This Year's Minstrel To Be Staged in Catholic College Auditorium

An innovation in minstrel shows presented by the Hays Catholic College will be made on April 15 and 16, when the "Louisiana Minstrel" will be presented in the Hays Catholic College Auditorium instead of in the Strand Theater, as has been the custom during the past five years.

Due to the fact that the Strand management has installed the Vitaphone on their stage, they have announced that henceforth it will be impossible to rent the use of the hall for stage productions. For this reason we have decided to stage our minstrel in our own hall.

We feel assured that the change of location in the presentation of the minstrel will not detract in any way from the usual heavy attendance. In fact, we think that many of our alumni and their families prefer to be back again in the halls of their Alma Mater to encourage and support the efforts of the present students of H. C. C. Another advantage of our own hall is the larger stage and therefore a greater opportunity for stage effects.

In order that the crowd may be accommodated the show will be presented on two different nights, and tickets for both nights will soon be on sale.

ALTAR LINENS TO CHAPEL

Generous Benefactor Gives Freely to Hays Catholic Academy

Through the kindness of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Boudubon, of Detroit, Michigan, the College Chapel has received about one hundred and thirty new pieces of linens. The donation comprises altar cloths, stand covers, ciborium mantels, burses, corporals, palls, and other altar linens.

Mr. and Mrs. Boudubon presented the material and the good nuns of St. Anthony's hospital, Hays, Kansas, made the exceptionally beautiful gifts. The faculty and student body extend their sincere thanks to the kind donors and the nuns of St. Anthony's Hospital. Our friends will remember that Mr. and Mrs. Frank Boudubon presented an elaborate Ostensorium to the College some time ago.

PAINTINGS RAFFLED OFF

Two Remain in Kansas While One Goes to West Virginia

The raffle of the three oil paintings which has been in progress since December was closed Sunday night, February 24, immediately after the close of the operetta. The lucky numbers were held by Mrs. Colahan, Codell, Kansas; Miss Barbara Merker, Hays, Kansas, and Mr. Ed Snyder, Wheeling, West Virginia.

A very gratifying amount was realized from the sale of the chances and we wish to thank all those who patronized those in charge of the sale.

H. C. A. Bluejays of 1929

Winners of the Union Pacific League Honors for the Second Consecutive Year

Front Row—Left to right: Alfred Giebler, Virgil Basgall, Victor Stanton, Richard Keberlein. Back Row: Celestine Rupp, Fred Wiesner, Anthony Wiesner, Capt.; Harold Mackey, Coach Lane.

Captain Anthony Wiesner, age 18, weight 165, height 6 ft. 2 in. This was "Tony's" third year on the squad, and with each successive year his speed, floor work and his deadly eye for the basket has improved. He reached the zenith of his career on February 28th in the game with Russell. Wiesner's absence will be felt next year.

Alfred L. Giebler, aged 19, weight 140, height 5 ft. 6 in. This was the last year of high school basketball for our diminutive guard. "Hot Shot" is what the boys call him, and our opponents will testify to the fact that he was hot in locating the basket. This was Gieby's second year on the H. C. A. squad.

Fred Wiesner, age 17, weight 150, height 6 ft. Fred earned his berth on the Lane machine with plenty of competition against him. This was Fred's first year on the team, and his improvement in both speed and an eye for the basket showed that he has the making of a basketball player. He leaves us by graduation this year and his place will be difficult to fill.

MASS FOR JOHN MALONE

Memorial Services in Chapel for Founder of First Burse

On Tuesday morning, February 26, Father Denis, Prefect of the College, sang a Requiem High Mass in the College chapel for the repose of the soul of John Malone. Mr. Malone was the founder of the first burse of the College. All the students attended the Mass in a body. Father Alfred presided at the organ.

There's more kick in that "Louisiana Minstrel" than there is in the best moonshine. At the H. C. A. Auditorium, April 15 and 16. Be there to enjoy it.

Tasset, Tuff and "Gieby" have parts in the minstrel.

Victor E. Stanton, age 17, weight 160, height 5 ft. 9 in. "Vic" was the running mate of "Gieby." Although he could not locate the hoop until the latter part of the season, he was ever in the game, battling until the finish. His defensive work deserves a note of praise. "Vic" will be with us for one more season.

