Tony Smith, Ph.D., State Superintendent of Education

TABLE OF CONTENTS

INTRODUCTION..... 14

SECTION A. PERFORMANCE EVALUATIONS..... 16

IMPLEMENTATION TIMELINE..... 16

A-1. How will the State Superintendent determine the school districts with student performance ranking in the lowest 20 percent among all school districts such that those school districts will have a September 1, 2015, PERA Implementation Date for teacher evaluations instead of a September 1, 2016, PERA Implementation Date for teacher evaluations?

A-2. Can a school district accelerate its “PERA Implementation Date”?

A-3. Are special education cooperatives subject to PERA? If so, what is the “PERA Implementation Date” for special education cooperatives?

A-4. Are Regional Offices of Education subject to PERA with respect to the schools that they operate (e.g., Regional Safe Schools)?

RATING CATEGORIES..... 17

A-5. Before PERA, school districts were not required to use a specific rating system for non-tenured teachers. Has that changed?

A-6. Does the assignment of a rating to a non-tenured teacher in any way affect the school district’s authority to not renew a teacher’s contract at the end of any year during the teacher’s probationary period?

A-7. After September 1, 2012, are school districts still eligible to apply for waivers from the Illinois General Assembly of what will then be the four required rating categories?

PRINCIPAL/ASSISTANT PRINCIPAL EVALUATIONS 18

Who is Covered?

A-8. How is “assistant principal” defined?

A-9. Are administrators or supervisory staff other than principals and assistant principals (as defined in Part 50) required to be evaluated in accordance with PERA and Part 50?

A-10. How do the evaluation requirements for Chicago principals set forth in Section 34-8 of the School Code relate to the authority of Local School Councils to evaluate the performance of those principals? See Section 34-2.3 of the School Code.

Frequency

A-11. Can a school district evaluate principals and assistant principals more frequently than permitted by law?

Composition

A-12. What are the minimum components of the principal/assistant principal evaluation?

Professional Practice of Principals/Assistant Principals

A-13. Is a school district required to use a specific framework or rubric to evaluate the professional practice of its principals/assistant principals?

A-14. How often must a principal and assistant principal be observed?

A-15. Does the principal/assistant principal have any input into the evaluation of his or her professional practice?

Student Growth for Principals/Assistant Principals

A-16. Is there a deadline by which the data and indicators of student growth for principals/assistant principals must be established?

A-17. What types of assessments may be used to obtain the data and indicators of student growth for principals/assistant principals?

A-18. Are there any limitations as to the students whose results can be included in the measure of student growth for a principal/assistant principal?

A-19. Must the student growth component of a principal’s/assistant principal’s evaluation cover the student growth of all students at the school?

A-20. How can student growth be measured for a principal who is in his or her first year at a school?

Model Principal/Assistant Evaluation

A-21. What is the “model” principal/assistant principal evaluation, and what part(s), if any, of this evaluation must a school district use?

TEACHER EVALUATIONS AND THE PERA JOINT COMMITTEE..... 21

Who is Covered?

A-22. Are school support personnel included within PERA’s requirement that evaluations need to include student growth as a significant factor? If so, how will student growth be measured for such employees?

A-23. What other licensed positions are required to use student growth as part of a performance evaluation?

Frequency

- A-24. Can a school district evaluate teachers more frequently than permitted by law? If so, how do those more frequent evaluations relate to reductions in force, tenure acquisition and tenured teacher dismissals?
- A-25. Would an evaluation conducted under this provision of Section 24A-5 count as an evaluation for purposes of, for example, reductions in force and tenured teacher dismissal? Or is it purely informational?
- A-26. Can a new principal in a school choose to evaluate just one or a few teachers “off-cycle” or does the principal need to evaluate all or none?
- A-27. Where a principal is in the first year in his or her school, is it only he or she who can evaluate any teachers or can he or she delegate that evaluation authority to another qualified evaluator?
- A-28. Can a district average multiple evaluation ratings given within a school year to result in a final summative rating for that school year?
- A-29. As noted earlier, Section 24A-15 of the School Code requires that any evaluation plan for principals/assistant principals must ensure the evaluation takes place no later than March 1 (and by July 1 in Chicago). Is there a comparable deadline for the completion of teacher evaluations?

Composition

- A-30. What are the minimum components of a teacher evaluation once a school district is required to implement, or otherwise implements, PERA?
- A-31. Once a school district is required to or otherwise implements PERA, does that mean that the school district can no longer use “professional growth plans” for teacher evaluations (where the qualified evaluator and teacher set goals that are not based on students’ academic assessments)?

Professional Practice for Teacher Evaluations

- A-32. Is a school district required to use a specific framework or rubric (e.g., the Charlotte Danielson framework) to evaluate the professional practice of its teachers?
- A-33. How often must a teacher be observed?
- A-34. Are there any specific requirements for either formal or informal observations of teachers’ professional practice?

Student Growth for Teacher Evaluations

- A-35. What types of assessments may be used to obtain the data and indicators of student growth for teachers?
- A-36. Must the student growth component of a teacher’s evaluation cover all students that the teacher instructs during his or her evaluation cycle?

A-37. How will special student populations (e.g., students with IEPs, students receiving Title I services, English learners, etc.) be treated for purpose of determining student growth?

Model Teacher Evaluation Plan

A-38. What if the district's Joint Committee cannot reach agreement for any portion of the performance evaluation plan?

A-39. What if the district's Joint Committee cannot reach agreement on the percentage of student growth that will make up the performance evaluation rating?

A-40. What if the district's Joint Committee cannot agree upon one or both of the assessments required for a category of teacher?

A-41. What are Student Learning Objectives (SLOs) and how are they to be employed?

A-42. Should a district default to the state plan, who would write the SLOs that the qualified evaluator chooses?

A-43. What if the evaluator determines that one or more of the SLOs does not meet the requirements outlined in the Administrative code?

A-44. How are growth expectations determined?

A-45. Can modifications to the growth expectations be made?

A-46. What would the percentage of the student growth rating be for each assessment?

A-47. Do the teacher and evaluator need to agree in writing to the determinations?

A-48. What if the district's Joint Committee agrees on the assessments but cannot agree on the measurement model?

A-49. What if the district's Joint Committee cannot agree to a process to consider certain student characteristics?

A-50. What if the district's Joint Committee cannot agree to the rating scale to be used to determine the student growth rating?

A-51. What if the district's Joint Committee cannot agree to the way in which the professional practice rating and student growth rating will be used to determine the performance evaluation rating?

A-52. What if the district's Joint Committee has agreed that student growth will make up a portion of the performance evaluation rating other than 50 percent?

PERA Joint Committee

A-53. Are school districts and unions required to designate a PERA Joint Committee together and have that PERA Joint Committee meet by December 1, 2011?

- A-54. Can a school district establish a PERA Joint Committee and can that PERA Joint Committee informally meet to generally discuss performance evaluations and student growth without triggering the 180-day clock?
- A-55. How are the members of both sides of the PERA Joint Committee selected?
- A-56. Must the composition of, or decisions made by, the PERA Joint Committee be endorsed by formal action of the school district’s Board of Education?
- A-57. What is the responsibility of the PERA Joint Committee?
- A-58. Is the PERA Joint Committee responsible for any aspect of a school district’s principal/assistant principal evaluations?
- A-59. What happens if the PERA Joint Committee does not come to agreement on one or more aspects of incorporating data and indicators of student growth into the school district’s evaluation plan for teachers?
- A-60. How would a teacher evaluation plan adopted by a PERA Joint Committee be amended after it is implemented in order to improve the evaluation process or incorporate changes based on experience? Would it need to be presented to the PERA Joint Committee for action?

WHO CAN EVALUATE?..... 29

- A-61. Can a school district use peer evaluators for teacher evaluations?
- A-62. Who evaluates a person who serves as both the principal and superintendent?

PRE-QUALIFICATION AND RETRAINING OF EVALUATORS..... 30

- A-63. What modules of the Growth Through Learning pre-qualification training must an evaluator complete in order to evaluate teachers?
- A-64. What modules of the Growth Through Learning pre-qualification training must an evaluator complete in order to evaluate principals or assistant principals?
- A-65. Is an evaluator for purposes of pre-qualification and retraining only the individual who assigns the final evaluation rating or does it also apply to anyone who conducts all or part of an observation that contributes to the evaluation?
- A-66. Does the pre-qualification requirement apply to a principal who is in his or her first year in a school on or after September 1, 2012, and, on that basis, is evaluating tenured teachers “off-cycle”?
- A-67. Will the Illinois Administrator Academy that has been in place regarding evaluation (“IAA 1000: Introduction to the Evaluation of Certified Staff”) continue to be offered and can it be used as a substitute for the state-developed pre-qualification and/or retraining program?

PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT PLANS AND REMEDIATION PLANS..... 31

- A-68. What must a professional development plan contain?
- A-69. Is there any required duration for a professional development plan?
- A-70. Can a remediation plan or professional development plan cross school years?

REPORTING BY SCHOOL DISTRICTS OF EVALUATION RESULTS..... 32

- A-71. What information regarding performance evaluation results are school districts required to report to the Illinois State Board of Education (ISBE) and in what format?
- A-72. Will the state be reporting or otherwise publishing any of this performance evaluation data?

SECTION B. LICENSURE ACTION BY THE STATE..... 33

- B-1. What action may the State Superintendent of Education pursue against the license of an individual who exhibits “incompetency” by receiving two “Unsatisfactory” evaluations within a seven-year period?
- B-2. Can an “Unsatisfactory” evaluation given prior to the effective date of SB 7 (June 13, 2011) count toward the two “Unsatisfactory” evaluations that may trigger licensure action?
- B-3. What factors shall the State Superintendent of Education consider in determining appropriate licensure action for an individual who exhibits “incompetency” by receiving two “Unsatisfactory” evaluations within a seven-year period?

SECTION C. NEW AND VACANT POSITIONS..... 35

- C-1. When does Section 24-1.5 of the School Code take effect?
- C-2. Does Section 24-1.5 apply to all school districts in Illinois?
- C-3. Is a school district restricted to the factors specifically mentioned in Section 24-1.5 when filling a new or vacant position?
- C-4. Does Section 24-1.5 apply to teaching positions required to be filled by recall?
- C-5. Does Section 24-1.5 apply to academic summer school positions?
- C-6. Does Section 24-1.5 apply to extracurricular assignments?
- C-7. Does Section 24-1.5 apply when a school district is temporarily filling a position due to a teacher taking an approved leave of absence?
- C-8. Does Section 24-1.5 pertain to those who may be applying for a new or vacant position from outside the district? If so, how does the school district with the new or vacant position ensure accurate performance evaluation information?

- C-9. Can an employee or union grieve the school district’s decision to select a particular candidate to fill a new or vacant position?
- C-10. Does Section 24-1.5 create a statutory cause of action for a candidate or a candidate’s representative to challenge a school district’s selection decision based on the school district’s failure to adhere to the requirements of Section 24-1.5?

SECTION D. TENURE ACQUISITION..... 37

- D-1. What are the ways in which a teacher can acquire tenure in a school district after the PERA Implementation Date of that school district?
- D-2. Since Chicago is required to implement PERA in at least 300 of its schools in 2012-13 and in the rest of its schools in 2013-14, what is Chicago’s PERA Implementation Date for tenure acquisition purpose?
- D-3. What type of notice must a school district provide a teacher if it is not renewing the contract of that teacher?
- D-4. After a school district’s PERA Implementation Date, if a teacher is not eligible for tenure at the end of his or her four-year probationary period, can the school district still renew the teacher for a fifth or subsequent year?
- D-5. Since a school district is required to evaluate non-tenured teachers annually, what happens for tenure acquisition purposes if a school district, after its PERA Implementation Date, does not evaluate a non-tenured teacher?
- D-6. Since the new “tenure acquisition” provisions in Section 24-11 of the School Code take effect once a school district implements PERA, what is the implementation date for tenure acquisition purposes for school districts that have one or more schools with School Improvement Grants (SIG) and therefore had those schools implement PERA before the rest of the schools in the district?
- D-7. In trying to determine whether an individual is eligible for tenure portability, how does a school district ensure the validity of the performance evaluations from the prior district?
- D-8. Can a teacher who achieved tenure in a school district in a state other than Illinois, and is now leaving the school district in that state to obtain a teacher position in Illinois, be eligible for tenure portability in the Illinois district?
- D-9. If a teacher acquires tenure in a district that, due to a change in school district boundaries, is consolidated or otherwise becomes part of another school district, does that teacher maintain his/her tenure status in the newly consolidated district?
- D-10. For purposes of acquiring tenure, must the board of a newly consolidated school district take into account the previous evaluations of teachers who were employed in one or more of the districts that were subject to consolidation?
- D-11. Do days where one is on an approved Family and Medical Leave Act (FMLA) leave or military leave count toward the 120 days?

- D-12. If one is serving as a permanent substitute teacher for 120 days, does that year count as a year toward tenure?
- D-13. Do days working “part time” count towards the 120 days?
- D-14. If a school district, as permitted under FMLA regulations, requires a teacher to take days of leave at the end of a school term (i.e., semester), do those days count toward the 120 days?
- D-15. If a teacher does not meet the 120-day requirement for a school year, does that constitute a “break in service” such that the teacher must restart the entire probationary period?

SECTION E. REDUCTIONS IN FORCE AND RECALL..... 41

APPLICABILITY..... 41

- E-1. Are all school districts covered by these RIF provisions?

