went well for the junior varsity and freshman squad. Both almost came out with their goal of a winning season. They had very good attitudes and great team spirit. There will still be a lot of potential for next year.

BASKETBALL

The 1983-84 season was used to work on fundamentals and conditioning as well as basic offense and defensive formations. The team had six returning letter winners. Opening of the season was off to a fast start against Norton in what was expected to be a game between the most favored and least favored teams in the Mid-Continent League. It turned out to be very close. The girls fell short of a win to Norton, 39-34.

Defense was the key word for the girl's team this year. They double teamed the ball, causing more turnovers and then took off with a fast break. Overall, the girls played together as a team and fought to keep the team spirit alive.

"We're number 1" . . . "we can win" . . . are great slogans, but mean nothing unless you believe them when you take the court," said Bev Sipes.

Rebuilding for the future

Mathes uses the season to gain experience

1983-84 was a rebuilding year for the boys' basketball team. With no returning starters and no returning lettermen, experience was in great demand. After a slow start, several changes were made to guarantee an experienced team in the future. The starting line up was changed to include two sophomores and three juniors. The team seemed to progress and improve and optimism is the word for next year. The seniors Rex Befort, Ricky Aschenbrenner, Troy Schoenthaler and Greg Martin showed a lot of courage and made a great sacrifice for the future of EHS basketball.

Another successful year

Pep Club dance cancelled

Yelling, screaming and cheering poured from the bleachers, as the Pep club supported their team through their wins and losses. The 1983-84 year was a success with the help of the EHS pep club. One of the main events this year was the drawing of secret fans, which took place before each season. The halls of EHS began to brighten up, as the lockers of the athletes were decorated by their secret fans. Pep Club sponsored a skating party for all members. They also sponsored the annual swimming party on April 6 at Gross Memorial Coliseum in Hays. After swimming, everyone went to eat pizza. The Pep Club dance was cancelled because of the students' behavior at the Barnwarmer dance, among other things. Pep Club, with the help of the Booster Club, sponsored a 5th quarter for everyone who stayed after the games to enjoy refreshments and to comment on the game.

SCHOOL SONG

Although Hays has always favored
The crimson and the gold
And the gentle sons of Trego
To the purple true to hold.
We will win our sunflower splendor
No longer shall it lack,
As the high school stands defender
Of the Orange and the Black

Through the four long years of high school
Mid scenes we love so well
And the mystic charms of knowledge
We so vainly seek to spell
We will win athletic victory,
On football field, and track
As the high school stands defender of the Orange and the Black.
The Orange and Black.
The Orange and Black.
You take it away and bring it back
The Orange and Black
as I repeat,
ELLIS HIGH SCHOOL, IS HARD TO BEAT!!!

Cheerleaders Boost Spirit

Cheerleaders keep spirit through good and bad

Cheerleading began this summer in June when all fifteen cheerleaders attended NCA summer cheerleading camp. They won three superiors (the highest award) and one excellent. They also received a spirit stick two nights and were allowed to bring one home.

