

Evaluating Progress - Language Arts

Language Arts teachers were asked to fill out a survey on student needs prior to the program.

Benchmark assessment given 3 times (December, March, and June).

Focus: Fluency, comprehension, writing, spelling, and phonics (if needed).

Record what each student does daily with anecdotal notes to see if materials are successful.

Differentiation toward specific needs

- Currently we are seeing writing as a huge area of need. Every teacher will do a minimum of 30 minutes of writing (Daily Edit, Summaries, Prompts, Mechanics/ grammar development, and Spelling)

Data - LA

December pre-assessment data

(passing grade based on 65%)

	6th grade	7th grade	8th grade
Writing	19% passed 81% failed	26.6% passed 73.4% failed	17 % passed 83% failed
Fluency (Based on grade level)	69% at or above 31% below	53% at or above 47% below	17% at or above 83% below
Comprehension	94% passed 6% failed	60% passed 40% failed	100% passed 0% failed
Spelling	56 % passed 44% failed	91% passed 9% failed	83% passed 17% failed

Green highlight= Areas of major weakness

 Next tests will be given March 14th and 15th

Yellow highlight= Could use improvement

What are we doing to help?

Writing (major area of weakness across all grades)

- Daily Edit Assignment (includes spelling, grammar, punctuation, mechanics)
- Writing Prompts - focusing on multi-paragraph structure and adding details
- Achieve 3000- Summary writing

Comprehension

- Skill Focus Packets: main idea, drawing conclusions, facts, and sequence
- Achieve 3000: various reading strategies

Fluency

- Reading aloud to teachers
- Phonics support for those who need it

Reward Incentives...

Raffles each day, all students, just for attending.

Snack card (can be redeemed in the cafe/lunch)

Pretzel card (dismissal on Tuesdays)

Incentives...continued

In order to support and maintain attendance, we're trying additional incentives:

- ★ Recognizing effort
- ★ Recognizing attendance

We're adding a bigger prize (aside from snack/pretzel cards) for the above bullets: Gift cards for Pat's Pizza, Wawa, Dunkin Donuts, Walmart, Rita's (when open!), etc. We'll do a drawing in late March and late May/end of program.

Attendance...

How many sessions as of 2/26?19 sessions

(25 more with a tentative end date of 5/24/2018)

Dec: 6, 7, 13, 14, 20 = 5

Jan: 3 (1/4 & 1/5 snow), 10, 11, 17, 18, 24, 25, 31 = 8

Feb: 1, 7, 8, 14, 21, 22 = 6

★ Attendance isn't mandatory
★ For some students, there is consistency-allows for more intensive instruction

★ Reward incentives to promote attendance and effort

★ Parent contact (Carels)

★ Parents can still sign students up!

★ Mrs. Hagerly and Mr. Reilley: have responded to parent emails with questions about what their children are learning...etc.; provided data, what the teachers are doing, etc.

1/31/2018 12	nwarrington	1/31/18	Nicole Warrington	Responding to Kids in Crisis	The workshop we attending covered legal aspects of responding to crisis situations including abuse, neglect, suicide threats, and criminal activity in schools. The workshop also covered the effects of trauma on students, and strategies to address and provide support for our students that are at highest risk.
2/1/2018 8:2	dbonowski@	01/25/2018, 01/26/2018	David Bonowski	TECHSPO	This conference had numerous seminars with various educational technology vendors. This year I focused on some of the various security initiatives with physical and cyber-security. I attended three seminars 1 using technology to improve school security procedures and 2 seminars pertaining to perimeter security (firewalls). The seminars and vendor relationships will help the District continue to improve the technology initiatives.
2/1/2018 10:	kbaker@pv-	1/25/18-1/26/18	Kyle Marie Baker-Plale	Techspo 2018	This is my second year in attendance at Techspo. It was and continues to be an incredible workshop where I was able to hear two great keynote speakers on technology and education/student engagement as well as the safety that goes along with technology in education. I was able to speak with a lot of vendors and hear five different presenters on materials I was able to bring back to the district and our staff. Thank you for this opportunity.
2/3/2018 15:	mbrodzik@	01/23/18-01/27/18	Michael Brodzik	FETC	FETC was a dynamic conference to attend! As one of the larger tech conferences in the country there were a wide range of workshops to attend and vendors to meet with. I spent the majority of my time attending events related to STEM and coding as I believe those topics will have the biggest impact on our district in the near future. I appreciate the BOE's support in my attendance!

2/14/2018 13:	jburnett@pv	02/12/18	Judith Burnett	Google tools to enhance student become language efficient.	The workshop was about how to use google to teach ESL students in the classroom. Features of google were demonstrated as well as ideas for how to use to help your ESL student become language efficient.
2/14/2018 17	mlongstreth	02/12/2018	Michael Longstreth	Making Best Use of G when we don't have all the answers.	The workshop focused on Google technology and cloud technology for ESL teachers in the classroom and helpful tools all teachers can use to support ELL students. "Pllicker" was one of the tools teachers can use to generate informal assessments using a phone and "Pllicker" diagrams. Another free tool that can be used to help ELL students with complex text is called "SMMRY" which summarizes readings that can be daunting for English Language Learners. Lots of the Apps and extensions are tools that come with the Google Suite and offer a variety of ways to engage students. The take away from the workshop I like say was the presenter's philosophy. Mainly, that we can borrow information and use the tools available

					This workshop was very informative and offered many ideas on how to design your classroom in such a way that learning math can be differentiated based on a student's level and needs. The instructor encouraged using small carefully planned centers, creating math journals for students to apply what they have learned and practice engaging in all the centers throughout the classroom. The presenter demonstrated how she sets up her own room and also shared many videos where the audience could see learners actively involved in what was being taught. Centers using technology were also encouraged as well as sharing many apps that provide reinforcement with math skills. It was stressed that activities should provide opportunities for exploration, practice of current skills and upcoming skills. A useful handout was also distributed to help with the implementation of some of the centers and the structure. The workshop's presenter was very knowledgeable and made the material interesting. I am looking forward to using many of the centers in my own room.