CREATION OF LISTS BY POSITION..... 41

- E-2. Is the school district responsible for categorizing the teachers by position(s)? Does the RIF Joint Committee (further discussed below) have any authority in this regard?
- E-3. Because each teacher “must be categorized into one or more positions for which the teacher is qualified to hold, based upon legal qualifications and any other qualifications established in a district or joint agreement job description,” are school districts now required to have job descriptions for all teachers?
- E-4. How does the May 10 date in Section 24-12 affect the inclusion or exclusion of a teacher from a position list?
- E-5. What is an example of “other qualifications” beyond legal qualifications?
- E-6. Can years of experience or years of relevant experience be used as a job qualification if included in a job description before May 10 of the year preceding the reduction in force?
- E-7. Is a teacher who is legally and otherwise qualified for a position to be included on a position list even if he or she did not teach in that position during the year in question?

“GROUPING” OF EMPLOYEES WITHIN POSITION LISTS..... 42

- E-8. How is the sequence of dismissal decided within each of the 4 Groups?
- E-9. So, how can a school district implement RIF provisions in 2011-12 if it still has a three- category rating system (“Excellent,” “Satisfactory,” “Unsatisfactory”) for teacher evaluations?
- E-10. What if there is a tie in seniority in Groups 3 and 4 (or if employees in Group 2 have the same average evaluation score and have the same seniority date)? For example, two or more employees had the same exact hire date.

- E-11. If a school district has had a waiver from the required performance evaluation rating categories for tenured teachers, how does that district address the RIF grouping process?
- E-12. Is the RIF Joint Committee also responsible for assigning a rating category to prior evaluations of non-tenured teachers if no summative ratings had been previously assigned to those teachers? Or, are those non-tenured teachers placed in Group 1 unless or until they receive an evaluation rating for the school year in which the RIF is occurring?
- E-13. What about teachers who just obtained tenure but, as a probationary teacher, he or she never received a performance evaluation rating?
- E-14. To how many evaluations must a RIF Joint Committee/school district retroactively assign ratings?
- E-15. If a school district conducts summative evaluations of its non-tenured teachers more than once during a school year, do all of these evaluations count when placing the teacher in a Group?
- E-16. If a school district permissibly conducts summative evaluations of its tenured teachers annually, do each of those annual summative evaluations count when placing the teacher in a Group?
- E-17. May a performance evaluation rating be used to place a teacher into a Group if the rating is the subject of a grievance resolution or arbitration procedure?
- E-18. What happens as it relates to placement of a teacher in a Group if a school district has not conducted a required performance evaluation by 75 days prior to the end of the school year?
- E-19. What happens as it relates to placement of a teacher in a Group if a school district has not conducted a required performance evaluation by the end of any given school year?
- E-20. What if a school district completes a summative evaluation of a teacher between 75 days and 45 days before the end of the school term? Can that affect the Group in which one is placed within a position list?
- E-21. In the scenario described in E-19 above, must the “at least one performance evaluation rating” necessary to result in the “Proficient” rating actually be used to determine the sequence of dismissal?
- E-22. Does the performance evaluation rating at the end of a remediation plan (for a teacher who had received an “Unsatisfactory” rating) count for purposes of placement of the teacher in a Group?
- E-23. How is performance calculated for an individual who was reassigned from an administrator position to a teaching position?
- E-24. For purposes of a RIF, must the board of a newly consolidated school district take into account the previous evaluations of teachers who were employed in one or more of the districts that were subject to consolidation?

SEQUENCE OF HONORABLE DISMISSAL LIST 46

- E-25. Once the new RIF provisions are triggered for a school district, does the school district still need to post a “seniority list”?

- E-26. To whom does the school district provide the Sequence of Honorable Dismissal List if the school district does not have a union?
- E-27. What can be done to prevent a district or a union from disseminating the Sequence of Honorable Dismissal List beyond those authorized under the law to receive it?

RIF JOINT COMMITTEE..... 47

- E-28. By when must the RIF Joint Committee meet?
- E-29. Can a district and its union (or teachers, if there is no union) agree to postpone the statutory deadline for the RIF Joint Committee first meeting?
- E-30. Who decides how many individuals will serve on the RIF Joint Committee?
- E-31. How are the members of both sides of the RIF Joint Committee selected?
- E-32. What matters must the RIF Joint Committee consider?
- E-33. Does the RIF Joint Committee have statutory authority to identify the position categories and/or to compile the Sequence of Honorable Dismissal List?
- E-34. Should the RIF Joint Committee focus on individual teachers when considering whether to move teachers from Group 2 to 3 or to move teachers into Group 4?
- E-35. By when does the RIF Joint Committee have to reach (or not reach) agreement on the issues within its authority?
- E-36. Can a RIF Joint Committee change its decision as to any of the issues on which it reached agreement for a subsequent school year?
- E-37. Does each member of the RIF Joint Committee have a “vote” or does each party vote as a block?
- E-38. Must the decisions made by the RIF Joint Committee be endorsed by formal action of the school district’s Board of Education?

NOTICE, REDUCTIONS AND BUMPING RIGHTS..... 49

- E-39. If a school district is reducing personnel in a particular position and there are more legally and otherwise qualified individuals on that position list than actually are teaching in that position, who gets reduced?
- E-40. So, who is subject to honorable dismissal in the following scenario? A high school district needs to reduce a position from its English Department. The English Department currently has 10 teachers and will be going to nine teachers. Jane has been a math teacher for the last five years but is licensed and qualified to be an English teacher (and is therefore on both the English and math position lists). Her last evaluation was a Needs Improvement and she finds herself in Group 2 (on both the English and math lists). There are 15 individuals on the English list, even though there are only 10 teachers teaching English (the others are teaching other subjects), and Jane is at the bottom of that English list.

Does Jane get reduced, or does the reduction come only from the 10 individuals currently teaching English?

E-41. Do bumping rights still exist under the new RIF provisions?

E-42. What can a union or teachers do if they suspect a school district is using the reduction in force provisions to target more senior, higher-paid teachers for reduction?

RECALL..... 50

E-43. What recall rights do teachers in Groups 3 or 4 have if more than 15 percent of teachers in a district were honorably dismissed?

E-44. Do teachers in Group 1 who were reduced have recall rights?

E-45. Do teachers in Group 2 who were reduced have recall rights?

E-46. Since teachers in Group 2 are afforded limited recall rights effective July 1, 2014 (see E-44 above), must a district tender positions to such teachers if they reduced in the 2013-14 school year?

E-47. Must a district tender positions to Group 2 teachers who have recall rights even if the positions become vacant between the end of the school term in which the teachers received their notices of reduction and the beginning of the following school term?

E-48. Given the fact that teachers in three of the four groups may be afforded certain recall rights, what is the order in which teachers shall be recalled?

SECTION F. TENURED TEACHER DISMISSAL SYSTEM..... 52

F-1. Section 24-12(d)(3) requires that, beginning September 1, 2012, any individual on the State Board’s master list of hearing officers must have participated in a training provided or approved by the State Board of Education. When will the training for hearing officers be developed?

F-2. Must a teacher be offered a remediation plan in every instance that he or she receives an “Unsatisfactory” rating?

F-3. What is the Optional Alternative Evaluation Dismissal (“OAED”) Process for PERA Evaluations?

SECTION G. SCHOOL BOARD MEMBER TRAINING..... 53

G-1. Must board members undergo this training more than once (e.g., if elected after being appointed, or if re-elected)?

G-2. Can a currently sitting district board member fully and finally satisfy the Section 10-16a requirement by completing an approved training prior to the next election?

G-3. What entities and/or individuals can administer the school board member training?

G-4. When will training for board members be available?

- G-5. How will entities other than the IASB be approved to offer board member training?
- G-6. Is the training required under Section 10-16a the same training that a school board member must complete in order to be authorized to vote in a teacher dismissal under the OAED process?

SECTION H. COLLECTIVE BARGAINING/STRIKE..... 54

- H-1. Can a school district put its most recent offer that it submitted as part of the public posting process on its own website?
- H-2. Must the public posting process be initiated and the most recent offers be disclosed in order for a union to strike?
- H-3. Is a union now required to have 75 percent of bargaining unit employees who are members voting in favor of a strike in order to be authorized to strike?

Introduction

The Performance Evaluation Reform Act (PERA) (Senate Bill 315; Public Act 96-0861) was passed by the Illinois General Assembly and signed by the Governor in January 2010. In summary, PERA requires, among other things, that:

- Upon the implementation date applicable to a school district or other covered entity, performance evaluations of the principals/assistant principals and teachers of that school district or other covered entity must include data and indicators of student growth as a “significant factor.” (Note: Assistant principals were included as a result of P.A. 97-217, effective July 28, 2011.)
- By September 1, 2012, principals, assistant principals, teachers in contractual continued service (i.e., tenured teachers) and probationary teachers (i.e., non-tenured teachers) be evaluated using a four-category rating system (“Excellent,” “Proficient,” “Needs Improvement” and “Unsatisfactory”).
- Anyone undertaking an evaluation after September 1, 2012, must first complete a pre-qualification program provided or approved by the Illinois State Board of Education (ISBE).

PERA established the Performance Evaluation Advisory Council (PEAC) made up of teachers, principals, superintendents and other interested stakeholders to advise ISBE on the development and implementation of improved performance evaluation systems and supports. The PEAC has been meeting monthly in Bloomington, Ill., since April 2010 and will continue to do so through 2017. The PEAC webpage, which includes a substantial amount of helpful information, can be found at <http://www.isbe.net/peac>. In consultation with the PEAC, ISBE promulgated administrative rules (23 Ill Adm. Code 50, “Part 50”) governing performance evaluation systems, which took effect on May 21, 2012.

Meanwhile, from late 2010 through April 2011, education stakeholders negotiated an education reform bill that stemmed in part from PERA. The bill was Senate Bill 7 and was signed into law as Public Act 97-8 by the Governor on June 13, 2011. Senate Bill 7 addresses, among other things:

A standard upon which the State Superintendent may initiate licensure action against an educator for incompetency;

- Requirements for the filling of new and vacant positions;
- Acquisition of tenure;
- Reductions in force/layoffs and recall rights;
- The system for the dismissal of tenured teachers [see also 23 Ill Admin. Code 51];
- Required school board member training [see also 23 Ill. Adm. 1.210]; and
- Processes related to collective bargaining and the right to strike.

This ISBE Non-Regulatory Guidance document addresses questions that ISBE has received regarding various provisions of PERA and P.A. 97-8. Trailer bills making limited changes to P.A. 97-8 also went into effect on June 13, 2011 [P.A. 97-7], January 2, 2014 [P.A. 98-513], and July 1, 2014 [P.A. 98-648]. Throughout this document, P.A. 97-8, P.A. 97-7, P.A. 98-513 and P.A. 98-648 will collectively be referred to as “SB 7.”

This document: (a) does not contain all of the information you will need to comply with these laws and any related administrative rules, but is intended to allay confusion and differing interpretations in the field; (b) provides ISBE’s interpretation of various statutory provisions and does not impose any requirements beyond those included in any applicable laws and regulations; and (c) does not create or confer any rights for or on any person.

For additional information about PERA, feel free to send an email to pera@isbe.net. Inquiries regarding SB 7 may be directed to Eric Grodsky, Deputy General Counsel, at egrodsky@isbe.net. ISBE will continue to review this document and may publish clarifications or modifications of specific sections when appropriate. This document and any updates will be made available on ISBE’s web site at <http://www.isbe.net/peac>.

This document supersedes previously issued guidance dated December 5, 2011, and January 17, 2012.

SECTION A. PERFORMANCE EVALUATIONS

IMPLEMENTATION TIMELINE

Section 24A-2.5 of the School Code sets forth the implementation timeline for principal/assistant principal and teacher evaluation plans that are required to incorporate data and indicators of student growth as a significant factor.

Principal/assistant principal evaluations must incorporate data and indicators of student growth as a significant factor in all school districts and for all schools beginning with the 2012-13 school year.

The implementation schedule for teacher evaluations that must incorporate data and indicators of student growth is more staggered:

- Beginning September 1, 2012, at least 300 schools among Chicago Public Schools (CPS) and in the remaining CPS schools by September 1, 2013.
- Those schools covered by funding under Section 1003(g) of Title I of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act (“SIG”) awarded to their respective school districts, by the implementation date specified in the grant agreement;
- Beginning September 1, 2015, those school districts whose student performance ranks in the lowest 20 percent among all school districts of their type (i.e., elementary, high school, unit); and
- Beginning September 1, 2016, the remaining school districts in the state.

The date by which a school district is required to incorporate data and indicators of student growth for teacher evaluations is known as the school district’s “PERA Implementation Date.”

A-1. How will the State Superintendent determine the school districts with student performance ranking in the lowest 20 percent among all school districts such that those school districts will have a September 1, 2015, PERA Implementation Date for teacher evaluations instead of a September 1, 2016, PERA Implementation Date for teacher evaluations?

Pursuant to 23 Ill Admin. Code 50.20 (e), composite results from the 2011, 2012 and 2013 administrations of the state assessments (i.e., Illinois Alternative Assessment (IAA), ISAT or PSAE) will be used. The composite ISAT scores for each of the three years have been recalibrated to reflect the new cut-scores that better align to the revised Illinois Learning Standards for English language arts and mathematics.

A-2. Can a school district accelerate its “PERA Implementation Date”?

Yes. SB 7 added a provision to Section 24A-2.5 of the School Code allowing school districts to implement performance evaluation systems for teachers that incorporate data and indicators of student growth before the deadline established in PERA, provided that a school district and its exclusive bargaining representative (or teachers, if there is no union) jointly agree in writing to an earlier implementation date. The earlier implementation date, which will become that school district’s “PERA Implementation Date,” cannot be before September 1, 2013.

A-3. Are special education cooperatives subject to PERA? If so, what is the “PERA Implementation Date” for special education cooperatives?

Special education cooperatives are subject to PERA and the “PERA Implementation Date” for special education cooperatives is September 1, 2016.

A-4. Are Regional Offices of Education subject to PERA with respect to the schools that they operate (e.g., Regional Safe Schools)?

No. However, unless precluded by a collective bargaining agreement, Regional Offices of Education have the latitude to incorporate data and indicators of student growth into the evaluation of teachers and administrators, as long as they comply with applicable requirements under the Illinois Educational Labor Relations Act (IELRA).