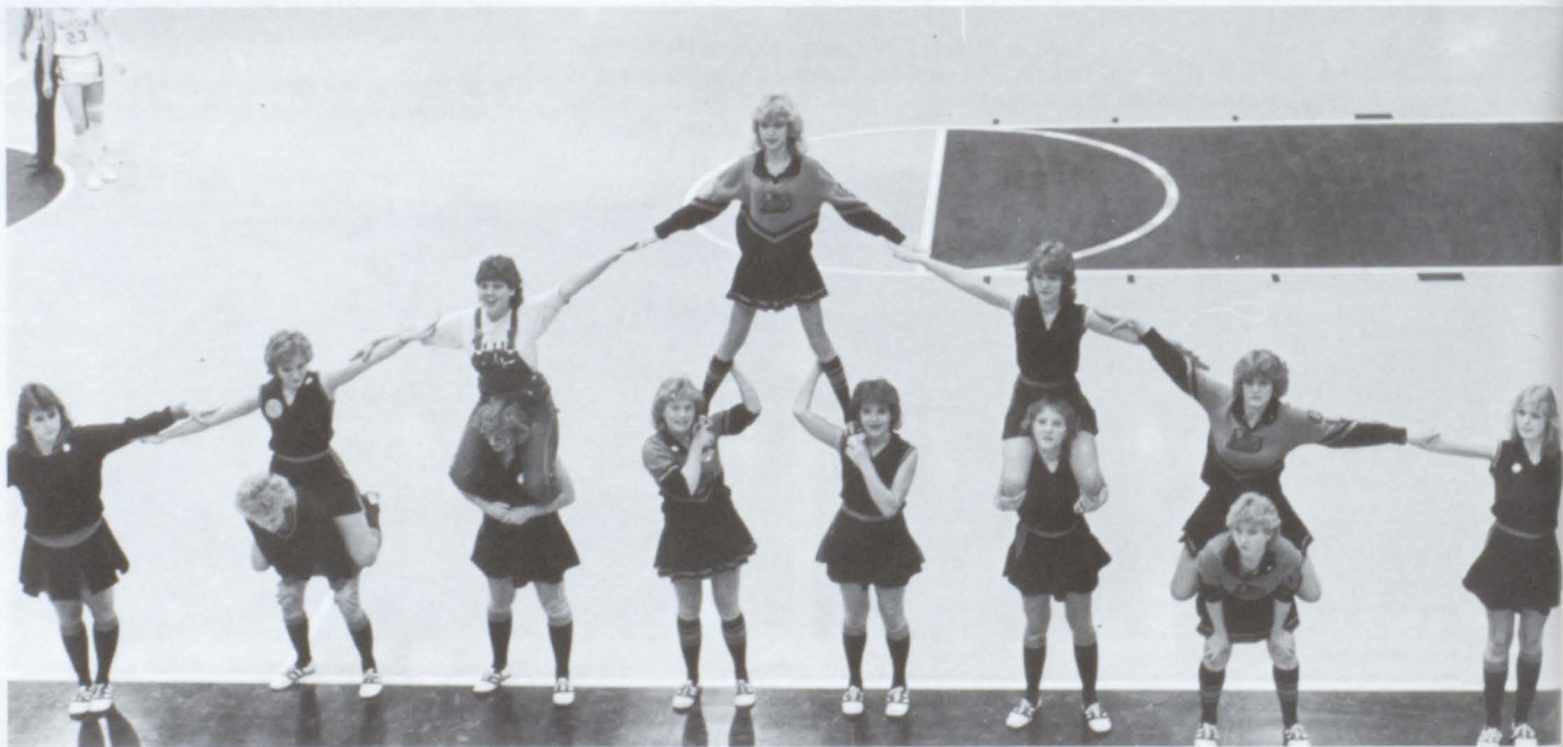

Kendra, Donna, Karen, and Sandy also attended DCA drill team camp. They won a first place trophy for Super Team Award. This is where all the squads vote for their favorite squad. They also won first place team for being the best squad at routines and evaluations.

The varsity cheerleading squad this year consisted of Chonda Engel, captain, Lesa Lang, co-captain, Tina Boutin, Debbie Waldschmidt, Kendra Mixer, Shannon Dinkel, and Dava Fischer, mascot.

The thing she would always remember about cheerleading this year said Debbie Waldschmidt, "When we were at Otis-Bison for a volleyball tournament, and thinking that the match was over, I ran out on the court to congratulate the players, and it was only the end of the second game!"

CHEERLEADERS

This year's Junior Varsity cheerleaders consisted of Donna Schoenthaler (captain), Tammy Herman, Tammy Rupp, and Heather Harwick. They kept busy all year cheering at all B-team and freshman events. They also supported the Varsity team and helped at pep assemblies and other cheerleading activities. Donna Schoenthaler commented, "We really worked hard but it was lots of fun, and we all became good friends. One thing I'll always remember is when on the bus to Hill City during the freshman tournament, the boys in the back of the bus wanted the heater turned off and Heather yelled to the bus driver, 'The guys are getting real hot back here!' "

This year's wrestling cheerleading squad consisted of Karen Fox (captain), Tina Armbruster, Amanda Groff, and Sandy Pfeifer. They cheered at all cross country meets and wrestling matches, as well as gave support at football and basketball games. Karen Fox said, "I was really pleased at the way more cheerleaders took an interest in wrestling this year. Donna Schoenthaler and Shannon Dinkel were especially great, showing up at every tournament. We all got along well and overall it was a great year."