Harold Mackey, age 17, weight 160, height 5 ft. 11 in. Although this was "Mack's" first year on the regular five he performed like a veteran. His defensive play was the outstanding feature of his work. During the recent Class "A" tournament he was the luminary of the team on both defense and offense, being the high scorer in both games. Mackey has two more years for the Blue and White.

Richard Keberlein, age 18, weight 132, height 5 ft. 7 in. "Keby" was handicapped somewhat in size, but what he lacked there he made up in speed. He performed well in all the games he participated in. He has one more year to play, this being his second year on the squad.

FATHER PROVINCIAL COMING

Very Rev. Fr. Thomas, O. M. Cap., Will Spend Easter in Hays

The Very Rev. Fr. Thomas, O. M. Cap., Provincial of the Pennsylvania Province, and former Pastor of St. Joseph's Parish, Hays, Kansas, will be here from March 31 to April 4, and from April 15 to 19. Father Provincial is conducting the annual visitation of all the Capuchin cloisters in the West.

Tasset overworked himself the other day while driving a truck. Can you imagine anyone overworking himself while driving a truck? Tasset said shifting gears so often is what played him out.

REMARKABLE RECORD H. C. A. IN THREE YEARS

Wins Union Pacific League Honors
Second Year Straight—No Defeat on Home Court

The Hays Catholic Academy, under the able tutelage of Lewman Lane, have played a grand total of 53 games. Of these forty-six were won and 7 lost. During this period of three years of competitive play the H. C. A. was not beaten on the home court. Of regularly scheduled games, 42 in number, three have been dropped, and those by a margin of one point each. We are of the opinion that there isn't a team that has ever beaten this mark; if so, we have never heard of it. The Hays Bluejays won the trophy of the Union Pacific League for the second consecutive year, with a percentage of 1,000.

THIRD ANNUAL MINSTREL

To Be Presented April 15-16—Proceeds to the New College

Rehearsals for the annual minstrel show to be presented by the boys of H. C. A. are being held, and the sponsors of the program announce that everything is rapidly getting into readiness for the performances which will take place on the 15th and 16th of April, in the Hays Catholic Academy auditorium.

Included in the program will be many special numbers and a pickaninny ballet. The men of the circle will be attired in tuxedos, while the end men will be presented in attractive dress suits of yellow and black. Special scenic effects are being arranged by the student stage crew and the show will be accompanied by a selected orchestra.

There will be two big acts, the first of which will be in the form of the usual dress circle, while the second will have as a stage setting a cotton field of Virginia. This second act promises to be an unusual grand finale to the performance.

Between the two acts several vaudeville sketches will be offered, one of which will be a surprise act by the well known actors "Ernie" Trimmer and "Bill" Kuhn. Another sketch reminiscent of grand opera will be presented by several capable boys of the H. C. A.

Besides the above mentioned artists a number of other well-known actors will assist the boys. Ott Weigel, comedian de luxe of Hays, will be in his old position as end man. Edward Karlin, William Toepfer, Bernard Roth and Clarence Drees, members of the Alumni Association, promise to add much to the "pep" of the production.

As announced in previous issues, the full proceeds are to be turned over to the New College.

EASTER

But yesterday the scape-goat of humanity, spat upon, mocked, jeered, taunted! Today, He is Christ the King holding aloft His banner of victory! He has triumphed over the grave. He has broken the power of satan. He has turned Phari-saic cunning back upon itself. His Soul and Body beaten and scarred by human cruelty, now radiate in glorious victory. He sacrificed and immolated the last drop of His Blood
for you and for me.

In the centuries that followed,
men and women from every walk of life have flocked to His banner.
Kings like Louis IX, of France, accounted in regal garments, common laborers like Matt Talbot attired in overalls, scholars like Pasteur, whom we salute every time we lift a cap
from a milk bottle, poets like Joyce Kilmer, the soldier poet, all have enrolled in the legions of this Victorious Leader.

The victory of Christ must be carried on through the centuries. One of the potent factors making for victory is education. In these modern times a great portion of life is spent in the classroom. There our ideals are imbibed. Educators who foster a godless training are frequently shocked into the realization that something is fundamentally wrong with modern education. A few years back, a large newspaper came out with the tragic story about a youngster of fifteen who had taken his own life. In explanation, this boy-suicide left the following note: "There is no God. Life is not worth living."

The inhuman French Revolution
plumbed the depths of human depravity, when the heads of human beings were carted away in wagons like so many loaves of bread. But is not the fiendish cruelty of some of the highly educated murderers
in our own country equally appalling?