RATING CATEGORIES

PERA amended the School Code such that by September 1, 2012, school districts must use a four-category rating system for both principal/assistant principal and teacher evaluations (“Excellent,” “Proficient,” “Needs Improvement” and “Unsatisfactory”) instead of the three-category rating system that had been required (“Excellent,” “Satisfactory,” “Unsatisfactory”).

A-5. Before PERA, school districts were not required to use a specific rating system for non-tenured teachers. Has that changed?

Yes. Beginning September 1, 2012, school districts must use the four-category rating system for non-tenured teachers. See Section 24A-5 of the School Code. Moreover, in the 2011-12 school year, a school district that is subject to the new reductions in force requirements of Senate Bill 7 will need to ensure that summative evaluations of non-tenured teachers align with the three-category rating system that can be in effect until September 1, 2012, or the four-category rating system. See Section E (Reductions in Force and Recall) of this Non-Regulatory Guidance.

A-6. Does the assignment of a rating to a non-tenured teacher in any way affect the school district’s authority to not renew a teacher’s contract at the end of any year during the teacher’s probationary period?

No. While school districts will now be required to assign performance ratings to non-tenured teachers, school districts continue to have the discretion to not renew the contract of a probationary teacher at the end of any school year of the probationary teacher’s probationary period, provided the teacher is properly notified in accordance with applicable law.

A-7. After September 1, 2012, are school districts still eligible to apply for waivers from the Illinois General Assembly of what will then be the four required rating categories?

Effective January 1, 2014, school districts may not seek a waiver or seek a modification of a mandate regarding the requirements for (i) student performance data to be a significant factor in teacher or principal evaluations or (ii) for teachers and principals to be rated using the four categories of "Excellent," "Proficient," "Needs Improvement" or "Unsatisfactory." On September 1, 2014, any previously authorized waiver or modification from such requirements shall terminate. See 105 ILCS 5/3.25g.

PRINCIPAL/ASSISTANT PRINCIPAL EVALUATIONS

As noted above, by law, principal/assistant principal evaluations beginning with the 2012-13 school year must incorporate data and indicators of student growth as a “significant factor.” (Assistant principals were included as a result of P.A. 97-217, effective July 28, 2011.) Part 50, among other things: (a) defines “significant factor” at a minimum of 25 percent in 2012-13, 25 percent in 2013-14 and 30 percent in 2014-15 and beyond; (b) sets certain general types of assessments that can be used to measure student growth; and (c) requires evaluation of principal practice to constitute at least 50 percent of the overall evaluation.

WHO IS COVERED?

A-8. How is “assistant principal” defined?

23 Ill Admin. Code 50.30 defines “assistant principal” as “an administrative employee of the school district who is required to hold an administrative certificate [endorsement]¹ issued in accordance with Article 21 of the School Code or a professional educator’s license issued in accordance with Article 21B of the School Code endorsed for either general administration or principal, and who is assigned to assist the principal with his or her duties in the overall administration of the school.”

A-9. Are administrators or supervisory staff other than principals and assistant principals (as defined in Part 50) required to be evaluated in accordance with PERA and Part 50?

No. The evaluations of administrators or other supervisory staff other than principals and assistant principals are not required to use student growth as part of a performance evaluation unless duties also include responsibilities ordinarily under the purview of a principal or assistant principal. Administrative and supervisory positions for which student growth is not required to be part of a performance evaluation include, but are not limited to: superintendent, assistant superintendent, director, assistant director, coordinator, administrative assistant, general supervisor, department chairs and dean of students. See also A-26 below. See 23 Ill Admin. Code 1.705 for a listing of administrative positions and licensure/endorsement requirements applicable to each position.

A-10. How do the evaluation requirements for Chicago principals set forth in Section 34-8 of the School Code relate to the authority of Local School Councils to evaluate the performance of those principals? See Section 34-2.3 of the School Code.

The evaluation of a CPS principal by a Local School Council is not covered by PERA. The performance evaluation of the principal conducted by CPS’s Chief Executive Officer or his or her designee, though, must be conducted in accordance with Section 34-8 of the School Code and, beginning no later than September 1, 2012, must, among other things, use data and indicators on student growth as a significant factor in rating principal performance.

FREQUENCY

Section 24A-15 of the School Code requires that, as of September 1, 2012, all principals and assistant principals be evaluated at least once every school year, no later than March 1. Section 34-8 of the ¹ Since 23 Ill Admin. Code 50 has not yet been updated to reference aspects of “licensure” and still contains reference to “certification,” this document seeks to make that distinction by bracketing terms associated with licensure and endorsement found direct quotes.

School Code requires that, as of September 1, 2012, all principals in Chicago be evaluated every school year, no later than July 1.

A-11. Can a school district evaluate principals and assistant principals more frequently than permitted by law?

Yes, a school district may evaluate principals and assistant principals more frequently than the law requires — the law establishes the minimum number of evaluations a principal or assistant principal may receive.

COMPOSITION

A-12. What are the minimum components of the principal/assistant principal evaluation?

PERA and 23 Ill Admin. Code 50.300 (a) require that the plan consider: (a) the principal's/assistant principal's specific duties, responsibilities, management and competence; (b) the principal's/assistant principal's strengths and weaknesses with supporting reasons; and (c) the performance goals for any principal or assistant principal who has a performance-based contract.

Consideration of the professional practice of a principal/assistant principal shall make up a minimum of 50 percent of the performance evaluation rating, and consideration of data and indicators of student growth shall represent at least 25 percent of the performance evaluation rating in school year 2012-13, at least 25 percent of the performance evaluation rating in 2013-14, and at least 30 percent of the performance evaluation rating in 2014-15 and beyond. See 23 Ill Admin. Code 50.310 and 50.320.

PROFESSIONAL PRACTICE OF PRINCIPALS/ASSISTANT PRINCIPALS

A-13. Is a school district required to use a specific framework or rubric to evaluate the professional practice of its principals/assistant principals?

No. However the school district is required to use instruments and a rubric that align with the Standards for Principal Evaluation that are included at Appendix A of the Proposed PERA Administrative Rules, and the rubric must state the indicators for each standard and provide a clear description of at least four performance levels to be considered for each indicator. See 23 Ill Admin. Code 50.320 (a).

A-14. How often must a principal and assistant principal be observed?

Two formal (i.e., specific period of time that is scheduled) observations at the school in which the principal or assistant principal is employed are required. Feedback from the formal observations must be provided in writing (electronic or paper) to the principal or assistant principal no later than 10 principal work days after the day on which the observation occurred. See 23 Ill Admin. Code 50.320 (c).

A-15. Does the principal/assistant principal have any input into the evaluation of his or her professional practice?

Yes, per 23 Ill Admin. 50.320 (b), by no later than February 1 of each year, or June 1 of each year for schools located in CPS, each principal/assistant principal is required to complete a self-assessment that is aligned to the rubric to be used to evaluate his or her professional practice. The self-assessment must be used as one input in determining a principal's/assistant principal's professional practice rating. See 23 Ill Admin. Code 50.320 (b).

STUDENT GROWTH FOR PRINCIPALS/ASSISTANT PRINCIPALS

A-16. Is there a deadline by which the data and indicators of student growth for principals/assistant principals must be established?

Yes, per 23 Ill Admin. Code 50.310 (b), by no later than October 1 of each year, the qualified evaluator must inform the principal/assistant principal of the assessments and, for the assessments identified, the metrics and targets to be used. The qualified evaluator must also specify the weight of each assessment and target to be used.

A-17. What types of assessments may be used to obtain the data and indicators of student growth for principals/assistant principals?

Per 23 Ill Admin. Code 50.310 (b), a school district must identify at least two assessments either from Type I or Type II. For an explanation of the three types of assessments (Type I, Type II and Type III), go to the PEAC webpage at www.isbe.net/peac/, or review the definition of “Assessment” in 23 Ill Admin. Code 50.30.

The ISAT and the PSAE (and/or the ACT as part of the PSAE) may be one of assessments to be used (and shall be considered a Type I assessment). By statute, CPS may use the ISAT and the PSAE as its sole measure of student growth.

Type III assessments may be used for schools serving a majority of students who are not given a Type I or Type II assessment. In such situations, the qualified evaluator and principal may identify at least two Type III assessments to be used.

A-18. Are there any limitations as to the students whose results can be included in the measure of student growth for a principal/assistant principal?

Yes, per 23 Ill Admin. Code 50.310(b)(2), a student must be enrolled in the school for a period of time sufficient for him or her to have results from at least two points in time on a comparable assessment. For instance, if a qualified evaluator was using an assessment administered three times in one year, and a student was only enrolled in the school in time to take the third of the three administrations, the student’s results could not be used in measuring student growth for the principal/assistant principal.

A-19. Must the student growth component of a principal’s/assistant principal’s evaluation cover the student growth of all students at the school?

No. However, school districts should strive to incorporate as many grades/students within a school as possible when incorporating data and indicators of student growth into a principal’s or assistant principal’s evaluation. Because certain assessments are not administered in all grades, it is understood that there will be instances when certain grades or students will not be included in the consideration of student growth.

A-20. How can student growth be measured for a principal who is in his or her first year at a school?

Student growth for a principal in his or her first year at a school will need to be measured using assessments that have more than one data point within that school year.

MODEL PRINCIPAL/ASSISTANT PRINCIPAL EVALUATION

A-21. What is the “model” principal/assistant principal evaluation, and what part(s), if any, of this evaluation must a school district use?

PERA required that the PEAC recommend, and ISBE adopt, a “model” principal/assistant principal evaluation. The PEAC has made its recommendation and ISBE adopted this “model,” which was posted in February 2012. By law, the “model” has student growth making up 50 percent of the overall performance evaluation rating; 30 percent will be academic assessments; and 20 percent will be other objective measures of student growth such as graduation rate, attendance and dual-credit earning rates. This “model” evaluation, though, is only guidance and/or a resource for school districts; no school district is required to use any part of the “model” principal/assistant principal evaluation.

TEACHER EVALUATIONS AND THE PERA JOINT COMMITTEE

Again, the implementation schedule for teacher evaluations that are required to incorporate data and indicators of student growth as a significant factor is staggered. Part 50, among other things: (a) defines “significant factor” at a minimum of 25 percent for the first two years of implementation and a minimum of 30 percent thereafter; (b) sets certain general types of assessments that can be used to measure student growth; and (c) establishes minimum requirements for evaluation of teacher practice, including a minimum number of observations (that include pre-conferences and post-conferences). The requirements in Part 50 (23 Ill Admin. Code 50.120) pertaining to the evaluation of teacher practice take effect only at the point where a school district implements PERA.

WHO IS COVERED?

A-22. Are school support personnel included within PERA’s requirement that evaluations need to include student growth as a significant factor? If so, how will student growth be measured for such employees?

While Section 24-4(a) of the School Code defines teacher generally as “any and all school district employees regularly required to be certified [licensed] under the laws relating to the certification [licensure] of teachers,” Part 50 excludes school support personnel from the definition of “teacher” such that evaluations of school support personnel (including, without limitation, school counselor, school psychologist, nonteaching school speech and language pathologist, school nurse and school social worker) would not be required at any time to incorporate student growth as a significant factor. See 23 Ill Admin. Code 50.30.

A-23. What other licensed positions are required to use student growth as part of a performance evaluation?

The evaluation of individuals working in positions that require a professional educator’s license endorsed in a teaching field must include student growth as part of a performance evaluation. Positions qualifying as a teaching field are those that are found in 23 Ill Admin. Code 1.710 (elementary), 1.720 (middle school), 1.737 (high school), 1.745 (reading), 1.755 (library information specialists), 1.770 (special education), 1.780 (bilingual and ESL), 1.781 (bilingual) and 1.782 (ESL). Note that there are various scenarios found in the aforementioned rules that permit assignment without an endorsement and teachers in such assignments are also subject to student growth requirement. In cases where an individual holds a position that includes both teaching and non-teaching duties (e.g., some department chairs), student growth must be a part of the performance evaluation of the teaching duties.

FREQUENCY

Section 24A-5 of the School Code requires that (a) non-tenured teachers be evaluated at least once every school year; and (b) tenured teachers be evaluated at least once in the course of every two school years (except that a tenured teacher whose performance is rated as either “Needs Improvement” or “Unsatisfactory” must be evaluated once in the school year following the receipt of that rating). PERA further added to Section 24A-5 of the School Code the following statement: “Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Section or any other Section of the School Code, a principal shall not be prohibited from evaluating any teachers within a school during his or her first year as principal of such school.” Such a principal can use this authority to evaluate a tenured teacher even if that tenured teacher was evaluated the previous year (and is therefore “off-cycle”).

A-24. Can a school district evaluate teachers more frequently than permitted by law? If so, how do those more frequent evaluations relate to reductions in force, tenure acquisition and tenured teacher dismissals?

Yes, a school district may evaluate teachers more frequently than the law requires. The law establishes the minimum number of evaluations a teacher may receive; however, it is the last summative evaluation for a school year that shall serve as the evaluation that counts with respect to tenure acquisition. Further, per Public Act 98-648, “[n]o more than one evaluation rating each school term shall be one of the evaluation ratings used for the purpose of determining the sequence of dismissal. Except as otherwise provided in this subsection for any performance evaluations conducted during or at the end of a remediation period, if multiple performance evaluations are conducted in a school term, only the rating from the last evaluation conducted prior to establishing the sequence of honorable dismissal list in such school term shall be the one evaluation rating from that school term used for the purpose of determining the sequence of dismissal.” For more information on these issues, see Section D of this Non-Regulatory Guidance (Tenure Acquisition), Section E (Reductions in Force and Recall) and Section F (Tenured Teacher Dismissal).

A-25. Would an evaluation conducted under this provision of Section 24A-5 count as an evaluation for purposes of, for example, reductions in force and tenured teacher dismissal, or is it purely informational?