When asked about what she would remember most, Tina Armbruster replied, "We were at sub-state and it was snowing so we needed a ride from our hotel to the match. We went to ask the Hill City wrestlers if they would give us one, but they weren't ready yet!"

Busy All Year Long

Kayettes sponsor many worthwhile activities

Kayette initiation was first on the agenda this year. The senior Kayettes each received a freshman girl that morning in homeroom to dress up as they wanted. The freshmen then had to stay dressed up until after the potluck picnic that night.

The Kayettes collected donations for cancer at the football games. They also collected for the March of Dimes. To get points for Snoball, they cleaned the football field after homecoming, had the annual clothing and toy drives, collected eyeglasses for the needy, sponsored dress-up day, and had the Miss Blabbermouth Contest. Stephanie Martin won Miss Blabbermouth, Earl Mayes won Mr. Irresistible, and Michelle Azar won Miss Bashful. On dress-up day, Coleen Fischer and Paul Patten each received a ten dollar gift certificate from the Brass Buckle for being the best dressed.

For their money-making project this year, Kayettes again sold cheese. Along with community services, Kayettes also sponsored many fun activities. This year, each Kayette had to have ten points to go to Snoball. A movie, "The House That Dripped Blood," was shown to the student body. A weiner roast and necking party were held April 17. Also, they had the annual Mother-Daughter Tea.

Magical Moments

Even Wintertime is funtime for Kayettes and their dates

Magical Moments was truly the theme of Snoball '83. The night of December 10th will be remembered for years to come by the Kayettes who attended Snoball. Everyone was dressed in her finest and the gym was beautifully decorated in purple, lavender, and white.

Patty Honas was crowned Snoball queen by Troy Schoenthaler. Their attendants were Lisa Bongartz, Coleen Fisher, Petri Syrenius, and Ricky Aschenbrenner. The prince and princess for the junior class were Angela Jayne and Randy Pfeifer. Tracey Stegman and Kevin Weber were chosen from the sophomore class, and the freshmen were Lynn Gottschalk and Joel Seibel.

After the crowning, entertainment was provided by the Snoball servers: Tammy Befort, Robyn Honas, Sharley McCoy, and Jamie Wolf, who did a routine to "Fascination."

The music was provided by Crossfire, who played mainly hard rock.

"Future Homemakers of America, New Beginnings Daring to Discover" was the theme for the 1983-84 year. FHA members kept busy this year with various activities. The main event was fall conference, which was held in Ellis. Everyone helped to make it a big success.

Other events included the freshman kidnap, the annual magazine sales to raise money for the year, and attending the state fair.

Powder Puff football was played once again. The cross country and football boys helped out by coaching and cheering the teams on. The money that was made went to the Ellis Library fund.

The Christmas party is always a favorite activity for the members. This year it included a potluck supper, a visit from Santa Claus, and a gift exchange, followed by Christmas caroling at the Good Samaritan Home.

FHA week was held during the week of Barnwarmer. During the week, secret sisters were drawn and a banana split party was held one morning. The Barnwarmer dance ended the week and Matt Armbruster was chosen as Mr. FHA.

State meeting was held in Salina, March 30. Mary Mateson and Kathy Homburg were installed as District officers.

Aerobics was held once again to promote physical fitness. It was a lot of fun and those who attended had a good time.

The parent Appreciation Banquet was held on April 24 to end the year, and the new officers were installed.

Skill and Determination Equal . .

Placing in various judging contests

The Ellis chapter of Future Farmers of America proved they had skill and determination by placing in various judging contests.

