EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

Background

The HR Services Division of the Texas Association of School Boards (TASB) conducted a survey of McAllen Independent School District (MISD) employees in early February through the beginning of March at the request of the district.

The purpose of the survey was to assess employee attitudes and level of satisfaction with their jobs and work conditions. Survey information may be used by district leaders to understand how respondents perceive specific issues and to reveal the general level of job satisfaction among employees. School districts benefit from an engaged workforce because highly engaged employees remain involved, passionate, and dedicated to their work, according to Gallup's "State of the American Workforce Report" (2013). The same report noted that organizations with more engaged employees also find themselves with lower absenteeism, lower turnover, and higher productivity.

TASB HR Services developed the survey in collaboration with McAllen ISD in 2013. Originally MISD provided the survey to all teacher and professional staff only; however, the district decided to include instructional aides in 2018. In order to maintain year-to-year comparisons, the reports starting in 2018 are separated between teacher/professional and instructional aides.

Most of the survey requested that employees respond to statements using a Likert-type scale. Some responses were combined for purposes of analysis. For example, throughout this report, "strongly agree" and "agree" responses were combined to indicate a positive response.

The survey included 11 categories of questions to gather data about the following:

- Demographics
- Job Satisfaction
- Working Conditions
- Compensation and Benefits
- Relationship with Coworkers
- Relationship with Supervisor
- District Communications
- District Leadership (Superintendent & Board of Trustees)
- Campus Environment
- Curriculum and Instruction Support
- Student Discipline Support

Survey Administration and Respondents

McAllen ISD provided HR Services a list of employee e-mail addresses, and at the time of survey launch there were 2,444 employees and 399 were instructional aide employees. HR Services sent an e-mail with a link to the survey to MISD staff requesting their participation. All employee responses were submitted directly to TASB. A total of 1,898 employees participated, yielding a response rate of 78 percent, which is slightly below the 2020 response rate of 79 percent. Of those, 299 were instructional aide employees, yielding a response rate of 75 percent for that group, which is slightly higher the 2020 rate of 74 percent.

Major Findings

By Survey Topic

The table below shows a summary of positive responses for each topic presented on the survey. These represent the percentage of respondents who chose agree or strongly agree, averaged across the items in a topic.

On average, job satisfaction had the highest percentage of positive responses (95 percent), while compensation and benefits had the lowest (73 percent). Subsequent sections of the report will include charts and highlight specific items within each topic.

Survey Topic (order from survey)	Positive (Average)
District Communications	90%
District Leadership	86%
Job Satisfaction	95%
Relationship with Supervisor	91%
Relationship with Coworkers	94%
Campus Environment	94%
Working Conditions	92%

DEMOGRAPHICS

A total of 299 surveys were submitted, yielding a response rate of 75 percent. Respondents were asked for their job type first in order to show only relevant questions; for example, only teachers received questions about student discipline (captured in the professionals report).

Participation by Job Type

Job Type	# of Employees	# of Respondents	Participation Rate	% of Total Survey
Instructional Aide	399	299	75%	100%
Total	399	299	75%	100%

