Hello Greenwood Families!

As we have ended our first quarter of the 21-22 school year, I am reminded of the true purpose of report cards. Report cards are sent to parents as a means of communicating growth in learning. This is also a reminder that learning is a partnership between home and school and we need each other to maximize the learning for our kids! Although the date for parent-teacher conferences has passed on the calendar, please know that these conferences and collaborative efforts should be ongoing throughout the school year. If you ever have questions, concerns, or celebrations, make contact with the classroom teacher and set up a time to conference.

With November upon us, this also is the start of a very exciting time of year. The holiday season that includes Thanksgiving and Christmas. Although these can be very exciting times for many, they can also be very challenging times for others. Some struggle with finances, family, loss, etc. This holiday season is a time to reflect with our kids and remind them of empathy. Remind them that we care for each other and are kind to each other because we are all part of this great community!

Also, it appears that Mother Nature is having a difficult time making up her mind. We have seen cold temperatures and mild temperatures, windy days, and even some little white flakes. Please make sure to send your child to school adequately dressed for the weather. If you need assistance with some of that gear, contact the school office and we will see what we can do.

As for safety, health, and wellness, I would say that our cold season is in full swing. We have definitely seen an increase in colds, allergies, and of course Covid. Covid is definitely still here, possibly as much as ever, so it continues to be important to take steps to remain healthy and safe. Please make sure you are assessing your child's health each and every morning. If you notice symptoms that represent a cold/flu/Covid, please do not send your child to school. Pay special attention to those symptoms outside of their baseline. The district will continue to notify parents as we are notified by the Clark County Health Department of any positive cases that have attended school. If we work together, we can continue to have a successful school year and keep our students learning and growing.

As always, if you have any questions or concerns, please feel free to contact me at anytime. Finally, I want to wish you all a Happy Thanksgiving and know that I am so thankful for all of you and our work together!

Turkey Reading Challenge

Students will be participating in a reading challenge at school from November 3 to November 17!

For every 10 steps read (or 5 books in 4K), they will get to decorate a turkey feather and attach it to their classroom's turkey body.

At the end of the challenge, several feathers will be plucked by Mr. Green and those students will win prizes! As a bonus, the classroom that has the most feathers will win books too!
