

We have amazing educators at Northern Cass, and we want to share their greatness with you.

SHANNON SPRAGUE

KITCHEN ASSISTANT

It means a great deal to me to be able to provide delicious, healthy meals to our children and staff, and to do so with a smile.

A TEAM ABOVE ALL. ABOVE ALL, A TEAM.

Shannon Sprague is a kitchen assistant. She enjoys baking, cooking, gardening, fishing, camping, traveling, and the fine arts. She and her two younger children, Lincoln and Chloe, live in Grandin with her older daughter, Loran. Granddaughter, Abigail, just turned 3 and will soon join the Jaguar family! Shannon's oldest son and her parents live in Indiana. Delton, her boyfriend, is one of her biggest fans and her best friend. Shannon feels blessed to have wonderful family and friends who love and support her.

Shannon loves Northern Cass because she feels we care about our learners, and she sees this on a daily basis. "Northern Cass is a special place full of special people." She thinks the best thing about learners is their ability to turn her day around on a moment's notice. When they come flooding into the cafeteria, excited to have a break and grab some lunch, it makes her happy instantly. Her educator superpower is smiling: smiles are free to give and easy to share.

Kaylee Glaser is our art educator. Originally from Dahlen, ND, Kaylee now lives in Hillsboro with her husband Andrew and their dogs, Winnie and Sage. She enjoys doing anything involving art, creativity, or using her hands. She loves painting, watercoloring, pottery, printmaking, and furniture flipping. She also enjoys thrifting, antiquing, interior design/house projects, and going for walks and hikes with Andrew and the pups.

Mrs. Glaser loves that Northern Cass has a small school feel with big school opportunities. She considers us lucky to have a variety of electives available for our learners, and she feels fortunate to teach a wide range of art classes. She loves the support she and the art program receive at Northern Cass. Mrs. Glaser loves watching learners develop their ideas and grow in their artistic skills. She feels like they teach her just as much as she teaches them sometimes. They inspire her every day. Kaylee's educator superpower is being a very calm, patient person. She also tries her best to be very clean and organized, which is important in an art learning center with so many tools, supplies, and materials.

KAYLEE GLASER

ART EDUCATOR

I believe in creating an environment that encourages creativity and is a safe space for learners to explore new skills and grow through feedback. I want to provide my learners with opportunities that challenge their creative problem-solving skills and give them freedom to express themselves through their own ideas and artwork.

A TEAM ABOVE ALL. ABOVE ALL, A TEAM.

NICK WRIGHT

SECONDARY SOCIAL STUDIES EDUCATOR

I believe our experiences in education impact us in ways that no other experience can and that engaging in historical thinking can make us more thoughtful of the world around us.

A TEAM ABOVE ALL. ABOVE ALL, A TEAM.

Nick Wright is a Social Studies educator for secondary learners. He is married to Oak Grove educator, Abbi Wright. He and Abbi have a two-year-old daughter, Lila Jane, and another daughter due in May! Nick enjoys sports - especially football, baseball, and golf.

Mr. Wright loves the close environment at Northern Cass, where everyone knows each other's names. He thinks the best thing about learners is how they bring energy and a hope for the future. Mr. Wright's superpower is finding ways to get learners excited about topics that many often call "boring."