Today selfishness domineers daily life. Excessive pleasure seeking has relegated father and mother to the

"has beens". Frequently, in the eyes of their children, parents are only as good as their check book.

A little school girl was examined in geography. After having answered many questions regarding the various continents, countries, mountain ranges, and rivers, she was amazed to discover that her backyard was a part of that great ball,
the Earth. Irreligious educators may awake to the fact that the evils of the world are, to a great extent, germinating in their backyards of a godless education.

Our schools must again become the camping grounds for Christ's legions. The Ten Commandments must be our manual of rules and regulations. The crucifix suspended before us, will inspire us to be generous, unselfish in sacrifice. Thus primed for battle, we shall go forward to victory.—S. Z.

PIUS XI

Two important events have of late centered the eyes of the Christian world on Pius XI: His golden Jubilee as a priest of God, and the settlement of the sixty year old "Roman Question". Hence a biographical sketch of his Holiness may be appreciated.

Achille Ratti was born at Desio,
in the Brianza, Italy, on March 31, 1857.

In his youth he well deserved the name Achilles, the swift-footed, the nimble, the sure of step. He early distinguished himself as an athlete
and then as an explorer of the Alps.
Time and again he scaled those dangerous heights. The roar of the avalanche, the treacherous crevasse
of the grinding glacier had no terrors for him.

He began his studies in the diocesan seminary and completed them
in Rome, obtaining the Doctorate
in Philosophy, Theology, and Canon Law, at the Gregorian University.

He was ordained to the Holy Priesthood in December of 1879 and read his first mass over the tomb
of Saint Peter.

For six years (1882-1888) he occupied the chairs of dogmatic theology and sacred eloquence in the seminary of his native diocese.

In 1888 he was appointed to the staff of the far-famed Ambrosian Library and, nine years later, he was unanimously elected Prefect of that institution.

During these years he was very active writing scientific articles for learned publications. Italian as well as foreign journals welcomed his scholarly contributions on literature and art.

Beside his literary activity, he was constantly engaged in the direction of souls. He was chaplain of the convent of the Cenacle, director of the Association of Catholic School Mistresses, an organization which he founded in 1883, and continued to direct during his stay at Milan.
He was actively associated with the spiritual direction of the Children of Mary and also found joy in giving catechetical instructions to the little chimney sweeps.

He was called to Rome in 1911 to take the post of Pro-prefect of the Vatican Library and assistant to Father, now Cardinal, Ehrle, S. J., whom he succeeded in 1913. In the same year he was made Protonary Apostolic.

On April 25, 1918, Pope Benedict

XV sent him to Poland as Apostolic Visitor. It was on this visit that he distinguished himself before the diplomatic world.

On June 13, 1919, he was appointed Papal Nuncio of the New Republic of Poland. On the third of the following month he was made titular Archbishop of Lepanto.

As Nuncio he was eminently successful in a state which was a storm center of Europe. Poland was still occupied by the German soldiers,
and internal affairs were still unsettled. He had a large share in the liberation of prisoners and hostages held in Russia. At the unanimous request of Poland, Germany and the Inter-allied Commission, he was nominated Ecclesiastical Commissioner for the plebiscite in Upper Silesia. On June 13, 1921, he was created Cardinal and set over the see of Milan, and on February 6, 1922, he was elected head of the Catholic Church.

Achille Ratti, the son of the weaver of Desio, is now seated on the throne of Peter. His motto as a mountain climber was "Excelsior",
and now he occupies the most exalted position in the world, and his name is mentioned with the great ones of this generation.—L.S.

MARCH THE NINETEENTH

There is hardly anything in all literature so absorbing as the well-written biography of a great man.
Fiction arouses but a passing interest, which is often lost as soon as the book is placed back on the shelf.
Poetry, while it may linger longer
in the mind than the daring exploits of some fictitious hero, is usually but as long-lived as the enthusiasm of the reader. Biography, however, makes a more lasting impression on the reader. Being the life-story of real men and women, it touches a chord in the heart that still continues to vibrate long after the last chapter has been finished.

The fact to be lamented, however,
is this, that some who deserve a niche in the Hall of Fame remain unknown to the masses. Such has been the case with the humble carpenter of Nazareth. You will look in vain for a copy of his life's story on the shelves of the "popular" book dealers. Voltaire, Luther, Marx,

Wells, and Shaw are there, but not so much as a pamphlet on the life of St. Joseph.