An evaluation conducted under this provision of Section 24A-5 can be more than just informational; a rating can be assigned and the evaluation can count for such purposes.

A-26. Can a new principal in a school choose to evaluate just one or a few teachers “off-cycle” or does the principal need to evaluate all or none?

Under this provision of Section 24-5, a new principal can just evaluate one or a few teachers, but the administration needs to be mindful and careful regarding exposure to a discrimination claim.

A-27. Where a principal is in the first year in his or her school, is it only he or she who can evaluate any teachers or can he or she delegate that evaluation authority to another qualified evaluator?

A principal new to his or her school may delegate the authority to evaluate any teacher to any qualified evaluator, unless an applicable collective bargaining agreement restricts the principal's authority to delegate such evaluation authority.

A-28. Can a district average multiple evaluation ratings given within a school year to result in a final summative rating for that school year?

Averaging ratings from multiple evaluations is not permitted unless otherwise agreed to in a collective bargaining agreement or contract between the board and a professional faculty members' organization.

A-29. As noted earlier, Section 24A-15 of the School Code requires that any evaluation plan for principals/assistant principals must ensure the evaluation takes place no later than March 1 (and by July 1 in Chicago). Is there a comparable deadline for the completion of teacher evaluations?

No, there is not. This is a process issue that is generally addressed in collective bargaining agreements and/or district evaluation plans/policies. However, for teacher evaluations for a school year to be considered for reductions in force in that year, the teacher evaluation generally must be completed no later than 75 days prior to the end of the school term, though a school district may, with notice to the union (or teachers, if there is no union) move teachers from Group 1 into another applicable Group based on an evaluation completed between 75 days and 45 days before the end of the school term. See Section E (Reduction in Force and Recall).

COMPOSITION

A-30. What are the minimum components of a teacher evaluation once a school district is required to implement, or otherwise implements, PERA?

PERA and Part 50 require that the plan consider the professional practice of the teachers as well as data and indicators of student growth. Per Part 50, the consideration of data and indicators of student growth shall represent at least 25 percent of the performance evaluation rating for the first two years of a district's implementation and a minimum 30 percent thereafter. See 23 Ill Admin. Code 50.110.

A-31. Once a school district is required to or otherwise implements PERA, does that mean that the school district can no longer use "professional growth plans" for teacher evaluations (where the qualified evaluator and teacher set goals that are not based on students' academic assessments)?

A school district can incorporate a "professional growth plan" into the evaluation plan of its teachers, either as part of the evaluation of teachers' professional practice or as a third component of the overall evaluation (i.e., in addition to the evaluation of professional practice and the consideration of data and indicators of student growth).

PROFESSIONAL PRACTICE FOR TEACHER EVALUATIONS

A-32. Is a school district required to use a specific framework or rubric (e.g., the Charlotte Danielson framework) to evaluate the professional practice of its teachers?

No. However, per Part 50, the school district is required to use an instructional framework that is based on research regarding effective instruction; that addresses at least planning, instructional delivery and classroom management; and that aligns to the Illinois Professional Teaching Standards. The framework shall align to the roles and responsibilities of each teacher who is being evaluated and contain a rubric that aligns to the instructional framework being used. See 23 Ill Admin. Code 50.120(a). The teacher evaluation plan must, by statute, consider the teacher's attendance and competency in the subject matter taught and specify the teacher's strengths and weaknesses and the reasons for identifying the areas as such.

A-33. How often must a teacher be observed?

23 Ill Admin. Code 50.120(c) requires that:

- (a) a tenured teacher who has received an "Excellent" or "Proficient" (or "Satisfactory" prior to switch to the four-category rating system) performance evaluation rating in his or her last performance evaluation be observed at least twice during the two-year evaluation cycle, with at least one observation being formal;
- (b) a tenured teacher who has received a "Needs Improvement" or "Unsatisfactory" performance evaluation rating in his or her last performance evaluation be observed at least three times during the school year following such evaluation rating, with at least two of the observations being formal; and
- (c) a non-tenured teacher be observed at least three times, with at least two of the observations being formal.

A-34. Are there any specific requirements for either formal or informal observations of teachers' professional practice?

Yes, based on Part 50, each formal observation must be preceded by a conference between the qualified evaluator and the teacher. In advance of the conference, the teacher must submit a written lesson plan and/or other evidence of planning, and the qualified evaluator and teacher must discuss the lesson plan or instructional planning and any areas on which the qualified evaluator should focus during the observation. Following either a formal or an informal observation, the qualified evaluator must discuss with the teacher the evidence collected regarding the teacher's professional practice. If the qualified evaluator determines that the data and evidence collected to date may result in the teacher receiving either a "Needs Improvement" or "Unsatisfactory" summative performance evaluation rating, the qualified evaluator shall notify the teacher of that determination. See 23 Ill Admin. Code 50.120(c).

STUDENT GROWTH FOR TEACHER EVALUATIONS

A-35. What types of assessments may be used to obtain the data and indicators of student growth for teachers?

Per 23 Ill Admin. Code 50.110), the performance evaluation plan must identify at least two assessments for evaluating each category of teacher. The identification of these assessments is the responsibility of the PERA Joint Committee. See more information on the PERA Joint Committee below.

The PERA Joint Committee is to identify at least one Type I or Type II assessment for each category of teacher with the understanding that the other assessment for the teacher will be by a Type III assessment determined between the teacher and his or her qualified evaluator. If the PERA Joint Committee determines that neither a Type I nor a Type II assessment can be identified for a category or categories of teachers, then the PERA Joint Committee can determine that at least two Type III assessments will be used for such teachers. Again, for an explanation of the three types of assessments (Type I, Type II and Type III), please visit the PEAC webpage at www.isbe.net/peac or review the definition of “Assessment” in 23 Ill Admin. Code 50.30.

A-36. Must the student growth component of a teacher’s evaluation cover all students that the teacher instructs during his or her evaluation cycle?

No. However, school districts should strive to incorporate as many students that the teacher instructs as possible when incorporating data and indicators of student growth into a teacher’s evaluation.

A-37. How will special student populations (e.g., students with IEPs, students receiving Title I services, English learners, etc.) be treated for purpose of determining student growth?

Part 50 does not direct the way in which certain student characteristics should be considered for purpose of using data and indicators of student growth for these populations of students, but requires that the PERA Joint Committee in each district consider such issues during its statutory period for meeting. PEAC has issued a series of guidance documents for teachers, administrators and joint committees that are available on www.isbe.net/PEAC. Such guidance provides practical recommendations as well as additional resources with respect to all issues faced in creating robust evaluation plans.

MODEL TEACHER EVALUATION PLAN

PERA requires that the PEAC recommend, and ISBE adopt, a “model” teacher evaluation for use by a school district when its PERA Joint Committee cannot agree on one or more data and indicators of student growth. (See 23 Ill Admin. Code 50.200 through 50.230.) By law, the “model” requires student growth make up 50percent of the overall performance evaluation rating. The components of the model can be found at 23 Ill Admin. Code 50.210. As noted below, the “model” teacher evaluation has more import than the “model” principal evaluation because, if the PERA Joint Committee does not reach agreement on any or all aspects of incorporating student growth into teacher evaluations, then the teacher evaluation plan defaults to the “model” for those student growth aspects on which the PERA Joint Committee was unable to agree.

A-38. What if the district’s Joint Committee cannot reach agreement for any portion of the performance evaluation plan?

If the district’s Joint Committee cannot reach agreement for any portion of the performance evaluation plan outlined Section 50.110, the district shall conform to the requirements outlined in Section 50.210.

A-39. What if the district’s Joint Committee cannot reach agreement on the percentage of student growth that will make up the performance evaluation rating?

The district shall adopt a performance evaluation plan in which student growth is 50 percent of the performance evaluation rating assigned.

A-40. What if the district’s Joint Committee cannot agree upon one or both of the assessments required for a category of teacher?

The district shall employ a Student Learning Objective (SLO) process to identify how student growth will be measured for the applicable category of teacher (e.g., career and technical education, grade 2) for which no agreement is reached. The SLO process shall include at least the information listed in Section 50.220. More information on the SLO process may be found on the ISBE Balanced Assessment webpage at <http://www.isbe.state.il.us/assessment/htmls/balanced-asmt.htm>.

A-41. What are Student Learning Objectives (SLOs) and how are they to be employed?

Pursuant to 23 Ill Admin. Code 50.10, SLOs consist of a learning goal, assessment and procedures to measure that goal, and growth expectation. Joint Committees that cannot agree upon one or both of the required assessments shall employ the SLO process to identify how student growth will be measured for the applicable category of teacher (e.g., career and technical education, grade 2) for which no agreement is reached. Joint Committees that cannot agree to a process to consider certain student characteristics (e.g., special education placement, English language learners, low-income populations) in each measurement model must also use the SLO process to make those determinations. The SLO process shall include at least the information listed in 23 Ill Admin. Code 50.220.

A-42. Should a district default to the state plan, who would write the SLOs that the qualified evaluator chooses?

The teachers who are being evaluated in a specific content area or grade level would write at least two but no more than four SLOs for each assessment on which the Joint Committee could not reach agreement, from which the qualified evaluator would choose to be used in each teacher's performance evaluation. In the case where there is a large number of groups of teachers in that content area or grade level, those teachers could choose their teacher representatives from among themselves to write the at least two but no more than four SLOs.

A-43. What if the evaluator determines that one or more of the SLOs does not meet the requirements outlined in the Administrative Code?

In the event that the qualified evaluator determines that one or more of the SLOs do not meet the requirements of the Administrative Code, the qualified evaluator shall request that the teacher or teacher representatives propose an alternative to each SLO that the qualified evaluator finds inadequate. The qualified evaluator shall choose the SLO to be used in the performance evaluation either from among the alternative SLOs proposed or from the original SLOs.

A-44. How are growth expectations determined?

The growth expectations for the applicable learning goal shall be aligned to the needs of the teacher's classroom and students.

A-45. Can modifications to the growth expectations be made?

Yes, growth expectations also shall be reviewed at the midpoint of the interval of instruction and modified as may be necessary, provided that the teacher and the qualified evaluator mutually agree to any modifications to be made.

A-46. What would the percentage of the student growth rating be for each assessment?

Results from each assessment shall constitute 50 percent of the final student growth rating to be assigned.

A-47. Do the teacher and evaluator need to agree in writing to the determinations?

Yes.

A-48. What if the district’s Joint Committee agrees on the assessments but cannot agree on the measurement model?

Any Joint Committee that agrees to the assessment to be used but cannot agree to the measurement model shall employ an adaptive conditional measurement model to determine student growth specific to the student growth expectations. More information on the adaptive conditional measurement model may be found on the ISBE Balanced Assessment webpage at <http://www.isbe.state.il.us/assessment/htmls/balanced-asmt.htm>

A-49. What if the district’s Joint Committee cannot agree to a process to consider certain student characteristics?

Any Joint Committee that cannot agree to a process to consider certain student characteristics (e.g., special education placement, English language learners, low-income populations) in each measurement model shall employ an SLO process to make that determination.

A-50. What if the district’s Joint Committee cannot agree to the rating scale to be used to determine the student growth rating?

Any Joint Committee that cannot agree to the rating scale to be used to determine the student growth rating shall utilize the rating scale outlined in Section 50.210(e).

A-51. What if the district’s Joint Committee cannot agree to the way in which the professional practice rating and student growth rating will be used to determine the performance evaluation rating?

Any Joint Committee that cannot agree to the way in which the professional practice rating and student growth rating will be used to determine the performance evaluation rating shall meet the requirements outlined in Section 50.230.

A-52. What if the district’s Joint Committee has agreed that student growth will make up a portion of the performance evaluation rating other than 50 percent?

Any Joint Committee that has agreed that student growth will make up a portion of the performance evaluation rating other than 50 percent shall calculate the performance evaluation rating using the information outlined in Section 50.230(b).

PERA JOINT COMMITTEE

For teacher evaluations, Section 24A-4(b) of the School Code requires that at a point prior to a school district’s implementation of PERA, the district must use a Joint Committee “composed of equal representation selected by the district and its teachers, or where applicable, the exclusive bargaining representative of its teachers.” If, “within 180 calendar days of the [Joint Committee’s] first meeting, the Joint Committee does not reach agreement on the [evaluation plan], then the district shall implement the model evaluation plan established [by the State Board of Education] with respect to the use of data and indicators on student growth as a significant factor in rating teacher performance.”

A-53. Are school districts and unions required to designate a PERA Joint Committee together and have that PERA Joint Committee meet by December 1, 2011?

No. The PERA Joint Committee is often confused with the Joint Committee that is required to be established under Senate Bill 7 for the purpose of reductions in force (the “RIF Joint Committee”). See Section E of this Non-Regulatory Guidance (Reductions in Force and Recall). The RIF Joint Committee is required to meet by December 1, 2011, and on or before December 1 annually thereafter. Per Part 50, though, the PERA Joint Committee need only meet by November 1 of the school year prior to the district’s PERA Implementation Date.

A-54. Can a school district establish a PERA Joint Committee and can that PERA Joint Committee informally meet to generally discuss performance evaluations and student growth without triggering the 180-day clock?

Yes. Each school district and its teachers or the exclusive bargaining representatives of its teachers, if applicable, is encouraged to establish a PERA Joint Committee and have that PERA Joint Committee informally meet even if the school district will not be implementing PERA for a few more years. ISBE will assume that any PERA Joint Committee meetings in a school district before November 1 of the school year prior to a school district’s required PERA Implementation Date are informal, unless the PERA Joint Committee members have all agreed in writing to an earlier first meeting date.

A-55. How are the members of both sides of the PERA Joint Committee selected?

The law does not prescribe how a school district, its teachers or its teachers’ exclusive bargaining representative select their representatives to the PERA Joint Committee. However, it is the intent of PERA that those individuals closer to the evaluation process (i.e., local administrators and teachers) should be the members of the Joint Committee.