Representation by Work Location

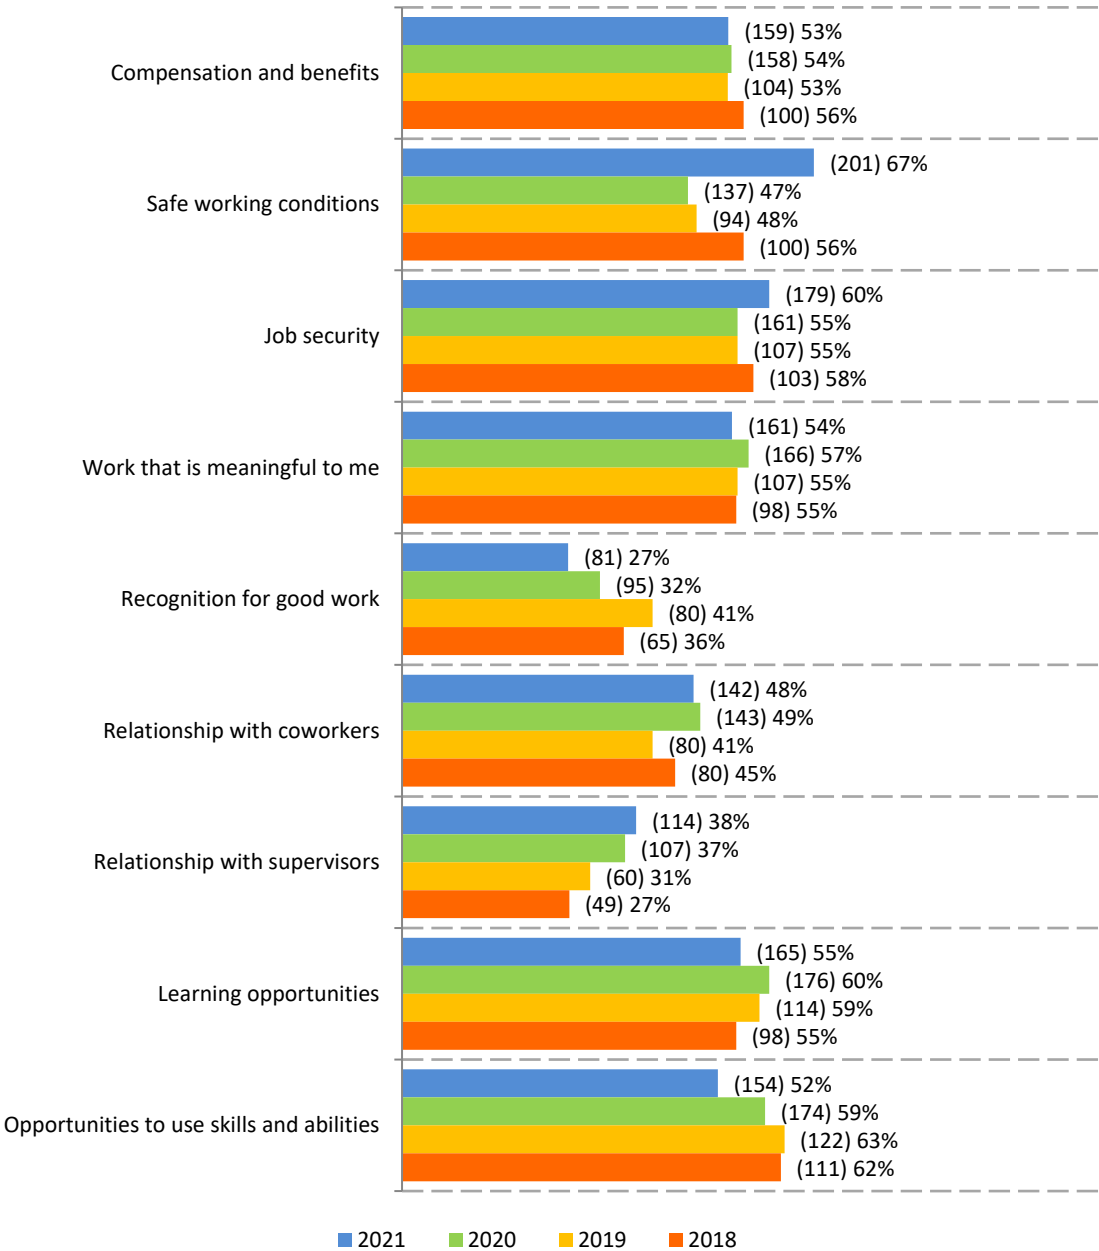

All work locations were represented in the survey. More than half of participants (61 percent) worked at the elementary schools.

FINDINGS BY SURVEY TOPIC

Job Satisfaction Factors

Respondents could choose up to five items that they valued as most important to their job satisfaction.

