CPS Science Fair winners named

Third and fourth grade Gifted and Talented Science Fair winners were named among 31 entries in three categories at Clinton Primary School. GT instructor Alvis Conway announced the winners in ceremonies April 11. Four grade winners included:

‘Cat in the Hat’ learns lesson about nutrition

Kindergarten students at Clinton Primary School were recently treated to a healthy surprise as Dr. Seuss Day brought the Cat in the Hat to campus to talk about healthy food choices.

Hope Schools Nutrition Director Deanna Gilbert as the Cat in the Hat had to decide between the unhealthy snacks and meal choices of Thing 1 (School Nurse Geri Maxfield), or the healthy lifestyle choices of Thing 2 (District Nurse Renee Sells, RN).

The decision was no contest for healthy choices and students were rewarded with fruit snacks which they ate after returning to class.

Physical Science – First place, Rosita Paredes, “How Clean are Your Hands?,” second place, Kimberly Chavez, “Which Detergent Makes Slime Stretchier?,” third place, Andrea Ugarte, “What Causes Slime to Stretch?” Life Science – First place, Marly Wright, “Think Before You Drink;,” second place, Madison Phillips, “Whitening Toothpaste: Does It Work?,” third place, Myrakal Ogden, “Apple Extravaganza.”

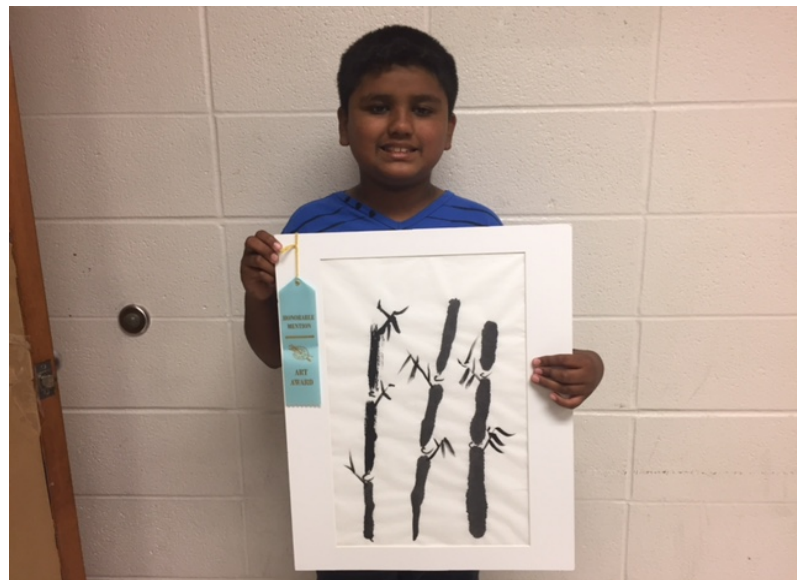

Earth and Space Science – First Place, Jazmin Laderma, “Poor Plato;,” second place, Grace Patterson, “Weathering and Erosion;,” third place, Khaleb Salazar, “Tsunamis.”

Third grade winners included:

Life Science – First place, Juan Arroyo, “To Grow or Not To Grow?”

Earth and Space Science – First place, Samantha Castillo, “Gravity or No Gravity?”

Student artist’s work places

Clinton Primary School student Juan Arroyo was awarded fourth place in the Southwest Regional Art Show in Arkadelphia for his Japanese brush stroke rendering of bamboo stalks. Adhering to the minimalist style of Japanese brush art, Arroyo practiced the technique extensively before using it to produce the final work on rice paper, CPS Art Teacher Diane Hollenstein said. The project was an assigned art work that turned into an interest, Arroyo said.