A-56. Must the composition of, or decisions made by, the PERA Joint Committee be endorsed by formal action of the school district’s Board of Education?

No. Section 24A-4(b) of the School Code does not require the composition of, or decision(s) made by, the PERA Joint Committee to be approved by the school district’s Board of Education. Decisions made by the Joint Committee must be implemented. However, a school district certainly can have its Board of Education ratify the composition of the PERA Joint Committee and/or adopt the final evaluation plan. The expectation is that a school district administration will be keeping the school district’s Board of Education appropriately apprised of relevant developments.

A-57. What is the responsibility of the PERA Joint Committee?

The PERA Joint Committee is responsible for developing the structure of a school district’s teacher evaluation plan — including without limitation the components of the evaluation plan related to teacher practice as well as the data and indicators of student growth.

A-58. Is the PERA Joint Committee responsible for any aspect of a school district’s principal/assistant principal evaluations?

No. The PERA Joint Committee is solely responsible for the development and updating of the school district’s teacher evaluation plan.

A-59. What happens if the PERA Joint Committee does not come to agreement on one or more aspects of incorporating data and indicators of student growth into the school district's evaluation plan for teachers?

If the PERA Joint Committee does not, within 180 calendar days of its first official meeting, come to an agreement on one or more aspects of incorporating data and indicators of student growth into the teacher evaluation plan, then the teacher evaluation plan defaults to the "model" teacher evaluation plan for just those aspects of student growth about which there was no agreement. For example, if the PERA Joint Committee could not agree on the percentage that student growth would make up of the overall teacher evaluation plan, then the teacher evaluation plan would default to the percentage in the "model" (which, by statute, is set at 50 percent). Joint Committees that cannot agree to a process to consider certain student characteristics (e.g., special education placement, English language learners, low-income populations) in each measurement model must also use the SLO process to make those determinations. The SLO process shall include at least the information listed in 23 Ill Admin. Code 50.220.

See also 23 Ill Admin. Code 50.210 and above for components and requirements of the default model.

A-60. How would a teacher evaluation plan adopted by a PERA Joint Committee be amended after it is implemented in order to improve the evaluation process or incorporate changes based on experience? Would it need to be presented to the PERA Joint Committee for action?

Article 24A of the School Code does not address subsequent changes to the evaluation plan resulting from the meetings of the PERA Joint Committee. It is assumed that a PERA Joint Committee would include as part of the evaluation plan a process for the school district and teachers, or exclusive bargaining representative of teachers, as applicable, to amend the evaluation plan.

WHO CAN EVALUATE?

Section 24A-2.5 of the School Code defines an "evaluator" as (a) an administrator who has fulfilled all applicable pre-qualification and retraining requirements, or (b) other individuals who have fulfilled all applicable pre-qualification and retraining requirements, provided however that if those other individuals are in the bargaining unit of a district's teachers (i.e., "peer evaluators"), the district and the union must agree to those individuals evaluating union members.

A-61. Can a school district use peer evaluators for teacher evaluations?

Yes, provided that if the peer evaluators are represented by a union, the district and union have agreed to those peer evaluators evaluating other bargaining unit members. In CPS, department chairs may evaluate teachers in their departments without union agreement, provided that CPS bargains with the union over the impact and effects of department chairs evaluating their department teachers. Note that peer evaluators, like any other evaluators, must be pre-qualified pursuant to Section 24A-3 of the School Code prior to conducting any evaluations in the 2012-13 school year or beyond.

A-62. Who evaluates a person who serves as both the principal and superintendent?

There are a substantial number of school districts in Illinois where an individual serves as both the district superintendent as well as the principal at a school within the school district. Section 24A-15 of the School Code provides that, in such instances, the local Board of Education appoint an individual to evaluate the individual as a principal (with, for school year 2012-13 and beyond, data and indicators of student growth being a significant factor in that evaluation). The law requires that any person so appointed must hold a registered Type 75 administrative certificate [licensure with an administrative endorsement], and it is assumed that a person holding an endorsement for superintendent would be the most appropriate individual to evaluate a superintendent/principal. Moreover, beginning September 1, 2012, whoever evaluates a person serving as both the principal and superintendent must be appropriately pre-qualified.

PRE-QUALIFICATION AND RETRAINING OF EVALUATORS

Section 24A-3 of the School Code requires that “[a]ny evaluator undertaking an evaluation after September 1, 2012, must first successfully complete a pre-qualification program provided or approved by the State Board of Education. The program must involve rigorous training and an independent observer’s determination that the evaluator’s ratings properly align to the requirements established by the State Board pursuant to this Article.” The program approved for pre-qualification is Growth Through Learning. See www.isbe.net/peac. Furthermore, Section 24A-3 states that, once pre-qualified, evaluators must also participate in an in-service training (“retraining”) provided or approved by the State Board of Education at least once during each licensure cycle.

A-63. What modules of the Growth Through Learning pre-qualification training must an evaluator complete in order to evaluate teachers?

In order to engage in the following activities, an evaluator of teachers must:

- (a) Complete modules one, two and three prior to doing an observation;
- (b) Complete modules one, two, three and four prior to completing an evaluation that does not include student growth.
- (c) Complete modules one, two, three, four and five prior completing an evaluation that includes student growth.

A-64. What modules of the Growth Through Learning pre-qualification training must an evaluator complete in order to evaluate principals or assistant principals?

In order to evaluate a principal or assistant principal, the evaluator must complete modules one, two, three, four and five.

A-65. Is an evaluator for purposes of pre-qualification and retraining only the individual who assigns the final evaluation rating or does it also apply to anyone who conducts all or part of an observation that contributes to the evaluation?

Any individual who participates in an observation of a teacher’s, principal’s or assistant principal’s practice must be pre-qualified and trained in accordance with the pre-qualification and retraining provisions of PERA and Part 50.

A-66. Does the pre-qualification requirement apply to a principal who is in his or her first year in a school on or after September 1, 2012, and, on that basis, is evaluating tenured teachers “off-cycle”?

Yes, the pre-qualification requirement would apply to the principal with respect to any evaluations he or she conducts. Section 24A-5 of the School Code states that “[n]otwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Section or any other Section of the School Code, a principal shall not be prohibited from evaluating any teachers within a school during his or her first year as principal of such school.” The “notwithstanding anything to the contrary” clause was not intended to, and does not, exempt such a principal from the pre-qualification and re-training requirements of Section 24A-3.

A-67. Will the Illinois Administrator Academy that has been in place regarding evaluation (“IAA 1000: Introduction to the Evaluation of Certified Staff”) continue to be offered and can it be used as a substitute for the state-developed pre-qualification and/or retraining program?

No. IAA 1000 will not be offered after June 30, 2012, and even if taken before that time cannot be used as a substitute for state-developed pre-qualification and retraining programs.

PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT PLANS AND REMEDIATION PLANS

Section 24A-5(h) of the School Code states that, within 30 school days after assigning a tenured teacher a “Needs Improvement” rating, a school district, in consultation with the teacher and taking into account the teacher’s ongoing professional responsibilities (including his or her regular teacher assignments), must develop for that teacher a “professional development plan” directed to the areas that need improvement and that includes any supports the district will provide to address the areas that need improvement.

Section 24A-5(i) of the School Code states that, within 30 school days after assigning a tenured teacher an “Unsatisfactory” rating, a school district is required to develop and commence a 90 school day remediation plan (unless a shorter remediation period is provided for in a collective bargaining agreement) designed to correct cited deficiencies.

A-68. What must a professional development plan contain?

The law requires that the plan for a tenured teacher who receives a “Needs Improvement” rating be developed in consultation with the teacher and be targeted to the areas that have been identified as needing improvement. Furthermore, it must take into account the teacher’s ongoing professional responsibilities, including his/her regular teacher assignments, and set forth any support that the district will provide to address the areas identified as needing improvement.

A-69. Is there any required duration for a professional development plan?

No.

A-70. Can a remediation plan or professional development plan cross school years?

Yes. With respect to the Section 24A-5(i) remediation plan, there is a statutory 90 school day duration (unless a shorter duration is provided for in a collective bargaining agreement) but the remediation plan can span two school years. Thus, there is not an implicit deadline within the school year for completion of a teacher remediation plan. As for the Section 24A-5(h) professional development plan, there is no 90-day timeline and that plan too can cross school years.

REPORTING BY SCHOOL DISTRICTS OF EVALUATION RESULTS

Section 24A-20(c) of the School Code requires that “districts . . . submit data and information to the State Board on teacher and principal performance evaluations and evaluation plans in accordance with procedures and requirements for submissions established by the State Board. Such data shall include, without limitation, (i) data on the performance rating given to all teachers in contractual continued service, (ii) data on district recommendations to renew or not renew teachers not in contractual continued service, and (iii) data on the performance rating given to all principals.

A-71. What information regarding performance evaluation results are school districts required to report to ISBE and in what format?

The data reporting language from PERA is set forth above. Since SB 7 required all teachers, including non-tenured teachers, to be rated in accordance with the four rating categories, ISBE will collect data on performance rating for all teachers. In the state's application for State Fiscal Stabilization Funds (as part of the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act), the state had to commit to collecting data on the performance component, the student growth component, and the final summative performance evaluation rating.

It is nevertheless important to note that, pursuant to Section 24A-20(a)(1) of the School Code, the data collected may only be publicly reported in a manner whereby no teacher or administrator can be personally identified.

A-72. Will the state be reporting or otherwise publishing any of this performance evaluation data?

Yes. Section 10-17A of the School Code [105 ILCS 5/10-17A] requires ISBE to annually publish a report card. As part of that report card, ISBE is to publish the combined percentage of teachers rated as proficient or excellent in their most recent evaluation. State law prohibits the personal identification of any individual teacher.

SECTION B. LICENSURE ACTION BY THE STATE

The School Code has long authorized the State Superintendent of Education to initiate action against the license of an educator for a number of bases identified in statute (such as “immorality,” “unprofessional conduct” or “incompetency”). Unless the educator is convicted of a type of crime enumerated in statute, in which case revocation of the license(s) is automatic, the educator has a right to a due process hearing before the State Educator Preparation and Licensure Board. Until Senate Bill 7, “incompetency” had never been defined. Now, “incompetency” is defined as two “Unsatisfactory” evaluations within a seven-year period.

B-1. What action may the State Superintendent of Education pursue against the license of an individual who exhibits “incompetency” by receiving two “Unsatisfactory” evaluations within a seven-year period?

The licensure sanctions available are the imposition of additional professional development, suspension of license for up to five years, or revocation of license. See B-3 below for criteria to be considered by the State Superintendent of Education in determining appropriate licensure actions.

B-2. Can an “Unsatisfactory” evaluation given prior to the effective date of SB 7 (June 13, 2011) count toward the two “Unsatisfactory” evaluations that may trigger licensure action?

Yes, though whether one or more of the “Unsatisfactory” evaluation ratings that trigger licensure action occurred prior to the effective date of SB 7 is one of the points that the State Superintendent must consider when deciding whether to pursue licensure action. See B-3 below.

B-3. What factors shall the State Superintendent of Education consider in determining appropriate licensure action for an individual who exhibits “incompetency” by receiving two “Unsatisfactory” evaluations within a seven-year period?

Per Section 21B-75 (b) of the School Code [105 ILCS 5/21B-75 (b)], the State Superintendent of Education shall consider factors that include, without limitation, all of the following:

- (1) Whether the “Unsatisfactory” evaluation ratings occurred prior to June 13, 2011 (the effective date of Public Act 97-8).
- (2) Whether the “Unsatisfactory” evaluation ratings occurred prior to or after the implementation date, as defined in Section 24A-2.5 of the School Code of an evaluation system for teachers in a school district.
- (3) Whether the evaluator or evaluators who performed an “Unsatisfactory” evaluation met the pre-certification and training requirements set forth in Section 24A-3 of the School Code.
- (4) The time between the “Unsatisfactory” evaluation ratings.

- (5) The quality of the remediation plans associated with the “Unsatisfactory” evaluation ratings and whether the license holder successfully completed the remediation plans.
- (6) Whether the “Unsatisfactory” evaluation ratings were related to the same or different assignments performed by the license holder.
- (7) Whether one or more of the “Unsatisfactory” evaluation ratings occurred in the first year of a teaching or administrative assignment

SECTION C. NEW AND VACANT POSITIONS

Before the enactment of SB 7, the School Code did not address the process by which school districts filled new and vacant positions. SB 7 added Section 24-1.5 to the School Code. Section 24-1.5 requires that a school district's selection of a candidate for a new or vacant position must be based upon the consideration of factors that "include without limitation certifications [licensure], qualifications, merit and ability (including performance evaluations if available) and relevant experience, provided that the length of continuing service with the school district [i.e., seniority with the school district] must not be considered as a factor, unless all other factors are determined by the school district to be equal."

C-1. When does Section 24-1.5 take effect?

Section 24-1.5 took effect on the effective date of SB 7 (June 13, 2011); however, if a collective bargaining agreement was in place at that time that conflicts with Section 24-1.5, that collective bargaining agreement governs (i.e., it is "grandfathered") until its expiration date.

C-2. Does Section 24-1.5 apply to all school districts in Illinois?

Section 24-1.5 applies to all school districts in Illinois except for Chicago.

C-3. Is a school district restricted to the factors specifically mentioned in Section 24-1.5 when filling a new or vacant position?

No. Section 24-1.5 states that a school district must consider those factors; however, the school district is not limited to considering only those factors. For example, a school district could consider performance in an interview as a factor. A school district is prohibited from considering "length of continuing service with the school district" unless all other factors considered are determined by the school district to be equal.

C-4. Does Section 24-1.5 apply to teaching positions required to be filled by recall?

No. Section 24-1.5 states that it does not apply to teaching positions required to be filled pursuant to Section 24-12 (Reduction in Force/Recall).