The annual fruit sale was held again and approximately $1500 profit was made. Lanny Ladish was the top seller.

The senior FFA members went to the Denver Stock Show for the first time.

The members participated in various contests and brought back many awards. They placed 3rd in the dairy contest, 3rd in the crops contest with Shannon Dinkel placing 3rd in individuals, 5th in the ag mechanics contest at Goodland, with Donnie Younger placing 3rd in individuals.

The Ellis chapter won the District VOAC award and received a superior chapter rating.

Three outstanding members won district proficiency awards. Daren Fisher won his award in placement in ag production, Delmar Wolf in sheep production and Donnie Younger in ag electrification.

Shannon Dinkel, Lora Seibel, DeeDee Armbrister, and Janelle McClelland were the FFA sweetheart candidates. DeeDee Armbrister was crowned sweetheart and participated in the regional FFA sweetheart contest on April 14. She represented the Ellis chapter very well.

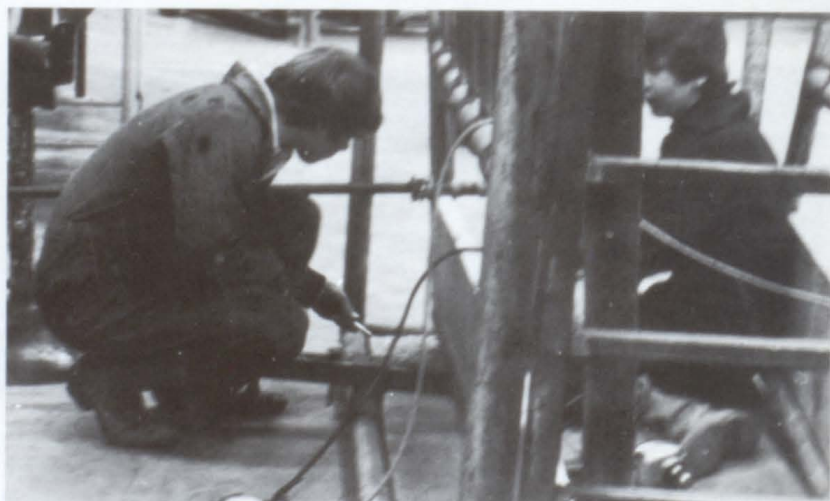

The Parent Appreciation Banquet was held on April 16 for all members and their parents.

Barnwarmer proves successful

FFA and FHA join together once again

On February 24, 1984, the annual FFA-FHA Barnwarmer exploded into action. On the morning of February 23, there was a lot of nervousness and excitement as the candidates had to perform their various chores.

The Mr. FHA candidates were Randy Pfeifer, Matt Armbruster, Keith Honas, and Kenny Sproul. They had to do such chores as frosting a cake, naming utensils, sorting clothes, and ironing a crease in a pair of jeans.

The FFA sweetheart candidates were Shannon Dinkel, Lora Seibel, DeeDee Armbrister, and Janelle McClelland. Their chores consisted of taking a ribbon off of a goat's tail while riding a stick horse, changing a tire, hauling manure, driving a nail in a board, a water bucket race, FFA information test and tool identifications test.

When the chores were completed, everyone gathered in the auditorium where the candidates delivered their speeches, expressing their feelings about the clubs which had chosen them as candidates.

The excitement continued through Saturday when the annual Barnwarmer dance was held in the old high school gym. The Flatland band provided the music, and finally the crowning took place. DeeDee Armbrister and Matt Armbruster were crowned FFA sweetheart and Mr. FHA by last year's royalty, Brenda Weber and Jerry Dick.

DeeDee competed in the Regional FFA sweetheart contest and represented the Ellis FFA chapter very well.

Sophomores: One Step Up

Sophomores take first in float

"The sophomore class worked really well together on the float. Everyone did their part," said Jeff Augustine, sophomore class president. "Their ideas were very original and they worked very well at putting it together," commented Norma Reichert, sophomore class sponsor. The sophomores took first in the float competition, a big event during spirit week. They must have put all their effort and spirit into their float though because, unfortunately, they took last on the overall competition of spirit week.