For us Catholics, the life of St.
Joseph ought to hold an especial appeal. He is the Foster-father of Jesus, the Spouse of Mary, and the Patron of the Catholic Church. His life, when placed beside that of Napoleon or a Lindbergh, is surely a modest, quiet, and obscure one. Indeed, many a life, gauged by the world's standards, is "wasted on the desert air." But the eternal standard of God is certainly above all other standards. And it is according to this standard that St. Joseph must be judged.

Holy Writ makes but little mention of Joseph. But, little as the Gospel tells us, we can feel that here was a worthy companion of Jesus and Mary. His faith and obedience equal Abraham's; in patience he rivals Job; his chastity is as heroic as that of the other Joseph;
and, like his forefather David, he was a man "after the heart of God."
He is the model of God for the le-boring classes, as well as for the student who is plodding on in the quest of knowledge.

"Lives of great men all remind us, we can make our lives sublime."
We may not be able to equal them but we can imitate them, if not in the doing of great deeds, at least in nobleness of life. Though we may never be known outside of our immediate surroundings, we can still be great. Everyone who performs well the tasks imposed on him is truly great, and leaves the world at least a little better for his having been in it.—L. W.

FACULTY NOTES

Fr. Director attended the K. of C. memorial services for Mr. Huser, the father of Fred Huser, who is a member of the Sophomore class. Father also worked on some very valuable records belonging to the local county courthouse.

Fr. Florence preached a Lenten sermon at the local parish on Wednesday, March 6. Father officiated at the festive solemnities in honor of St. Joseph at Catharone on March 19. Fr. Florence made his regular trip to Park on March 17. Father will go to Gorham for Holy Week.

Fr. Alfred is intensely interested in the preparations for the minstrel which will be given after Easter. Father gave a lenten sermon here on Wednesday, March 13. He visited Gorham, Antonino and Munjor. Fr. Alfred will assist at the solemn ceremonies in the Cathedral during Holy Week.

Fr. Matthew assisted in the confessional at the local parish. Father will also help out at Hays during Holy Week and Easter Sunday. Fr. Matthew visited Antonino and Munjor last week.

Fr. Denis is assisting Fr. Alfred with the minstrel. Father will assist in Ellis on Palm Sunday. He will help out in the same parish during the latter part of Holy Week and Easter Sunday.

Professor Weigel attended the Knights of Columbus district meeting at Ellis Sunday, March 10.

Coach and Mrs. Lewman Lane spent Saturday and Sunday, March 9 and 10 at St. Marys visiting their parents.

Fr. Virgil was celebrant at the Solemn High Mass in Victoria in honor of St. Joseph on March 19. During Holy Week Father will assist in Collyer and Grainfield.

Fr. Mathias went to Plainville and Russell to witness the H. C. A. basketball games. Father is supervising the work on the College tennis court. Fr. Mathias will go to Wilson for Easter.

SOPHOMORE NOTES

Koch is on the sick list, we think he is homesick, only a few more days Koch, so why be sick?

Mackey and Peay attended the Class B tournament at Ellis, March 8 and 9.

"Believe it or not" Wasinger bought himself a new suit, and believe us, it is a treat for sore eyes.

Prof: What is on your mind, Wasinger?

Wasinger: Nothing.

Prof: Well, you had better get something on it before you answer your history.

Eaton is getting stuck up. We wonder why?

The Sophomore class attended the funeral of Mr. Huser, the father of Fred Huser, in a body Friday morning at 9:30.

Our English prof gave the Sophomores a free class and a real treat Monday morning. The Sophomores wish to extend their most hearty thanks to Fr. Florence.

The College staged an operetta some time ago and the Sophomores took an active part.

Richard Rupp is running around lately with his hair all slicked down and powder on his face, and here we thought Santa Claus was dead.

Ernest Peay has started to grow a mustache but has only three hairs left because Mackey pulled two out.

Eaton is changing his course when he goes walking. He used to walk north but now he goes northwest. Why the change, Eaton?

Rich Rupp and Fred Huser have the gift of gab and do they make use of it? And how!

Richard Keberlein was called down for making noise in study hall. He said he wasn't talking but the real truth is, he was flapping his ears.

Alfred Koch is a real type of a Scotchman and here is our proof. He walked down town the other day and went into a drug store. He saw a clock hanging on the wall running, so he stopped his watch.

LANE'S RECORD COACH HAYS CATHOLIC COLLEGE IS A REMARKABLE ONE

An astonishing record as a basketball coach has been made here by Lewman Lane mentor of the Hays Catholic College quintet for the last three years. The Lane basketeketeers in this period have played 53 games, winning 46, and losing seven; excluding games played in tournaments, and margins of victory gained by opponents in the contests that were lost was by a single point in each instance. Close followers of the court pastime question whether this record ever has been surpassed—if, indeed, it has been equaled,—in high school basketball coaching in the state. This year Lane achieved his premier accomplishment when his team went through the season without a defeat. Fourteen games have been won, eight of which were league contests. Lane is further credited with imparting a training aside from technical skill; "over and above it," one might say, for he is a strict disciplinarian and while his quintets are noted for their aggressiveness, their play as a rule is unusually free from foul tactics and unnecessarily rough play. His fairness and good sportsmanship have won for him the high regard alike of his players and all basketball fans of Hays.—Ellis County News, March 14, 1929.

NEW PHASE OF ATHLETICS

Coach Lane to Organize Indoor Baseball League

Plans are now under consideration whereby a new sport will be introduced at the Hays Catholic Academy. In the very near future Coach Lane will organize an indoor baseball league and all students will be compelled to enter as part of the curriculum. This plan met with general approval and it will satisfy a need that has been felt for some time. Too many students have failed to take sufficient exercise and as a result their health suffered.

WIN IN TOURNAMENT

Bluejays Take Game from Phillipsburg In First Round of Play

The Hays Catholic Academy Bluejays won in the first round of the basketball tournament held here on March 14, 15, 16, by defeating the Phillipsburg high school five, 20 to 15. The Hays team was clearly seen to be off form, and their offensive and defensive play were both rather ragged.

Mackey of the Lane aggregation took high scoring honors with seven points, while Lynch of Phillipsburg was a close second with six points.

FIRST LOSS FOR H. C. A.

Bluejays Defeated First Time this Season, by Wilson Five

The Hays Catholic Academy Bluejays were defeated for the first time this season, after fifteen successive victories, at the second round of play during the tournament, March 15, by the fast Wilson High School five in Class "A".

The Hays team did not display their usual style of play. This, in a large measure, was due to the strenuous season scheduled that they had just finished.

Mackey starred for the Hays team in both offensive and defensive play. Captain Tony Wiesner did not go so well, due to a very recent illness.

For the Wilson five, L. Smith and Mog were perhaps the outstanding players. Each scored seven points.

FRESHY FROLIGS

Sauer has acquired the name of "Daddy Long Legs" because his legs are longer than any other freshman.

Young "Tuff" Spies has no longer his name. It was changed to "Dumb Dora" for various reasons.

Mermis: Can you play handball pretty well, Wolfie?

Wolf: You bet I can. Babe Ruth gets me to practice with him sometimes.

Joe Drees has been "sheiking up" nights when he comes to study hour. What's on, Joe?

The Freshman class had a variety of diseases Monday. And on the door was a sign reading, "Stop, look, listen. Indians on the warpath."

Senior to Freshy: What are you doing there all by your lonesome?

Freshman: Trying to hold this corner up, it might collapse.

Senior: All right, keep holding till you're tired.

Mermis: What is it when two trains meet?

Weigel: Crash, of course.

Mermis: What is it when two cars meet?

Weigel: A collision.

Mermis: What is it when two girls come together?

Weigel: That's got me.

Mermis: Twins.

At the tournament Beilman was talking more than usual and when the crowd quieted down we found him razzing Ellis.

Pat Gleason was run over by ten cars and not hurt the other day. He was under the bridge west of town.

Prof: What is the matter with Leutter's story?

Student: Too dry.

Leutters: Pour some water on it.

Aich went to the tournament to see the basketball games. During the games he read a war story and during the half he wanted to know why they didn't play.

Beilman says his girl is like dandruff, she's always falling on his shoulder.

JUNIOR JOLTS

Coach: Say, Vic if there would have been cablegrams before the War of 1812, what would have happened?

Vic: They would have probably been cut off by the British.

Schreiber, the violinist of the Junior class, went home, claiming to be ill. When he came back he reported a fine time.

English Prof: Say, Logan, give me an adverb of time.

Logan: The clock was behind time.

Father: Say, son, what is your explanation for such low grades?

Son: Father, I told the professor

you wouldn't like it, but he wouldn't change them.

Father, to son: Every time you bring me a report with such low grades, one hair of mine turns gray for every grade.

Son, looking at his grandfather: Father, how many low grades did you bring home?

Hurrah for spring! We shall not worry about spring fever, for the Junior class has too much "pep" for such trifles.

Some members of the class are preparing for track. We hope Walters puts the twelve pound marble out of sight.

Since Schlyer has been taking economics he has been tearing his cigarettes in two.

Bedard is taking his Easter vacation already. Kinda early, we think.

"Sally" Rupp received a diploma in typewriting for writing 29 words a minute with only 6 mistakes.

The only reason we can see why we did not win the tournament is because there were not enough Juniors on the squad.

Bedard, Boucher, Schreiber and Beilman and Schmittie were on the sick list two weeks ago.

SENIOR NOTES

Tony Wiesner was confined to his home the past few days with the "flu."

Albert Spies has accepted a position as bookkeeper for the Hays Produce Company.

Leo: Say, Oscar, what color hair has your sister?

Oscar: I don't know, I haven't been home for a couple of weeks.

Rev. Fr. Denis, our English professor, motored to Russell to witness the basketball game between the Hays Bluejays and the Russell High School.

Fritz, Tuff, Oscar, Leo, John and Tasset had parts in the operetta "Old Glory."

Tony and "Gieby" attended the tournament at Ellis March 9 and 10.

Tony, Gieby and Fred Wiesner played their last game of basketball for H. C. A.

Joe, Tuff and Fritz had an auto accident. No one killed—not even hurt.

Tasset will be glad when Lent is over because he thinks he has forgotten how to dance.

Most of the Seniors enjoyed their first talkie picture, entitled "The Lion and the Mouse."

Since the tournament last week Fred Wiesner keeps his hair "slicked" down. We wonder if Fred got a girl.

Spring fever as yet has not affected any of the Seniors.

A few of the things the Seniors tried to do during the season of Lent:

Tuff: To have no dates. Broken. Very hard to do.

Fritz: Not to go to any show or eat candy. Vitaphone tempted him.

Joe: Not to listen to the radio any longer than ten o'clock. Too many good stations on for Joe.

Tony: Not to step out on his girl while she was away.

New hats $3.75 to 5.50, at the Classic Store.

Tasset: To reduce. A failure. Gained ten pounds.

Johnny: To quit bumming cigarettes. To no avail.

Leo: To quit making eyes at the College girls. Was good for two days. Saturday and Sunday—no school on those days.

Oscar: To behave in religion class. Meaner than ever.

Gieby: To try and get ten hours sleep every night. Impossible.

Dick: To quit sleeping in class. Not so good.

ALUMNI NOTES

A. H. Dreiling '13 has resigned as assistant cashier of the Farmers State Bank at Hays to accept the position as cashier in the Park State Bank at Park, Kan. This move forced D. A. Kuhn '13 to seek a new position. He is engaged as bookkeeper and salesman by the Goetz & Bolben Motor Co., of Park. The Association wishes both continued success.

Richard Dreiling, '15-'17 is the father of a son Eugene Leon. He says he has enough now for a basketball team.

The Alumni were certainly loyal during the basketball season just closed and the students and faculty appreciate it very much.

Mark Ryan '19, Leo Ryan '25 and Henry Bremenkamp '26 were here from the Northwest for the basketball tournament and called at the college.

The Alumni Association extends to Edward Urban '22, and Frank Urban '23, sincere sympathy in the death of their mother, who died Saturday, March 9.

Edgar Roth '16-'20 called at the College on his way home from Seattle, Washington. He has been in the navy for four years and thinks he has enough traveling for a while.

The Alumni Association extends to Ben Huser '23 heartfelt condolence in the death of his father.

PRESENT OPERETTA

"Old Glory" As Presented by Glee Club, Is a Real Hit

The members of the Glee Club, under the direction of Father Alfred, presented a very interesting historical operetta at the College auditorium on Sunday, February 24.

The plot of the operetta, "Old Glory," is centered around Revolutionary times in the Colonies. The members of the cast all carried their respective parts as well as could be expected in any amateur production.

Two scenes deserve special commendation. The first, that of an angel appearing to console the forlorn and lonely "Simple Peter." The second was the clever imitation of three tramps who were willing to join the army, providing they would have nothing to do but eat, sleep and drink!
