This January, why not start the year with an empty jar and fill it with notes about good things that happen. Then, on New Years Eve, empty it and see what awesome stuff happened that year.

In ancient Roman mythology, Janus is the god of beginnings and transitions, also of gates, doors, doorways, endings and time. He is usually a two-faced god since he looks to the future and the past. The Romans dedicated the month of January to Janus.

New Years Eve

Every December 31st, the old year ends and the new year begins, as we all know. Civilizations have been celebrating the new year for at least four millenia, showing that this really isn't an old holiday. Typical traditions for the New Years include celebrating with friends and family at parties, eating special foods for new years, and making resolutions.

Martin Luther King Jr. Day

DOB January 15, 1929

Martin Luther King Jr. was a Baptist minister who sought to end racial injustice and segregation in his time through nonviolence and peace. He first came to a national level when he boycotted the busses. He was the most influential civil rights leader in the 1960s, and was a major reason for the Civil Rights act of 1964. MLK is best known for his “I have a Dream” speech from August 28, 1963.