The sophomore class was in charge of the concession stand. Tracey Stegman said, "The concession stand went really well. It was a lot of fun when we had all of us in there working together, because we all got along so well."

Ellis Representative — Betty Waldschmidt
(726-4460)

Most of us spend fifty-eight minutes an hour living in the past with regrets for lost joys, or shame for things badly done (both utterly useless and weakening) or in the future which we either long for or dread. The only way to live is to accept each minute as an unrepeatable miracle, which is exactly what it is — a miracle and unrepeatable.

Golfers' season successful

Goal of state championship shattered at regionals

When golf season started, there was a common goal among the golfers. It was to recapture the state title for the 2nd year in a row. On May 8, the Regional Golf Tournament to determine who would go to state was held at the Ellis Golf Course. On this day, the golfers fell short of achieving their goal by placing 3rd.

Although the team did not make it to state, two of the Ellis golfers did. Greg Martin and Darrell Ptasehek represented Ellis at the 3A State Golf Tournament in Hesston. Greg tied for 2nd and in a play-off he captured 5th place in Individuals.

Even though the team did not reach their goal, their season was successful. Their record ended with 4 — 1sts, 2 — 2nds, and 1 — 3rd. When reviewing the outcome of the season, Coach Kolacny said, "Too bad we didn't get to go to state but we had a good season."

Experience gained

Boys' and girls' track young but promising

The 1983-84 track season was a year for gaining experience. Both teams were young but by the end of the year, they had much improved. Patty Honas was the only girl who qualified for state this year; she ran the 800 meter. The boys' team took four boys to state. Brett Fuller, Mike Weber, Wes King, and Paul Patten made up the 2 mile relay that went to state. Brett Fuller also competed in the 400 meter. The teams are looking forward to next year. There are many kids returning and the season looks promising.

Practice makes perfect

Railairres qualify for State contest

The Railairres consisted of 22 members this year. They were under the direction of Lou Ann Rowley. Dee Dee Armbrister was the pianist, Maryl Brack, the percussionist and Donna Schoenthaler accompanied on the guitar. Having to adapt to a new director and a new bunch of singers, the season got off to a very slow start. As the year progressed, the group finally got rolling. The Railairres performed at the Good Samaritan Center, Rotary, and the Coop supper. At Hays, they performed at the Mall, and on KAYS-TV. This year, for a change of pace, the group went on tour. They sang at the LaCrosse and Minneapolis high schools. The group received a I rating at regionals, enabling them to travel to Emporia for State Contest. The boys and girls ensemble did not fare quite as well with the boys receiving a II rating and the girls a III.

Forensic team improves

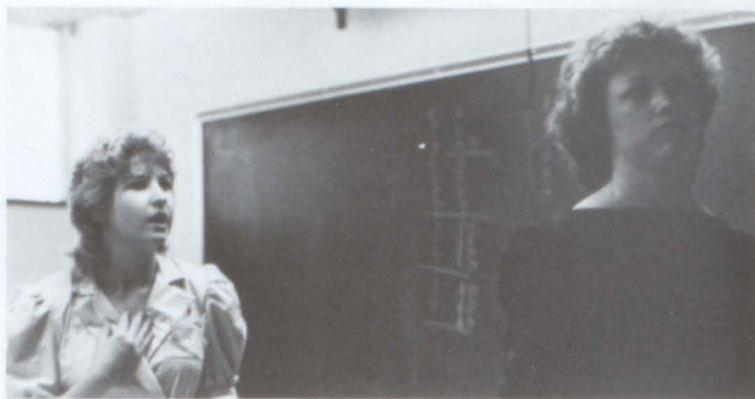

One Act plays do well

There was some "improvement from last year," was Ms. Schramm's comment concerning this year's Forensic team. The team "advanced well in State tournament action." Three sixth place medals were won at State. They were received by Donna Schoenthaler and Tracy Stegman, Duet Acting; Donna Schoenthaler, Oration; and Lisa Boos, Informative. Lesa Lang and Karen Fox made semi-finals but did not place. Lisa Metzler also competed.

