Around Campus

Opelousas High School

Dr. Rain Prud'homme-Cranford visited Opelousas High School and presented a workshop on being more descriptive in poetry creation. Students from Ms. Brenda Rodgers' Creative Writing Club were treated to interesting and assistive techniques while actually writing poetry. The poet offered to critique and advise on student writing at any time, exciting the young writers in the workshop. Dr. Prud'homme-Cranford's visit was a part of the Festival of Words Authors in Schools program. She teaches American Indian Studies at San Francisco State University. Her critical and creative work has been published in many forms, including various literary journals. She refers to herself as a poet, an academic, and a musician.
