The Fayetteville School District recognizes the importance of involving parents and the community in promoting higher student achievement. The District strives to develop and maintain the capacity for meaningful and productive parental and community involvement that results in partnerships that are mutually beneficial to schools, students, parents, and the community. Each school has a parent involvement plan. The district plan is comprised of the individual school plans. All of the components of Act 307 and ACT 397 are integrated into the parent involvement plans. Federal funds supplement, not supplant, state mandated parental involvement requirements. At minimum, 1% of our 2015 allocation ($22,048) will be spent on parental engagement initiatives. This money is allocated to the building level and included in building ACSIP plans. Classroom teachers, administrators, ESL teachers, Title I teachers, instructional assistants, parents, and the Director of Federal Programs will attend professional meetings and conferences on the local, state, and national level. These conferences will be on interventions that are research based. The Homeless Coordinator, Special Ed personnel, and others will be included when appropriate. In addition to parents and district personnel attending conferences, outside resources/presenters will be brought into the district. This will include using funds to pay for the ARKTESOL Conference and the ESL Academy tuition and fees. This year the focus for professional development will be curriculum alignment, improvement of literacy and math instruction, differentiated instruction, and the procurement and retention of "Highly Qualified" teachers and paraprofessionals. Trainings will include but not be limited to: TESOL, ARKTESOL, Guided Language Acquisition Design, ASCD, Word Journeys, and SIOP. Trainings will be within and outside the state of Arkansas. Services will be comparable to those provided to children in Title I funded schools with the focus on literacy and math, specifically additional educational opportunities such as summer school programs, concurrent enrollment programs, educational testing, and textbooks. Health, hygiene and other issues will be addressed based on individual student needs. Allocation of funds and services will be determined on an individual student basis by the school's Title I/ACSIP committee. The district will work diligently to tap into every available resource from community organizations and other agencies, which provide for the needs of students and their families. Title I funds will be used to provide supplemental materials and supplies for homeless students when there are no other resources available. The district will continue to actively involve parents in the education of their children. Compacts and written parent involvement policies on the building level will tie directly to the district's effort of building parental capacity for involvement. Parent resources available in each building will describe the high-quality curriculum, instruction, and expectations that will enable all students to meet high standards. In the area of parent involvement, particular attention will be given to parents who are economically disadvantaged, disabled, have limited English proficiency, have limited literacy, or are of any racial or ethnic minority background. This intervention includes communicating in a language and/or form all parents can understand. Materials purchased will include native language materials to assist student and parent development of their native language. The district will support and enhance the efforts on the building level to encourage parents to interact with other parents, conference with teachers, make use of Adult Ed ESL classes and other community resources, participate in family literacy and math programs, come into the classroom as instructional resources, and become informed about effective strategies for working with students at home. For secondary students who are identified as at-risk, an alternative learning environment with access to services of a school counselor/mental health professional, a nurse, and support services will be provided by the district. This program is called ALLPS, Agee-Lierly Life Preparation and Services Center. The ALLPS Center is an integral part of the Fayetteville School District and will offer educational programs and services designed to support the development of students whose educational needs are not being met by traditional programs. A student placement team will include the school counselor, the ALLPS director or principal, a parent or legal guardian, and a regular classroom teacher. Student placement in the ALLPS Center will be determined by the ALLPS Placement Team. 2. Summary Findings for Standard 1-Curriculum

The district does not have a fully developed curriculum in all areas.

The district has made some effort to ensure that Arkansas Curriculum Frameworks and Common Core State Standards are articulated through the district.

Committees and policies exist to review, monitor and evaluate curriculum.

There are some connections to post-secondary education, life and career options.

The district has initiated a process to monitor, evaluate, review, and revise curriculum systematically. Students have access to a core curriculum, but a challenging and rigorous curriculum is not available to all. Little Special consideration is given to addressing curriculum issues at transition points where students move from one school to another. Summary Findings for Standard 1-Curriculum

There is evidence that the curriculum is aligned with the Arkansas Curriculum Frameworks, however district curriculum documents are limited.

The district has made some effort to ensure that Arkansas Curriculum Frameworks and Common Core State Standards are articulated through the district. The district Curriculum Coordinating Council has established procedures and structures addressing vertical and horizontal alignment.

The implemented curriculum provides some opportunity for real-world application.

The district has initiated a process to monitor, evaluate, review, and revise curriculum systematically.

Holt Middle School findings:

Students have access to a core curriculum, but a challenging and rigorous curriculum is not available to all.

Most course offerings provide opportunity for students to access curriculum aligned with the Arkansas Curriculum Frameworks and the Common Core State Standards.

3. Summary Findings for Standard 3-Instruction

Some teachers implement a number of research-based instructional strategies.

Most teachers use pacing guides aligned to Arkansas Curriculum Frameworks to develop standards-based lessons.

School Administrators regularly conduct classroom walkthroughs and observations to monitor instruction.

Four Teachers are National Board certified, and seven are in the process.

The district has an approved technology plan, however most teachers do not fully utilized available technology.

Instructional resources are adequate in most content areas.

There is a school-wide process for teachers to meet on a regular basis to analyze individual student work samples and other data.

Some teachers give homework for the purpose of additional practice, however there is no school-wide expectation for the amount assigned at each grade level.

Summary findings for HOLT MIDDLE SCHOOL:

Summary Findings for Standard 3-Instruction Most classrooms have sufficient instructional resources.

Most instructional materials are age and/or developmentally appropriate.

Teacher-centered whole-group instruction is provided in many classrooms.

Most instructional strategies are aligned with district curriculum.

School leadership monitors classrooms through learning walks.

Two Teachers are National Board certified.

The district has an approved technology plan, however most teachers do not fully utilized available technology. Instructional resources are adequate in most content areas.

The Holt Middle School student handbook gives homework allotment times for each grade level. However, homework practices are inconsistent.

Goal All certified staff will participate in the development, alignment and improvement of the district curriculum.
It will be rigorous, intentional and aligned to state and local standards.

Benchmark By August of 2015, 100% of the staff will have identified and shared core concepts of their curriculum.
