

Chapter 4, Lesson 1, Study Guide

A Century of Expansion

The Ummayyad leader who became 5th caliph of the Islamic Empire was:

--

He moved the capital of the empire from Medina to:

--

He patterned his organized system of government rules after those of the:

In order to run the government of each province, he appointed:

This style of governing could best be described as a:

--	--	--

Abd al Malik, caliph from 685 to 705, unified the empire by introducing a common:

language	coinage	religious architecture
----------	---------	------------------------

Each helped to unify the empire by:

--	--	--

Answer these questions on the back or on another sheet of paper.

1. What economic problems contributed to the downfall of the Ummayyad Empire?
2. What political problems contributed to the downfall of the Ummayyad Empire?

Chapter 4, Lesson 2, Study Guide

The Golden Age

The second Abbasid caliph of the Islamic Empire was:

He moved the capital of the Islamic Empire from Damascus to:

The new capital became a center of international trade because of:

the resources of the area, such as:	improvements in agriculture, such as:	developments in business and finance, such as:

The Abbasids used their wealth:

to support artistic achievements, such as:	to support achievements in learning, such as:

What problems developed as the Abbasid Empire passed its golden period?

Financial	Political	Military