Things went equally well at State festival with several people receiving a "I" rating. They were Amanda Groff and Mary Weber, Duet Acting; Christine Younger and Michele Augustine, Duet Acting; Rhonda Kuhn, Extemp; and Michelle Augustine, Christine Younger, Joel Rathbun, Sonya Armbrister, Laura Deitrich, Janice Honas, Amy Schoenberger, and Shana Miller, "Cagebirds," one act play. Receiving a "I" rating at State festival were Sue Ann Wolf, Poetry and Informative; and Myrna McClelland, Oration.

Both one act plays did well according to Schramm. "The Unknown Soldier" took first at Dighton, second at Ransom, and fourth at MCL in Norton. "Cagebirds" received a "I" rating at Regional and State Festival. For their acting in "The Unknown Soldier," Montgomery Groff and Lesa Lang were named Best Actor and Best Actress, respectively.

For the seventh year in a row, the Forensic team won first place at MCL tournament. "Overall," said Schramm, summing up the year, "I thought it was a good year."

SENIOR PLAY

"Soft Soap" produces laughs

Seniors' hard work pays off

Will Miss Misty be convicted of the murder of Mrs. Flood and go to the electric chair? Will Tempest Frost and Hale Storm get away with the murder of Mrs. Flood? Will Spring find her notebook?

Does this sound like a soap-opera to you? It should because the senior class presented "Soft Soap," the ultimate spoof in soap-operas.

The play centered around the student lounge at Mid-Western Tech University where the students gathered every day at 3:00 p.m. to watch the popular soap-opera "Yesterday's Tomorrow." The stage was divided into two parts; the left side represented the student lounge and the right side was where the soap-opera scenes took place.

The seniors rehearsed for three weeks, working in the early morning before school, after school, and evenings. The set crew (which included most of the seniors) had worked on the two Saturdays and the week before the play getting the stage ready. The play was given three times: March 8 — 1:30 and 7:30 p.m. and March 9 — 7:30 p.m. All their work paid off though, because the play made a profit of about $520.

Director Miss Julie Wright said, "When the Seniors gave their first performance for the high school kids, I knew it was going to go over well. I was really, really, really, really, excited because I thought the kids (seniors) put out their all."

Small but mighty

Photography staff kept busy throughout the year

The photography staff was quite small this year, consisting of only seven members. Under the direction of Miss Kathy Schramm, the staff soon learned to accept the responsibility and work load. The staff took pictures of every event that took place throughout the 1983-84 school year. They offered color packets consisting of two 5x7's and four wallets for Barnwarmer, Homecoming, Snoball, and Prom. The staff worked hard and put in many long hours trying to fulfill the demands of the journalism staff for year-book and newspaper photos. They also had individual class projects such as a slide show and photo essay.

Journalists find efforts rewarding

Novice journalists produce both newspaper and yearbook

A sigh of relief spread through the third hour class each time a newspaper was distributed or a yearbook deadline was met. Although small in size (especially the male population), the 1983-84 journalism staff, which consisted of 9 seniors and 2 juniors, had big ideas. These ideas were demonstrated in both this yearbook and the monthly newspaper issues of the Railer Express. The lack of experience was an obstacle quickly overcome by the whole staff and especially by two members, Chonda Engel and Annette Augustine. Both students had the chance to compete state-wide for journalism achievement.

The entire staff became like a family after many early morning and late evening sessions to complete the yearbook. Though they had a lot of fun, it was a lot of hard work shared by each staff member.

The unsung heroes

The backbone of EHS

When the trophies, medals, and recognition rolls in for every club and sport, there is one special group left out. The faculty and staff are the unsung heroes of Ellis High School. Each staff member gives hours of dedication and work to the students of EHS, yet receive no awards or recognition. To this group of special people, we give a big thanks.

