Public Comments:

President, Dr. Thomas Flanders, opened the floor to public comments.

Ms. Ro Avila, Delhi, New York, asked Mr. Whipple to clarify the decrease in the teacher's retirement. Mr. Whipple replied that it is mostly because of the interest rates being up that the fund is doing well, so the savings to the system eventually filters down to the districts as it is now starting to do.

Mr. Will Outsen, Delhi, New York. When you went over the estimated revenues, you mentioned a decrease due to BOCES rental – is that because BOCES isn't renting a classroom? Mr. Thomson answered it is because we brought the students back to this district and we are servicing them here.

Mr. Outsen asked about the AL Kellogg fund - does that represent all of the interest we are able to spend? He understands that whatever interest is earned, we are able to spend so the $83,000 figure represents what we are able to spend? Are we spending all of that in the budgets?

Mr. Whipple replied that he "thinks that is a conservative figure" from a few years ago when the AL Kellogg fund was way down and fortunately, like the retirement system, the AL Kellogg fund has been doing well the past few years, so we have more money to spend. Mr. Outsen replied that his question is if we are receiving all of that interest, why isn't it being applied to taxpayers to keep costs down? Mr. Whipple replied that AL Kellogg funds are a dedicated fund. There are limitations on what the fund can spend money on.

Mr. Outsen stated "so the $83,500 can only be spent on the particular elements listed?

Trustee, Wayne Oliver explained that 1) the income from this fund is in the form of interest and dividends, 2) there are certain things this fund can be used for such as capital. Trustee Oliver explained that at the time of preparation of the budget, they have to estimate what the amount of the AL Kellogg funds will be and their goal is to not go over that amount and have to be in a position where they will need to pay back the funds. They are not allowed to go over the limits of spending the amount earned by the funds. Often times the Board doesn't spend every penny; however, they try to get as close as they can.

Mr. Outsen inquired about the benefits for healthcare - what is the current contribution that teachers are putting in for their benefits?

Mr. Thomson replied 15%, which is the best in the area. The entire supervisory staff and entire administrative staff pay a 20% contribution rate.

Mr. Outsen asked how often does the District investigate for better healthcare cost benefits to make sure we are getting the best rates?

Mr. Thomson replied that the rates are a contractual rate that is locked in for the duration of the contract. The administration looks at every angle.

Mr. Whipple elaborated on Mr. Thomson's reply by explaining that the District changed the healthcare plan a few years ago which resulted in a decreased cost to both the District and the teachers.

Mr. Outsen inquired about the lease of the buses vs. purchasing the buses.

Mr. Whipple explained that the District will receive more state aid by leasing (60% return) than if the District was to purchase the bus. The net cash outlay for seven buses for each of five years if the District leases is $56,400. The net cash outlay for seven buses for each of five years if the District were to purchase is $102,663. If the District purchases, the aid is spread out over five years and it would cost the District interest. If the District leases, the aid is received yearly – a substantial savings.

Mr. Outsen asked if the any of the money in the AL Kellogg fund could be taken to put toward the purchase of buses.

Mr. Whipple replied the spending of the AL Kellogg funds is limited. The purchase of buses would not be something the funds could be used for.

Mr. Outsen inquired about the cost per student to go to BOCES vs. the cost to send them to the new CTEP program.

Mr. Thomson replied that the students that will be attending the CTEP program were students that were slated to go to BOCES so the District is using existing money that would be spent for these students to attend BOCES. The cost is approximately $16,000 per student to attend a CTEP program at BOCES. The cost is very close to send them to SUNY Delhi – he didn't have the exact figure available with him. One of the deciding factors for this program was when the administration looked at the amount of time these students were spending on the bus from here to BOCES; they came up with a conservative estimate of 400 contact hours the students were missing in instruction due to transportation. Mr. Thomson stated that they are very excited about this program, but they are approaching the CTEP program cautiously to make sure they work out any bugs and to make sure they have a clear vision for the next five years. They found that the amount of time the students spend on the bus vs. the BOCES aid the District receives, which is the second lowest of 16 component districts which is set by our wealth ratio. These are variables that BOCES does not control; these are variables that the District doesn't control so we're going to try to work within the parameters that we can control which is to forge partnerships with SUNY Delhi; keep the money here in Delhi, and keep our talent and students close to home. Mr. Thomson feels that all-in-all, the CTEP program will be a great program.

Mr. Outsen inquired about the salary of the full-time teacher the District is hiring for the CTEP program. What is the teacher's responsibility? Will she be responsible for teaching these students the other required courses when they return to the District?

Mr. Thomson reported that the teacher will be responsible for teaching the students the remaining required courses for graduation. The CTEP students will receive a full diploma plus 32 credit hours from SUNY Delhi when they graduate. The District reserves the right of the exact assignment because it is a pilot program. We may find the teacher will have time she can address other talents in other arenas, but at this point, she will be dedicated to the CTEP students. SUNY Delhi is also hiring a teaching assistant to be dedicated to these students while they are attending class on campus.

Mr. Outsen inquired about the possibility of another CTEP program next year.

Mr. Thomson stated they will not commit to anything until they see how this program works out. The District will need to observe this program, take copious notes, and try to make an informed decision before moving forward with other programs.

Mr. Outsen inquired about several pay increases in the budget. Mr. Thomson stated that there is a logical rationale for that; however, they can't discuss personnel.

Mr. Outsen inquired about the increase to the attorney's salary. Is the District requiring more service from the attorney? Mr. Thomson replied the increase is a contractual obligation.

Mr. Thomson thanked Mr. Outsen for the great questions.

There were no further questions and Mr. Whipple thanked everyone for coming to the Budget Hearing.

President, Dr. Thomas Flanders opened the floor to public comments.

Ms. Laurie Rolfe, Delhi, New York thanked the candidates for running for the Board of Education and stated that it isn't easy to get up on stage in front of everyone. Ms. Rolfe thanked the current Board of Education for doing a great job.

President, Dr. Thomas Flanders reminded the audience that the next regular meeting of the Board of Education is on Monday, May 18, 2015 and the Budget Vote and Board of Education Elections is on Tuesday, May 19, 2015 from Noon to 8:00 p.m. in the Middle School lobby.

On a motion made by Trustee, Jay Wilson, seconded by Trustee, Tammy Neumann, the Budget Hearing was adjourned at 8:22 p.m.

Respectfully submitted,
