

CPMS Announcements

Wednesday, October 24th

Red Ribbon week dress up day today is Twin Day. Help friends be drug free. You will receive a sweet treat at lunch today if we can visibly see your ribbon. Tomorrow is Tie Dye/Hippie Day-Peace Out to Drugs. Devon Long an NJHS member will now read a Red Ribbon week announcement.

The CPMS color guard is looking for 6th through 8th grade students interested in learning dance and flag techniques. The first practice is today from after school until 4:30 in the LGI Room. Please plan to attend if you are interested and more information will be available at the practice today!

If you are interested in joining the CPMS Show Choir, there will be a call out meeting in the choir room Friday October 26th from 3-3:45pm. Show Choir is open to any student at CPMS, not just choir students! So come see what it's all about!

You may register for next week's Harry Potter Themed Maker Monday by signing up in the LMC.

The Related Arts Department would like to congratulate the following students of the month: Tristan Patterson, Julia Lucas, Sahara Stevenson, Adalye Fisher, Charlotte Ray, Aubry Williams, Faye Jelenski, Kerman Sarao, Brianna Green, Riley Bowling, Elijah Camp, Zoe Mallasch, Claire Coryell, Aaron Roller & Hunter Helton, Tyler Brown, Isabella Chittum, Jasleen Kaur, Amos Hubler, Braxton Huff, Peyton Emberton, Cooper Campbell, and Isaiah Templeton.

This Friday is hot chocolate and cookie day. Students may purchase a cup of hot chocolate for $1 and/or two chocolate chip cookies for $1 out of their English Language Arts classes. Proceeds fund our author from Kwame Alexander this November.

Want a Kwame Alexander book to have signed by the author when he visits in November? Check the LMC Google Classroom for information about the Be a Star Contest for chances to win books by the author. There is also information and a form to sign up to buy gently used copies of Booked, Crossover, or Solo for $5 each. Contact Mrs. Kern if you have any questions about the contest or the book sales.

The next Best Buddies meeting will be on Monday, October 29 from 3-4:15 in rooms D103, D105 and D107. There will be a Halloween theme. Look for information in your Best Buddies google classroom as we will NOT be passing out invitations. Come join us for food, fun, and friendship.