Float takes backseat to Prom

Juniors' float saves money for Prom

This year the Junior class was planning ahead for Prom. During homecoming, the juniors took last place with their unusual entry in the float competition. They were not disappointed though because, they purposely did not spend any money on their float. They were saving it for the Jr.-Sr. Prom. Even though the float took last place, the Juniors had fun working on it. Vice-President Kendra Mixer said, "We worked well together as a class this year. We especially enjoyed working on the float. It was great!"

The Juniors also made a few changes in Prom. Since they were able to book Blubird as the band for the evening, expense cuts had to be made in other areas. To help keep the costs down, the banquet and dance were moved from the K of C Hall to the new and old high schools. Concerning the controversy over Prom, Class President Annette Augustine said, "I'm proud of how the class stuck up for their Prom changes."

Overall, the juniors felt they had had a good year. Class sponsor Miss Schramm said, "I felt the class had grown-up and matured during the year and handled their responsibilities well together as a class."

Shadows of the Night

Changes prove successful

The Junior-Senior Prom is always a special time of the year. It highlights the end of the year and remains in the minds of everyone.

Despite all the changes, prom was a great success. This year, the dinner was held at the new high school, and the dance at the old high school.

The juniors put in many long hours of hard work and made many decisions to prepare for this event. May 12th was the big day. Blue, black, and silver were chosen as the colors and "Shadows of the Night" was the theme. The decorations consisted of stars, crepe paper, candles, and moons. Wine glasses and booklets were the favors.

The prom servers, selected by the junior class, served the meal which consisted of turkey, mashed potatoes and gravy, corn, rolls, cake, salad, and ice tea. The sophomore servers were: Eddie Light, Jeff Augustine, Kevin Weber, Donnie Younger, Randy Honas, Loran Gottschalk, Sandy Pfeiffer, Tracy Stegman, Amanda Groff, Lisa Boos, Tammy Rupp, and Tammy Herman. They presented a routine to "Magic" by the Cars. Bluebird provided the music for the dance.

The 1983-84 prom is now a part of history, but those special moments and memories will remain in the minds of everyone forever.

CLASSES

Busy + Fun = Success

Seniors work hard together to accomplish goals

The senior class was led by: Brenda Weber — Secretary, Dianna Light — Treasurer, Karla Ray — V.-President, and Annette Erbert — President. Photo by Trent Halligan.

The seniors had a busy year. The year started off with Homecoming Spirit Week. The seniors took 2nd in the float competition, but they did prevail in the dress-up and noon games competitions, taking 1st in both.

In February, the seniors held a soup supper for the Ellis-Trego game. The supper brought in a profit of about $400.

The senior class also banded together to present "Soft Soap," a comedy with which they made $525 profit.

Throughout the course of the year, the seniors also got ready for graduation by getting senior pictures taken, ordering caps and gowns and invitations, and choosing a motto, flower and colors.

Senior class President Annette Erbert had this to say about the year. "All around, I feel this year has been a successful one. We made a success of our float, play, and soup supper. Even with a few shaky moments, we accomplished what we set out to do."

The seniors put a lot of hard work into preparing a float for the Homecoming Parade but came short of first, taking second proudly. Photo by Kathy Schramm.

1983-84 in Review

The top events of the year.

"Where's the beef?" was a catchy little line used by Wendy's that was known world-wide. Never before had a commercial hit it so big. They had "Where's the beef?" on caps, t-shirts and everything imaginable.

Flashdance clothes and cabbage patch dolls were very popular items. Cut sweatshirts, worn off one shoulder, could be seen everywhere. It wasn't at all unusual to pay from $125 to $1000 for the homely faced dolls. Wall Street estimated that they should earn Coleco $150 million by the end of 1984.

The year wasn't all roses and sunshine though. Winter struck us with the worst December in decades. In Montana, the temperature hit an unbelievable — 55°. On the other hand, it was very hot, as the pop-superstar Michael Jackson received second- and third-degree burns from fireworks while making the $1.5 million commercial for Pepsi-Cola.

Situations were also heating up abroad. Americans were bitter that U.S. soldiers were slain in Grenada and Lebanon, and furious when Russia shot down a South Korean 007. Eyes were opened to the effects of nuclear war when "The Day After" was aired on ABC.

