

WEEK 1: Potpourri

■ Sentence Fragment, Capitalization

Athens, a city in greece named after athena, the greek goddess of war and wisdom.

■ Using the Right Word, Run-On Sentence

In Greek myth, centaurs were half man and half horse apparently, that did not seam totally weird too people back than.

■ Capitalization, Apostrophe, Adjective (Articles)

In japan its considered good luck to cross the path of an black cat.

■ Numbers, Comma (Interjections), End Punctuation

Wow people in the world drink more than 260,000,000 glasses of soda every day

■ Quotation Marks, Comma (Appositives), Subject-Verb Agreement

Aesop the writer of such famous fables as The Fox and the Grapes were a Greek slave.