It’s definitely been difficult at times, it can be hard to be so far away from everything you know, but pushing yourself to do challenging things is rewarding and will give you memories for life. Don't live for revenge and live for who you are.

If you end up falling down, know there is some kind of way to get back up and keep going.

Don't let people get to you; keep doing what you love the most in life.

Three years ago Sonya did not think she would be in a different state and new school but she is happy that she got this chance to move and would not change it for anything.

"Fear- forget everything and run or face everything and rise -you decide"

Sonya will miss high school but it is time to start a new chapter in life.