There were many battles during the year, the big one being the race for the U.S. presidency between Ronald Reagan, Gary Hart, Walter Mondale, and Jessie Jackson. The Los Angeles Raiders and Washington Redskins dueled it out to the end, but the Raiders prevailed with a score of 38-9. The last battle took place in Sarajevo, where the American athletes held their own in the Olympics. Outstanding American athletes were Kitty and Peter Carruthers, Phil Mahre, Steve Mahre, Tamara McKinney, Scott Hamilton, Bill Johnson, Elaine Zayak, and Rosalynn Summers.

Sally Ride took a big step for women, when she became the first American woman in space. Joe Delaney, a 24 year old pro football running back, reassured us that there still is some good in people. Just before plunging to his death he said, "I can't swim good, but I've got to save those kids."

The year was an unforgettable one. It was filled with bloodshed and war, but also victories and a renewal of faith in the American people.

Seniors: The final step

To a new beginning

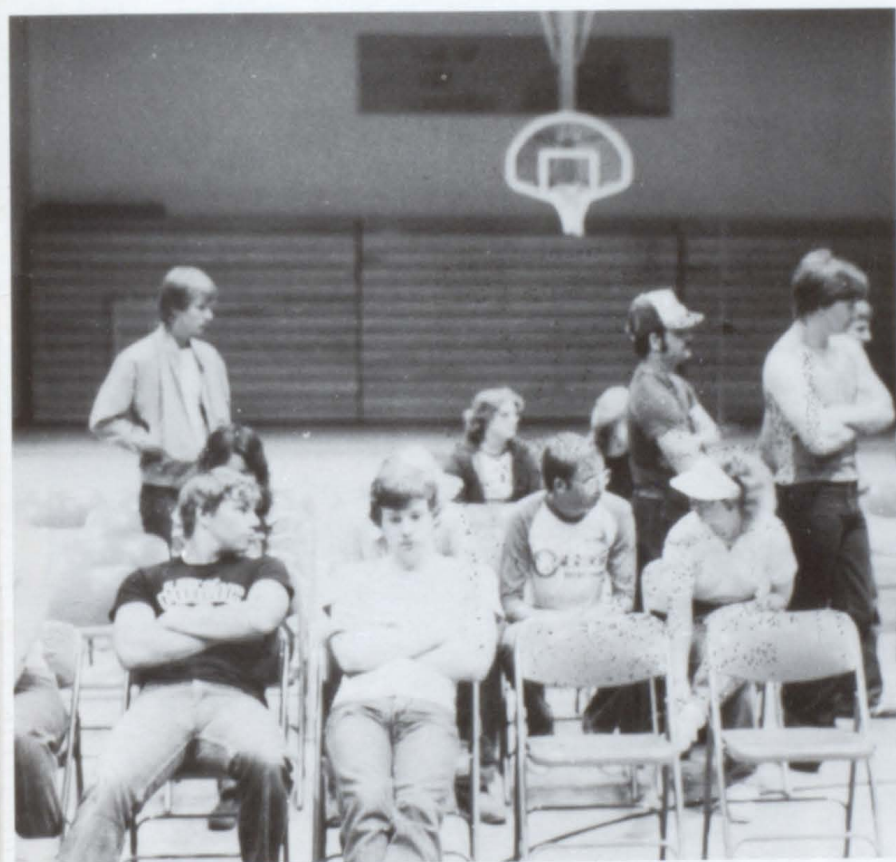

As the steps came to an end in high school, the seniors looked on to further goals and accomplishments. They will never forget when they were at the bottom and rising to the top.

The senior class had made a lot of accomplishments in the past years. One a lot of seniors will never forget was going in front of the school board to change the class ring tradition and succeeding.

The class decided on orange and black for their graduation colors. The carnation was the class flower. The class motto was:

Don't Walk In Front Of Me
I May Not Follow,
Don't Walk Behind Me
I May Not Lead,
Just Walk Beside Me
And Be My Friend.
