

Happy Monday!
11/7/22

Hello South School Shark Families and Friends -

The South School had a fantastic week this past week! We are putting out Monday Updates this week due the upcoming school schedule this week.

Tuesday - No School - Voting Day and SPS Teacher Professional Development
Friday - No School - Veterans Day

We do have a lot coming up this month including the district sponsored Native American Storytelling event tonight at the Stoughton High School Auditorium Monday, November 7, 2022 from 5:00-6:00pm. The flyer is attached below and you can also access here. We will also be having the Discovery Museum Science Laboratory program the week of November 14th-17th. A big thank you to the PTO for sponsoring this opportunity for all students at all grade levels. Finally, the book fair was a tremendous success this week. All students left with books and the excitement in getting to pick out books, learn how to spend your money wisely, etc. was a fantastic opportunity for students. Thank you to the PTO for making this book fair readily accessible to both students and families during after school hours.
