

BACK-TO-SCHOOL 2022

KICKOFF

the New School Year

It's that time of year again! The back-to-school season is both exciting and hectic. How can we provide the differentiated instruction that our students need, while still prioritizing teacher growth and well-being? Where can we find time for both tailored instruction and tailgating? There's much to consider as educators plan now for the 2022–23 school year. What follows are resources and tips that will support efforts to save teacher planning time and foster their professional development.

Keep All Star Teachers at the Top of Their Game

Support Educators with Instructional Coaching

Professional athletes rely on coaches to constantly improve their skills. Yet in education, there is often a stigma associated with instructional coaching being used solely for poor performers.

In reality, coaching can ensure that instructors, at all performance levels, remain motivated and stay on top of their game.

Here are 5 tips to help maximize your next coaching opportunity:

- 1 HAVE CLEAR EXPECTATIONS
Know exactly what to expect to take full advantage of time with a coach
- 2 KEEP THE GOAL IN MIND
Be aware of any administrator focus areas and determine the areas you'd like to enhance
- 3 BUILD RAPPORT
A strong relationship with your coach can lead to a better understanding of how to support you
- 4 RESPOND TO FEEDBACK
Having an open mindset towards feedback will enable you to change your actions
- 5 TRACK PROGRESS
Reflecting on your development over time is empowering and can help you continue your coaching journey