C-5. Does Section 24-1.5 apply to academic summer school positions?

Yes, these are teaching positions to which Section 24-1.5 would apply.

C-6. Does Section 24-1.5 apply to extracurricular assignments?

No, as these are not "teaching positions."

C-7. Does Section 24-1.5 apply when a school district is temporarily filling a position due to a teacher taking an approved leave of absence?

No. Section 24-1.5 is limited to the filling of new and vacant positions. A position that is temporarily available because of a teacher being on an approved leave is neither "new" nor "vacant" because the expectation is that the teacher on leave will be returning to that same position.

C-8. Does Section 24-1.5 pertain to those who may be applying for a new or vacant position from outside the district? If so, how does the school district with the new or vacant position ensure accurate performance evaluation information?

Yes, while the selection of new employees by a school district is still a “management right” pursuant to the Illinois Educational Labor Relations Act (115 ILCS 5/4), Section 24-1.5 does require that a school district consider all of the statutory factors for all candidates for the new or vacant position, even if some or all of the candidates are from outside of the school district. A school district is only required to consider performance evaluations if such evaluations are available and, even then, has discretion with respect to how much weight, if any, to assign those performance evaluations.

C-9. Can an employee or union grieve the school district’s decision to select a particular candidate to fill a new or vacant position?

No, provided that the district adheres to any applicable collective bargaining agreement procedures. Section 24-1.5 clearly states that “a school district’s decision to select a particular candidate to fill a new or vacant position is not subject to review under grievance resolution procedures . . . provided that, in making such a decision, a district does not fail to adhere to procedural requirements in a collective bargaining agreement relating to the filling of new or vacant positions.”

C-10. Does Section 24-1.5 create a statutory cause of action for a candidate or a candidate’s representative to challenge a school district’s selection decision based on the school district’s failure to adhere to the requirements of Section 24-1.5?

No.

SECTION D. TENURE ACQUISITION

Prior to SB 7, an employee's probationary period was four years. (See Section 24-11 of the School Code and Section 34-84 of the School Code for Chicago.) School districts had the authority to not renew a contract of a probationary teacher at the end of each of the four probationary years with 45 days written notice, and had to provide a specific, written reason for the not renewing the contract only to those whose contracts were not renewed after the fourth probationary year. A school district was not required to take performance evaluations into account when making decisions to renew or not renew contracts of probationary teachers or to ultimately grant tenure to teachers.

SB 7 now requires that, beginning with a school district's "PERA Implementation Date," the acquisition of tenure will be based on performance evaluations. See Section 24-11 of the School Code and Section 34-84 of the School Code for Chicago.

D-1. What are the ways in which a teacher can acquire tenure in a school district after the PERA Implementation Date of that school district?

A teacher will be able to acquire tenure in one of three ways:

- 1) Standard Tenure Acquisition: Four consecutive school terms of service in which the teacher receives overall annual evaluation ratings of at least "Proficient" in the last school term and at least "Proficient" in either the second or third school term. For example, a teacher would be eligible for tenure with the following ratings: "Needs Improvement," "Needs Improvement," "Proficient" and "Proficient"; however, a teacher would not be eligible for tenure with the following ratings: "Needs Improvement," "Proficient," "Proficient" and "Needs Improvement."
- 2) Accelerated Tenure: Three consecutive school terms of service in which the teacher receives three overall annual evaluations of "Excellent."
- 3) Tenure Portability: Two consecutive school terms of service in which the teacher receives two overall annual evaluations of "Excellent," but only if the teacher (a) previously obtained tenure in a different school district in Illinois; (b) voluntarily departed or was honorably dismissed from that school district immediately before teaching in the current school district; and (c) received at least a "Proficient" rating in his or her two most recent evaluations in the prior school district. (Both evaluations must have occurred after the prior district's PERA Implementation Date.)

D-2. Since Chicago is required to implement PERA in at least 300 of its schools in 2012-13 and in the rest of its schools in 2013-14, what is Chicago's PERA Implementation Date for tenure acquisition purpose?

The tenure acquisition provisions in Section 34-84 of the School Code take effect for those teachers beginning in full-time service on or after July 1, 2013.

D-3. What type of notice must a school district provide a teacher if it is not renewing the contract of that teacher?

Whether before or after a school district's PERA Implementation Date, a full-time teacher who does not receive written notice from the school board at least 45 calendar days prior to the end of the school term shall be re-employed for the following school term (unless, after the school district's PERA Implementation Date, the teacher is not eligible for re-employment — see D-4 below).

The written notice must, in the following scenarios, contain specific reasons for dismissal: (a) before or after the school district's PERA Implementation Date, in the fourth (i.e., last) year of the teacher's probationary period (unless the teacher is not eligible for re-employment — see D-4 below); and (b) after the school district's PERA Implementation Date, in the third year of the teacher's probationary period if the teacher has received an "Excellent" rating in each of his or her first three years of his or her probationary period.

D-4. After a school district's PERA Implementation Date, if a teacher is not eligible for tenure at the end of his or her four-year probationary period, can the school district still renew the teacher for a fifth or subsequent year?

No. In such a circumstance, the teacher must be dismissed.

D-5. Since a school district is required to evaluate non-tenured teachers annually, what happens for tenure acquisition purposes if a school district, after its PERA Implementation Date, does not evaluate a non-tenured teacher?

In such an instance, the teacher's performance evaluation rating for the school term for the purposes of tenure acquisition shall be "Proficient."

D-6. Since the new "tenure acquisition" provisions in Section 24-11 of the School Code take effect once a school district implements PERA, what is the implementation date for tenure acquisition purposes for school districts that have one or more schools with School Improvement Grants (SIG) and therefore had those schools implement PERA before the rest of the schools in the district?

The PERA Implementation Date for tenure acquisition for a school district is the date when PERA is required to be implemented in all schools within the school district. See Section 24-11(a). Thus, for school districts where one or more schools received a SIG, but others are not required to implement PERA until, for example, school year 2016-17, the PERA Implementation Date for tenure acquisition purposes for all teachers within the school district would be 2016-17.

D-7. In trying to determine whether an individual is eligible for tenure portability, how does a school district ensure the validity of the performance evaluations from the prior district?

A teacher only becomes eligible for tenure portability if he or she is moving from a school district that has implemented PERA to a school district that has implemented PERA, and satisfies all other requirements set forth in Section 24-11(d)(3). One of those requirements is that the teacher's two most recent evaluation ratings in the first district were at least "Proficient." In order to determine the validity of the performance evaluations from the previous district, the teacher shall provide official copies of his or her two most recent overall annual or biennial evaluations from the prior school district or program to the new school district or program within 60 days from the teacher's first day of service with the new school district or program. The prior school district or program must provide the teacher with official copies of his or her two most recent overall annual or biennial evaluations within 14 days after the teacher's request. If a teacher has requested such official copies prior to 45 days after the teacher's first day of service with the new school district or program and the teacher's prior school district or program fails to provide the teacher with the official copies, then the time period for the teacher to submit the official copies to his or her new school district or program must be extended until 14 days after receipt of such copies from the prior school district or program. If the prior school district or program fails to provide the teacher with the official copies within 90 days from the teacher's first day of service with the new school district or program, then the new school district or program shall rely upon the teacher's own copies of his or her evaluations.

D-8. Can a teacher who achieved tenure in a school district in a state other than Illinois, and is now leaving the school district in that state to obtain a teacher position in Illinois, be eligible for tenure portability in the Illinois district?

No.

D-9. If a teacher acquires tenure in a district that, due to a change in school district boundaries, is consolidated or otherwise becomes part of another school district, does that teacher maintain his/her tenure status in the newly consolidated district?

Yes. Per Section 24-11 (h) of the School Code, “[i]f by reason of any change in the boundaries of school districts or by reason of the creation of a new school district, the position held by any teacher having a contractual continued service status is transferred from one board to the control of a new or different board, then the contractual continued service status of the teacher is not thereby lost, and such new or different board is subject to this Code with respect to the teacher in the same manner as if the teacher were its employee and had been its employee during the time the teacher was actually employed by the board from whose control the position was transferred.”

D-10. For purposes of acquiring tenure, must the board of a newly consolidated school district take into account the previous evaluations of teachers who were employed in one or more of the districts that were subject to consolidation?

Yes. Unless otherwise dismissed, the employment of teachers who were employed in a school district that is consolidated into another district shall be considered continuous. See Section 10-21.12 of the School Code. Therefore, employment actions, including prior performance evaluations, shall be recognized by the successor school district in determining the acquisition of tenure.

In addition to changing the way in which tenure may be acquired after a school district’s PERA Implementation Date, Senate Bill 7 modified Section 24-11 and Section 34-84 (Chicago) of the School Code to clarify the number of days a teacher needs to be present and participating in the district’s educational program in order for the school term to count toward the teacher’s acquisition of tenure. In all school districts other than Chicago, this is now 120 days. See Section 24-11. In Chicago, it is 150 days. See Section 34-84. Notably, these changes took effect upon the effective date of Senate Bill 7 and therefore are now in effect.

D-11. Do days where one is on an approved Family and Medical Leave Act (FMLA) leave or military leave count toward the 120 days?

No, though a school district must, with respect to such leave, follow all applicable laws, including without limitation, the FMLA and Uniformed Service Employment and Reemployment Rights Act (USERRA); however, please note the FMLA exception discussed in D-12 below. For more information on FMLA and USERRA, please see U.S. Department of Labor’s website: <http://www.dol.gov/dol/topic/benefits-leave/fmla.htm> ; <http://www.dol.gov/vets/programs/userrra/>.

D-12. If one is serving as a permanent substitute teacher for 120 days, does that year count as a year toward tenure?

Yes, it does.

D-13. Do days working “part time” count toward the 120 days?

No, part-time days do not count toward the 120 days.

D-14. If a school district, as permitted under FMLA regulations, requires a teacher to take days of leave at the end of a school term (i.e., semester), do those days count toward the 120 days?

Yes. See 29 C.F.R. 825.602.

D-15. If a teacher does not meet the 120-day requirement for a school year, does that constitute a “break in service” such that the teacher must restart the entire probationary period?

No, as long as the teacher actually teaches or is otherwise present and participating in the district’s educational program in the following school year.

SECTION E. REDUCTIONS IN FORCE AND RECALL

Prior to SB 7, reductions in force (RIF) in all school districts and joint agreements (e.g., special education cooperatives) subject to Section 24-12 of the School Code (all school districts other than Chicago) occurred strictly based on seniority. Non-tenured teachers were required to be reduced prior to tenured teachers. Then, if necessary, tenured teachers were reduced by seniority. SB 7 amended Section 24-12 so that performance, based on performance evaluation ratings, now takes precedence over seniority in the context of a RIF. As described further below, the process for determining the order of dismissal will — among other things -- involve: (a) categorizing employees in one or more position lists by certification [licensure] and qualifications; and (b) placing employees on each position list in one of four “Groups” based on performance evaluations, if any. In this Section E, the term “school districts” includes, without limitation, joint agreements such as special education cooperatives.

APPLICABILITY

E-1. Are all school districts covered by these RIF provisions?

No. Section 24-12(b) and (c) cover all school districts except the Chicago Public Schools, so the Chicago Public Schools are not affected by the changes made in SB 7 regarding reductions in force.

CREATION OF LISTS BY POSITIONS

E-2. Is the school district responsible for categorizing the teachers by position(s)? Does the RIF Joint Committee (further discussed below) have any authority in this regard?

Yes, the school district is responsible for categorizing teachers by position(s). The RIF Joint Committee does not have statutory authority to participate in this categorization process.

E-3. Because each teacher “must be categorized into one or more positions for which the teacher is qualified to hold, based upon legal qualifications and any other qualifications established in a district or joint agreement job description,” are school districts now required to have job descriptions for all teachers?

No. If a school district does not have job descriptions for one or more positions, then certification [licensure] and legal qualifications will be the only basis for including or excluding a teacher from the relevant position list.

E-4. How does the May 10 date in Section 24-12 affect the inclusion or exclusion of a teacher from a position list?

Section 24-12 requires that a qualification established by a school district in a job description can only be used to place or not place a teacher in a job category if the qualification was included in the job description by the May 10 prior to the year in which the sequence of dismissal is determined. For example, if a job qualification was added by a school district to a job description on April 1, 2012, it can be used in the creation of position lists relevant to a reduction in force taking place in the 2012-13 school year (but it could not be used for a reduction in force taking place in the 2011-12 school year).

E-5. What is an example of “other qualifications” beyond legal qualifications?

A school district may decide that content teachers (e.g., science, math, social studies) may need to be CRISS-trained. CRISS is a set of strategies to teach reading and literacy skills through the curriculum. A school district may also decide that a middle school math endorsement would be required for anyone teaching math to students in particular grades.

E-6. Can years of experience or years of relevant experience be used as a job qualification if included in a job description before May 10 of the year preceding the reduction in force?

Yes, but only if such a job qualification applies to all teachers in that position.

E-7. Is a teacher who is legally and otherwise qualified for a position to be included on a position list even if he or she did not teach in that position during the year in question?

Yes. A teacher shall be included on all position lists for which he or she meets the legal qualifications and, where applicable, any other requirements timely established by the school district.

