

NORWICH HIGH SCHOOL

Boys' Varsity Basketball

BY THE NUMBERS

A Statistical History

1901-2021

Sometime during the year 2014, an arduous undertaking was commenced when I began to compile the statistical history of Norwich High School varsity boys' basketball. After numerous hours of investigating old newspaper clippings and the tedium of scanning microfilm of 100-year-old contests, my mission is complete. What lies within are the records established by every NHS team from the 1901-02 season until the present.

The initial intent was to publish these statistics yearly, but after two seasons it was decided to do so every other year, as the bulk of these numbers was never going to change. So, this fourth edition picks up from where we left off in 2018 with those who earned their space on this basketball honor roll from the past three NHS seasons – 2018-19, 2019-20 and 2020-21, the latter of which was severely abbreviated due to the COVID pandemic.

But first, it is needed to explore the final chapter of Tornado basketball, as the second edition highlighted the achievements of those years from 1905-2016. This present program begins at the outset of Purple cage activity in 1901 and runs through last season.

Eight years and three months after James Naismith invented the game of basketball in December 1891 that new sport – basket ball – first appeared in the local papers when The Chenango Semi Weekly Telegraph published a short news blip on Saturday, March 4, 1899:

“A basket ball team is to be organized soon and games will be arranged with other neighboring YMCA’s. This has proven a very interesting game for indoors in many places.”

Two years later, although still not sanctioned as a team representing Norwich High School, play began in earnest at the local Y with teams named Cayugas, Mohawks and Tuscaroras doing battle amongst themselves. The first reported game took place on Tuesday, Feb. 12, 1901. There again, The Chenango Semi Weekly Telegraph reported with a general overview and a somewhat amusing explanation of the game and its rules of that contest in its edition of Saturday, March 9.

“The game of basket ball which was introduced in Norwich, February 12th, is gaining in popularity every week. The High school has a club of over twenty-five members who practice the game nearly every afternoon in the old rink back of the High school building. Forty-one young men have already joined the club at the Y.M.C.A., and a game is played every afternoon and evening.

Basket ball is played with two teams of five men each. Each team has two forwards, two backs and one center. The backs of one team play against the forwards of the other. The object is to throw an inflated ball eleven inches in diameter into a basket eighteen inches in diameter suspended ten feet from the floor at the end of the room. There is a basket at each end of the room, and each team throws for its own basket.

In starting the game the ball is thrown up in the middle of the room and the two centers jump for it. Each team then tries to keep possession of the ball until they can throw it into the basket. The ball is passed from man to man. It is a foul to carry the ball, and if a man is running when he receives it he must stop before he has taken three steps. Fouls are also called for hugging the ball, pushing, striking, tripping and tackling a player, and for anything else that comes under the head of unnecessary roughness.

When the rules are enforced as they generally are, basket ball is one of the cleanest and safest of indoor sports. At the same time there is exercise enough in it to satisfy the sturdiest athlete. The game can be played to suit any class of individuals. Children, ladies, old and young men find it an invigorating and entertaining pastime.

As best as I can determine, the first Norwich High School game was played on Jan. 30, 1902 in a contest at 'The Rink' – an edifice behind and directly south of the high school building on West Main Street – with NHS swamping the local YMCA quintet 31-1. Two notable players on that first team were Dave and Matt Lee.

Matt became Norwich's first 20-point scorer when he tallied a score of markers on nine field goals and two free throws in a 45-3 whipping of Hamilton on Feb. 14, 1903, and he added a career-high 24 points on Dec. 2, 1904 in a 47-12 triumph over Binghamton with both games at 'The Rink.' He also captained the NHS five three seasons from 1902-05, and later did the same at Syracuse University (1909-10). He went on to become a civil engineer with U.S. Steel. His older brother Dave – by one year – played three seasons on the Norwich five, also playing at Syracuse. Years after graduating from the SU Law School, he went on to become a renowned New York State Supreme Court Judge.

(The next few paragraphs that deal with the last seasons years will change bi-annually to highlight the accomplishments of those respective years).