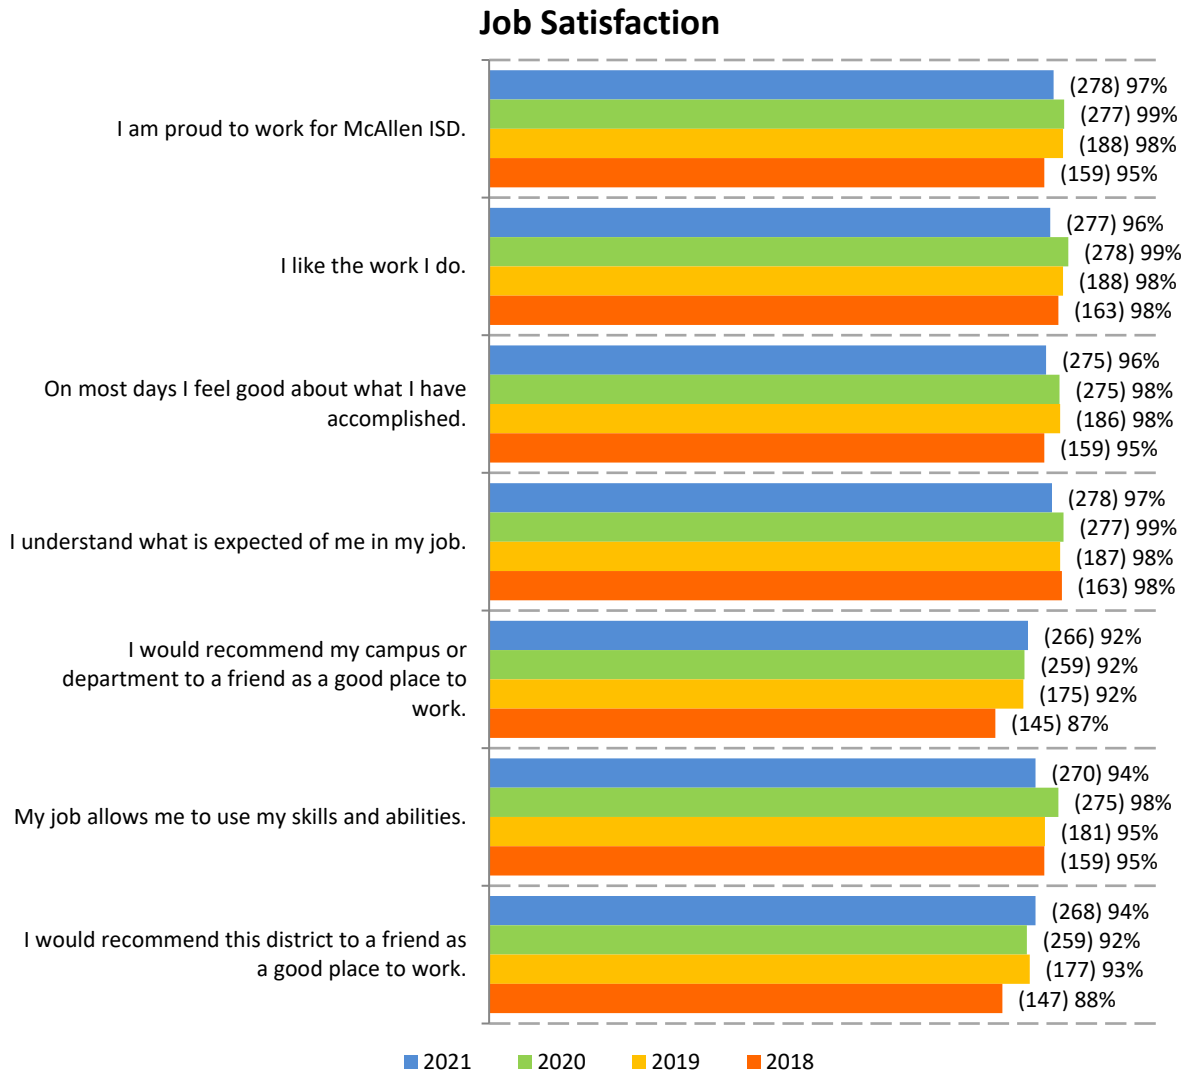

Factors that Contribute to Job Satisfaction

Six factors were chosen by over half of respondents: safe working conditions (67 percent), job security (60 percent), learning opportunities (55 percent), work that is meaningful (54 percent), compensation and benefits (53 percent), and opportunities to use skills and abilities (52 percent). Safe working conditions increased by 20 points from last year, where previously it had been in the high 40s over the last two years.

Likert-type Scale Questions

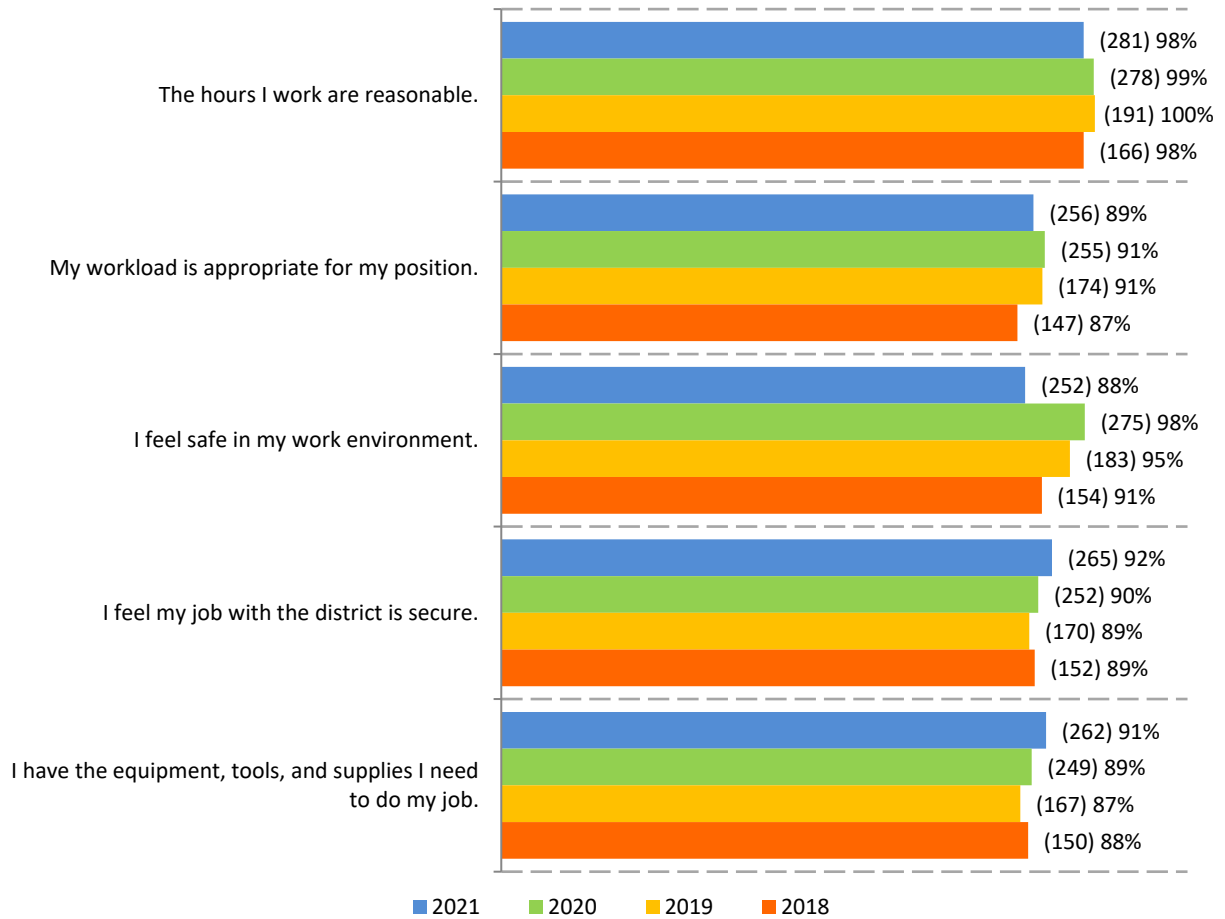

The remaining sections of the survey provided respondents with a list of statements and asked for their level of agreement. Response categories were strongly agree, agree, disagree, strongly disagree, and no opinion/not applicable. The categories of strongly agree and agree were combined for these charts to indicate a positive response.

Survey participants responded favorably regarding job satisfaction, with at least 92 percent expressing agreement with each statement. Respondents were slightly more likely to recommend the district as a good place to work than their particular campus, but only by a small margin. Four items had 96 percent or higher agreement: proud to work for MISD, understand expectations (both 97 percent), like the work, and feel good about accomplishments (both 96 percent).

Most items in this section saw a 2 to 4 point decrease from last year; however, with 95 percent agreement, on average, indicates that the district respondents are again satisfied by the work they do. Later topics will give additional insight into what items, outside of the job itself, make respondents satisfied with their employment at McAllen ISD.

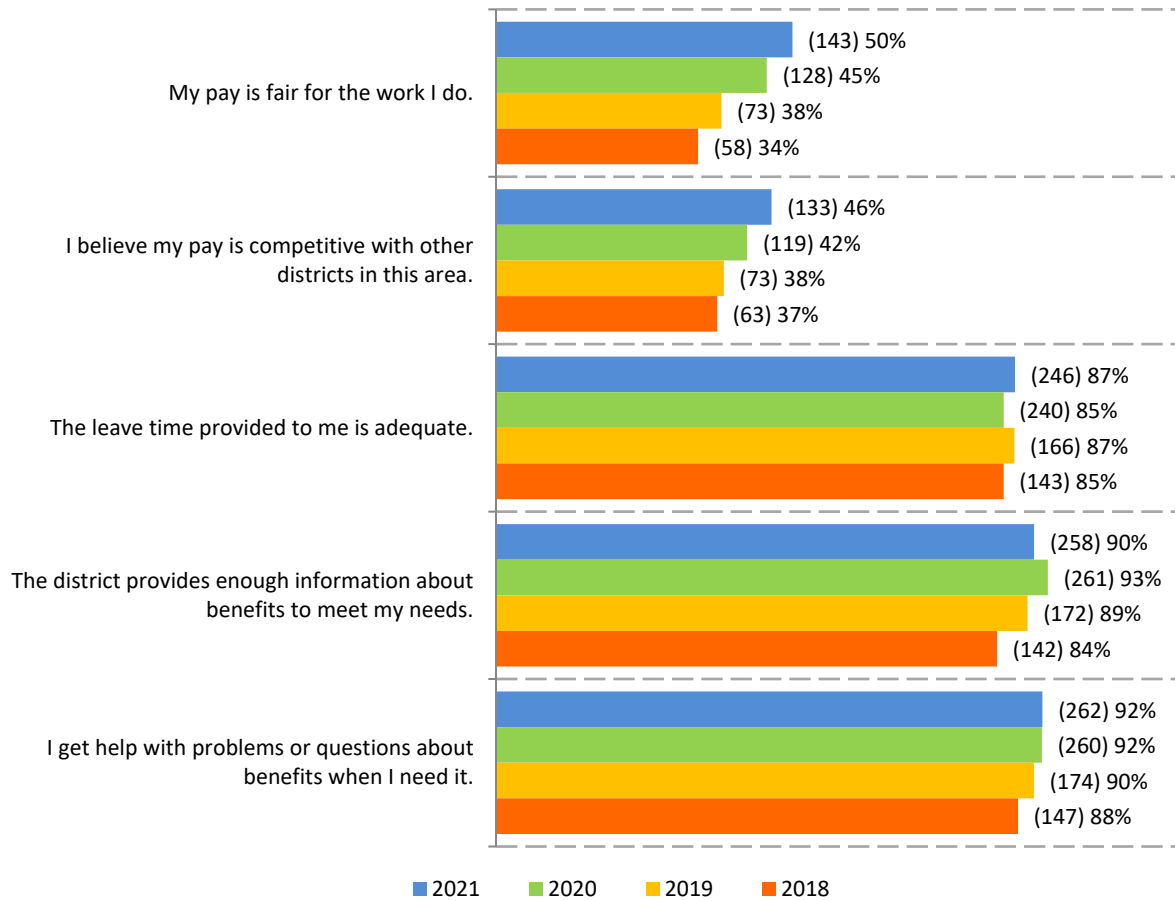

Working Conditions

Overall, McAllen ISD respondents expressed satisfaction with their working conditions. Respondents almost unanimously report reasonable work hours (98 percent) and feel secure in their employment (92 percent). Most believe they have the tools or supplies needed to do their jobs (91 percent) and that their workload is appropriate (89 percent).

Regarding safe work environment, 88 percent agree their work environment is safe, a decrease of 10 points compared to last year. All other items remained steady from last year, with results remaining within 2 percentage points from 2020.

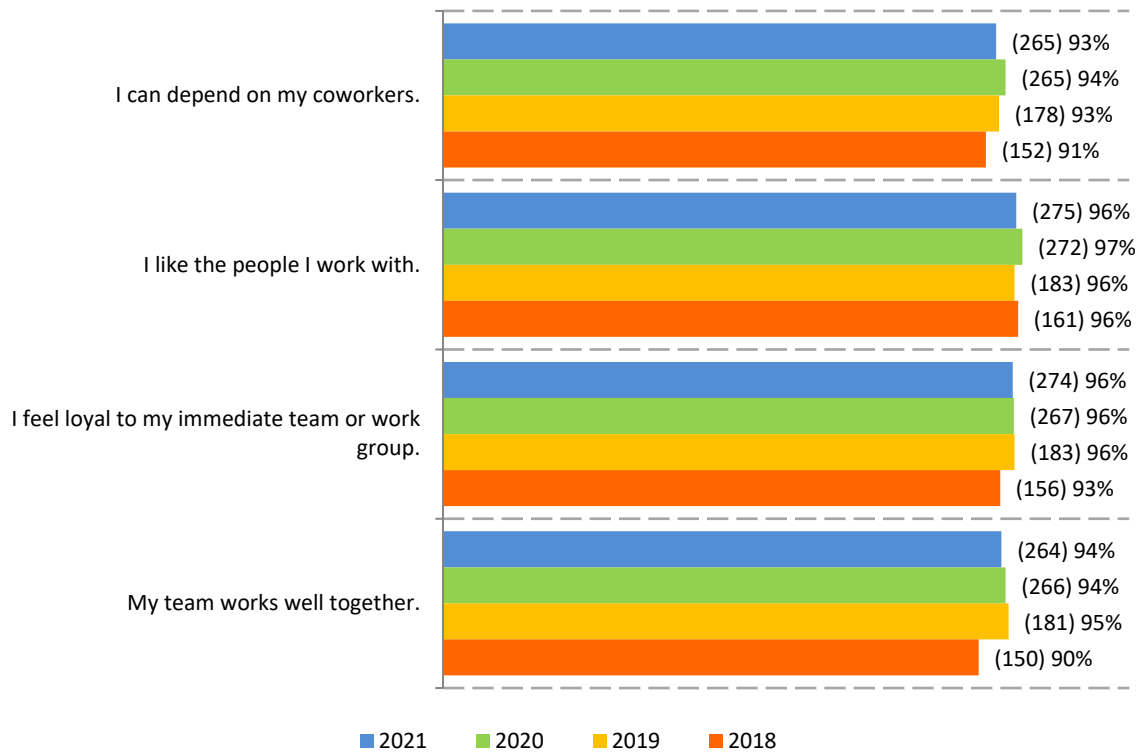

Compensation and Benefits

Most respondents are satisfied with the assistance they receive when they have questions about benefits (92 percent) and with the information they receive about benefits (90 percent). Further, 87 percent of respondents feel that the leave time provided is adequate.

Respondents were less inclined to agree that their pay was fair (50 percent) or competitive with other districts in the area (46 percent). Both items have continued to increase over the last four years with gains of 9 points for pay is competitive and 16 points for pay is fair when compared to 2018.

Relationship with Coworkers

Respondents view coworker relationships very favorably, with at least 93 percent of respondents agreeing with each item in this topic. Opinions remained steady, with all answers remaining the same or within 4 percentage points over previous years.

Respondents almost unanimously like their coworkers and feel loyal to their team (both 96 percent). In addition, they agreed that the team works well together (94 percent), and coworkers were dependable (93 percent).

Relationship with Supervisor

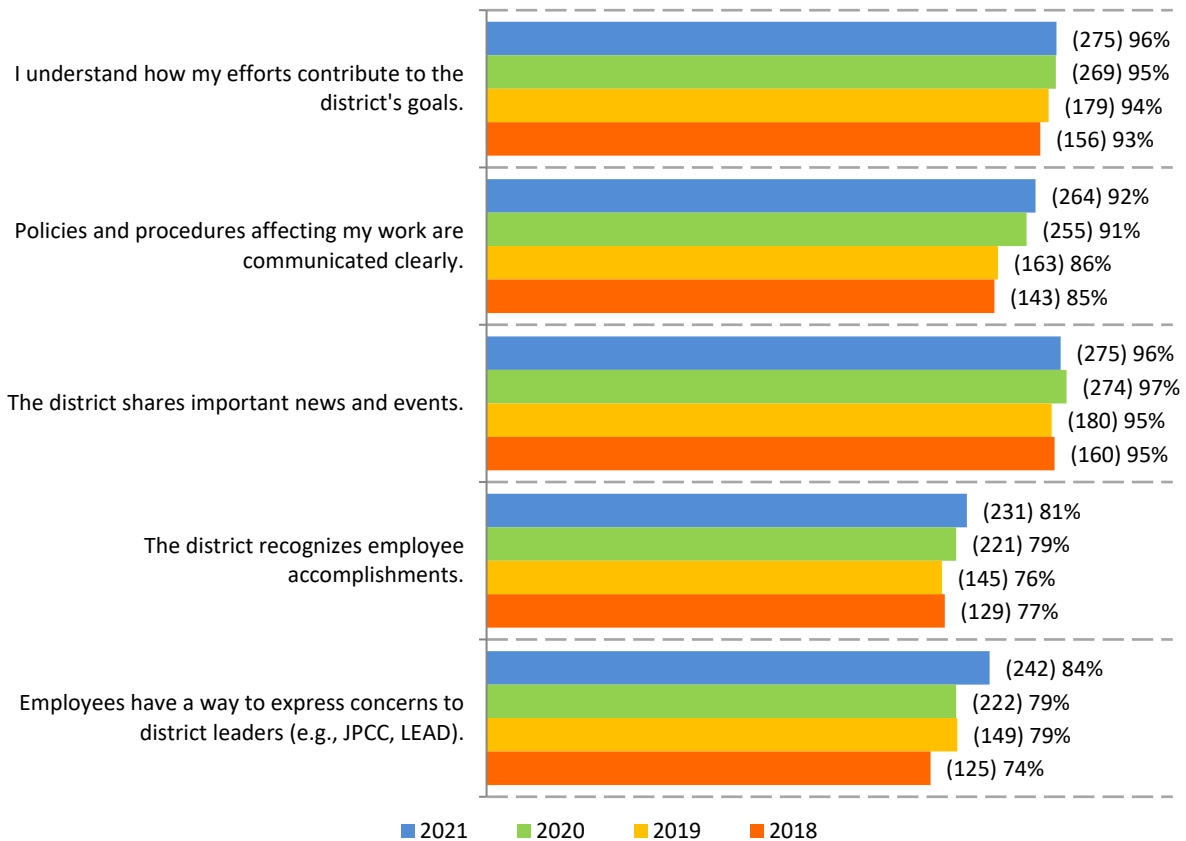

Supervisor relationships foster employee engagement in the short-term, by clarifying expectations and providing feedback, and in the long-term, by monitoring progress and encouraging growth.

Most respondents agreed with the statements about their supervisor across all areas surveyed. For every item in this section, at least 87 percent of respondents agreed with the statement presented. The two strongest areas were respondents reporting that they trust their supervisor and they like their supervisor (both 93 percent). The weakest area was getting the training needed to do job effectively (87 percent), but that has gradually improved, totaling a 9 point increase since 2018.

Supervisors were viewed favorably overall, and all items increase 3 points, on average. Most notably, three items increased by at least 5 points: supervisors communicate openly (92 percent), respondents are allowed to make decisions within their scope of authority (91 percent), and respondents received useful feedback (90 percent). These items have continued to increase or maintain position over the last four years.

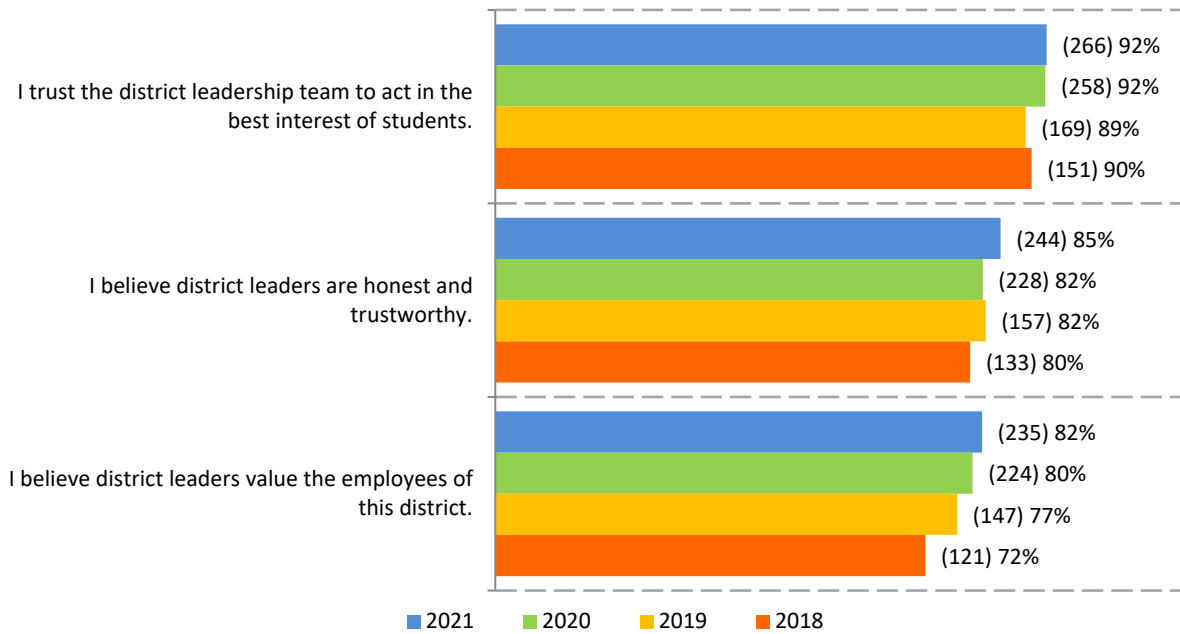

District Communications

Respondents viewed district communications positively, with most items continuing the slight upward trend over the last four years. Almost all respondents, 96 percent in both cases, understand how their efforts contribute to the district and feel that the district shares important news and events.

The fewest respondents, but still more than 80 percent, agree that employees have a way to express concerns to leaders (84 percent) and that the district recognizes employee accomplishments (81 percent). Additionally, employees have a way to express concerns to leaders had more notable increase (up 5 points compared to 2020 and 10 points compared to 2018).

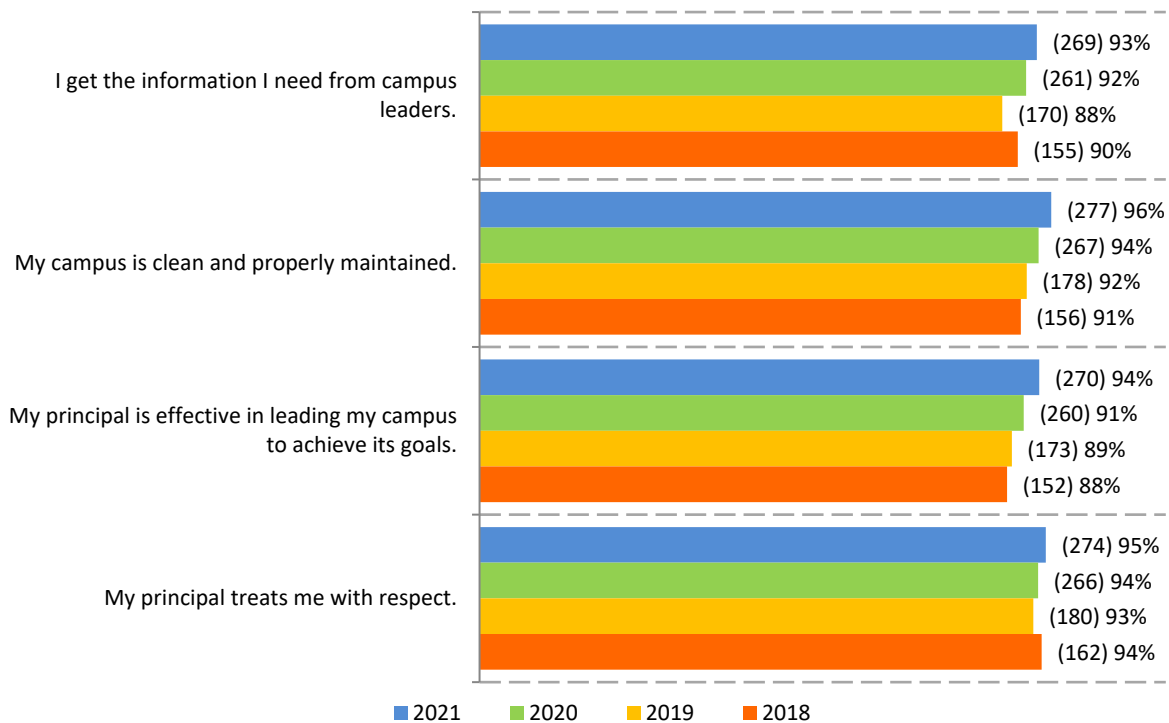

District Leadership (Superintendent, Board of Trustees)

Most respondents agreed with items in the district leadership section, with 92 percent trusting the district leaders to act in the best interest of students. District leaders are believed to be trustworthy by 85 percent of respondents, and 82 percent believe that district leaders value the employees.

This demonstrates that district leadership were viewed favorably overall, with all items increasing slightly or remaining the same from last year. Since 2018, believing district leaders to be trustworthy has increased 10 points.

Campus Environment

Nearly all respondents agreed with the statements about campus environment, with at least 93 percent agreeing with each item in this topic. Opinions increased slightly compared to last year and has continued a positive trend since 2019. Respondents agreed their campus is clean and properly maintained (96 percent) and believe their principal is effective in leading a campus towards goals (94 percent). Both items have increased 5 points since 2018. In addition, respondents feel their principal treats them with respect (95 percent) and 93 percent reported getting the information they need from campus leaders.

Summary

Overall, survey participants this year viewed their jobs and the district favorably. In most cases, responses remained consistent with last year's results. The majority of topics had 90 percent or higher agreement on the statements provided; 95 percent of items had 80 percent or above in agreement.

Some topics showed variation from last year. The following topics saw slight decreases in favorable responses: working conditions and job satisfaction. On the other hand, slight increases were seen in the topics of district communications, relationship with supervisor, and compensation and benefits.

The following topics had responses most consistent with last year's results: district leadership, relationship with coworkers, and campus environment.

COMMENTS

Additional comments were provided by 818 people, which represents 43 percent of survey respondents. These comments represent a larger subset of respondents than McAllen ISD typically receives. However, the district should consider these in light of results from related questions presented earlier in the final report. During the timeframe of the employee survey, the survey was administered for a total of five weeks and during this time there was an unforeseen statewide storm and district policies to return back to in person learning had occurred. Depending on when an employee completed their survey, opinions and campus environment could have changed differently for individuals.