“GROUPING” OF EMPLOYEES WITHIN POSITION LISTS

Section 24-12 requires that, within each position, the school district must establish four groupings of teachers qualified to hold the position as follows:

- (1) Group 1 shall consist of each non-tenured teacher who (i) has not received a performance evaluation rating, (ii) is employed for one school term or less to replace a teacher on leave, or (iii) is employed on a part-time basis. "Part-time basis" means a teacher who is employed to teach less than a full-day teacher workload or fewer than five days of the normal student attendance week, unless otherwise provided for in a collective bargaining agreement between the district and the exclusive representative of the district's teachers. For the purposes of this Section, a teacher (A) who is employed as a full-time teacher but who actually teaches or is otherwise present and participating in the district's educational program for less than a school term or (B) who, in the immediately previous school term, was employed on a full-time basis and actually taught or was otherwise present and participated in the district's educational program for 120 days or more is not considered employed on a part-time basis.
- (2) Group 2 shall consist of each teacher with a “Needs Improvement” or “Unsatisfactory” performance evaluation rating on either of the teacher’s last two performance evaluation ratings;
- (3) Group 3 shall consist of each teacher with a performance evaluation rating of at least “Satisfactory” or “Proficient” on both of the teacher’s last two performance evaluation ratings, if two ratings are available, or on the teacher’s last performance evaluation rating, if only one rating is available; and
- (4) Group 4 shall consist of each teacher whose last two performance evaluation ratings are “Excellent” as well as each teacher with two “Excellent” performance evaluation ratings out of the teachers’ last three performance evaluation ratings with a third rating of “Satisfactory” or “Proficient.”

Among teachers qualified to hold a position, teachers must be dismissed in the order of their Groups, with teachers in Group 1 dismissed first and teachers in Group 4 dismissed last.

E-8. How is the sequence of dismissal decided within each of the four Groups?

Within Group 1, the sequence is at the discretion of the school district.

Within Group 2, the sequence is based on the average of the performance evaluation ratings received, with the teachers with the lowest average performance evaluation rating dismissed first. A teacher's average performance evaluation rating must be calculated using the average of the teacher's last two performance evaluation ratings, if two ratings are available, or the teacher's last performance evaluation rating, if only one rating is available. The average is calculated using the following numeric values: 4 for "Excellent," 3 for "Proficient" or "Satisfactory" (since "Satisfactory" can be used through the 2011-12 school year); 2 for "Needs Improvement" and 1 for "Unsatisfactory." Teachers with the same average performance evaluation rating will be dismissed based on seniority unless a different method for determining the sequence of dismissal has been agreed to in a collective bargaining agreement.

Within Groups 3 and 4, the sequence is based on seniority, unless a different method for determining the sequence of dismissal has been agreed to in a collective bargaining agreement.

E-9. So, how can a school district implement RIF provisions in 2011-12 if it still has a three-category rating system ("Excellent," "Satisfactory," "Unsatisfactory") for teacher evaluations?

A three-category rating system is not a barrier to implement the RIF provisions in 2011-12. Having such a three-category rating system just means that a school district will not have any teachers with "Needs Improvement" ratings and thus the only teachers who would be in Group 2 in any position list would be those who may have received an "Unsatisfactory" on either of the teacher's last two performance evaluation ratings.

E-10. What if there is a tie in seniority in Groups 3 and 4 (or if employees in Group 2 have the same average evaluation score and have the same seniority date)? For example, two or more employees had the same exact hire date.

If there is such a tie in seniority in any of Groups 2, 3 or 4, then the school district would have the discretion to determine the sequence of dismissal between or among the teachers who are tied, unless the applicable collective bargaining agreement or school board policy provides how such ties are broken.

E-11. If a school district has had a waiver from the required performance evaluation rating categories for tenured teachers, how does that district address the RIF grouping process?

The district must establish a basis for converting the ratings that teachers (both tenured and non-tenured) have received under the evaluation system it developed pursuant to the waiver into the three or four statutory rating categories. In doing this, the law requires the district consult with the RIF Joint Committee (discussed further below). The RIF Joint Committee must work toward a recommendation to the school district on how the ratings will be converted. (A district cannot decide not to forego using prior evaluations because they were provided under a system developed pursuant to a waiver.)

If the RIF Joint Committee cannot come up with an agreed approach to evaluations developed pursuant to a waiver, or the district disagrees with the recommendation of the RIF Joint Committee, then the school district would need to make the decision as to how to convert the ratings, doing so in good faith cooperation with their union representative, and meet all other applicable requirements under the IELRA.

E-12. Is the RIF Joint Committee also responsible for assigning a rating category to prior evaluations of non-tenured teachers if no summative ratings had been previously assigned to those teachers? Or, are those non-tenured teachers placed in Group 1 unless or until they receive an evaluation rating for the school year in which the RIF is occurring?

Yes. Section 24-12(b) states that “[f]or performance evaluation ratings determined prior to September 1, 2012, any school district or joint agreement with a performance evaluation rating system that does not use either [the three- or four-category rating system set forth in statute] for all teachers must establish a basis for assigning each teacher a rating that complies with [the three- or four-category rating system set forth in statute] for all of the performance evaluation ratings that are to be used to determine the sequence of dismissal.” Thus, if a school district has evaluated its non-tenured teachers but not previously assigned evaluation ratings to them, the RIF Joint Committee and the school district must follow the same process identified in E-14 above to assign/convert the ratings.

These non-tenured teachers should not be included in Group 1. The intent of the education stakeholders was that Group 1 was to include those teachers for whom a school district had only one opportunity to evaluate and did not (i.e., a first-year, non-tenured teacher).

E-13. What about teachers who just obtained tenure but, as a probationary teacher, he or she never received a performance evaluation rating?

Again, in light of Section 24-12(b), the school district and RIF Joint Committee would be required to follow the same process identified in E-14 to assign/convert the ratings.

E-14. To how many evaluations must a RIF Joint Committee/school district retroactively assign ratings?

RIF Joint Committees are encouraged to work toward retroactively converting/assigning ratings with respect to teachers’ previous three evaluations since a teacher’s previous three evaluations may be relevant in placing him or her in Group 4. (There is no situation where the fourth oldest evaluation would be relevant to placing a teacher in a Group.)

E-15. If a school district conducts summative evaluations of its non-tenured teachers more than once during a school year, do all of these evaluations count when placing the teacher in a Group?

As noted earlier, a school district may evaluate employees more frequently than the law requires. The law establishes the minimum number of evaluations an employee may receive; however, it is the last summative evaluation for a school year that shall serve as the evaluation that counts with respect to tenure acquisition. Further, per Public Act 98-648, “[n]o more than one evaluation rating each school term shall be one of the evaluation ratings used for the purpose of determining the sequence of dismissal. Except as otherwise provided in this subsection for any performance evaluations conducted during or at the end of a remediation period, if multiple performance evaluations are conducted in a school term, only the rating from the last evaluation conducted prior to establishing the sequence of honorable dismissal list in such school term shall be the one evaluation rating from that school term used for the purpose of determining the sequence of dismissal.”

E-16. If a school district permissibly conducts summative evaluations of its tenured teachers annually, do each of those annual summative evaluations count when placing the teacher in a Group?

Yes.

E-17. May a performance evaluation rating be used to place a teacher into a Group if the rating is the subject of a grievance resolution or arbitration procedure?

Yes. However, if the performance evaluation is nullified as the result of an arbitration, administrative agency, or court determination, the performance evaluation may not be used in placing the teacher in a Group.

E-18. What happens as it relates to placement of a teacher in a Group if a school district has not conducted a required performance evaluation by 75 days prior to the end of the school year?

In such a case, the teacher's placement in a Group shall be based only on previous performance evaluation ratings, if any. However, if such a teacher in Group 1 receives a performance evaluation rating between 75 days and 45 days prior to the end of the school year, the school district may move that teacher to another applicable Group.

E-19. What happens as it relates to placement of a teacher in a Group if a school district has not conducted a required performance evaluation by the end of any given school year?

In such a case, and as long as that teacher has received at least one performance evaluation rating conducted by the school district, the teacher's performance evaluation rating for that school year is considered to be "Proficient" for purposes of establishing the teacher's placement in a Group in subsequent school years. See Section 24-12(b).

E-20. What if a school district completes a summative evaluation of a teacher between 75 days and 45 days before the end of the school term? Can that affect the Group in which one is placed within a position list?

The only way a summative evaluation completed between 75 days and 45 days from the end of the school term can affect a teacher's Group placement in that school term is if the teacher was in Group 1 because he or she had not received any performance evaluations as a teacher in the district. In such an instance, the school district may, with notice to the union, move the teacher to another applicable Group.

E-21. In the scenario described in E-19 above, must the "at least one performance evaluation rating" necessary to result in the "Proficient" rating actually be used to determine the sequence of dismissal?

No. For example, assume that a teacher receives an "Unsatisfactory" evaluation in the 2011-12 school year and successfully remediates that "Unsatisfactory" evaluation. He or she is required by law to be evaluated again the very next school year (2012-13), but by the end of that school year, he or she is not evaluated. He or she is then evaluated, as required by law, two years hence (the 2014-15 school year) and receives a "Proficient" rating. For RIF purposes in 2014-15, that teacher's placement in a Group should be based on the "Proficient" in 2014-15 and the "Proficient" for 2012-13 (given as a default for the school district not conducting the required evaluation by the end of the 2012-13 school year). The fact that the "Unsatisfactory" evaluation from 2011-12 is not used for Group placement in the 2014-15 school year has no bearing on the 2012-13 default rating of "Proficient."

E-22. Does the performance evaluation rating at the end of a remediation plan (for a teacher who had received an “Unsatisfactory” rating) count for purposes of placement of the teacher in a Group?

No. See Section 24-12(b).

E-23. How is performance calculated for an individual who was reassigned from an administrator position to a teaching position?

The school district is to use the most recent evaluation ratings, whether those ratings were for time serving as an administrator or teacher.

E-24. For purposes of a RIF, must the board of a newly consolidated school district take into account the previous evaluations of teachers who were employed in one or more of the districts that were subject to consolidation?

Yes. Unless otherwise dismissed, the employment of teachers who were employed in a school district that is consolidated into another district shall be considered continuous. See Section 10-21.12 of the School Code. Therefore, employment actions, including prior performance evaluations, shall be recognized by the successor school district in determining RIF groupings.

SEQUENCE OF HONORABLE DISMISSAL LIST

Section 24-12 states that each school district must, in consultation with its union, establish a Sequence of Honorable Dismissal List categorized by positions and Groups. Copies of this list showing each teacher by name and categorized by positions and the groupings must be distributed to the union at least 75 calendar days prior to the end of the school term. A teacher must receive written notice of being the subject of a reduction in force at least 45 calendar days before the end of the school year. Each year, each board shall also establish, in consultation with any exclusive employee representatives, a list showing the length of continuing service of each teacher who is qualified to hold any such positions, unless an alternative method of determining a sequence of dismissal is established as provided for in this Section, in which case a list must be made in accordance with the alternative method. Copies of the list must be distributed to the exclusive employee representative at least 75 days before the end of the school term.

E-25. Once the new RIF provisions are triggered for a school district, does the school district still need to post a “seniority list”?

No, at that time, a separate seniority list will not need to be posted, although such a list will need to be provided to the teacher exclusive bargaining representative. A school district will nevertheless need a seniority list as seniority will still be relevant in terms of the sequence of dismissal (unless an alternative method for determining the sequence of dismissal has been agreed to in a collective bargaining agreement) and may be relevant to other provisions in a collective bargaining agreement.

E-26. To whom does the school district provide the Sequence of Honorable Dismissal List if the school district does not have a union?

In such an instance, the school district should consult with its teachers to determine the most efficient way to provide the teachers with information regarding the list without compromising the privacy of teachers (given that the list may, directly or indirectly, contain information regarding performance).

E-27. What can be done to prevent a district or a union from disseminating the Sequence of Honorable Dismissal List beyond those authorized under the law to receive it?

Section 24A-7.1 of the School Code prohibits the disclosure of a teacher's evaluation. Section 24-12 of the Code specifically provides that a teacher's grouping and ranking in the Sequence of Honorable Dismissal List shall be deemed a part of the teacher's performance evaluation, and that information shall be disclosed to the union, notwithstanding any laws prohibiting disclosure of such information. Additionally, Section 24-12 provides that the Sequence of Honorable Dismissal List disclosed to the union shall show each teacher by name and categorized by positions and groupings. To comply with these requirements while also best ensuring that inadvertent disclosure of the Sequence of Honorable Dismissal List does not expose an individual's performance ratings, school districts may want to consider listing teachers by randomly generated employee numbers and providing the union with a key to those numbers that simply and easily converts the numbers listed to the teachers by name in the same order that the numbers are listed on the Sequence of Dismissal List. Similarly, school districts should not include seniority dates on the list of honorable dismissal, as the seniority date could identify individuals if the list were to be inadvertently disclosed. However, each school district is required to establish and provide to the union a seniority list separate from the Sequence of Dismissal List.

RIF JOINT COMMITTEE

Section 24-12(c) requires that each school district and special education joint agreement use a Joint Committee composed of equal representation selected by the school board and its teachers (or if applicable the exclusive bargaining representative of its teachers) to address certain matters related to reductions in force.

E-28. By when must the RIF Joint Committee meet?

The RIF Joint Committee must be established and the first meeting of the committee must occur on or before December 1, 2011. In subsequent school years, the committee must meet each year, with its first meeting of that year occurring on or before December 1.

E-29. Can a district and its union (or teachers, if there is no union) agree to postpone the statutory deadline for the RIF Joint Committee first meeting?

No.

E-30. Who decides how many individuals will serve on the RIF Joint Committee?

The number of individuals on the RIF Joint Committee is to be determined by the school board and union (or teachers, if there is no union,), provided that there must be an equal number selected by each party.

E-31. How are the members of both sides of the RIF Joint Committee selected?

As noted immediately above, the members are selected by the school board and the union (or teachers, if there is no union).

E-32. What matters must the RIF Joint Committee consider?

