All year, I have posted scholarships for seniors, but here is one that is specifically for current juniors. From the Better Business Bureau, high school students can apply for the:

2018 Student of Ethics Scholarship

This is a $2,500 scholarship that can be applied to the student's college, university, or trade school of choice. Six winners from our region will be selected. Students may pick up an application in the Guidance Office or go to bbb.org/stlouis/student-of-ethics-awards

Tutoring Assistance:

If your child needs a little academic boost over the summer, or he/she just needs to stay fresh, you may want to explore online help in various subject areas; <https://www.khanacademy.org/> is a great resource for math. Or, you may investigate tutoring options. Below is an ad from one retired teacher who is interested in tutoring students...

Summer Enrichment Opportunities:

I'm old enough to remember some really lame, boring summers when I was too young to work. But, I know our kids' lives are pretty exciting in this day and age. However, if your child or teen has not filled every moment of summer, and you are looking for something fun and productive for them, there are many summer camps available. Here are just a few below:

Mizzou Summer Camps are available on topics like: healthcare, veterinary science, robotics, literature, technology, and entrepreneurship. If you have questions, please contact Teresa Bishop at bishopta@missouri.edu or at 573-884-0554. More information and on-line registration is available at <http://4h.missouri.edu/programs/summers>

Missouri S & T provided the following link to a flyer for all summer camps currently being offered there: Summer Camp Flyer. Visit the website, summer.mst.edu, to review the most current information on their summer STEM camps. Just choose the program and then the register link. Each program has a unique registration process.

SCC College for All Kids Summer Camps now enrolling... The community college has every imaginable camp available for students of various ages. Find the schedule for those camps at the following link:
