

Project 3C Presents: Indigenous Girls in STEM

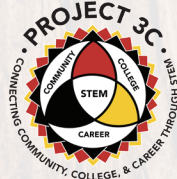

Blooming Your STEM Power

January 29, 2022 • 9 a.m.-4 p.m.

An in-person event learning about plants and where our food comes from. Learn more on how plants have the power to heal and keep Indigenous people going!

Serving Native Americans in grades 6-8 who reside in Robeson, Scotland, Cumberland and Hoke counties.

Registration Deadline: January 22, 2022

For more information, contact Francine Cummings:

910.775.4723 • project3c@uncp.edu • uncp.edu/project3c

Project 3C (Connecting community, college and career through STEM) is a grant initiative funded by the U.S. Department of Education's Office of Indian Education and awarded to the Lumbee Tribe of North Carolina. The programs are facilitated by the consortium partner, The University of North Carolina at Pembroke.

Register online:
uncp.edu/project3c

This publication is available in alternative formats upon request.
Please contact the Accessibility Resource Center, Oxendine
Administrative Building, Room 110, or call 910.521.6695.