The RIF Joint Committee must consider:

- (1) Whether to establish criteria for excluding from Group 2 and placing into Group 3 a teacher whose last two performance evaluations include a “Needs Improvement” and either a “Proficient” or “Excellent.”
- (2) Whether to establish an alternative definition for Group 4, which must take into account prior performance evaluation ratings and may take into account other factors that relate to the school district's or program's educational objectives. An alternative definition for Group 4 may not permit the inclusion of a teacher in the grouping with a “Needs Improvement” or “Unsatisfactory” performance evaluation rating on either of the teacher's last two performance evaluation ratings.
- (3) Whether to include within the definition of a performance evaluation rating a performance evaluation rating administered by a school district or joint agreement other than the school district or joint agreement determining the sequence of dismissal.
- (4) For each school district or joint agreement that administers performance evaluation ratings that are inconsistent with the three- or four-category rating system, the school district or joint agreement must consult with the Joint Committee on the basis for assigning a rating that complies with subsection (d) of Section 24A-5 of the School Code to each performance evaluation rating that will be used in a sequence of dismissal.

E-33. Does the RIF Joint Committee have statutory authority to identify the position categories and/or to compile the Sequence of Honorable Dismissal List?

No.

E-34. Should the RIF Joint Committee focus on individual teachers when considering whether to move teachers from Group 2 to 3 or to move teachers into Group 4?

No. When considering these issues, a RIF Joint Committee is not to focus on moving individual teachers within and among Groups. Instead, the RIF Joint Committee is to make general determinations that, for example, it would be in the best interests of the school district that any and all teachers who have their most recent two evaluation ratings as “Needs Improvement” and then “Excellent” should be in Group 3 and not Group 2.

E-35. By when does the RIF Joint Committee have to reach (or not reach) agreement on the issues within its authority?

Agreement by the RIF Joint Committee as to a matter requires a majority vote of all RIF Joint Committee members. If no agreement is reached on a matter, the statutory requirements apply. The RIF Joint Committee must reach agreement on a matter on or before February 1 of a school year for the agreement of the RIF Joint Committee to apply to sequence of dismissal determined during that school year.

E-36. Can a RIF Joint Committee change its decision as to any of the issues on which it reached agreement for a subsequent school year?

Yes, but it must do so by February 1 of the relevant school year. Otherwise, “the agreement of [the RIF Joint Committee] shall apply to the sequence of dismissal until the agreement is amended or terminated by the [RIF Joint Committee].” Section 24-12(c).

E-37. Does each member of the RIF Joint Committee have a “vote” or does each party vote as a block?

The expectation is that each member of the RIF Joint Committee has an individual vote on any issue before the RIF Joint Committee.

E-38. Must the decisions made by the RIF Joint Committee be endorsed by formal action of the school district’s Board of Education?

No. Section 24-12(c) states that agreement by the Joint Committee as to a matter requires the majority vote of all Joint Committee members. Once that majority is achieved, there is no requirement to have that decision approved by the Board of Education and the decisions of the Joint Committee must be implemented; however, as was indicated earlier with respect to the PERA Joint Committee, a school district certainly can have its Board of Education ratify the decisions made by the RIF Joint Committee, and the expectation is that a school district administration will be keeping the school district’s Board of Education appropriately apprised of relevant developments.

*NOTICE, REDUCTIONS AND BUMPING RIGHTSE-39. If a school district is reducing personnel in a particular position and there are more legally and otherwise qualified individuals on that position list than actually are teaching in that position, who gets reduced?

The teacher(s) identified for honorable dismissal is/are the teacher(s) teaching during the relevant school year in the position that the school district is seeking to reduce. See also E-40.

E-40. So, who is subject to honorable dismissal in the following scenario? A high school district needs to reduce a position from its English Department. The English Department currently has 10 teachers and will be going to nine teachers. Jane has been a math teacher for the last 5 years but is licensed and qualified to be an English teacher (and is therefore on both the English and math position lists). Her last evaluation was a “Needs Improvement” and she finds herself in Group 2 (on both the English and math lists). There are 15 individuals on the English list, even though there are only 10 teachers teaching English (the others are teaching other subjects), and Jane is at the bottom of that English list. Does Jane get reduced, or does the reduction come only from the 10 individuals currently teaching English?

No, Jane does not get reduced. The reduction comes from the 10 who are teaching English at the time the RIF decision is made. As noted below, though, it is possible that Jane may be bumped out of her math position.

E-41. Do bumping rights still exist under the new RIF provisions?

Yes. For example, in the scenario above, if the English teacher who is reduced, was licensed and qualified to teach math (and therefore, like Jane, was on the math list), he or she would be able to bump a math teacher in that area who is in a lower performance group/subgroup or in the same group/subgroup as he or she is in but ranked lower on the order of dismissals.

E-42. What can a union or teachers do if they suspect a school district is using the reduction in force provisions to target more senior, higher-paid teachers for reduction?

Any member of the RIF Joint Committee may, no later than 10 calendar days after the distribution of a Sequence of Honorable Dismissal List, request a list of the most recent and prior performance ratings of each teacher identified only by seniority. (The school district must provide that list within five calendar days of the request.)

If, after review of the list, any member of the RIF Joint Committee has a good faith belief that a disproportionate number of teachers with greater length of continuing service with the district or joint agreement have received a recent performance evaluation rating lower than the prior rating, the member may request that the RIF Joint Committee review the list to assess whether such a trend may exist. Following the RIF Joint Committee's review, but by no later than the end of the applicable school term, the RIF Joint Committee or any member or members of the RIF Joint Committee may submit a report of the review to the employing board and exclusive bargaining representative, if any.

However, this process cannot impact the order of honorable dismissal or a school district's or joint agreement's authority to carry out a reduction in force.

RECALL

Section 24-12(b) of the School Code states that, if the school board has any vacancies for the following school term or within one calendar year from the beginning of the following school term, the positions becoming available must be tendered to the teachers so removed or dismissed who were in Groups 3 or 4 of the Sequence of Honorable Dismissal List and are qualified to hold the positions based on legal qualifications and any other qualifications established in a district job description on or before the May 10 prior to the date of the positions becoming available. Further, under certain circumstances, some teachers in Group 2 may qualify for limited recall rights.

E-43. What recall rights do teachers in Groups 3 or 4 have if more than 15 percent of teachers in a district were honorably dismissed?

If the number of honorable dismissal notices based on economic necessity exceeds 15 percent of the number of full-time equivalent positions filled by certified [licensed] employees (excluding principals and administrative personnel) during the preceding school year, then the recall period is for the following school term or within two calendar years from the beginning of the following school term.

E-44. Do teachers in Group 1 who were reduced have recall rights?

No.

E-45. Do teachers in Group 2 who were reduced have recall rights?

Effective July 1, 2014, if the board or joint agreement has any vacancies within the period from the beginning of the following school term through February 1 of the following school term (unless a date later than February 1, but no later than six months from the beginning of the following school term, is established in a collective bargaining agreement), the positions thereby becoming available must be tendered to the teachers so removed or dismissed who were in Group 2 of the sequence of dismissal due to one "Needs Improvement" rating on either of the teacher's last two performance evaluation ratings, provided that, if two ratings are available, the other performance evaluation rating used for grouping purposes is "Satisfactory," "Proficient" or "Excellent," and the teachers are qualified to hold the positions, based upon legal qualifications and any other qualifications established in a district or joint agreement job description, on or before the May 10 prior to the date of the positions becoming available.

E-46. Since teachers in Group 2 are afforded limited recall rights effective July 1, 2014 (see E-44 above), must a district tender positions to such teachers if they reduced in the 2013-14 school year?

Yes. A district must tender positions to these teachers in Group 2 beginning July 1, 2014.

E-47. Must a district tender positions to Group 2 teachers who have recall rights even if the positions become vacant between the end of the school term in which the teachers received their notices of reduction and the beginning of the following school term?

Yes. Beginning July 1, 2014, a district must tender positions for the following school term that open up during this period, as well as tendering positions that open up during the following school term through February 1 or a later date (but not later than six months from the beginning of the school term) if established in a collective bargaining agreement.

E-48. Given the fact that teachers in three of the four Groups may be afforded certain recall rights, what is the order in which teachers shall be recalled?

Among teachers eligible for recall, the order of recall must be in inverse order of dismissal, unless an alternative order is established in a collective bargaining agreement. This means that eligible teachers in Group 4 are first tendered positions in inverse order of their dismissal, eligible teachers in Group 3 are next tendered positions in inverse order of their dismissal, and eligible teachers in Group 2 are next tendered positions in inverse order of their dismissal.

SECTION F. TENURED TEACHER DISMISSAL SYSTEM

The tenured teacher dismissal system is used in those situations where a school district is seeking to terminate the employment of a tenured teacher, either for poor performance or misconduct (or a combination of the two). The law allows that, in such an instance, a tenured teacher has the right to timely request a due process hearing before a hearing officer. Because of frequent concerns about the time and cost of the tenured teacher dismissal hearing process, the process was streamlined and, in some respects, restructured. See Section 24-12(d), Section 24-16.5 and Section 34-85c (Chicago) of the School Code. Providing greater specificity, on July 25, 2012, administrative rules pertaining to tenured teacher dismissal hearings became effective. See 23 Ill Admin. Code 51.

F-1. Section 24-12(d)(3) requires that, beginning September 1, 2012, any individual on the State Board’s master list of hearing officers must have participated in a training provided or approved by the State Board of Education. When will the training for hearing officers be developed?

The training has been developed and ISBE has trained and continues to train hearing officers.

F-2. Must a teacher be offered a remediation plan in every instance that he or she receives an “Unsatisfactory” rating?

No. Per Section 24A-5(n) of the School Code, after a school district’s PERA Implementation Date, if a tenured teacher successfully completes a remediation plan and receives a subsequent rating of “Unsatisfactory” in the 36-month period following the successful completion of the remediation plan, the school district may forego remediation and seek dismissal.

F-3. What is the Optional Alternative Evaluation Dismissal (OAED) Process for PERA Evaluations?

SB 7 established a new section of the School Code, Section 24-16.5, that allows (in all school districts, including the Chicago Public Schools) for an even more streamlined hearing procedure for the dismissal of tenured teachers related to performance. A school district may only utilize the OAED process on or after the school district’s PERA Implementation Date. Further, only “PERA-trained board members” may participate in a vote to dismiss a teacher under the OAED process. See also G-6 below.

SECTION G. SCHOOL BOARD MEMBER TRAINING

Section 10-16a of the School Code requires that school board members elected or appointed to their seat after June 13, 2011, must complete within the first year of their term a minimum of four hours of professional development leadership training covering topics in education and labor law, financial oversight and accountability, and fiduciary responsibilities of a board member.

G-1. Must board members undergo this training more than once (e.g., if elected after being appointed, or if re-elected)?

No. A board member need only go through the board member training during his or her first term (after the effective date). So, if an individual is elected to a local board in April 2013 and completes the training requirement in June 2013, he or she will not be required to complete another training if re-elected.

G-2. Can a currently sitting district board member fully and finally satisfy the Section 10-16a requirement by completing an approved training prior to the next election?

Yes. So as to meet the intent of the board member training provision, which was to see as many school board members as possible trained, ISBE is interpreting Section 10-16a to allow a board member who took office prior to June 13, 2011, to complete the requirement prior to being re-elected.

G-3. What entities and/or individuals can administer the school board member training?

Section 10-16a authorizes the training to be administered by the Illinois Association of School Boards (IASB) as well as any other entity approved by the State Board of Education, in consultation with the IASB.

G-4. When will training for Board members be available?

Training is currently available and underway.

G-5. How will entities other than the IASB be approved to offer board member training?

ISBE implemented rulemaking, effective March 20, 2012, that establishes the process by which anyone may apply for approval to offer board member training. See 23 Ill Admin. Code 1.210.

G-6. Is the training required under Section 10-16a the same training that a school board member must complete in order to be authorized to vote in a teacher dismissal under the OAED process?

No. Subsection (f) of Section 24-16.5 of the School Code (establishing the OAED process) requires that only "PERA-trained board members" may participate in a vote to dismiss a teacher under the OAED process. A "PERA-trained board member" is defined in Section 24-16.5(a) as a member of a board who has completed a training program on PERA evaluations either administered or approved by ISBE. Board member training under Section 10-16a of the School Code is separate and distinct from the PERA training for board members under Section 24-16.5 of the School Code. However, if approved, both trainings could be provided by the same trainer.

SECTION H. COLLECTIVE BARGAINING/STRIKE

In both P.A. 97-8 and trailer legislation, Public Act 97-007, signed that same day (collectively, SB 7), changes were made to the Illinois Educational Labor Relations Act (105 ILCS 5/1 et seq.) in order to promote agreement in labor-management negotiations.

For instance, in all school districts other than Chicago:

- Either party or the mediator may initiate the public posting process 15 calendar days after the mediation has commenced;
- Within seven calendar days after the initiation of the public posting process, each party must submit to the other party, the mediator and the Illinois Educational Labor Relations Board (IELRB) in writing the most recent offer of the party, including a cost summary of the offer; and
- Seven calendar days after receipt of the parties' most recent offers, (a) the IELRB shall make public on its website the most recent offers and each party's cost summary on those issues where there was not agreement <http://www2.illinois.gov/elrb/Pages/FinalOffers.aspx>; and (b) the school district must notify relevant news media outlets (those that have filed an annual request for notices from the school district under the Open Meetings Act) about the availability of the final offers on the IELRB's website.

H-1. Can a school district put its most recent offer that it submitted as part of the public posting process on its own website?

Yes.

H-2. Must the public posting process be initiated and the most recent offers be disclosed in order for a union to strike?

The intent of the education stakeholders was that the public posting process must be initiated, the parties' most recent offers must be declared, and the parties' most recent offers must be posted before a union is able to strike.

H-3. Is a union now required to have 75 percent of bargaining unit employees who are members voting in favor of a strike in order to be authorized to strike?

Section 13(b)(2.10) of the IELRA requires that, in order for the employees in the Chicago Public Schools to strike, at least three-fourths of all bargaining unit employees who are members of the union must have affirmatively voted to authorize the strike (provided that all members of the union at the time of a strike authorization vote are eligible to vote). This provision is not applicable to any school districts/unions outside Chicago.