From three seasons ago, Marcus Cashman, Carson Maynard, Skylar Wenzel and JT Vinal achieved prominent spots on the all-time Tornado cage menu. By way of his 3-point accuracy, Cashman is tied for third with seven game triples, tied for sixth with 93 career 3-pointers and at 13th with 45 season treys. Maynard ranks 20th and 26th, respectively, for his .765 seasonal free throw percentage and 12 charity tosses made in a game. Vinal took over the No. 1 position in game steals with 11, placed third in season pilfers with 78 and added a 12th place spot with 37 blocked shots. Wenzel rounded out that 2018-19 campaign with 242 career rebounds, good for 25th.

Fast forward one year, and Maynard and Vinal are joined by Thomas Flanagan on a club that went 17-5 two years ago. And, because Norwich played only nine games (5-4) last year, due to the rampant virus, Andrew Mullen is the lone cager from that group to earn recognition here.

Flanagan etched his name in five categories. From 3-point range, his 75 for a season ranks second, 100 for his career is fourth and his six treys accomplished twice during his senior campaign rank tied for eighth. He also moved into 27th place for his 342 season markers and 31st with a scoring average of 15.5 per game.

Maynard, meanwhile, doubled Flanagan's times on the new list with two handfuls of achievements. He moved into ninth place in career points with 799, is currently 14th and 21st in career 3-pointers (58) and 2-pointers (223), respectively, 20th in season points (363) and 25th in season scoring with 16.5 points per game. Rounding out that 10-spot are 208 career assists (11th), 102 career steals (13th), 83 free throws made in a season (17th), 265 career rebounds (20th) and a .735 season free throw accuracy (28th).

Vinal completes the troika from two seasons ago with 11 new accolades – three of which place him first all-time. He finishes his NHS career on top with 282 season rebounds to edge Bob Lazor by one, 252 career steals and 101 season steals to supplant Charlie Wightman Jr. in both of those latter two categories. Vinal also picked off 10 game steals (2nd), chalked up 91 career blocked shots (4th) and produced 35 swatted opponent attempts during his final season (16th). His 668 career rebounds rank second to only Lazor's 720, twice he pulled 22 caroms in a game (4th), his 230 career 2-pointers are 16th best, for a career he scored 591 points (27th) and his 72.7% free throw percentage during his senior season ranks 35th.

As was noted earlier, last year's achievements pale due to the shortened season brought on by the COVID crisis. The only player from the 2020-21 club to etch his name on this elite list is Andrew Mullen. On the night of Feb. 18, 2021, he drilled seven 3-pointers in Norwich's 71-44 victory over Greene to tie for second place in game activity.

As I have stated in the past two editions of this work, this endeavor would not have been possible without the invaluable help of several individuals. First, and foremost, is the staff of the Otis A. Thompson Local History Room at Guernsey Memorial Library, namely Maria Burcroff, Angelina Festarini, Kathy Greene, Linda LaRosa, Mary Lou Lougheed, Joyce Neal, Laura Swayer, Angela Taylor and Francesca Testi, all of whom worked tirelessly to fill my daily microfilm and yearbook requests. Thanks also to Tornado coaches Mark Abbott, Tom Collier and Brian Collier for the generous loaning of their scorebooks from the time (1995) I left my sports writing position with The Evening Sun until the present. And a gracious tip of the hat must go out to the anonymous people I dealt with during my trips to the Broome County Public Library (Binghamton), the Frank J. Basloe Library (Herkimer), the Utica Library and the Susquehanna County Library (Montrose, PA).

Once again my Sancho Panza right-hand man Tom Schwan came through as he always did as his widow, Elaine, allowed me to unearth reams of 1970s game articles from her cellar and attic. And last but not least, as the saying goes, gigantic kudos must go out to my wife, Lora, as she was the one who transpired my ink-infested legal pads of minutia into this 21st century computerized grid that lies within.

So, my basketball aficionados enjoy, but remember there is one constant that runs throughout these pages – the players of the turn of the 20th century are synonymous with those of today as they were all teenagers wearing the Purple & White when they solidified their names forever in Norwich High School hardwood history.
