

Another Service from YOUR ESC!!!

- Can't find time for the Starlab or Digitarium training?
- Need someone available to utilize the portable planetarium in your building without giving up a classroom teacher?
- Have parents who want to see the planetarium?

Marvin Kuhn is a retired Rush County Schools Science teacher, who was trained to use the planetariums when the East Central ESC purchased its first unit back in 1988!

Marvin Kuhn, veteran Science Teacher and portable planetarium presenter.

And Marvin loves the planetariums too much to retire completely, so he is available to come to your elementary school and present the planetariums, either the Basic Starlab, or the Digitarium Alpha unit, for a reasonable fee.

The fee for this service is just $200 per day. This can be cost effective for your school, when you consider there is no need to pay to have a teacher trained, and you save the expense of substitute teachers to replace those out of the classroom.
